PREFACE.

This volume, the third in the series arranged and edited by William P. Palmer, M. D., extending from January the first, 1782, to December the thirtieth, 1784, furnishes a new phase of the condition of the people of Virginia, during the period over which it extends.

The modern demand for histories of the people, in contrast with histories of rulers and governments, has revolutionized, in large degree, historical composition, and given a value to the Virginia State Calendar, and similar works, which cannot be too highly estimated. The sacrifices made by Virginia in the conquest of liberty and the establishment of a government which are the common property of the people of the United States, (so fully recorded in these papers,) will much increase the sense of obligation to Virginia, felt by all. To the historical student interested in the original manuscripts preserved in the archives of the Commonwealth, it may be proper to state that, in the superintendence of this volume, while passing through the press and in the preparation of the index, I have had ample means of knowing that this work of Dr. Palmer is marked by unusual accuracy in transcription and judgment in annotation—so important in works of this character.

JOS: JONES, J. MADISON JU: AND ED: RANDOLPH TO GOV: HARRISON. January 1st

“Sir

A Letter from Genl: Heath who commands the Army on the North Philadelphia River, dated the 26th ult, informs Congress that an intelligent person from New York had reported to him, that an embarkation of Troops was taking place there, that he saw a part of them going on board, and a number of dragoon horses hoisted into the Vessels. that he was told by a Captain with whom he was well acquainted, that Genl: Leslie had written to Genl: Clinton, that unless he was reinforced with nine hundred men, he could not defend Charles Town, that a much larger number than that were to embark, that besides Charles Town, they were destined to Georgia and Augustine. The person did not know all the Corps that were to embark, but was informed there were to be some British, some Hessians, & the new raised Corps, of which Robinsons & the N. York volunteers were particularly mentioned. They appeared to be bringing down much baggage to the wharves. It was said, they expected to have the whole on board by the sunday preceding the date of the letter.

Although the general plan of our Official Correspondence excludes unauthenticated intelligence, the successful enterprise of the Marquis de Builli ag'st the Island of Eustatius, is attended with so many marks

1782. of reality that we cannot well omit it. The article in the inclosed January 1st Gazette under the Antigua head in particular, is little short of a confirmation of it.

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO GOV: HARRISON.

January 3rd "Sir,

Washington
County

By recent intelligence from the Cherokee Country, it appears that a body of Indians and Tories. What may be in the power of Government to do for us, I am at a loss to determine: however I am strongly pressed to made application, as the danger apprehended seems great. During the time of the late negotiation and Treaty with the Indians at the Great Island, a total cessation of hostilities happened, and there was professions and a seeming disposition for a lasting peace, but on our recovering the upper parts of the Southern States, a number of the vilest of the Tories sought an Asylum among the Indians: of these was a Mr. Scott who now Acts a British Agent: he having some influence and by means of supplies carried in by the Tories from Savannah and East-Florida, he strengthened his Party and became in a condition to act against us. The longer he is let to rest in Safety, the more formidable he may become, and probably will in a short time, be able to draw a part of the Creek and Chicasa Tribes into his Confederacy.

Collo. Martin's scheme for to surprise Scott with a small force is a project of very doubtfull success. The distance he would have to march would be above two hundred miles, having three large rivers to pass. the force of the enemy when collected amounts to several hundreds, and he would have the supposed friendly Tories in his rear, which might prove his worst enemies in case of a disaster. For which reasons I have recommended his giving out the attempt, until the sense of your Excellency and the Council are known—In order to do the business more effectually, I would propose that the enterprize be carried on under the immediate direction of the Executives of Virginia and North Carolina, with a force not less than five hundred good men. The Governors of each State could give orders concerning the general and most weighty matters: a Council of the Field Officers from the Counties which are to furnish the men might meet, adjust and order every thing else, by virtue of powers from their respective Executives. Some money would be wanted in advance to procure canves and provisions: I think a few hundred pounds sent with secrecy, and managed with address and economy, would revive the public credit, and the balance of the expence would readily be trusted to some future day. A supply of Ammunition and Flints would be wanted, and if to be had, fifty Dragoon Swords for each State: as the Tories with the Enemy are equipt as Cavalry—

If the Expedition proves successful, a Garrison ought to be left somewhere on the Tenasee, to awe and regulate the remaining part of the Cherokees, and to prevent Tories or other disorderly persons, taking up their residence amongst the Indians. The advantages that may redound to the United States, by this undertaking will be great. For besides securing tranquility to the Southern frontiers, that is from the Ohio to the extremities of Georgia, it will open a direct communication 1782.

to West Florida by way of Mobile River, thereby introducing a lucrative January 3rd intercourse with our friends in that quarter, draw part of the Trade of the Southern Indians to the Eastward, and finally destroy the British Interest in those nations.

Our mismanagement to the Westward, and the enemies late successes on the Ohio, will no doubt, induce a general war with the Northward Tribes the ensuing Summer.

I am Honourable Sir, with much esteem
Your most Obedt & very Humble Servt"

COL: ED: CARRINGTON TO COL: DAVIES.

Calling his attention to the orders given by Genl: Washington, thro' Richmond letter to Gov: Harrison, in regard to the necessity of keeping a sufficient number of boats in readiness at Westham, to remove the public Stores established at Manchester, up James River, in case of the approach of the Enemy. On his return from Roanoke, the Governor had informed him, directions had been given to the Com: of War on this head—He desires now to know how the matter stands, and takes the liberty to suggest that the number of boats should be sufficient to carry off at "one trip" all the public stores, and for this purpose at least sixty will be needed—Boats commonly used in this kind of navigation, and always kept well manned so as to avoid surprise or delay will be best. For want of buildings at Westham, the Stores have been put at Manchester, six miles from the nearest point of navigation for these boats. This, in case of Danger will require the aid of waggons—Asks what the Government can do towards furnishing this transportation.

ROB'T MORRIS TO GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

"Sir

I enclose the Copy of a Letter written this day to the States of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Maryland. It is unnecessary to say anything on the Subject to your Excellency, as you will see and feel with me the Urgency of the occasion. It gives me great pain to make such a Representation and especially as those States deserve applause for their former Exertions—

Office of Finance

I have the Honor to be with great Respect
Sir,

Your Excellency's most ob't & humb Servt"

1782. "Sir

January 3rd

Altho' it is now eleven months since Congress recommended an Impost of five per Cent on goods imported on Prizes and Prize Goods, the States of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Maryland have not yet complied with that recommendation—

I will not repeat the Arguments to induce a Compliance, which are sustained either in my letter of the twenty-seventh of July or elsewhere. that is unnecessary. The Object of this letter is to make a Representation, which can no longer be delayed consistently with the Duties I owe, either to myself or to my Country. And altho' it is principally designed for those three States, just mentioned, yet I transmit it to the other States (in a letter of which the Copy is enclosed) because all ought to know what is equally interested to all—

Convinced that the Impost recommended, was not sufficient, I had devised some additional Funds for payment of our Debts and support of our Credit—These I should have submitted to the consideration of Congress, had the States complied with their former Recommendations.

In a Circular letter dated the nineteenth of October last, I had the Honor to mention an Order prohibiting Loan Officers from issuing Certificates in payment of Interest, together with the Reasons for which it was made. That order has already produced much clamor among Public Creditors—This I expected, and I still expect, that it will occasion much more.

The Public Debt is considerable, and the Public Credit must be lost, if the Interest of it be not provided for—Congress have done their duty in requesting a Revenue, and I have done mine in Soliciting a Compliance with their Request. It only remains for me to bear Testimony against those who oppose that compliance, and to declare that they and they only, must be responsible for the consequences—They are answerable to the other States, to their fellow Citizens, to the Public Creditors and to the whole World—

I must speak plainly on this subject. I must point out from Time to Time the Reasons of those things which have produced murmurs and Complaints against the Representative Body of America. I must direct those who suffer to those who occasion their sufferings: and those who are injured, to those who have done them wrong. Let me then, once more intreat that this great Object be seriously considered. Let me repeat that the Hope of our Enemy is in the Derangement of our Finances; and let me add that when Revenue is given, that Hope must cease. He therefore who approves the Grant of such Revenue, not only opposes himself to the Dictates of Justice, but he labors to continue the War, and of Consequence to Shed more Blood, to Produce more Devastation, and to extend and Prolong the miseries of Mankind—"

Respecting the difficulties in providing supplies for that Post. He had hoped for an abundant quantity of flour and pork from Cumberland Co. but through Mr. Wilson's entire neglect, and total incapacity for his position as County Commissioner, he has been disappointed—In Amelia Co. there were numbers of beef cattle "stalling" for the troops, but as soon as the people supposed the Provision Law to be repealed, they withheld their supplies—As a last resort he has again written to Mr. Pearce, who sends uncertain instructions to the County Commissioners, and altho' there is plenty of beef in Amelia, Bedford and Prince Edward Cos., it cannot be gotten except by impressment. He now writes once more to Mr. Pearee, and begs the letter may be forwarded to him, for unless Government interposes, the troops must starve. He has also been disappointed in Buckingham Co., but with the aid of Mr. Smith and Col: Booker the post can be supplied without the assistance of Cumberland Co., "excepting Skipwith's Mill"—He anxiously awaits the return of the Express with answer to this—

Enclosing a request from Genl: Lincoln, for a guard of militia of the County to escort the prisoners at the Barraeks to a Post out of the State. He did not consider his authority as County Lieutenant enables him to comply with this requisition, and therefore referred the matter to Colo: Holmes in charge of the guard, who reports, he cannot furnish an escort from his Command. For these reasons, at the request of the Inhabitants of the County he writes to the Governor, adding "The great hardships which the people have suffered for some time past by the impressing law, for the maintainance of prisoners they humbly conceive entitle them to hope for their continuance at this post, now that a prospect of advantage appears to attend their presence—Whatever Congress may demand for their safe-keeping, whatever quantity of provisions may be demanded for their support, I am authorized to say shall be complied with in the best and cheapest manner—a Provost shall be built & every attention paid to the usual demands. 1782. CAPT: EDMD: READ VA. L. DRAGOONS TO GOV: HARRISON.

January 5th
Winchester
Va. When he left Richmond he had Orders to march Major Nelsons Corps of Cavalry to New London in Bedford Co., but on his arrival, he found them ill with inoculation and Small pox. They are now recovering and will soon be able to move, but he knows not how he is to provide for their support either at Winchester or on the march to Bedford—The people absolutely refuse to furnish food for the men or forage for the horses, since they have heard the “Impress Act” is repealed, and the Quarter Master refuses him any aid, because the Corps is a State Organization and he has neither orders or money with which to procure supplies. If he had not continued impressing, the men and horses “must have dyed”—But the inhabitants of Winchester will no longer submit to impressment. It will be necessary to give some special Order for impressment both there, and along the march, in order to relieve him from the situation in which he finds himself: he therefore urges an early reply to this, by the returning Dragoon—

January 6th LUT: COLO. C. NORTH, PENN: LINE, TO EXECUTIVE OF VIRGA.

Winchester On his Arrival at this place, in accordance with instructions from the Secy: of War, he made application to the Co: Lieut: Col: Smith for a guard of Militia to conduct the prisoners to Frederick Town, Maryland, who referred the matter to Col: Holmes, who gives assurances that they should be furnished; and Col: Wood had already procured the necessary transportation for the Officers Baggage. But when all seemed ready Col: Smith would not order the guard needed. The propriety of this request will be seen by the following extract from his Orders: “After fixing the arrangements at Lancaster, York, & Frederick, you will proceed on to Winchester, and then make application to the County Lieutenant, to whom I have likewise written, for a sufficient Guard to escort all the prisoners now there to Frederick Town, where you are to lodge the Germans, and march on the British, under a guard that will be furnished you by the State of Maryland to York Town and Lancaster in the State of Pennsylvania”—

He conceives it his duty to say, that a “very great number of the prisoners have already escaped, and it will be impossible to prevent it in the future without some “Works”: but this will be unnecessary as they are to be removed to places where contracts are already made for taking care of them; being badly supplied where they now are, having been twenty days on short rations of flour and beef—He therefore requests that some one may be invested with authority to comply with the requisition of the Secy: of War.

Complaining of the oppressions the people of his County are subjected to by Colo. Armand's Corps, and asking Executive interference—Concludes—"Considering them a body entirely unconnected with this State, it is justly considered as an hardship to have our property taken from us, when the rest of the Country is free from exactions of this kind"

COL: JO: HOLMES TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

January 6th
Winchester

Immediately on his reaching home, he had sent out the Orders to the different Co. Lieutenants—Only the quota of men from Frederick have come in, but those from Shenandoah and Hampshire he learns are on the way to Winchester. Col: John Smith has received request to furnish a guard for the prisoners to Fred: Town in Maryland, but refuses to comply, having no right to order the militia out of the State, except by authority of the Governor and Council. The prisoners therefore still remain; but he adds, "the truth of the matter is thus, the inhabitants of this place & in its Vicinity are backward in parting with the pris'rs since they find that Specia is procured to supply them, and the State of Pennsylvania Are equally desirous of having them for the same reason—A considerable sum of money is coming from New York for both Officers & Soldiers. this with the money that is to be put into the hands of the Contractors, have put the Pennsylvanians in motion. I understand the people here have Sent a Memorial to Congress, setting forth the hardships they have laboured under for two years past, in having their property taken from them without any consideration for the support of Pris'rs. And now, when there is any advantage arising from having them amongst us, they should be ordered off to another State. I have not seen what they have wrote to our Executive, but beleive that its to use their Influence with Congress to permit the Pris'rs to remain here & be furnished in the same manner as those in other States. this being done I must Confess will be of great advantage to this part of the Country. Yet as to my own private Interest, I should wish to be clear of them—" * * * * *

"The Light Dragoons under Capt: Read keep up the Spirit of impressment. the people are much dissatisfied with them, but no kind of supplies are laid in by the Quarter Master at this Post, therefore they might either impress or starve"—

EDM: RANDOLPH, J. MADISON JU: AND JOS: JONES, TO THE GOVEN. OF VA. 1782.

"Sir

January 8th

Your Excellency's favor of the 28th ulto: not having acknowledged Philadelphia the receipt of our dispatches by Capt: Irish, we shall repeat them, unless the next post shall announce his arrival.

We cannot but lament the distressing and degrading situation in which we are placed, from the scantiness and uncertainty of our supplies, in which our own private credit can avail us nothing, and prices are immoderate and ruinous. We beg the attention of the Executive to this point important to ourselves, and perhaps important to our Country.

The inclosures* (no 1 & 2), were received from a Mr. Murray. He has painted his services to Virginia at the Illinois, in strong terms, and his sufferings on her account in stronger. We have therefore undertaken to transmit to your Board, his State of both, requesting that some answer may be given to his application.

Being disposed to advance, on every proper occasion, the views of our Ally, and to demonstrate to Great Britain how practicable it is to renounce her manufactures and produce, we rendered every aid in our power to the resolution which the president has sent on, recommending more effectual provision against the introduction of British Merchandizes. As these Considerations were the grounds of the resolution, we cannot doubt that our Legislature will execute the recommendation. It will be remembered that the late ordinance respecting captures, which has been forwarded to the judges of the Court of Admiralty thro' your Excellency, relates to this species of commodities when found on water only.

The Superintendant of Finance is instructed to transmit to the several States copies of the Act, incorporating the National Bank. He probably will be explicit in the benefits to be expected from such an institution. To him we will consign this part of the Subject. But some Scruples having been entertained as to the Authority of Congress to grant a Charter of incorporation, we cannot forbear to mention the predicament in which this body stood.

When the establishment of a bank was proposed to Congress on the 26th day of May last, its utility was immediately seen. They accordingly approved the plan, and promised to support it in the most effectual manner. Among other things, they stipulated to pass an act of incorporation: altho' objections were suggested against such an engagement. After a vote to this effect, subscriptions were made upon the expectation of a Charter from Congress, the president and directors chosen, and we were required to fulfil our Contract. The same doubts upon Congressional power were again urged; but nothing decisive was done, until a committee appointed to confer with the bank, reported the result of the

1782. conference. They informed Congress that they had communicated to January 8th the bank the difficulties which occurred in granting a charter; but that they were answered, that the promise of a preceding Congress was binding on a subsequent one: that the subscribers would be free to withdraw their subscriptions, unless a charter should pass from Congress, and that tedious and expensive arrangements had been made for commencing the operations of the bank. The financier added, that a delay in these operations, would injure him in his attempt towards a payment to the Army. Pressed as they were by these representations, Congress did incorporate the bank; some of those who voted in the affirmative, thinking themselves obliged by the engagement in May, others contending for a constitutional power in these cases, and others assenting to it from absolute necessity. The resolution subjoined to the act, will therefore we hope, be complied with by the several legislatures—

"D'r Sir

ton Co.

As a late transaction in this County which will probably induce a trial in the Court of Admiralty may possibly be so far misrepresented as to throw censure on my conduct, I hope no Apology will be thought necessary, for my troubling your Excellency with a Detail of the whole Business. A small schooner, the property of Mr. Peter Lafargue a french Gentleman, & Mr. John Michael, an Inhabitant of this County, inward bound, laden with Sugar, Rum and Dry goods, was unluckily taken by a New York Privateer at the Inlet near Hog island. the owners applyed to me for a Flag in order to bring of the prisoners who ware taken in the said schooner. I haveing attained permission for a flag and proceeded on board the said privateer, they found that they could Ransom the said schooner on terms which they supposed advantageous, and accordingly applyed to me for permission. they Represented to me that government having early in the fall impressed a Valuable Vessel and Cargo of their's and they haveing yet Receiv'd no part of the valuation thereof, it was not in their power to pay the whole of ransom in money, but that they had on hand about thirty Hodgeheads Tobacco which if they might be allowed to pay as part of the Ransom they could procure the rest in Cash about 200£ & Effect the Ransom. Upon considering that Gov't hath never discovered any Jealousy in supplying the Enemy with Tobacco as I had understood that in several Ocations it had been sent to New York and Charleston, and that it never Cold be considered as furnishing the Enemy with the supplying either of a necessary of Life or War, Considering also that a Valuable Cargo of Necessaries for the use of this Country, as well as the enlargement of 13 Prisoners wold be obtained by the Ransom, and that Mr. Lafargue, a gentleman who hath Left his native Country to releive the present distress of America, and hath manifested on every ocation, as well as his partner Mr. Michael, the greatest readiness to defend the cause of Liberty with his life and fortune, that Mr. Lafargue was at Lest entitled to Every advantage consistent with Law and the Customs of Nations and not inconsistent with the real Interest of America, to regain some small part of his property, having made so large a Sacrifice in the American Cause, I therefore permitted the Ransom to go on. the allowed 4 Days to receive the Tobacco. not to strike his flag until he returned to the inlet, not to suffer any intercourse between his people and the people on shore—these articles were adhered to, and no bad consiquence whatever Insued. the Capt: of the British Privateer received his Ransom and fell down the Third Day in the Afternoon, when a number of men in armes composed partly of the new Levies of Accomack, and partly of Milisia, sudenly collected, came down in a tumultuous manner Led by a certain Captain Thomas parker, and fired at the said Privateer her flag still flying, but probably being at a great distance no Damage was done. Capt: Parker and the men with him, without doing more mischeif wantonly, Destroying a Hogshead of tobacco the property of the said Lafargue and Michael Returned to Accomac—About ten Days after, Capt: parker Returned with twenty men and seized the said Ransomed Schooner and Left the men on board as a guard, who are now without Commissioned Officers, in the most Disorderly manner, making waste of the Cargo." * * *

Richmond Urging the executive of the late Act of Assembly authorizing the appointment of persons to purchase horses for the Southern Army, in as much as he intends going to Philadelphia, and it is eminently important that this business be accomplished before his departure, in order that the Commonwealth may be credited with the cost of these purchases; and that he may attend in person to the proper distribution and appropriation of the horses. The subsistence also of those horses will require his attention, owing to the irregularities and inattention of the Quarter Masters in matters of this sort. He desires more definite information, in regard to the wagons due from delinquent Counties.

If necessary he will attend the meeting of the Council, as soon as proceedings are begun on these points—

Moses Hunter of Berkeley, John Talbot of Bedford, French Strother of Culpepper, Littlebury Mosby of Powhatan, Francis Triplett of Fauquier, and Wm, McCraw of Pitsylvania having been appointed to make these purchases, he requests that those bought by Messrs: Hunter, Strother & Triplet be delivered to Capt: Rich'd Young, Ass: Dep: Q. He left Cumberland Old C. House "yesterday morning" had seen Col: Febiger, who desired him to represent the real condition of that Post. The troops had been ten days without meat, altho' Col: Febiger had been out in person to the adjacent Counties making efforts to supply them—He reports he will not be able to furnish flour for more than the next two months.

Encloses his original Instructions as "Superintendent Commissary of Issues and Hides," as his future proceedings must depend upon such orders as the Executive may issue.

Col: Ed: Carrington encloses to Col: Davies, an estimate of the quantity of grain necessary for the So: Army viz: 9191 Bushels. As Mr. Morris, the Superintendent of Finance has not as yet extended his contracts to Virginia or any other Southern State, the Continental Agents are left without any other means of obtaining forage or grain, except thro' the assistance of this State—This can only be done, by negotiating with the people through the County Commissioners and the Continental Agents, for part of the "Specifics" not due until next Spring, but which they may be induced to bring in now. He therefore hopes this may be urged foward at once, and the grain be delivered at the several posts, where receipts shall be duly given for the same.

In reply to his of the 2nd by Post, just recd:—He regrets he cannot get the remainder of the Cartridge boxes over from Anapolis, because the wagoners will do nothing without pay, and he has no means. Has received no clothing from County Lieutenants. In regard to the complaints against Mr. Conn, temporarily employed by him to receive and issue forage at Dumfries to the American Troops on the way to the Seige of York, he says “the French Troops call'd on him for forage which he declin'd issuing to them, having no Orders from me for that purpose, but they being in much want, and Persevering in their Request, he was persuaded by those about him to let them have three Tons of Hay and about nineteen Bush'ls of Corn, which I immediately had replaced again with the same money. he was more inclined to do this I presume in consequence of my Orders to him to render the French all the service in his power. I have been particular in my enquiry in this matter before I rec'd your letter, the more especially as I was informed ill nature had said much on this and similar cases: the Quarter Master General recommended every assistance given the French, and throughout their whole march from the north ward, where they had no Agents, the Continental Agents furnish'd them, and with their money replac'd the goods again—I did so myself—I gave their Agent a quantity of Corn, and with their money replac'd it, and if any injury was committed, it was giving them old, Fly-eaten corn and receiving merchantable in its stead. and at that time it was the duty of every person to facilitate their march. the People being sore with their goods taken from them under the seizing Law, a law, my friend which I hope will never again be reviv'd, took umbrage at their goods being taken from them and sold to the French, not considering, and perhaps not knowing, that whenever it came to the continental agents' hands, it could not be restored to them again, and that he must account to his Superior for the disposal of everything received from the State or Bought by him. This is a true state of every transaction in my district respecting buying and selling in the Continental line, and I can't see how Envy, herself cou'd find fault with the measure.”

COL: WM. DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

Jan'y 15th

"Sir

By returns from Colo. Dabney, he appears to have about 160 infantry for the war; Capt: Roane has between 20 and 30 artillery men, and Major Nelson about 70 cavalry. There are besides, about 106 six months' men. Capt: Rogers has about 20 of the Illinois Cavalry, and if I recollect, there are about men enough for two Companies to the Westward. These might be incorporated into a legion, to consist of five companies of Infantry, two of cavalry and one of Artillery, the whole under command of a Lieutenant Colonel and a Major. The officers of infantry cavalry & artillery may rise in their respective lines, to the rank of Captain, and the Captains succeed to the rank of field officers according to the seniority of their commissions indiscriminately. The Officers of each corps (according to their present lines of service) might be directed to meet, and upon the principles of accommodation and mutual convenience, determine who of them should retire and who should continue; and if they cannot agree, the youngest should then give place, unless your Excellency should choose to nominate them yourself.

War Office

Notwithstanding this incorporation, the two Western Companies might continue where they are, and if Government should think it best to detain the remainder on this side the mountains, the principal part of the cavalry might then be stationed in the Counties of Norfolk, Princess Anne, and Elizabeth City, and about 12 at Richmond for Expresses. Two companies of infantry might perhaps, with propriety be fixed at Portsmouth, especially while there are such numbers of disaffected persons in that part of the Country. The other company of infantry might be stationed, one-half in Richmond and the other at the Point of Fork, as guards to the jail, and to the Continental and State magazines. The Artillery Company might be either ordered down the Ohio to General Clarke, with the pieces of Artillery your Excellency directed should be sent to him, or they might be stationed at Portsmouth with the others.

* Not found.

1782. The Posts necessary therefore, to be attended to are,
 Jan'y 15th 1st. Portsmouth, where, if the before mentioned Troops are sent, there will be wanting about 150 rations of provisions a day, and about 70 forages a day for the horses—
- 2dly. At Hampton, 25 rations of provisions, and 30 forages a day, would be sufficient for the detachments to be stationed there.
- 3dly. At Richmond, about 130 rations of provisions a day, will not be more than a sufficiency for the guards, expresses, and artificers, and for the express and wagon horses about 60 forages a day.
- 4thly. At the Point of Fork about 100 rations and 20 forages a day, will be necessary for the guard, the laboratory, the workmen now employed there, and the Artificers from Albemarle Barracks, who will move thither as soon as the buildings are prepared for them—
- 5thly. At Fredericksburg, tho' I confess I am not well acquainted with the arrangements made by Mr. Dick: but from his letters I think it will be necessary to provide for at least 50 men for the various purposes, at the gun factory. perhaps a few forages may be also wanting, as no doubt some waggons are necessary—

When the buildings at the point of Fork are finished, there will be alterations in the quantity required at some of the posts, and a considerable diminution in the total.

To superintend the issues of every kind, the quarter masters' department will be sufficient, as long as the posts are supplied by contract.

At Portsmouth, the quarter master for this new legion would be fully sufficient, with the assistance of two or three sergeants, who may be always spared to execute the whole business of issues, both of provisions and forage. This charge, any captain or subaltern may be found to undertake, with only the common additional allowance to a quarter master in the army.

At Fredericksburg, the same persons who have hitherto issued might still continue to do it, unless upon a more particular enquiry, there should appear to be some alterations necessary.

At the point of Fork, a deputy quarter master and a storekeeper, with the assistance of a sergeant from the guard, will be sufficient for all the staff purposes of the post.

At Richmond, it will be necessary to have an assistant quarter master, a store-keeper, and waggon master, who should discharge all the business of feeding, foraging and transportation—

Besides these it will be necessary that the Quarter Master General should still be continued. To him should be made monthly returns of issues of every kind, at all the posts; and the different Agents before mentioned should be immediately accountable to him: indeed if they are not, there will be nothing to prevent the most shameful misapplication of the public Stores. This business will make it necessary that he be allowed a clerk.

with this arrangement, the whole business of the quarter-masters, commissarys' and forge masters departments, may be executed with an amazing reduction of expence, as the persons I have before mentioned will be sufficient for all these purposes in our present circumstances—

As to the Military Stores department, Capt: Pryor has been of such eminent utility, that if continued, much advantage might be expected from his services—Should government however, think fit to reduce that department, the duties of it may be done in this office, with the aid of the quarter master's department, and the liberty of occasionally employing an officer from the state troops with a small additional allowance, to act as conductor, when necessary. The superintendent of the laboratory may be also, keeper of the magazines, and invalid soldiers are very proper to be employed under him.

as the clothing of the continental troops, raised by this state, is by an official letter from the minister of war, no longer to be provided for by this state, and as many articles formerly purchased by this state are now to be furnished by contract, the whole department of commissary of stores may be abolished & if necessary the whole business, which is no more than to receive and issue the stores to the different departments, may be executed by a common store-keeper. Indeed I do not see the inconveniency of the different departments, drawing what they want, immediately from the commercial agent, as there will not be much trouble in doing this business, reduced as it will be by the new arrangement.

There will be some difficulty perhaps in providing for the sick. I am convinced it will be unnecessary to keep up a hospital department, unless the person acting as the physician will keep a large apothecary shop on public account, as Doctor Pope proposes. A regimental surgeon and mate, will be necessary for the troops; one may stay at Portsmouth and the other at the point of York.

I have thus taken the liberty, agreeable to your Excellencys' directions in council, to state my sentiments according to the best of my judgment, respecting the reduction and regulation of the different departments, connected with the military establishments of This State. I say nothing of the naval, as it is not within the objects of my office, nor am I competent to judge of it. If in any of the proposed arrangements I have calculated upon two small a scale, it is in that for the military stores, I however, submit it for the consideration of Government, and have the honor to be,

and most humble servant—

"The balance in favour of Mr. Pollock appears great, but as the whole has been an expenditure for the purpose of supporting your army to the Westward, which could not possible subsist, or continue in that Service, had not Mr. Pollock generously exerted himself on their behalf, I hope Sir, no difficulty will be made in settling his accounts—

I pray your Excellency will be pleased to consider what Troops this State has had to the Westward, how long they were at the Islenois and Iron mines, from whence they were supplied, and by whom, and what orders were given to Col: Clark on going there?—I beleive Sir, after making these enquiries, you will find that he had little or no supplies from Virginia, and that his orders were to procure all necessaries for the support of his army, and the use of the Service he was upon, and in payment to draw Bills on the Treasury of this Commonwealth. To give value and currency to those Bills, on which depended the subsistence of the Forces in that Quarter, Mr. Pollock did, with more zeal than prudence, exert himself—He expended his own fortune which was respectable, in honouring those Bills, and borrowed money on his own Credit

1782. for the same purpose, to a very considerable amount. To my knowledge Jan'y 17th Mr. Pollock owes at this hour, upwards of eighty thousand dollars, which he borrowed for the service of this State.

Permit me Sir, with all imaginable respect, to observe, that to delay Justice to so active and disinterested a Friend to your cause, as he has been, will be thought an ungenerous requital by all the World. Unless your Excellency will be pleased to take Mr. Pollock's case into consideration and to order an immediate adjustment of his accounts, his Creditors will no longer forbear with him. As soon as I return to new orleans, if I should be unsuccessful in my application to your Excellency on his behalf, he will most assuredly be deprived of his liberty. If his accounts are now settled, though payment be deferred a Year or longer, it will in some measure appease his clamorous creditors, and keep him from experiencing the miseries of a loathsome Prison.

It has been observed that Mr. Pollock had no authority to act as agent for this commonwealth, because he had not a formal appointment from it for that purpose. On considering that he was agent for the United States, and applied to by this Government to transact business for them, his conduct approved of, and the officers of the State in that Quarter, continuing to draw Bills upon him, your Excellency I hope will be of opinion that these several circumstances amount to a full recognition of his agency. But Sir, any man who chose to have confidence in the State had a right to do what Mr. Pollock has done, viz: to honour the Bills drawn on your Treasury by the Commanding officers of the State in that part of the country. The monies advanced by Mr. Pollock for the Commonwealth of Virginia, I believe, have been bona fide, applied to its Service, no abuses could be committed by Pollock unless the officers and he had combined to defraud the State. This I conceive to be impossible, for those kind of collusions can seldom be found, but where a personal acquaintance of the Parties exist. Col: Clark never saw Pollock—they were at least four or five hundred Leagues apart, while that Gentleman commanded to the westward; that a scheme of speculation should be brought about, and entered into by them, and carried on by an epistolary correspondence, is impossible. Besides Sir, Col: Clark's conduct during his residence and command in that country was approved of. He was promoted to an honourable rank after he was called from thence, and if I am well informed, was, or is to be rewarded with a large tract of land. This proves Col: Clark to be an officer of merit.

It has been also said, that Mr. Pollock had vended goods to your army at an exorbitant advance. was I examined on Oath on this subject, I would say that I do not know whether Mr. Pollock ever did sell any goods to your officers or not; but if he had, he could not practiced any imposition, or commit any fraud, without the concurrence of the commanding officers, for he has vouchers from them for all his demands against this State. Mr. Pollock when agent for the United States was not prohibited from carrying on his business as a merchant; and while at liberty to trade I do not see why it should be thought more criminal in him to supply your Troops, than any other Trader. 1782. Jan'y 17th

It was said, when I had the honour last summer to wait on your Excellency's predecessor, that Col: Montgomery had no authority from the State to draw Bills on your Treasury. This position I cannot deny, not knowing how far the power given Col: Clark in that case extended; but whatever power was given to him by Government, I do, with due submission imagine, would necessarily descend to Col: Montgomery, his successor in command, the instant the command devolved upon him, particularly in devising means for the support of his Troops.

It was likewise observed that all Public Bills drawn by the officers of Virginia to the Westward, on the Treasury, were to be paid by a scale of depreciation—a scale that was graduated here by Genl: Clark after his return from the Islenois, and long after he and the other officers had drawn the Bills in question. It is needless to observe to your Excellency, who knows it already, that Bills of Exchange are negociable every where, and fluctuate in their value as well as in any other commercial article or commodity, according to their scarcity or plenty. Bills of Exchange are drawn fair, specifying the sum in the currency of the country when drawn, or if varying from it, particularly mentioning the same, and acknowledging value received.

If your officers intended that these Bills, at the time of drawing them should be paid conformable to a scale of depreciation or, in any other currency or coin, than that of the country in which they drew them, the Bills themselves would have mentioned it, that foreigners or people at a distance, to whom they were afterwards offered for sale, might judge of their real value. This was not done. The Bills are well drawn, expressing not a word of depreciation, and will, on every principle of Law and justice, bind this State to discharge them, according to the expressed Sums in Specie. Bills of Exchange, drawn lately in America, for the support of the Armies of France serving in America, have been sold nearly Sterling for currency; but the Government has not refused to pay them, because they sold under value. This preceded from the exigencies of the Times, and nature of the services; Government soon saw the disadvantage of raising money to support its army by drawing Bills, and therefore sent money to America for that purpose. But Sir, if France could not have sent money to America, her servants would continue to draw Bills as usual—So, please your Excellency, it was with Virginia. The government knew long ago, the enormous expence it was at, in the maintaining an army on the mississippi, but had it not, like France, in their power to prevent it by sending supplies of any kind immediately from hence, nor were they able to pay the Bills drawn by their officers, with punctuality when presented here. This Sir, is the true reason that your western accounts are so large, and in my opinion, that the accounts are so, is not to be ascribed to Frauds

1782. or abuses committed by your Servants, or to any other cause than the Jan'y 17th deranged State of your Finances, and perhaps some inattention in the directors of your affairs; for example, Keeping People that came fifteen hundred or two thousand miles, at a vast risk and expence, ten or twelve months, before they could obtain a settlement of their accounts, contributes greatly to give Virginia bad credit abroad, and is, with due Submission, what I call inattention in them. I am an instance of this.
 Had the Executive been pleased to do for me last summer, as the General Assembly have done now, it would have saved me some hundreds of Pounds, much mortification, Fatigue, and Insult, and I would have been some months ago with my family, from whom, I am now nearly twelve months absent.

Information and intelligence even from an humble Hand, will always be received by a wise man publickly employed in the Service of his Country, but particuarly the Chief magistrate will find it essentially necessary to gain all he can, in order to enable him the more perfectly to discharge the Duties of the Trust reposed in him, and to see justice impartially administered between the Public and the Individual. I shall therefore beg your Excellenys leave to inform you of the nature of our Trade from new orleans to the Islenois, as it is somewhat connected with the general subject of my Letter, and perhaps not unuseful to you.
 From new Orleans to the Islenois is 500 Leagues. A very considerable commerce is carried on between these two places—orleans furnishes them with arms, ammunition, Indian and other Dry Goods, Rum, Wine, Sugar, Coffee, &c. &c. &c. And they, in exchange send us deer-skins, Beaver, otter, and other kind of Furs, with a small quantity of Flour.

The Trader at new orleans purchases his goods from the importer, at an advance in War Time, from two to three hundred pr: Cent: on the Sterling cost. He carries them in large Batteaux to the Islenois, rowed by twenty four Oars, and is from eighty five to ninety Days ascending—
 On his arrival there, he sells his cargoes to the Traders of the Country, at an advance of two hundred pr: cent: on the Orleans Invoice; so that every Article of Goods sold them, comes to the purchaser eight or nine hundred per' Cent: on the original Cost. It is from one or other of these People, that your officers have been under the mortifying necessity of purchasing the Goods, with which the necessaries for the subsistenece of the Army have been procured. With these dear bought Goods, they purchased the friendship of the Indians, who are now attached to your Interest; and for these dear-bought Goods, these Bills have been drawn on the Treasury of Virginia, or on Mr. Polloek at new orleans—

These facts I mention to your Excelleney with a view to show you the reasons and circumstances that have combined to make your public Expences so enormous to the Westward; but great as they are, yet greater are the benefits you have and will derive from them—You have Sir, taken possession, and I hope secured the remotest part of your present territorial claim, and perhaps the finest country on Earth. You have made yourselves respectable among the Indians of that country; and secured their friendship—You have prevented the British and their Indian Allies from taking possession of that Country; and thereby opened and secured a communication to new orleans where your back-settlers on the Ohio will always meet with a friendly reception, and a good market for their Produce—And you have Sir, in all human probability prevented the British of Detroit, and their Indians from joining Lord Cornwallis, while he was in the full career of a successful invader, over-running this Country. Such a junction Sir, at that time would have been fatal to Virginia.

I shall conclude this long Letter with a Prayer on behalf of my Constituent, that your Excellency will not suffer a faithful servant to fall a sacrifice to his Zeal for the honour and Service of Virginia; that you will not suffer a Family to be reduced to misery and distress, which, before Mr. Pollock accepted the Agency of the United States, and Virginia employed him, lived in affluence and ease. That you will be pleased to order his accounts to be settled without delay, or that you will be pleased to pass such resolves in Council in his Favour, for such Sums, as you shall believe to be justly due to him; that by assigning the same to his Creditors, they may be for the present appeased, and he at liberty to wait on your Excellency here, with such Proofs as will satisfy you of his probity and integrity in your Service, and prove to you and to mankind that his accounts are fair, just and honest.

His character as Agent for the United States entitles him to a respect, which I am sorry to say has not been sufficiently attended to. When the great officers of Government treat the inferior ones with contempt and neglect, they never will be well served. Shall Mr. Pollock be obliged to attend like a common claimant at Kentucky, not to receive his money then, but to supplicate for a settlement of the money he generously and disinterestedly advanced for the public Service of his Country. Richmond, with due submission, Sir, is the Place where the accounts of Mr. Pollock should be proven, and if he has committed Villianies, then he should be made a public Example in terrorem.

In justice to my constituent, and to the honour of Truth, without any self interest or view of Interest, I have dwelt long upon this Subject, and I fear have trespassed on your Excellencys' Patience—I wish for no more than to see Justice take place between Virginia and her Servant Pollock, who to my knowledge, when the event of ye war was doubtful and the Independence of America uncertain, virtuously, and like a true Whig advanced his Fortune in support of her Cause. Ruin, from a victorious British Enemy, Pollock might reasonably expect, but from a victorious friend, from Virginia, to whose service his Life and Fortune have been devoted, he had reason to expect at least a just, if not general acquital—

I have the Honor to be with the most profound Respect, Sir

Your Excellency's most obedient and most humble Servant."

 Portsmouth necessaries. for God's Sake Sir don't let us remain in so distrest a state. Prisoners return'd from New York declare their sufferings not equal to those of our Reg't: the well men without provision, without spirits, a number without any cloathing, all without shirts. one Soldier frose on his Post. our Hospitall without Blanketts, without physick or any kind of nourishment, nothing to be had, no one will Credit the Country.

DR. MATHEW POPE TO COL: DAVIES.

Richmond Considering his appointment as having been discontinued by the last Genl: Assembly, he takes the earliest opportunity, the distressed condition of his family will allow, to account for the medical Stores in his charge, and to request that some one be appointed to be responsible for them. The molasses, Wine, Tea, and remnant of oznaburgs are at his house in Powhatan; and he hopes they may be removed as soon as possible. A considerable quantity of stores remain at Wms'burg, which he has just ordered to be brought up to Richmond: an invoice of which will be made out as soon as they arrive—While he is in this part of the Country he will cheerfully render the State any Service he can.

Jan'y 17th

Geo: Hancock, a citizen of So: Carolina, and a refugee to Virginia from the "turbulence of the times in that Country" had removed his sixty slaves into this State, and registered them in Henry Co.—He now begs for permission from the executive, to sell fourteen of them, viz: "Tenah," "Pendar," Berry, Vina, Coelia, Mary, Gideon, Hester, Quash, Joek, Primmer, Linda, Phebe and Abram, "for the purpose of supporting his family."

COLO. ARMAND TO GOV: HARRISON.

"Sir

Charlottes-
ville

I have been honoured with your favour of the 3d pressent, your Excellency's ideas upon the power which the board of General officers had to determine on whatsoever the army had taken from the enemy, with all at once further requests from me on the subject & is the strongest Justification to me for having not recovered those horses. Your excellency's explanation of some parts of your former letter, which concerned my request for waggons &c. is the very expression of your wishes to do justice to one of the most attached friends to this Country— 1782.

 nothing can be more just & reasonable than your ideas of the quarter Jan'y 17th master's department—in all Country that branch of the army is defective in some parts & what individuals engaged in it do perform has very seldome for principle, the good of the public. it is by that line that new army are ruined & destroyed before they are regularly formed. it is by the disorders & expenses of the same, that often, not only generals but also forces are forced to put a stop to their advantages, & and even to listen to terms of peace injurious to the nation which otherwise had the strength & courage to take all the advantages of their adversary.—in a monarchy or other perfectly united government, where those evils are well known, one king or one Senat, by the Sole will of one or by the united will of many (which is the same thing) put an immediate stop to all malpractices & mistakes, knowing as the subjects of those governments are the subjects to the same degree, to the same laws & fare equally in the goods & critical circumstances of the state—very seldome those acting for the public like an army or other corps may be reduced to a very distressed situation, at least if the circumstances of the state are bad, every one feel it will proportion & equality & of course none may complain—but here it is quite the reverse—the Same Army acting for the same cause is divided by the nature of the Country which constitute the nature of the war—and as there is thirteen States, each of them regulated by different measures, the parts of one army have to suffer on, to enjoy under the influence of thirteen governments the attention which they separately pay to their own troops, which often diverts them from the general attention which is to be payed to every troops acting for the community & belonging to it & which are stationed in a state to which they do not belong.

The troops under this last circumstance are to be supplied by Congress. Congress have agents for that purpose, but they are little supplied with means & as the money which they receive is not much more than equal to their wages & commissions, they eassy account for the overplus for their travels and other expenses, of the kind in which the troops have no part. Their general resource is to give Certificates whose numbers & nominal value increasing in a higher proportion than the taxes which they are received to pay for, has no other effect than to disgust the people & create in them the greatest backwardness to make any advances to the Continent—from this spring the misery of the Soldiers, the difficulty of maintaining the troops already raised, the impossibility of completing the several corps & of course the Army. I am told that other measures will soon be taken to provide the troops.
 I wishe it may be so, but what is to be done untill that time.

my legion is ordered here by the Commander in Chief, with whom the several states represented in Congress have left the disposal of their troops—his orders to me are to fill up the legion with recruits, to clothe, equip & mount them and then to joign the Army and take the field.

1782. I have already a pretty large number of men—in a short time I expect Jan'y 17th to have all my horses—the greatest part of the equipments & all the cloathing are here because I have payed myself the carriage of them from richmond to this post—the remainder is at richmond—the cloathing is in the hands of eighteen taillors—& what repairing is necessary to the saddles &c will be done with the Cloathing—must I leave this post with my men, leave the cloathing here, put to another time the recruiting of men & wait for other circumstances to get them properly mounted & equipped & regulated—should I take those steps for which I could never account for to Congress and the Commander in chief, my men would desert the horses perish, no recruits could be made & the equipments & clothing be destroyed, but on the other hand, what means have I to remain at this post, now, since the power given to the Commissioners for supplying forage & provisions for the Continental troops have been taken from them, & if your excellency does not consider the legion for the benefit of allowance granted to the virginia troops, as those troops themselves, or order some other measures to be taken, it will be impossible to subsist our men & horses & to keep in our conduct the regularity of proceeding subjected by the late resolution of Assembly. what your excellency had done in our favour in respect to grain taxes has not had any effect till this day & probably will not have more while we are here—the people has taken such an advantage of the last resolution, against impressing, that some who had engaged their waggons & Served the legion for some time have gone back with their waggons. I wishes you would give me directions & assistance for the time we have to stay here —— by all what has hindered my Cloathing to come sooner will be six weeks—before that time we can not possibly move, without discharging the men & give up the horses & cloathing.

I am with the highest respect

Sir, your mst obt Sevt.

Should it be necessary to have served the state in which we are stationed, to draw of him the same advantages that his own troops. I could say that my legion has been destroyed in the province of virginia during last Campaign, men & horses killed, others taken, three officers taken which are not exchanged yet, but are much wanted—I could to this add an uncommon instence, which is the Service of my officers of the horse in the beseiging of York—Cavallery had no occasion to serve there & those officers offered often time the sacrifice of their lives to the good example which an enterprise required."

He is very sorry that the executive disapprove of his moving his office to Fredericksburg; and although he is "very much disposed" to oblige the Executive, the duty he owes to his creditors, to the United States and to himself oblige him to this step. The State having withdrawn "every Kind of supply" from his department, except upon special occasions, but little business intercourse can exist between them. In addition to this, he has not a house in which to hold his office, the one now occupied by him being sold and possession demanded—The two clerks he had have left him and he finds it impossible to supply their places "in this time." By removing he will have power to remedy these and other evils. Therefore for these and other reasons heretofore assigned, and being convinced the affairs of his office can be better conducted by the change, he trusts the Executive will not only be put to no inconvenience by it, but will themselves see the propriety of the move—

He hopes the State will pay his account £100.16s.—He is not so unreasonable as to expect instant payment, but only wants some official recognition of his claim. Concludes "did I not know that men of discernment, of steadiness & of integrity were much wanted in the management of our, unweildy political machine, I should, as once before, intreat you to return and follow your profession, which would yield you in ye course of a few years an independent fortune. this is paying you no compliment, for its impossible to do Justice to the ignorance of our Lawyers or Magistrates."

His Agents are to contract for corn, oats, hay and "corn fother" at the current prices, payable in six months. If payment should not be made at the expiration of that time, "four shillings specie pr: bushel is to be allowed for Corn; three shillings specie for Oats, and four pounds ten shillings pr: Ton for Hay or Corn fother"—He has extended this principle to contracts for wood, "allowing one fourth of the first price" to be added if not paid for as above—He again informs his Excellency of his determination to move his office to Fredericksburg and gives the reasons therefor.

In regard to the amount of Rum and Salt furnished by this State for the Southern Army, and enclosing an "Extract from Genl: Green's Orders to Capt: Ragsdale" just communicated to him, as follows:

CAMP AT ROUND O, DEC. 19TH 1781.

"You will also apply to the Governor to have 2,000 Head of Cattle put up to stall feed, without loss of time, as cattle here will soon be unfit for use, and besides which they begin to be exceeding difficult to be got—Should the Cattle be generally small, I would wish not less than 3,000 head he put up—You will also represent our deplorable situation

1782. with respect to Salt & Rum, and the great necessity of giving further Jan'y 19th aid to the business of transportation—We have not five bushels of Salt, nor a drop of Rum in Camp or within a hundred miles of us.

These Articles may be forwarded to Georgetown from Chesapeake in swift sailing small craft. It would be infinitely the Cheapest, least difficult, and by far the most expeditious mode of forwarding supplies; nor do I think the vessells, if they keep close in shore, will run any great risque. This business should be mentioned to Major Forsyth, if he is in Virginia, as well as to the Governor of the state—you know our necessities, and you will press our wants."

COL: DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

Sir

War Office

In obedience to your Excellency's directions, I have the honor to enclose to you, a return of the persons employed in the different departments expressed in the order of Council of yesterday. The whole of the Deputy Commissioners in the State are now out of office, in consequence of the expiration of the law. There was one in each County, except two or three beyond the mountains. There were no Commissioners of the provision law last year, except in some of the Counties where there was no Deputy Commissioners Appointed, and in them the Commissioners of the provision law for the year So undertook to act. I have not yet obtained any return from Dr. Pope, but I believe he has no more than one shop-keeper and three attendants a nurses at the hospital. The department of military stores is certainly too large for the present circumstances of the State. I have therefore mentioned it to Capt: Pryor, who tells me the collection of the Arms has made it necessary hitherto, but that in future, a very considerable reduction may be made unless another invasion should take place—

I beg leave to enclose to your Excellency a resolution of Congress of an old date, lately sent me from General Green. I find it entirely contrary to the Continental regulations to furnish their troops with Cloathing; but as I have never been able to get the sight of their Journals for more than a year past, I had it not in my power, to know what was right or wrong. I hope however the distress of our Soldiers will be a justification for our issues—

I have the honor to be

COLO: ARMAND TO GOVERNOR HARRISON.

Jan'y 19th

“Sir

Charlottes-
ville

Your letter of the 12th present was handed to me this day—nothing can surprise me more than the complaints mentioned in it of my laying the inhabitants under the oppression of the impressments of their waggons & forrage. I can not qualify this rapport made to you by other words than impossition & untruth—as I am sensible the governor & senat of Virginia does not fix their Ideas, Judgements of things & determinations upon insignificant proofs, which are endeavoured to be given by way of complaints. I am anxious to preserve their esteem & therefore request them to take all the measures that can openly & publicly explain my conduct, which means of proceeding I dare say your Excellency is sensible of, are proper to me to insist upon. I submit voluntarily to the determinations of any persons which the executive shall please to send here & apprise themselves with the particulars of my conduct—even of those who brought the complaints against me, provided an honest man is sent along with them—I would wish & give my utmost consent to be trayed on my impressing waggons & forrage, by the inhabitants of this neighborhood, which if oppression on those heads has taken place in my conduct, must as the nearest at hand have suffered the most under it—I do not wishe to have a single witness in my side, what I ask for is all the witness that can be found against me.

I can not help answering the assertion contained in your letter—that your country contend in vain with her enemy, if she suffer those who are to be her friends to treat her with the same inhumanity that the former would do—& my answer to it is contained in those few words—which is the american boon, or any other that has made greater sacrifices to the liberty of america & given her more proof of friendship than Colonel Armand—the answer to this will be the answer to the assertion—I had the honour to wraite to your excellency the day before yesterday & gave you an account of the present situation of the legion, that corps cannot move from here unless he is disbanded—the men & horses cannot subsist without they are provided with rations by the country. this part affoord a plainty of grain & forrage—the means to get it are not in my power & I am entirely ready to leave the whole at your disposal & to retire myself. Capt:

1782. Rice, bearer of this will inform your excellency more at large of the Jan'y 19th means he could have to supply that corps should he be supported by the help of the executive. I do not mean by this, thier orders to impress, or their calling back their act against impressing which I dare say is very proper & agreeable to the times—but by permitting some exchange of flour which is far of this place against flour which some of the inhabitants around here would deliver to the legion on those terms.

I am sorry Capt: Sharp has not kept his temper in the bounds of his respect for the Council & your Excellency dictated to him. he is born in this country & a man of a reputable conduct & bearing before the enemy. I have reprimanded him & as your complaints of him make me entirely conscious of the great impropriety of his conduct, I beg leave to refer wholly to you to dictate the mode of separation which his offence & true repentance of it will suggest to your excellency, until your commands on that head that officer will remain at Charlottesville, which place he was to quit to morrow, to go recruiting.

I am obliged by the confidence you are pleased to have in my way of thinking & I shall be always happy to maintain your esteem by my way of acting. Col: Carrington had wrote to me that previous to his going to the north, he would take some measures with the executive for supplying the legion & that he would wraite to me accordingly. I have not received any letter since, but as he could not act without the executive, I continue to rely on what this last will do for the legion.

I have the honour to be with respect,
 your Excellency's Sir, the most obt. hble Servant"

 for sale but for the private use of two or three persons in the Service of the State, who from their public employments were precluded from all kind of trade; that the Law which at that time authorized the seizure of Spirits for the Army, provides that even from those who had that

“Sir

Powhatan
Co.

Col: Febiger who commands at Cumberland Old Ch: House informs me the troops at that station suffer very much from want of provisions, they have not had any kind of meat for about fourteen days, and very little expectations of procuring any. in this Situation, Col: Febiger has solicited several of the inhabitants to contribute to their temporary relief, and has requested their influence in procuring a proper supply— for this reason I take the liberty of addressing your excellency on the subject, making you a tender of any services it may be in my power to render the troops—I cannot command ready money, but if my private Credit can be of service in procuring an immediate supply I shall not scruple to pledge it for a moderate sum, provided I have your Excellency's approbation, and you will be pleased to direct the officers of Government to take such steps as the Law will warrant to indemnify the Inhabitants who may exert themselves on this occasion.

The Court of Powhatan have appointed Commissioners to collect the tax of 2 lbs Bacon pr: poll. many of the people seem disposed to pay it immediatly, and are willing to pay three pounds of Salted pork in lieu of two pounds of Bacon—The Commissioners only wait your Excellency's orders for the application of this meat, which I presume you will direct to be delivered to those troops—

This tax on the County of Powhatan will only yield meat for Eight or Ten days”—He recommends the course adapted by Powhatan, he recommended by his Excellency to Amelia, Cumberland and Goochland, giving Col: Febiger authority to receive the provisions supplied by them—He has already authorized the Commissioner who usually supplies those troops, to purchase to the amount of “one hundred pounds” on his own private credit, payable in six months—This however will not go very far, as the “pork season is now over” and the “cattle not fit for Slaughter.” But if a much larger amount can be made up, considerable purchases may be made in the lower Counties on the credit of the 1782. people. Recommends that a person be appointed to make such purchases, the money thus expended to be regarded as lent to the Treasury of the State, and the receipts given by him receivable by the sheriffs for taxes from the holders. In this way, he thinks "many of the principal people" will pledge their private credit to procure provisions for the troops, but adds, "from the people at large I fear no advances can be immediately expected, as they are a good deal disappointed on finding that the certificates obtained for provisions formerly supplied will not pay any of their taxes, and it will require considerable time to reconcile them to that measure."

JAMES PATILLO TO COL: DAVIES.

Cumberland
Old Ct. House Fourteen months have passed since he was under command of the Col: at Chesterfield Ct: House, since which time he has been doing severe duty in the Quarter Master and Commissary's Depts: and in the line without one shilling of pay, and not one article of clothing but one pair of shoes and one pair of Stockings—He has resigned the service entirely, not being able to find himself in Clothing, and pocket money, and must starve if he continues. Begs to know how he can obtain his "pay a deficiencies in clothing" or a certificate which will enable him to "demand it when money is to be had."

January 21st

COL. DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

War Office He has been applied to by several of the Counties to know whether the recruiting service under the Act passed at Staunton should go on. What law has expired? and as it requires a Proclamation from the Executive to resume the draft, it is contended that no authority exists to do this, until such proclamation be issued—Chesterfield County among others, on this account refuses to furnish any men. Being at a loss on this Subject, and not having a copy of the Acts of Assembly, he requests instructions—Calls attention of the Governor to the fact, that "a considerable portion of our infantry engaged for the war" are now at Fort Pitt, and adds "For those men the State gets little Credit, and the attention of every body that wishes to know the force Virginia keeps in the field is turned, not to Fort Pitt, but to General Green's Army—They see nothing of these men on his Returns, and of course the State appears, in a more difficult point of view than she ought to, and exposed to an additional load of obloquy. I have been told that there are at least 120 men there of the Virginia Line enlisted for the war, most of the officers are desirous to leave that Post and to join the rest of the line, but the Colonel lives there, and would probably be much averse to leaving it."

Encloses a resolution of Congress, by which it appears that Genl: 1782.
 Irwin of Pensyva: has authority to reorganize the troops at Fort Pitt, January 21st and as Col: Broadhead of the Pennsylvania Rgt. there, is the senior officer to the Virginia Colonel, it may be that the whole of the Virginians have been incorporated with the Batallion with the Pensylvanians under Broadhead. In as much as he has never giving instructions that the Militia of the Counties in Virginia adjacent to that Post, should be under the orders of Genl: Irwin, not having authority from the Executive to do so, he shall await their action in the matter.

“This day came before me, St. George Tucker Esqr, & took the Oath January 22d of Fidelity, as also the Oath of a Privy Councillor, agreeable to an Act Henrico Co.
 prescribing the Oath of Fidelity & the Oaths of certain Public Officers.
 Given under my Hand this 22d Day of January 1782.”

He has delivered to Col: Febiger's paymaster “400 pr: Shoes & 53 Shirts & hatts”—the only articles he had of those ordered. Has neither over-alls or cloth from which to make them. Hopes soon to have Russia sheeting out of which to make some; but as nearly all his tailors are about to leave him, for want of the Specie to pay them, he cannot promise much work in the future. Thinks it would be proper to order the Soldiers at Cumberland Old Ct: House who are good tailors to report to him; more good to be done by this step, as he could then have shirts made for the army. The few tailors he has are at work for Col: Armand; but should rather be employed making over-alls & vests for the Virginia Line. He is determined not to allow his Shoe-makers to make Boots &c for his Legion. Returns thanks for his efforts to procure him his pay, and adds “I wish I may be D——d if I have had one Shilling my own property for near Two Months, & what is nearly as bad I am almost naked for want of Cloaths”—Begs to be allowed to draw from Mr. Dyer Some “thin French Cloth in the State,” not fit for the Soldiers; for which he will pay Mr. Ross in Tobacco. Recommends that “buttons be put to the Clothing he may send to Richmond, as much complaint arises because it is not done.

Enclosing a letter from Col: Simmonds of Charleston So: Carolina, urging the settlement of his claim against the state, for supplies furnished the prisoners of War of the Virginia Line at that place—Col: Davies testifies to the "very liberal and humane treatment" of those prisoners by Col: Simmonds, according to the reports of all the officers who were confined there. The articles &c. were supplied in bulk to the Order of Genl: Scott of Va., and afterwards to Col: Nevill who succeeded Scott in Command of the Virginia troops at Charleston. As these gentlemen are now collecting the necessary vouchers, which will consume much time, and as Col: Simmonds is incurring great expence, having to pay Five guineas a day for the vessel he came in, and has learned that his estate in Charleston is attached, he recommends a settlement with him, through Mr. Ross the Commercial Agent, by accepting his accounts as being correct, he giving proper Bond for future reimbursement to the State in case of errors being found, when the vouchers shall have been produced.

January 23d "Sir

York

The day before our Court Day I rece'd a Commission for a sheriff for this County. I had previous to the rec't of the Commission directed the Clerk to write to the magistrates to desire their attendance, four of which with the gentleman who was to qualifie as sheriff did attend. It was their opinion that we could not set, to do business in any other House but the Court house, which at present is used by the French as an Hospital. the variety of disorders therein, and the disagreeable smell of the House deter'd the Gentlemen from going in. I thought it proper to acquaint yr: Excellency, as perhaps by an application from you the House may be given up—the necessity for a Sheriff and Court in this County was perhaps never greater than at present, the situation of the inhabitants of this Town is peculearly hard. If the French army are to stay any time, we hope Barracks will be built to the chimneys of the former.

There is I suppose upwards of a hundred negroes in this Town & York, they are really a great nuisance—I wish something could be done with them. it would be useless for me to have them taken up, as we have no prison to confine them in, nor no guard to escort them elsewhere.

January 23d

COL: CHRIST: FEBIGER TO COL: DAVIES.

D'r Colo.

Cumberland
Old Ct:

House

I beleive I left off on the Subject of provisions. it's really a Serious one. we were twelve Days without a morsel of meat of any Kind. from Amelia I procured as much as lasted me till some came up from Richmond. that from Amelia was so poor and bad that the men refus'd to receive it, and on confining some of them, about 150 rose in arms to rescue them. But by the Vigilance of the Officers they were dispers'ed. But when the Beef, or rather Carrion, that came from Richmond is to be issued, there will be a greater cause of Complaint. it will be to morrow. I shall attend the issue myself—Although I assure you from the stench of the meat it's dangerous to be near it. 1782. January 23d

The Resolves of council is very good. But unless it is communicated to the Commissioners of Countys from your Authority, I fear it will have but little Effect. I have wrote Major Forsyth. he has no Resource in the world but the Carrion from Richmond or Manchester. I am informed all the Troops to the Northward of us, as also the different stations, is supplied entirely by contract. was this to be the case here we would fare much better as several gentlemen would undertake to supply the Post.

Yours of the 21st by Mr. Logwood came to hand last night. I had received a Letter from Genl: Greene, of the 29th ultimo: by Capt: Ragsdell, in which he pres'd the marching of the Troops at this Station. In Consequence of which I have issued orders for the Detachment to be in Readiness to march at a moment's warning—Notwithstanding my repeated applications to the Q. Master's Department, I have yett obtained but very few Articles of those wanted. I have long since sent my Estimate. I sent my Quarter Master in person. all I received was 400 Knapsacks, I Rheam of paper, and an order on Ross' Works for one Ton of Iron. Upwards of a month ago, I obtained an order on Major Magill for some canteens. I sent the order but received none, neither have we a single order book or a sheet of paper. I also obtained an Order from Carington for Arms and Accoutrements compleat. I sent for them, but could obtain none better than those we have. however in this Article I can manage so as not to detain the Troops a moment on that account. I shall write Genl: Greene, and state matters to him. I am extreamly uneasy about his situation, and shall exert every nerve to gett the Detachment off. A Scene of Villiany has been carried on, between the Inhabitants and Soldiery, that would astonish you, although every precaution has been taken to prevent such an Intercourse—Major Finley will inform you of the particulars. I am extreamly sorry it is out of the power of Government to furnish us money, if it was ever so little, it would have a happy effect. The Officers I am in hopes can manage so as to assist each other. I would therefore propose (as the old Soldiers' year ended the whole grumble exceedingly) that £4 or 500, say 14 or 1500, which I am sure Government might borrow, should be immediately put in the hands of the Continental Paymaster, from him to Lut: Storkley or myself, and then proportion it to each non comis'd Officer and Soldier who marches with the Detachment. I beg you to make use of every means in your power to effect this purpose, and inform me of your prospects by Scott or Finley, whoever comes up first. when the money is paid an Account might be lodged with the Auditors. By these means and my marching the Troops out of the State myself, I could gett them off very well contented. As I have but a very super-

1782. ficial knowledge of the Southern Country, and what Route at this time January 23d would be most adviseable, I will be much oblig'd to you for your opinion and advice, that I may concert measures for their supplies on their Route. I have spoke with a number of the Officers on the ill consequences it would be productive of, to dispose of their Certificates at less than their real value, and shall as you propose advise some of them to dispose of theirs for the benefit of the whole, in such manner as not to give a stab to their future Credit. I wish the next Session of Assembly may act decisively in this Matter: we must depend on you to procure from John Pierce Esqr. Paymaster Genl: in Philadelphia an Account of the Time the Different Corps has been paid off up to the last day of November 1779, as also an Account of what money the Officers respectively have drawn.

Whilst I am writing this three of the Officers come with a paper which was found in one of their Tents. the inclos'd is a copy—I had discovered a dissatisfaction for some time. this comes close, and deserves the utmost Attention to prevent an open Rupture, which however it is said that Genl: W——yn has pronounced at Genl: Greene's Quarters, as provision is very bad at present and the men might attempt something to morrow. I have with the Advise of my principal Officers concluded to lett alone an enquiry for the Author of the Scrawl
 'till things grow better or worse. when I mentioned 4 or —— I had made no calculation which I have since done, and find that one single month's Pay for the non commissioned officers and privates would amount to 4856½ Dollars, or £1457—that sum I should conceive might easy be gott—

Mr. Logwood informed me that you seemd uneasy about my not have-ing wrote lately. one Reason was my not receiving yours sooner than the 20th. * * * * *

* A report is just prevailing of General Greene's having met with a total Defeat, and himself Kill'd. hope there is no Foundation for it though from his Situation I fear the worst—Mr. Febiger is at my elbow and joins in our best compliments to you, and I am, D'r Colo. as ever,

Your Sincere Friend & ever humble

THE VIRGINIA DELEGATES TO THE CHEVALIER DE LA LUZERNE.

1782.

"Sir

Jan'y 24th

Philadelphia
 We have taken into consideration the communication which you were pleased to make to us this afternoon, of that part of his Excellency's Count de Vergennes late Letter which relates to the mode of forwarding the supplies furnished by his Court to the State of Virginia—Being sensible of the difficulties under which the country labours from the want of Military Stores, we cannot do otherwise than recommend that those which our generous Ally has directed for the use of Virginia should be forwarded in French Bottoms without delay. We are confident that every measure tending to the secure transportation of these Stores will be adopted, and particularly that they will be sent under a convoy of a convenient force, if it be practicable.

We shall inform the Governor of Virginia of the Steps which we have now taken, and doubt not that they will prove acceptable.

Altho' Mr. Harrison, who negotiated these supplies with you, mentions in his Letter of the 29th of May last, the propriety of sending them to the Delaware, yet we beg leave to refer you to his preceding Letter of the 17th Feb'y, in which he observes, "that it would add greatly to the obligation if the Stores could be transported in a Frigate to York Town in Virginia." The latter Letter having been written at a season when our posts were infested by British vessels. We conceive that the former suggests for our present circumstances, the most convenient & advantageous plan. But should the position of the enemy make it unsafe to enter Chesapeake Bay, we are convinced that due precaution will be taken."

In reply to a letter from the Count de Vergennes in France, dated Oct: 8th 1781 to the Chevalier de la Luzerne at Philadelphia, informing him that the "Articles to be furnished to the State of Virginia" would soon be ready for delivery, and enquiring whether they should be sent in vessels despatched for that purpose, or be transported in French vessels, the Genl: Assembly of Va upon this being communicated to them, through their Committee, resolved that the Governor be desired to inform the Chev: de la Luzerne French minister at Philadelphia, that they preferred these goods should be "transmitted in ships of France "as suggested by the Count de Vergennes, in his letter of the 8th Oct: 1781.

February 1st
Pungoteague Accomack.

He has made no report since his arrival on that shore, because there were no arms or anything else to equip the men drafted by Accomac and Northampton Co's. There are thirty or forty substitutes in Accomac, furnished when the draft was opposed in that County, and a few deserters. As soon as he got over, he notified the County Lieutenants, and there was no delay in their action. The men are coming in and he sends Capt. Parker for Arms and clothing for them. The men who opposed the draft all expect to furnish substitutes, for the war. Northampton Co., who first set the example, "held a Court and Condemned the men" but have never had instructions how to dispose of them. It will be a great hardship "to pass over" these offenders and punish others. But he hopes none of them will be dealt with, and wishes instructions on the subject. He sends Capt: Parker with the hope, that he may be enabled to equip the men in a Soldier like manner, and get a vessel to bring them over.

The troops have been supplied by the "class beef of the County" but that is now exhausted—Northampton has sent none, because it was by order, carried on board the French Fleet. Concludes, "The People here are much surpris'd at the return of Mr. Lion, as he has taken the Pulpit again, without Satisfying the Publick, by whos Authority he came here."

COL: GEORGE MATHEWS TO COL: DAVIES.

February 1st

His letter of the 19th January, also one from Genl: Greene of the 27th December last, are just received—It gives him great pain that he cannot comply immediately with Genl: Greene's orders,—Since he left Chesterfield last spring he has been "with care and rigid economy endeavoring to preserve from ruin a wife and Eight helpless children" left in easy circumstances when he went into the service. Last summer he was attacked "with the appearance of a fistula which have since termi-

 February 1st This and the desire to recuperate his fortunes had depressed him exceedingly, and he was at the point of retiring to some new country when his letter arrived, "and nothing but the partiality I have for this character of a soldier could have recalled me from this intended happy retreat. He has written to Genl: Greene to expect him in April next if his health will permit; in the mean time Col: Posey whose ability will amply repay his absence and be agreeable to Genl: Greene, will march with the Troops. Concludes, "nothing but a desire to Justify my self to a man I esteem my rail friend for not marching immediately, could have drawn from me so tedious relation of family affairs which I know will give you pain."

February 1st N. B. BURWELL CO. LIEUT., TO COL. DAVIES.

James City Co. He has not been able to make the returns required by his letter of the 25th Sept: 1781, on account of the confused State of affairs in that County and his long absence from home. He regrets to find upon investigation, that "most all our recruits have absconded; owing in a great measure to the following circumstance "our draft took place on Tuesday the 17th of April last, & on Friday in the same week Gen'ls Philips & Arnold entered Williamsburg & York & carried off with them some of the recruits & others of them through choice joined the British." The cloathing required have been delivered—A "strict enquiry shall be made after the recruits that have absconded."

February 2d MAJ: R. CLAIBORNE* TO COL: DAVIES.

Fredericksburg Requesting him to procure and send to him his Commission "properly filled up." He thinks he "cannot be far from a Captain Lieutenancy."

February 2d COL: DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR—

War Office Drawing attention to the condition of the "Public Works at Warwick." Little or nothing is done there at present, and yet there are "ten hands kept there" belonging to the State, who could be hired out to advantage, most of them are Rope-Makers, but as the Public rope-walk is burnt, the proprietors of the private rope-walks near Richmond are very anxious to hire these negroes and will give high wages for them. Capt: Young informs him also, there are several houses in town, belonging to the Public, either unoccupied or used by persons who have no right to them. They might be rented out to advantage—Desires instructions on these two subjects.

* His rank as Major, was in the Continental Q. M. Department; but was an officer also in the Artillery of the Va. Line.

"TO HIS EXCELLENCY GOVERNOR BENJAMIN HARRISON, AND THE COUNCIL OF THE STATE OF VIRGINIA, &c. &c—" 1782.

Memorial in behalf of the Sick of the British Prisoners— February 2d

Humbly Sheweth,

That your memorialist Doctr. Robert Smyth, Surgeon & Director of British Hospitals in Virginia, having received intelligence that some medicines, sometime since forwarded from Gloucester, for the use of the British Prisoners in Cantonments, have been lost, the want of which throws them into great Distress—Your memorialist having been asked for a fresh supply to be forward, hopes your Excellency and Council will Order such conveyance for the medicines for each Regiment, as you may think necessary for the relief of the British Prisoners—” —also, inclosing copy of letter from John Story, acting purveyor at Gloucester to Dr. Rob't Smyth &c—as follows—

“Sir

Notwithstanding repeated & pressing Applications have been made to the American Commissaries for a regular supply of Provisions for the Sick in the British Hospital at this Place, yet it has produced nothing but promises—

For the last month they have not furnished us with any thing, and I have reason to believe it will be a long time, before our necessities are attended to unless a proper representation is made—We have Subsisted by Purchase, but as there is a great difficulty in procuring money, a few days more will exhaust our Resourses, I have informed you of these circumstances that your superior Judgement might point out what is necessary—

I have the honor to be your humble Servant.”

JNO. ROBERTSON, SUP: COM: ISSUES, STATE OF VA. TO THE GOVERNOR. February 3d

Enclosing “General Return” of all Provisions received by him and his Assistants from this State “for Continental use, in the last year” excepting those rec'd at the different Ports by the ass: Deputy Q. master, who make their returns to Maj: Fosyth.—A copy of those latter shall be gotten, when a full return can be forwarded to his Excellency. Begs to be advised how he is to procure “a necessary supply of wood and forage from the continent.” It is impossible he can continue his Office in Richmond, unless he can get “something to live upon.”—He has not drawn a stick of wood or “one grain of Forage” since he left York the 17th December last, but pays ready money for both. He does not wish to leave the place, without the permission of the Executive, but it 1782. is impossible to remain as he is. There is plenty of grain belonging to February 3d the "specific tax" spoiling, and yet those entitled to it, cannot get it.

 Concludes "I hope you will pardon my presumption in troubling you with this affair, as it don't in the least concern you, but the former Repeated testimonies of your friendship always induces me to apply to you when in distress.

February 4th Col: Davies informs the Governor of the irregular conduct of the War Office people in taking up and slaughtering cattle belonging to the Government. This has been done of late in Goochland Co. Desires instructions in regard to recovering those still in their possession.

February 4th MAJOR R. CLAIBORNE TO THE GOVERNOR.

Fredericks- Giving as a reason why the two Cavalry-men detailed to act as burg Express riders at Bowling Green would not remain there, that the Quarter master, Capt: R. Young, reports, that the County "Commissioners having ceased to act, he has "neither money or Credit to purchase" the people refusing to receive "certificates" for anything.

February 5th M. CLARKSON ASST: SEC: OF WAR TO COL: DAVIES.

War Office Major Genl: Lincoln has gone to Massachusetts. The Southern Army, Philadelphia so long suffering for want of clothing will soon be supplied. The Clothier General, being about to send fo'ward one thousand additional comple Suits: Congress has ordered the Commissioners, appointed to settle the accounts of the U. States with the States, to credit each of them with the amounts of clothing furnished by them respectively to troops of the several Lines.

February 5th RICHARD GRAHAM TO COL: DAVIES.

"Sir
 Dumfries Your favor of the 18th ult: covering an extract of a Letter from Col: Hendricks, came to hand a few days ago—
 When the French Troops came to the Southward, I was in Philadelphia, & before I got home, part of them had passed this place. I was informed that Mr. Conn was furnishing the whole of them with our Specific Tax Corn, drawing from them cash at 10. S. pr: Bl: And that he was supplying them also with Hay, that had been impressed from the Gentlemen in the neighborhood for the use of the Continental Army. I stopt over to Mr. McDaniel's where Mr. Conn Lodged to tell him that he ought in my opinion to return the money rec'd for the Corn, into the Treasury & that the people who he rec'd the Hay from ought to have the money arising from it, but he was gone to Alexandria, 1782.

& tho' he was from time to time in Town for ab't two or three weeks February 5th after this, I did not see him. I did not know his person, but in the meantime Mr. McDaniel had told me he was taking up the cash he rec'd from time to time, to Col: Hendricks.

I made no doubt but the Col: had particular directions regarding the disbursement of the money, and therefore gave myself no further trouble about the matter. Only when I made the return of our Specific Tax, I thought it necessary to note that a quantity of the Corn had been delivered to the French. Since the receipt of your Letter, I have made particular enquiry into the matter, and notwithstanding Mr.
Conn's return of only Three Ton of Hay & nineteen bushells of Corn, he has, from the best information I can obtain, furnished the French Troops & rec'd the money for upwards of Twenty Ton of Hay & eight hundred or a thousand bushells of Corn, for which I cannot find that he ever replaced one pound of Hay or a single bushell of Corn at this post. Mr. McDaniel tells me that Conn set out three different times from his House, with large sums of money, which he told him he was taking up to Col: Hendricks—And that he has seen him receive at one time upwards of one hundred Guineas from the French, & he was receiving almost every day for three or four weeks.

One Gentleman, Mr. Gwadkins, had Twelve Ton of Hay taken from him and Sold to the French. Conn rec'd the money in the presence of Mr. Gwadkins, but would not pay him one Shilling of it—Every Drove of French beeves was fed here with Corn & hay or both. The American Beeves were furnished with neither. A Court of Enquiry may bring all these matters to light. Conn has certainly inposed upon Col: Hendricks most grosly—but I think the Col: is mistaken in some of his observations. "That if the grain was replaced, there could be no harm done & that if the peoples' goods were once taken from them & got into the Agent's hands, as they never could go back to them, it could make no difference who consumed them"—in the first case as the corn was sold at 10. S. pr: Bl: to the French & could be spared, the money ought to have been sent to the Treasury—because if more corn had been wanted at this post, it could be laid in again at a dollar pr: Bl. Mr Conn could have no right to make 60 pr Ct: by trading with the Country's property. in the Second, The people conceived, and indeed knew, that one third or one fourth of the Hay impressed for this Post would have served the Continental Troops, & that they could have sold the remaining two thirds or three fourths to the French, themselves for cash, therefore the People have no doubt, just cause of complaint.

I have the honor to be with the greatest regard,

Dear Sir,

your most obedt Sevnt."

JNO: PIERCE TO COL: DAVIES.

February 6th

Chatham
James City
County

In reply to his, requesting information in regard to the Counties that have failed to furnish "the district Beeves"—As they were to have been delivered when Mr. Browne was in office, he knows little about the matter except that his own County had supplied some—New Kent and Charles City had given "not a single beef"—Indeed so few counties have furnished their full quota, that were they collected, Genl: Green's Army might be fed for some months. It gives him great concern that Genl: Green is in such need of provisions, and altho' he considers himself out of office, and if the condition of his family will allow it, he will be in Richmond by the 15th Feb'y and will perform any service required of him. Concludes "My family are now under inoculation for the Small pox, which has spread entirely over the neighborhood, & but few recover who take it in the natural way."

February 6th GOV: ALEX: MARTIN OF N. CAROLINA TO GOVERNOR HARRISON OF VA.

Guilford

Enclosing his Proclamation, making provision for the arrest of certain plunderers who had been carrying off the negroes and other property of Citizens of N. Carolina, into Virginia and other States, and selling them. Ordering the Commissioners of Confiscated Estates to use their endeavors in seizing all such stolen property, to be held until the proper owners shall be found &c.

February 7th

CHAS: RUSSELL D. Q. MASTER TO GOV: HARRISON.

Manchester

The Continental horses are starving; they have been supported for the last ten days on what forage he "could purchase for two old Continental waggons sold for that article." The only mode of supplying them, will be by collecting the grain, the inhabitants of the adjacent counties have to pay "for each poll."

By a letter recd: from Mr. Ronald of Powhatan, he finds there will be no chance of collecting anything in that part of the Country, in as much as the wants of five or six hundred Starving men at Cumberland old Ct. House, have consumed all the people can spare. Mr. Ronald recommends however, that the Law of the last Session of the Assembly "laying a tax of half a Bushel of Wheat or one Bushel of Corn pr: poll" passed at the urgent request of Colo. Carrington, may yield a large quantity of forage, should the Gov: & Council issue an order for its immediate execution, especially as it was the intention of the Legislature, by this act, to supply the Quarter master's Department. He therefore recommends this step; but if this plan should fail, Mr. Ronald will appeal to the people of his county, and adds "Should there be at any time waggons going to the Southern Army thro' this County which cannot be supplied in any other manner, I shall not hesitate to pledge my private Credit to prevent the Armys' Suffering." 1782. February 7th

CAPT: EDMUND READ, V. L. DRAGOONS TO GOV: HARRISON. February 7th

In accordance with the Orders of november last, he, as soon as the men had recovered from the Small pox at Winchester, had marched the Corps to this place, where he arrived two days before. He found no supplies of any sort for the men or horses laid up, and but for the aid of "some of the principal gentlemen" in the county they should have starved. Begg that orders be given to the Commissioners of the Counties, as soon as they are appointed, to collect the grain. Unless this is done or some other aid given, his men must be disbanded. Their "extreme nakedness and want of accoutrements" make it impossible for them to take the field if called upon. He again appeals to his Excellency for aid, being "without one Shilling to purchis necessaries for the Coar or no power to Impress"—also enclosed, a letter from Capt: Read to Col Davies, repeating the substance of the above, but adding "I'm inf'd there is some Bugel Horns, stored with the Q. M. taken at York. we are much in want of them for the use of the Coar, please give an order for them to the Dragoon &c." Bedford Co. New London

COL: CHRISTIAN FEBIGER TO GOV: HARRISON.

February 7th

"Sir

being well convinc'd that in the present distracted state of our public Affairs, your Excellency's whole Attention must be taken up in publick Business, has induced me hitherto to make my several Applications to Government through the Commissioner of War, and have to return my Thanks to your Excellency for your attention to the Distresses of the troops. As soon as a few stores which Col: Posey has procured in Richmond arrive here, the Detachment now here will march to join General Greene."

He is requested by the Officers at the Station, or of the Line, to ask his Excellency to appoint some one to proceed to Philadelphia to procure "Copys of the different Pay, and other Accounts of the Officers," it being impossible for them to make a final settlement with the Auditors, as required by Act of the last Assembly, without them.

For want of money and other reasons, they cannot procure them themselves. Some Officer of the Line would be the proper person, and he recommends therefore Capt: Mayo Carrington of the 5th Va. Rgt: now a prisoner on parole as a fit person, unless it be inconsistent with his duty. As soon as the Detachment has marched, he will forward a full return of its strength &c.

DUDLEY DIGGES TO GOV: HARRISON.

February 8th
King's Mill

Enclosing an autograph letter of the Count de Rochambeau, and Copy of the Duke de Choisy's note in regard to the robbery of "Mary Harris a poor woman of Cloucester Co., said to have been committed by "huz-zars of the Duke de Lauzuns' Legion" &c.

The articles taken embraced all her household furniture including feather beds, rug, cotton, wool, Dutch-oven, pewter plates, Scales, Grid-Iron, spinning wheel, Iron Pot-racks, flag chairs, Iron Hominy Pestle, candle mould, narrow Ax, Hour-Glass &c &c—amounting in value, to £21. 10s. 3d. allowed by the Count de Rochambeau.

Mr. Digges has at last collected almost all the accounts from Individuals, of damages done by the French and Continental troops, and will in a few days, with the "French Intendant" enter upon their examination. The extreme ignorance of the people in regard to their losses will prevent their getting satisfaction; tho' they are better off than the holders of certificates who are put off by the French, under the false impression that his duty will require of him the settlement or payment of them.

He had made this report to the Hon: Messrs Jamerson and Ambler, in his answer to the order of the Council when Genl: Nelson was Governor. But he will undertake to perform the duty, especially as he knows that the Auditors being strangers to the transactions with "the most Expert Clerk," would meet with insurmountable difficulties. He will be in Richmond as soon as his son recovers from the Small pox, and endeavor to give the Council the requisite information.

offences which your excellency no doubt have been informed of. He was to have headed that body of Tories along the Fronteers of this State, who had conspired and assembled to oppose the Laws, and who appeared to me at that time to be a dangerous body, as the enemy was

 Feb'y 10th myself of his former character as well as of his conduct since his resignation to the Laws of his Country, which in both cases have been uniform and good. And altho' he is condemn'd in his County for a further trial, his crimes are only similar to those men in Augusta county who opposed the laws and prevented the draught, except his being a leading man in the Section.

I can truly say this is the first time I ever spoke in favour of a Tory, or ever wished their lives spared them—but Humanity as well as policy urges me to say something in favour of Clapool, and wish he may obtain forgiveness. In the first place he has a wife and fourteen children chiefly small, and dependent on him for subsistence. In the next place
 I think he may be depended on, and sure to prevent another revolt, which the people of that place for many years will incline to, as they are ignorant of their duty, fond of changes and withal encouraged & favoured by the situation of the place They live in, which is composed of deep valies and inaccessible mountains, which serves to favour their escape when pursued. in the third place his being forgiven would be a means of bringing in numbers of out Lyers, who are afraid to come, for fear of being punished—numbers of deserters from the Army with them.

COL: JAMES INNIS TO GOV: HARRISON.

“Sir,

Richmond

During the late Campaign in this State, while the british Army was in possession of Williamsburg I was sollicitd by the Major-General Marquis La Fayette, on acc't of my acquaintance with the Inhabitants of that City and its vicinage, to use my efforts to establish a line of Intelligence with the british Army, both on the North and South sides of York River. To enable me to Effectuate This object with the more certainty, the Marquis directed me to promise a premium of ten guineas to those persons, whom I might employ, provided they could give indubitable proofs of their having been in the british Encampment, and greater rewards, should they bring material Information. I was happy enough to make such arrangements as answered the General's wishes.
 The persons whom I engaged as Intelligencers on the South side of York River were, I have been told, compensated by the Marquis for their toils and Hazards. But those on the Gloster side, from whom very material service were derived, having no access to the Marquis, demand of me a performance of my promises—to which as the Marquis has now left the Continent, I shall be compelled, unless yr: Excellency may suppose that I ought to be releived by the Interference of the State. The sum for which I stand liable, does not exceed twenty five Guineas—a part of which is due for provisions furnished to those persons whom I sent to Williamsburg, under the pretext of carrying supplies to market. This Sum, tho' inconsiderable will be material to me, who must pay it, without the prospect of a Reimbursement

I have the honor to be very respectfully, your Excellency's most obedient Servant"

RICHARD YARBOROUGH TO HON: ST. GEORGE TUCKER, ESQ, RICHMOND. Feb'y 11th

As he had been kind enough to promise to see that his "business with the Executive" should shortly be attended to, he makes the following statement—upon the Arrival of the French Fleet, he was notified by all the authorities of the urgent necessity of obtaining supplies, and that unless this was done the troops must starve. On this account he had made every possible exertion—had under instructions from Col: Banister borrowed large amounts.—These are now due, on this account eight hundred bushels of corn, for want of which the lenders are this moment suffering greatly, and he prays for an Order from the Executive, to enable him to replace it. In addition to this he desires to receive his pay for extra services arranged—From September, he supplied from that County "368 Beeves, 145798 pounds flour 21100 lbs. of bread, 7364 Bushels of Corn, 826 Bush: Oats, 635 lb Bacon, 3712 gallons ——— 382 bushels Salt, & 20324 lbs Seconds" chiefly at the most critical time, as Mr. Pierce can testify—He was also Mr. Pierce's assistant in Amelia & Prince George Cos. and indeed used every exertion in his power to procure supplies for the army, knowing that a failure in this respect would be fatal in its consequences. Lastly he was directed by the Com'r of War under order of Council, to collect all estray horses and Cattle left by the British &c., and he sent to Capt: Young at Richmond, about sixty horses, some of which were very valuable. Under these circumstances he trusts such allowance may be made, as will reward him for his Services.

Robert Porterfield encloses to the Governor "various Certificates" of money due the estate of his deceased brother the late Lieut: Col: Charles Poterfield, requesting his Excellency to inform him how they are to be settled. Begs leave to mention also, that previous to his brother's death and while he was a prisoner at Camden, "considerable sums of money" were advanced to him by gentlemen, for which he is now responsible, and he therefore requests, that in order to enable him to pay these amounts, a "Certificate for pay," due his brother's Estate, as an officer, may be issued, similar to those granted to officers allowing two years pay, under a late Act of assembly. He dislikes to be troublesome, but

1782. the probability of his soon going into Active service urges the necessity Feb'y 11th of this business being settled, especially as the heirs of his brother are much in need of it. Calls attention also to Gov: Jefferson's warrant to Genl: Scott for a Camp-bedstead, which requires his Excellency's approval, to prevent any future dispute. His illness prevents his "waiting on his Excellency in person."

Capt: Samuel Jones will hand this, and receive any communication from his Excellency.

 dezvous their Recruits" in Richmond on the 20th April, when their service begins. From the returns of the 1st Legion, it consists of "270 Infantry & 16 Cavalry." He has had no official return from Col: Mead, in regard to the strength of his Corps, but from verbal reports of the Officers, they have between three and four hundred. He gives this information, in order that provisions may be supplied for them.

 those who have boarded them must lose greatly thereby unless their acc't be allowed to be paid out of the Specific Taxes, at specie rates.
 The cost of the gun-powder used may appear great, but "when I inform the County) for the purpose of alarming the Inhabit's to join the Troop upon the approach of the Enemy, which happen'd alm'st daily) it will not be thought surprising, even had they have used more."

Continues "The Troop, I can venture to say was the salvation of this County the last year; and I have the Satisfaction to inform you they have again Imbodied, for the protection of the County the ensuing Summer. Such Conduct in our young men merits public applause. I therefore could wish they cou'd be allowed the accustomed pay & Rations and be exempt from future Draughts. This Shore, if protected, is an object of the utmost importance to this State, and the State of Maryland, on Acct. of the different Inlets and Harbours on the Sea Coast &c." 1782. Feb'y 12th

Although General Greenes' information of the number of men expected to reinforce Genl: Lesley at Charles Town may be exaggerated, yet it cannot be doubted the Enemy intend to prosecute the ensuing Campaign with all the vigor in their power, and should considerable reinforcements get to Charles Town before Genl: Greene is properly supported. The enemy to prosecute the war vigorously ported, we fear he will be obliged to abandon his present position, and the blame fall chiefly on Virginia, whose line that should be first on the list of the Southern Army for numbers, is, we are informed, greatly short of that of Maryland. Duty as a member of the Federal Union, and interest as more intimately involved in the fate of the Southern States, cannot fail to operate as powerful incentives to Virginia, to use every means in her power to recruit her Continental line and afford every other reasonable support to the Southern Army. As we are unacquainted with the supplies of Beef furnished by the State upon former requisitions, we are at a loss to know how far it would be necessary to ascertain the terms of the supply now called for, to enable the State to charge it in acct. with the United States, in part of the quota of the present year." * * * * *

The success

West Indies

"The Chev: Luzerne has received intelligence from the W. Indies, that the Count de Grasse with the fleet under his command, and a large body of Troops commanded by the Governor of Martinique, had invested the Island of St. Kitts, landed the Troops on the 7th of last month, and in ten days subdued the whole Island, except the Fortress on brimstone Hill, to which place part of the British troops and some militia had retired—that this place was closely invested, and it was thought could not long withstand the force of the assailants—about one hundred merchant ships and vessells with a large quantity of naval and military stores had fallen into the Count's hands—that Adml Hood with nineteen Sail of the line, lay at Barbadoes, but hearing of the Count's movements had quited that place and gone to Antigua.

W. ARMSTEAD TO THE EXECUTIVE.

"Sir

Richmond

Upon the rising of the last Session of Assembly, observing that they had directed the dismissal of Quarter masters & Commissaries of every denomination, I expected daily to be favoured by your Excellency with my discharge, as being the authority under which I received my appointment: this not having taken place, I must have been mistaken in my apprehension of that Law. At present the public Store is almost destitute of every necessary supply for the army, without even a prospect of being replenished from any quarter that I know of. the expense to the State, of keeping up such an establishment is very considerable & perhaps affords but little conveniency, as there are Clothiers & sub-clothiers besides, to whom the materials for clothing the Army, should any be provided, may as well be delivered in the first instance as to be delivered to the Commissary of Stores & then by him be reissued to the Clothiers, as has been the case heretofore. I find by another Act of assembly that the Accts of all officers of the Virginia Line are immediately, finally, to be settled by the Auditors, in which all the clothing supplied them during the war by the State, is to be accounted for: it is extremely necessary therefore that a Collection of all issues made by myself or Others should be made in order to Enable the Auditors to exhibit proper Accounts against the Officers who apply to settle. this is a business which will require very particular attention, together with the variety of business which has fallen to my share for some years past & is equally necessary should be fully settled: to do which some additional leisure & opportunity is requisite. for these reasons it is, that I have taken this liberty (which I hope your Excellency will pardon) of submitting to your Excellency's better determination, whether the discontinuance of a Commissary of Stores for the State, is not at present necessary.

I have the honor of being with great deference, Your Excellency's Most obedt. Servant"

MAJ: R. CLAIBORNE TO GOV: HARRISON.

Feb'y 16th

Enclosing several extracts of a letter received from the Quarter Master General, upon the subject of supplies &c., and enquiring what effect they will have in raising them. The letter is dated at New Windsor, and says "It is true you have represented the distressed situation of the Department in your district, and it is true that it has never been in my power to assist you. It is also true (as I have told you) that the distresses of Virginia and the public officers therein are by no means Singular. Divers States have suffered as well as Virginia by the ravages of the Enemy, and some much more. In these some of the public Creditors pointedly complain & talk of seizing the public property, or commencing suits against the public officers. I was myself threatened with such a suit since my return from Virginia. Yet in general there appears among the people (and in this State in particular you will hardly meet a man to whom the public is not two or three years in arrears for Services and supplies) much less impatience than your letter indicates to be discovered by the inhabitants of Virginia. That your Government too should complain (as you suggest) is to me a matter of astonishment. Good God! from what sources are public monies to be derived? Is it imagined that the financier has the power of Creation? that the appointment of that officer was to rid the State of all further trouble & expence? that it was to receive monies from, instead of supplying the public treasury?

Fredericks-

1782. Compared with our immense expenses, of what moment is the pittance Feb'y 16th of hard money received from France? And what will suffice to defray these expenses, but heavy taxes promptly levied & faithfully collected by the Several States? Yet how Slack are all the Governments in levying & enforcing the collection of the public taxes. I am this day informed by a letter from Philadelphia that (Pennsylvania excepted) the Financier has received no aid of cash from any State in the Union!"

You are rightly informed (I myself mentioned it to you) that prompt payments are made for some services & supplies in Pennsylvania and other States at the northward; but the monies or Government securities requisite for this purpose have been furnished by the individual States, when such payments have been made, Pennsylvania excepted, which has (as I understand,) committed to Mr. Morris the direction of its finances. But the monies thus furnished by individual States have been very inadequate to the payment of the debts contracted by my Deputies, all of whom are largely in arrears. Knowing how very little money came into the Continental Treasury, I have not expected to supply Deputies from thence, but that the individual States would generally furnish the means of supplying the business of the department within them respectively. How could I expect it, when I have been so ill supplied myself, that for some months together, I have not had public money enough to send off an Express. Even if the money promptly paid in Pennsylvania a very large proportion was expended in the purchase & transportation of Stores for the Southern Service."

"After describing your other embarrassments, you ask me to advise you in what manner to proceed—If Sir, your Government is determined no longer to yield its Aid for the support of the Public business in the State, the consequence is very obvious—it must fail, and the Quarter masters Department then be dissolved: for I cannot encourage you to expect relief from the Continental Treasury.

The evils you describe, and seem to think peculiar to your State, exist everywhere; except that of the Government's refusing to yield any assistance to enable the public Officers acting within its own limits to accomplish the most essential duties required of them—you indeed appear suspicious that I am insensible to your distresses, notwithstanding your repeated representations of them: but Sir, the suspicion is injurious. It has never been possible to obtain from the public Treasury the means of relieving you. The business of my department at all the Posts in this State (New York) and in Jersey, when the Enemy has been there, has been effected almost wholly by persuasion & impresses. The monies that have been paid for such extensive services and supplies are comparatively but as the dust of the ballance: nor have I now the least prospect of paying for them. The scantiness of the public funds render it impossible for the financier to look back; if he shall struggle through current difficulties he will deserve great applause: but this he cannot do without powerful aid from the respective States. I can therefore only advise you to repeat your applications to the Government of your State, as the only Source from whence you can probably derive assistance. 1782. Feb'y 16th Nevertheless your representation of the suffering State of the Hospitals, the British Prisoners & Armand's Legion, in Virginia, I shall communicate to the Commander in Chief and the financier. In the meantime, I hope the State will not leave the sick, the Legion, & the prisoners to perish."

"Sir

The Frontier situation of this County has hitherto made it necessary to keep some men imbodyed to oppose the Indians during the summer Season, which is now approaching, and the people begin to grow apprehensive of Danger. Should you think proper to admit of the usual gard for the Insuing Season, I would be glad of your approbation to post some at Elk River on the Kenaway, as they will more effectually cover the frontier of this County at that place, than they can posably do at the former posts, as it lys at the Distance of eighty miles from this place & Right in the Road of the Indians. I am satisfied twenty men will Render more service there, than fifty has formerly done at different posts in the Internal parts; and with less expence. These could be Readily engaged for six months for a small Bounty and would save much expence and Trouble in draughting & Replacing militia every Two months, which has been the method we have formerly been obliged to observe. I have also been much solicited to Implore your Excellency on this head by a number of people who formerly Lived on the Kennaway and has been Drove from there since the commencement of the present war, and are now desirous of returning, if a guard of Twenty men are allowed them."

W. ARMSTEAD TO THE GOVERNOR.

Richmond The Assembly at its last session having ordered the dismissal of all Quarter masters and Commissaries, he has been expecting his discharge by the Council, from whom he derived his appointment of "Commissary of Stores." At present the Public Store is "almost destitute of every necessary Supply for the Army," and he sees therefore no reason why the State should be put to the expense of keeping it up. The Clothiers can as well attend to this business. In addition to this, all the accounts of the Officers of the Virginia Line are to be "finally settled by the Auditors." In this, all the Clothing issued by himself and others during the war must be accounted for, in order that the Auditors may exhibit proper accounts against those Officers who apply for a settlement. Under these circumstances he takes the liberty to suggest that his Office be at once discontinued, so that he may have time to give attention to the settlement of his accounts, running through so many years, and embracing such variety of business as has fallen to his lot—

On the 14th late in the day, we set out from C. O. C. H.—I was under some apprehensions a little before our march, that the men would prove refractory, for which reason the whole of the Officers put themselves in readiness for action; upon which the men seeing a determined and steady carriage among the officers, they declined putting into execution their concerted scheme. On the 16th in the evening, we reached this place, where I have been under the necessity of arranging (not in a small degree) my little Detachment, and dealing out the stores which government has sent: the whole of which I have distributed among the Soldiers, except about one hundred gallons of rum, and a few blankets issued to the officers, on acct: of which shall herewith be transmitted, as also an acct of the issues to the men.

Yours' by Maj'r Crittenden of the 20th of December came safe to hand. The repeated disappointments I have met with from Government occasion me to Enter on the business you propose with some Regret, But shall lay aside every Reflection and commence anew. But in what manner to conduct myself I am Realy at a loss to determine, without either money or credit. And the sailable public property I have on hand such, that I cannot spare without a probability of getting it Replaced, which I do not yet discover. We are Reduced to the necessity of a defensive war, and wish to be able to Repel those I expect we shall have to contend with. If we are fortunate this spring, a Small Reinforcement and a few supplies may Enable us perhaps to turn the scale on them after harvest—The Post of Licking will be Immediately Establish'd, and the others as soon as circumstances will admit—The plan of Gun-Boats is Excellent. They may be built, But cannot be put in motion until we Receive Cannon Riging &c. I have wrote to Col: Davis (Davies) on the subject, and think they may Come to hand early in the spring. Pray give me all the Immediate assistance in your power. Hostilities have already commenced, and I wish the predictions in my last to you, may not come to pass. This year you may Rely on it that Every Exertion will be made, and hope such as will answer the purpose, but our Circumstances at present are such that its Impossible to give a Just Idea of what will be done. By a continual correspondence with some nations of the Oubash Indians, and from them to others, circulating such Intelligence through them, we thought most advisable to keep the whole silent until lately. But I doubt no attempts for the future will be of any service. The Garrison of St. Vincent is Evacuated, except a few spys, Residing at that post, Kaskaskas, Cohas &c, for the purpose of Intelligence. perhaps they may answer a good purpose, as I learn Hamilton & Connely is at Detroit, and make no doubt but they will attempt something of Importance. Colo: Davis (Davies) flatters me with the hopes of all the State Infantry. I don't think they could be beter employ'd than in this Departm't.

I am satisfy'd concerning the Verbal message alluded to in yours, finding that it was aimed at me. I wish those who see the Resolution may not think so, as its known that most publick transactions in the Western Departm't pas'd thro' my hands. Such an idea must be painful to me well knowing the Exertions I have us'd to save the publick monies. Abuses have taken place. And I ardently wish for the arrival of Auditors to adjust the accounts. It may be of great advantage to us in our future operations. Examples are much wanting—which would have taken place before this time had I not put the Construction I did on the Resolution. What hurt me was the idea I had of its being so pointed. Not but what I think it the duty of government to call all persons to acct. for their Conduct. I hope it will always do me credit, and I shall be careful that no person that Comes under my notice go without their deserts, if in my power to prevent. Your assurances of the publick Creditors having Justice has given Infinite Satisfaction to many, but I doubt will hardly Raise the publick Credit. 1782. Feb'y 18th

If I knew it would be agreeable to you, I could get a considerable sum of money from Orleans by sending flower to that post, which sell for an uncommon price. Such a step is in contemplation. In short, confident that any measures aim'd for the publick good will meet with your approbation when Judiciously plan'd, I shall make such my study, hoping frequently to Receive Instructions from you, and such assistance as in your power.

I have the Honor to be

Sir

Your Proclamation requiring the apprehension of the British Amherst Co. Prisoners came lately to hand; Since which time I have not had an opportunity of communicating to your Excellency the situation of a few of those People now in this County, & therefore have not as yet executed your orders against them; not doubting that when you were posed men, valuable artizans & highly agreeable to the People, that your Excellency would not object to grant them a Permit to remain in are Prisoners made the Cow-pens, who with the permission of Governor Jefferson resided in this County from the 20th of last Feby, until the cartel was oferd at James Town: during which time they found Connections by marriage and otherways, which rendered their Return to their several Corpsso extremely disagreeable, that I am convinced had our Laws permitted their Denization, they woud most chearfully have become good & faithful Subjects to this Common-wealth, but the case being otherwise & Retaliation upon that score inadmissable, they were exchanged, were captured at York & as soon an opportunity offerd made their escape to this County & immediately as upon the former occasion applied to me for Protection, which I readily granted, untill I cou'd

"Dear Colo.

This day at 12 o'clock I took up Camp on this ground, my Peytonsbury detachment in good spirits and health, except three men who has broke out with the small pox, which I have had provided for and left at Cub's Creek, thirty five miles from this place. My men's feet being very sore, I intend making a halt here until to-morrow twelve or one o'clock, which will be a means of healing their feet a little and haveing their cloaths washed. What would you think if I was to tell you that not a man has deserted me since I set out from Prince Edward Court House; however, the industry and vigilence of the officers is so strictly adhered to by them, that I think it almost sufficient to prevent any Set of men from desertion, except some of the grandest rascals in the world! and I beleive we have a few of that kind too.

We have it reported here that Gen'l St. Clair has had an engagement with the enemy at the Quarter house; the engagement very bloody, but the Genl: kept the field. It is likewise said that Wayne is Sent with a command of 1000, including militia, for the purpose of beseiging Savana.

I beg your pardon with regard to the desertion of the men, from strict examination I find four men absent since last night, perhaps they may not be deserted. I'll not be too positive in marching the whole of the detachment to Genl: Green; but this much I will be sure of, that if the whole is not march'd there, it shall not be from a want of a very strict attention being paid by the officers.

I am dear Col:

Yours with much Esteem.

1782. P. S. My Heavens! what am I to do about the men breaking out Feb'y 22d with the Small pox, another man has this moment discovered that he has it, and God knows what I shall do with him, for the inhabitants every where upon the route we march, is frightened, and I am really afraid that some of the men will perish: was this the last man to break out with it, I should be happy, but you may rely upon it I shall be plagu'd the whole march. I have applied to the magistrates for some provision to be made for those poor unhappy mortals, but damn them, I can get nothing done."

The Cannon* in Pamunkey were those which I had brought up from York and Cumberland, and were overtaken by the enemy at Taylor's Ferry and thrown into the river. Every endeavor has already been exerted to raise them, before the winter floods, but we could not accomplish it, we were therefore obliged to wait until the waters fall again, which will not be low enough for the purpose before the summer. *These are doubtless the long bronze French pieces referred to by Tarlton in his "Campaigns in Virginia," six of which were afterwards brought to Richmond, and remained on the public Square until the State Army was completed, when they were placed upon the parade ground within the buildings. There may have been some iron guns also thrown into the Pamunkey river by Tarlton. Those referred to in the letter above are still at the bottom of the Pamunkey, and are of like character and value with the two now to be seen at the Va. Military Institute, which survived the troubles and demands of the late war between the States; the other four having been melted and re-cast into modern guns. They are long seige-pieces, decorated with mottoes and devices, and are of great value.

1782. In the meantime there will be no damage sustained by the cannon being Feb'y 25th under water, iron cannon particularly will never rust if sunk below the surface. The operations at York so fully engrossed our attention in October, that no step could then be taken to raise them." * *

Philadelphia We have your Excellency's favor of the 9th of this month. Since our last the plan for the final settlement of the public accounts from the Commencement of the war to the 1st Jan'y, 1782, which we formerly mentioned to be under consideration, has been adjusted and agreed to by Congress, and will be fully explained to your Excellency, by the Superintendent of finance, to whose department it properly belongs—the want of the rule prescribed by the articles of Confederation, and which, from the particular situation of some of the States, could not now be obtained rendered the adoption of any mode, very difficult, the one proposed, when the variety of circumstances and interests to be combined upon the occasion are considered, will perhaps be found as free from exceptions as any that could be devised, and will, it is to be hoped, meet the approbation of the States.

We have reason to believe it has not proceeded from partiality to the Eastern and middle States, that contracts for the Southern department have not been proposed, as previous to the receipt of your Letter we had shown attention to this business, and found the Financier disposed to take that course for supplying the Southern Department so soon as taxes were laid, and likely to be collected in those States to enable him to comply with such engagements as he should enter into for that purpose. If any preference appears to have been given to the State of Pennsylvania in the benefit of contracts, we are assured it has proceeded from the money supplied by that State to enable the Superintendent of Finance to fulfil them. This money was supplied in commutation for the specific requisitions due to the United States. It may with truth be said, that the States as Virg'a, which supplied the Specifics, did their duty as much as Pennsylvania wch commuted for money, but un-happily the latter mode only has put into the hands of the superintendent the means of fulfilling future contracts, we must beg leave to refer to the inclosed papers for the news, and are very respectfully,

In regard to executing the order for Drafting men &c. Has postponed action until further instructions can be received. By the Act of Assembly a bounty of four thousand dollars pr: recruit is to be paid. As there is now no paper money, he desires to know how this point is to be settled. The men are expected to serve eighteen months from the day of drafting. In as much as this had been postponed by order of Council because the militia were so constantly on duty, he submits that it will now be very unjust to require these men to serve their full term, unless every man who has already been in active service be credited with that service "to be deducted from the 18 months." In addition to this, many have enlisted in the Legion, and many are sick, and unfit for active duty, so that his Excellency must not be disappointed at results, if the draft is enforced.

He expresses the hope that this course on his part may not be construed by the Executive as "a desire to gain popularity" in his County, such motives being unworthy of him, but as Commanding Officer, he is equally bound to do justice "to his Country & People. He awaits the reply of the Governor, to whose orders he shall give a "most chearfull compliance."

"Sir

I have been honored with your Excellency's Letter of the Seventh Instant. Your strictures on the Conduct of Congress would be unnoticed, did they not derive a consequence from the Character you Sustain. You will permit me to observe, that the Honorable Delegates of Virginia are guardians of its Rights; and that the Congress composed of such Delegates from all the States, are competent to determined on matters which relate to the general interest. Permit me Sir, also to observe, that if measures adopted by Congress were really oppressive to a particualr State, the Government ought to make an early Representation on the subject. I enclose the Extract of a Letter from his Excellency Governor Jefferson to the President of Congress, dated the twenty Seventh of July 1780, which does by no means either assert or imply that the Requisition for Tobacco would be inconvenient, much less oppressive. Your Legislature have not remonstrated against it, and I persuade myself that If they should make such Remonstrance, it will be in proper terms. A regard for their own Dignity will prevent them from charging the Sovereign Representative of America with Ignorance and Oppression. As your Excellency informs me that the Executive of your State cannot interfere in the transaction with Mr. Ross, I shall not trouble you or them with any thing further on the Subject, and as

Your Excellency may depend that I Shall always endeavor to do my Duty, but as some men are influenced more by Passion than reflection, Prudence would dictate a little caution on the score of Insinuations. It is possible that Sentiment might speak the Same Language with Prudence, but at any Rate, it would not be amiss to know the State of Facts, before we institute a charge of Partiality.

“A Specific Tax in Tobacco is payable on the 31st Day of December next. Of this about 3725 Hogsheads were appropriated as a Fund whereon to borrow money, under the Calls of Congress of Oct. 6 and 7, 1779, but another Provision for this Call being made, these Tobaccos remain unappropriated, and of course free to be applied by the Assembly according to the Requisitions of February 25. They will have brought in, under the same Specific Tax, as much as would make up the Residue required. Whether they may think proper to change the appropriation of it for this Purpose, or how otherwise they will furnish it, is for them to determine.”

But if Contrary to my Expectations, it should appear that they have been fully complied with, or if they have been so nearly complied with, as that the Cattle asked for, by General Greene, shall, in addition to the other articles furnished, exceed the whole amount of those Requisitions, then whatever shall remain due to the State shall be credited as the Quotas of the Current year—I flatter myself Sir, that your Excellency's zeal for the Public Service will omit no measures which may be necessary to accomplish the views of the United States, in supporting General Green, both by Aids of men and Provisions.

1782. your Excellency in Council, in support of the measures they have Feb'y 28th adopted for the preservation of the Credit of their Certificates—The enclosed papers will furnish a full view of the plan, as it is intended to be presented to the gentlemen in the Country. This step we conceive the only eligible mode of securing to ourselves that recompense for which the Certificates were intended, and to which we flatter ourselves, the duration and fidelity of our Services justly entitle us.

I have the honor to be Sir, with the greatest respect

Your Excellency's most ob serv't—

The papers referred to, present the following facts—On the 10th February 1782, Brig: Genl: Chas. Scott and Col: Wm. Davies, published a printed circular, setting forth the general purpose as expressed in Col: Davies letter to the Governor, the Legislative authority, and their own reasons for having adopted this plan—They therein announce the fact, that Mr. Ross has undertaken to manage the business for them and “generously refuses any compensation for his services.” They regret the necessity which compels them to appeal to the Community for aid by subscription; but rely upon the sympathy felt for their fellow Citizens in the Army, who have suffered and sacrificed so much in defense of their Country, to procure for them the reward due their services—Mr. Ross having consented to “assist them in negotiating the Certificates which they receive from the Auditors” issued to Saml: Beall of Williamsburg, Mass: Shore & McCornico, Petersburg, Hunter, Banks & Co, Richmond, James Maury and Benj: Day, Fredericksburg, James & Adam Hunter, Falmouth, Hunter & Allison, Alexandria, Carter Braxton, West Point, and John Lyne Esqr at New Castle, a circular, calling upon them to give their assistance to this object by becoming sub agents, and adding “The distress of many of the Officers and the present scarcity of money is such that the Certificates which these gentlemen have received for past services, will be rendered of little value, unless timely assistance is afforded by their fellow Citizens—In a short time these Certificates will be equal to the Specie, and all that is now required is a loan of Specie or Tobacco upon them, which will have an Interest of Six per cent till Paid—The Inhabitants of Richmond and Petersburg, in two Days, Subscribed One Thousand Pounds in Specie and Tobacco, for the Certificates of a number of Officers under marching orders to join Genl:
 Green &c”—To this was appended a printed form of Subscription List, preceded by the following Statement:

“The Officers and Soldiers of the Continental and States Lines in the pay of this Commonwealth, having been for a considerable Time, without receiving their Pay and Subsistance, and having suffered greatly by the Depreciation of the Paper money: the Honorable the General Assembly at their last Session, were pleased to take the matter into their Consideration, with a desire to do the most ample Justice in their power—But from the low state of our Finances, it being impossible to make immediate payment in Specie, the House thought proper to direct the Auditors of Publick Accounts to issue to the Officers and Soldiers, Certificates Payable in Specie in the year 1785 and to bear Interest of 6 per cent, and appropriated as a Fund for their Redemption the money or Tobacco arising from the sales of Forfeited Estates throughout the State: in the purchase of which Estates the said Certificates were to be received the same as Specie." 1782.

Feb'y 28th

Although the Funds for the Redemption of those Certificates are thought very ample, and Estates of considerable value must in a short time be exposed to sale for that purpose, yet the situation of many of the Officers and Soldiers is such, that their wants will admit of no delay, and they are forced to make Sale of their Certificates at a very low rate for ready money, or other necessaries for their present support.

To make an Article of speculation of those Certificates, and to purchase at an undue value, Money which has been so dearly earned, and with so much honour and advantage to the Publick, is cruel treatment to the brave Men whose services we have received. We consider the money laid out in Certificates as so much money at Interest, and that the payment of it, is as certain, as that the State will be Free and Independent: there is also the greatest reason to expect those Certificates will be taken up long before the year 1785, and it is proposed that Subscriptions be opened in different parts of the State, in full confidence that the Public Spirited Citizens will most cheerfully advance a Sum in Specie or Tobacco, according to their circumstances, as so much lent upon the said Certificates—

Wherefore, we the Subscribers do hereby engage to Pay to or his Assigns, in four Weeks from the date hereof, the Sum in Specie or Tobacco set against our Names, for the purposes before mentioned, for which the said shall furnish us or each of us with Certificates for the respective Sums subscribed, or take such other order on the matter as may be necessary.

Dated at 1782.

Subscribers names. Sums Subscribed in Specie. In Tobacco. Warehouse."

• War Office

The inhabitants on the Eastern Shore of Virginia express much uneasiness at the prospect of the Continental drafts being ordered from thence. General Greene, in the last letter I received from him, directs in the most express terms, that every Continental Soldier in the State be sent on to him immediately. I have communicated the General's orders to Colo. Febiger, at the General Rendezvous, and Major Poulson who commands on the Eastern Shore; and I expect he will Soon be over with his men: tho' there is some danger that the inhabitants, will if possible seduce them to desert, and after the Officers have come over with those that are willing to follow them, the deserters will then join the volunteer Corps which they constantly keep up on that shore. Those gentlemen from thence, with whom I have conversed, say they will readily consent to the removal of the drafts, provided Government will favor them with Some of the Cavalry of the Legion. For my own part I think there cannot be much objection to their proposition, unless it be the difficulty and risk of the transportation of the men and horses. Every Article of life is cheaper there, than in any other part of the State: the men and horses can with more ease and convenience, be supported there, than elsewhere, and the Same supplies that are now lavished away upon their volunteer horse, might with advantage be applied for the maintenance of one of the troops. It will be exceedingly difficult to provide for the whole legion in any of the lower Counties on this shore, and as the infantry belonging to it, will be on this side, a few Cavalry may very well answer the Common purposes of the Command, while those on the Eastern Shore would be a great protection against the plundering parties that run up into the Creeks in barges, and do a great deal of mischief, which they never were able to check, till they raised two Small Corps of volunteer horse, which are now kept up and supported with provisions by the State, but which would be discharged upon the arrival of a sufficient number of the legion cavalry. I have therefore to ask your Excellency's instructions whether a part of the legion cavalry shall be sent to the Eastern Shore—Should the proposition meet your approbation, gentlemen upon that Shore will furnish the means of transportation themselves—

I have the honor to be with the greatest respect

In obedience to the Order of Council, I have the honor to lay before your Excellency a return* of the military stores in the magazines of this State. The want of money has greatly retarded the collection and repair of the arms. The same difficulty still continues.

In the enclosed I have not included the equipments of the Cavalry that are nearly finished at Fredericksburg, and will be sufficient for all the dragoons belonging to the State, tho' I cannot at present exactly ascertain their number, neither have I included any arms that are in possession of the militia or of the Legion. On this occasion, I beg leave to represent that nearly 1000 stand were, on various applications from Baron Steuben delivered for Continental purposes, and a promis'd given that they should be replaced. That promise however, has never yet been complied with. The arms that were taken at York, enabled the Continent now to replace them, should your Excellency think proper to direct an application to be made for them. I cannot forbear to represent further that some very valuable brass ordinance, particularly a 16-inch mortar, belonging to this State, which had been taken by the British, were recovered from them at York, but were afterward removed to the northward, by the orders of Genl: Knox. Virginia no doubt has an equal right to the necessary articles of defence with other states in the Union, in proportion to her importance she has received less and perhaps contributed more; and if we add the circumstance of this valuable ordinance having been the original property of this State, that it was here recovered from the enemy, and that her militia alone formed a respectable proportion of the Army that took it, I believe that your Excellency will be of opinion that the State of Virginia had a better claim to it, than any other part of the Continent, and that the pieces themselves, or other of equal value ought to be restored to us, as soon as possible.

I have the honor to be, with the highest respect,

He finds many of the regular Soldiers have obtained Certificates of pay from the Auditors and "are selling them for mere nothing." He has heard of one having parted with a Certificate for "£48 for £4, paid in hand." Unless some step is taken to prevent "such base advantages" the Soldiers will be ruined. The Auditors should be stopped from issuing them—He has refused to countersign many of the certificates given by the Paymasters of his Legion, to the men. Hopes his influence will be used in this matter.

GEORGE ROGERS CLARKE TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

"Sir

I wrote to you on the subject of publick affairs in this departm't, by Mr. Carny, 18th Feb'y, which I hope you have Received, Since which we have received very allarming accounts from the enemy at Detroit. They last fall Collected Chiefs from the different Hostile tribes of Indians and Instructed them not to disturb the frontiers, and particularly Kentucky until towards Spring. Then to form small parties and take prisoners to hear what was going on. By which Conduct the Country would be off their guard. That the whole would Embody in the Spring, Reduce this post and lay the whole Country waste, and make one Stroke do for all. They are actually making Every preparation at Detroit, and the Conduct of the Indians have been agreeable to their directions. This information through various channels from the Illinois cannot be doubted, and if the defeat of Cornwallace, or something similar dont prevent them, we shall certainly have them in great force sometime this Spring. Every preparation is making to counteract them. Our greatest dependance is in arm'd boats, but cannot fit out a sufficiency of them in time, without the supplies you promis'd and those

 March 7th troops with those articles to arrive some time in April, I should be under no kind of apprehensions of their doing much damage to the Country. But without, the consequences are to be dreaded. Pray Sir, be as liberal as possible in your Reinforcements and furnitures. If we can Repel this Invasion I have no dread of their making a Second attempt.

It would be adviseable to Alarm Col: Dabney, that he might use Every precaution on his passage down the River. This intelligence hath occasion'd us to alter our former plan of operation and strengthen ourselves by water as much as possible, as no vessels they can bring across the portages from the Lakes will be able to face such as we can navigate the Ohio with, could we get furniture for them. Our dependance is in the Exertions of Government, which we rest fully assur'd of.

P. S. Pray if possible augment the number of pieces of artillery,

Richmond

When Mr. Madison & I were appointed Commissioners on the part of Virginia to run the boundary Lines between this State & Pennsylvania, Mr. Jefferson, at that time Governor, promised that two good Horses should be furnished to each of us & a covered waggon to Mr. Madison for the Purpose of carrying Instruments & other things necessary for the Western Station. As it is probable that you may not have been informed of these Particulars, I take the Liberty of mentioning them to your Excellency, & also of observing that it will be proper for us to set out for our respective Destinations about the middle of next month. If the horses intended for my use can be delivered to me at W'msburg, it will be more convenient for me.

The Compensation proposed by the Executive, for our Services in this Business, was, exclusive of our Expences, 150 lbs of Tobac: pr: day to each, which was to be discharged according to the Rate fixed by the Grand Jury immediately preceeding the Time of Payment.

This mode of Payment being abolished, I suppose your Excellency will think it proper that some other be substituted; & I flatter myself that when the nature of this Business is considered, which requires Qualifications of a particular kind & must be attended to at all Hours of the Night, as well as of the Day; which will be always fatiguing & sometimes dangerous; & which without being a Permanency will draw us far from our Families & for the Time entirely suspend the Prosecution of our ordinary Business; you Sir, and the Gentlemen of the Council will be of opinion that the proposed Compensation was by no means an adequate one—Having been obliged lately to mix a good deal with Persons under the Small Pox, it will not be in my Power to wait on you previous to my setting out for Williamsburg; but I beg that I may be immediately favoured with the Determinations of the Executive relative to this matter, & am with the greatest Respect,

“The murders committed on our Frontiers at such a time of the year, and the repeated applications of our Suffering Inhabitants, Occasions me to trouble your Honour, praying that our Situation may be taken under Consideration as we are few in number and much Exposed. Our fronteers are so Extensive that the few inhabitants there Settled are so scattering that the Enemy murder one part before the others can be alarmed to come to their assistance. Since the State of Pennsylvania have taken place the poor Residue of Virginia are all fronteers.

1782. The prayer of the people is that a company or two of Militia may be

March 9th Ordered to their Relief, otherwise they will be under the necessity of vacating the Country—Colo. Clarke's Expedition falling through, and so many men falling into the Enemies hands have encouraged them so that they are constant in our County—the Strength of our militia does not Exceed three Hundred and fifty and them settled at least Eighty miles in length. * * * * *

* * I have forbore running the State to the Expence of paying Express, &c. an Express and troubling your Honour 'till I find it will do no longer—the murders committed were early in February when the People were under no apprehension of the Enemy's being in our County. The express I hope may be paid for this trouble and Expence, as I was much put to it to git one, times being so precarious.

I have the Honour to be with due Respect

Steps taken to defend the Frontiers, &c. On the 26th March, in consequence of the receipt of the above it was ordered by the Gov: & Council, that one Company of Militia from Hampshire Co., report to Col: Evans to serve two months at a time on that Frontier; to be relieved at the end of their service by the Militia of Rockingham & Augusta Cos. Each Soldier to take with him ten days provisions, but to be supplied afterwards by the neighboring Counties. Should this measure fail to protect the County, Col: Evans is authorized to avail himself of the provisions of the "Invasion Law" &c.

BENJ: WALLER TO GOV: HARRISON.

Williamsburg

His Excellency's Letter of the 7th was received, some hours after the adjournment of the Court, and Col: Cary and the other "surviving Judge" gone home. The respondents in the case of the Schooner "Three Friends" were treated with "all the Lenity the Court could grant them;" and the Captain declined, altho' allowed time, to defend the vessel and Cargo. Dr. Lenox also was allowed reasonable time to make his defence. The proceeds of the Sale are reserved, subject to order of Court, so that a new hearing can be had if necessary. The Court was chiefly directed in their action by the Acts of Congress of March 23d 1776 & March 27th 1781, by which Libellants are allowed to prosecute in any Court for the trial of maritime cases in any of the United States. The "Sound" in Carolina was regarded in the same light, as the Chesapeake Bay, "a Common passage to N. Carolina and Virginia, as the latter is to Maryland & Virginia."

It was a matter of much concern, that this Suit was brought before him & those associated with him, but "being instituted we were obliged by our Oath to proceed," and to do what Seemed lawful and right under any circumstances. He is confronted by the reflection that there is a "Court of Appeals" established to correct Errors and reverse sentences when wrong, which he hopes Gov: Burke of N. Carolina "will think a better Remedy than Force of Arms, surrounded as we are with Enemies," especially when "he considers that the Captain of the Virginia Privateer, if he has done amiss, is liable to be punished and prosecuted on the Bond given at the taking out his Commission." He did produce all the papers found by him on board the Prize. He will communicate his Excellency's letter to Col: Cary at once, but thinks nothing more can be done, until the next regular meeting of the Court. Begs to be excused from giving an "opinion in matters of State" out of his Province, and adds "You will be pleased to pardon this, and every Inadvertency or Impertinence."

COL: T. PARKER TO GOVERNOR HARRISON.

March 10th

"Sir

The Court of this County being ordered to make a draft of the Militia to fill up their quota of Soldiers for the American Army has requested me to represent to your Excellency & your honourable board the distressed situation of this County during the different invasions, supposing from the active part which I have taken, and being continually in the field whilst the County was invested, that I should be better able to explain to your honorable board their exertions to repel the Enemy, their obedience to orders, their losses and consequent distresses, than any other individual; from which principle they have done me the the honor to request I would address you on the subject.

Smithfield in Isle of Wight
County

Be it then known to you, that this County from the first has engaged very chearfully in the war, from the best of principles, that of supposing it a just one. When Lord Dunmore fixed his Standard at Portsmouth, and all our neighbors below were flying to it for protection, we became a barrier, and had not only the Common Enemy to encounter, but all the machinations and eviles of a Scotch faction, which at that time, in this and allmost every part of the Colony had too much weight. Individuals inimical to British mandates were pointed out objects of their resentment, which for several weeks had recourse to thickets & fodder Stacks for protection, their houses not affording an asylum from the danger of those reptiles & their patron Lord Dunmore, and his black guards. The moment our County embodied, and armed we had our Share of men ready for the established Army, and I marched with a Company of minute militia men, from this County to the Great Bridge to invest Dunmore & his gang, and assist in driving him from Norfolk and its dependencies; that you must confess from your knowledge of our situation Stretching twenty miles on James River, and the nearest part of the County not as many miles from Norfolk, and dayly in Sight

1782. of their armed vessells, was an act of Publick patriotism deserving March 10th Credit, as our own families were liable to plunder & insult every hour of our absense; the more so, as we carried with us the most of our Fire-locks fit for Service, and left behind us many men, who at that time were avowed Enemies and continued to be so untill tarring and feathering was practiced on some of the worst of them, which caused the rest to take shelter under Dunmore at Norfolk.

The Acts of Assembly for raising the second & third sett of Conti-nentals were Completed here, not a tenth of which have returned, the Sea has swallowed many of our young men & many more has been taken on that Element & never returned. Some has gone to the back country. Those different avenues to the loss or absense of our young men renders our Situation very important—As our attachment has ever been warmed with zealous sentiments for our Cause, we must have particular Enemies, hitherto we have really prevented by our exertions in the last invasion, the Enemy from lulling the whole of the lower Counties into a State of torpidity, as they could singly, had we ever been dispersed. have rode unmolested, from Portsmouth to Petersburg, as the latter neighborhood & the County of Prince George seemed to have lost their patriotism with the skirmish at Blandford—Their different marches through this County, with the loss of our Slaves, Vessells, Stocks, and impoverishing us by plunder and causing us to neglect our business, added to our own Army's impressments has really injured the people so much in their property, that I conceive it would be an act of cruelty to insist on their now making up their quota of troops, when we have all actually been Soldiers more than Twelve months, maintained ourselves, & did as labourious and dangerous duty as any Soldiers in the Continental Army—besides, policy would direct that as many of these militia should be kept at or near Portsmouth as we have, as they ever were and I am sure ever will be ready to turn out on any invasion, or in any just cause. They are now good Soldiers, the necessity of the times and the critical situation we were in last summer required severe disciplin and hard duty, which was really practiced. I declare on my honor that when I Commanded a Regiment in the established Army I did not enforce more, indeed it was necessary; their bearing it at a time they had a powerful Enemy in their neighbourhood insinuating into the graces of all they thought could be serviceable to them, and their not succeeding, was a convincing proof, that the people in general in this County were disposed to preserve, at the risk of their lives & propertys; they were both exposed, the last not only to the Enemy, but to ourselves; and had it only been those of our own County which were to have been fed here, our distresses would not have been so apparent, but some months we had the whole army in Virginia to feed, even without money or the idea of it, as not even the paper bubble was introduced to the people from the publick treasury. I took from the inhabitants, to feed the troops under my Command, untill I determined no longer to hear the Complaints of them without some shadow of redress—to palliate their clamorous I took from myself full a proportion—On laying the matter before Governor Nelson, he in Council, declared my Certificates to be of value, to pass in payment of Taxes & do what other paper could—but behold, amongst the rest of our Complaints, we find the last Assembly has rendered those Certificates nugatory, by not making any mention of them. The Honourable Mr. Hardy being of this County & perfectly acquainted with our distresses can better inform your board of any other Calamity omitted by me. Therefore I should not have been so prolix, but at the unanimous & particular request of the Court, and my own feelings for the people, added to what I humbly think an act of policy in detaining the militia, when they may probably be serviceable, has induced me to trouble you on the subject. I should be ungrateful indeed, when I have my pen on the subject, if I did not mention to you essential services rendered by the Counties of Southampton & Surry, there may be some reason why they should be exempted from the draft &c. * * * * * many in Nancemond required my acknowledgements, those being nearer to Portsmouth may in some measure apologize for their not exerting themselves equally with us. Princess Anne & some part of Norfolk County have benefited by the Enemy, but the greater part of Norfolk County have suffered.

I will tire the patience of your Excellency & honourables no longer to Petition in the most fervent manner that you would suspend the Act for Draught &c. * * * * * and that you will cause the certificates for supplies taken by me for the troops under my command, to pass in payment of taxes, if within your power.

Most respectfully & with great esteem
I have the honor to subscribe myself
&c., &c.

COL: CHRIS: FEBIGER TO COL: DAVIES. March 10th

Dr Col:
Yours of the first instant, per: Mr. Hughes came to hand late last night. I wish it had come sooner, as I have been oblig'd to detain my Dispatches for the northward for want of knowing the Determination of Government with Respect to Supplies. I shall make my estimation of Government with Respect to Supplies. Cumberland
Old Ct:
House
Sunday

1782. mates for 1200 men or 3 Regiments on a supposition that such a number March 10th of men can be rais'd under the last recruiting Law, which I believe will produce men. Several have been brought in within a few Days. I had already determined to send on the men in numbers of 75 or 80, as so many are entitled to a waggon, and from the Distance of the Stages on the Route, it is impossible for the men to carry their provisions on their Backs. You really frighten me, when you say I may depend on being starved. I have allready wrote General Washington fully. I shall apply to the minister of War with all possible Dispatch. But you know the Distance to Philadelphia—the Delays occasion'd by the Q. m'rs in forwarding letters appears clearly in one which I receiv'd from General Washington, sent per Express, yett it was a month old when I gott it.
 When my Dispatches reach the minister, so many are to be consulted, and great Bodys move so slow, that it will be some time before any supplies can come on from there. in the meantime if the State withdraws her Assistance, I must break up the Post & discontinue the Transaction of any Business whatever, being already very near starving at times.
 There appears to be some defects in the orders Government were pleas'd to issue to this and the Adjacent County Courts or Commissioners with Respect to the Collection of the Specifics—the orders are only for Bacon—
 I most earnestly request you to prevail on Government to give orders for the collection of grain also, and for its Delivery to Let: Wm. Sterling Smith, A. D. Q. master to this Post, who is legally appointed under Col: Carrington, D. Q. M. Genl: and his Receipts of course valid vouchers to make it a Continental Charge.

I will take care that nothing shall be wasted, & in Justice to Lieut:
 Smith, must say he keeps his Accounts in better order, and does his Duty better than any Q. M. I have had to deal with. I beg you to inform me what Countys are sett apart for the purpose of supplying this post, until the Financier can turn his Attention this Way. I believe they are, Amelia, Cumberland, Buckingham, Goochland & Powhatan.
 The People bring in their Bacon very slow & seem rather willing to pay in money. This alarms me, as if all these Countys pay in their Bacon, it will hardly last us til Forsyth will have any Thing in his power. I have wrote him often. But the answer is always the same. I have no monney nor provisions he says. I have wrote Blair and the Financier and expect daily to hear from them.

We have not had a mouthfull of fresh meat since Christmas. I have upwards of 50 sick, and some in the small pox—their situation is truly deplorable, and you may guess at mine, not having a Brass farthing to support myself with, and was it not for a little sugar and coffee which Mrs. Febiger brought with her, and which is nearly exhausted, she must starve. I will send an Officer to Petersburg, but how he will subsist I know not—I sent Lt: James Morton, my Commissary on before the Detachment. it was with much Difficulty he could procure provisions enough to forward on the Detachment. The Posts of Winchester & Staunton are broke up, and it may be the case with other places pointed out for Rendezvous. Several men have been received at the 2 first places; for want of subsistence sent on by themselves and deserted, and this will ever be the case. how the men rais'd under the last Act are to be reliev'd, I know not yett. this and some other matters I must defer untill I see you, which, sickness excepted, which has troubled me all last week, will be before next Sunday.

I have ordered Poulsen to continue on the Eastern Shore to receive the men ras'd under the new Law, and to send on the men he now has (and of whom I send you a Descriptive List) to Richmond. I shall mention your Paragraph to the Minister of War, with Respect to the State being neither able or willing to make any more Advances to the Continent. Pray gett what Acts concern my Duty ready, against I come down.

I am glad you open'd mine from Posey, that you might see and inform Government of the consequences that has & do arise from not the least attention having been paid to my Letter to the Governor, bearing Date, the 16th of November, on the subject of Innoculation, which was accompanied by one to you, and sent by the Sergeant whom you permitted to ride home for a few Days. I have not seen a Paper a long time, & wish you could drop me one now and then. I enclose you the Proceedings of the Officers, and beg you in my own & their Behalf, as well as for the Benefit of the Line at Large, to exert every nerve to gett our Lands laid off this Spring. I shall bring with me about £5000.

Mrs. Febiger thanks you for the polite attention you allways pay her, and I am as usual, yours sincerely"

March 12th

"Sir

War Office

In obedience to the orders of Council, I have wrote to such of the Counties as have laid off their divisions, to furnish the most speedy information of the number of beeves they have delivered and what they have on hand: and to those Counties who have not yet attended to this business, I have communicated your Excellency's orders, that they may proceed immediately to it. But this of itself will not be sufficient, unless some person is appointed in each, to receive, foward or dispose of them as he shall be from time to time directed. At present there is no one in any of the Counties, whose duty it is to attend to this, or scarcely any other Article of Specific Supply. In many places numbers of the Cattle are dead, and the remainder will die, unless some immediate regulation can be adopted. In some few parts of the Country indeed, the people have taken the Cattle and fattened them themselves: but most of them refuse now to deliver them up, alledging that had it not been for them they would have been dead, and that the expence of feeding them has been as much as they are worth. There is a great variety of articles which have been for a long time dispers'd through the Country under the orders of Mr. Brown, which never have, and I fear never will be either reported by him or accounted for by those who have them. A great deal of grain is at this moment lying useless in the hands of Commissioners, and great numbers of hides are lodged with different people throughout the State, of which no return has ever yet been made. I would therefore beg leave respectfully to suggest to your Excellency, the absolute necessity of forming some general system for the immediate collection and disposal of those stores, as well as of those Specifics which are required by the late law. If the Country was laid off into ten or twelve districts, and a person of character and abilities, appointed in each, to make enquiry into every kind of public property belonging to the Quarter Masters, Commissarys, Clothiers or Military Store departments within the Districts, and report to this office, or to any other as your Excellency may think fit, it certainly would be beneficial. These persons might be authorized to demand and settle the accounts of the various Specific Commissaries and Commissioners who have never been prevailed upon yet to render them, notwithstanding the frequent applications, which I am told have been made for them. These persons might also, in their several districts, take the directions of the Specifics that are shortly to be collected. Those furnished by the northwestern Counties might be sold to the contractor for supplying the Prisoners at Frederick in Maryland. The greater part of the South western Counties might be allotted for the supply of the French Troops at Charlotte Court house. The specifics upon James River above the Fork might be collected at the Point, and those immediately at and above the falls

1782. should be brought to Richmond, while the lower and Southern counties March 12th upon the river might be appropriated for the support of the Post at Portsmouth or the supply of the French at Williamsburg and York.
 After providing for the subsistence of Mr. Dick's Artificers at Fredericksburg, the Specifics between the three northern rivers might be collected to certain convenient points upon navigation, and await your Excellency's further directions.

From the daily complaints of want of food for our troops and artificers, and of forage for our teams, and from a conviction that they will still continue to suffer, notwithstanding the want of provision which the specific tax will raise, I have thought it my duty to make this representation.

Should your Excellency think any thing on my part can be done to facilitate a proper regulation of this business, I shall be happy to give every assistance, as I conceive it a matter of great and pressing importance.

I have the honor to be, with the greatest respect

Your Excellency's obed: Ser't "

March 13th COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

Washington "Sir
 Co. Your letter of the 29th of Jany. reached me late in February. I suppose you are not informed that our Southern Commander in Chief is obliged to employ part of the force of the Carolinas and Georgia against the unfriendly Southern Indians and the Tories that have taken refuge among them. To accomplish his purposes we are asked to assist, and our own immediate preservation urges us to comply. About 200 men from this county are now on the point of marching to join Colo: Isaac Shelby who commands the force destined against the Towns situated on the sources of the mobile.

This enterprise will necessarily postpone our draft for Regular Soldiers, and afterwards, I am doubtful whether it can be effected at all. The frequent failures in furnishing quotas of men from other counties, whilst this, in most instances came up to, and in some, exceeded the demand.
 The various Services of the militia performed the two years last past, yet unpaid. The Losses the best friends to America have sustained by our injurious money Schemes are objections not easily answer'd. However I am anxious that the community I live in should continue to exhibit instances of virtue; and exert themselves at the last in supporting the general cause, for there is nothing I dread more than an inglorious peace. 1782.

March 13th

Could not militia delinquents sentenced for six months answer the purposes of the ensuing campaign. This would go down, for most would be interested in having it Executed, and some how there is a general disgust taken place for what bears the name of a Regular." * *

"I will supply Col: Martin in part out of our little magazine; but I hope you will replace it by the bearer, as troubles from the Indians may be repeatedly expected the ensuing Summer, and if in your power a Small addition more, also an order for Lead, as Mr. Saunders, Col: Lynch, Assistant at the Lead mines refuses to deliver some formerly ordered by Governor Jefferson, saying he is instructed otherwise by Mr. Ross. We have been straitened in procuring a sufficiency of this article to arm the men going against the Indians. I am informed something above 200 lbs powder is delivered by the widow of Genl: Campbell to our magazine keeper.

Late accounts from the Southern Head Quarters states matters in a promising light.

I am Sir,
with much esteem and respect your very humble Servant."

His letter in regard to carrying the cannon up James River is received. Had he gotten it in time he should have gone to the landing and attended to the business himself. Draws attention to the policy of "setting aside the caveats" and selling the forfeited property in Norfolk, much of which is very valuable—concludes "we hear fighting every day & night here (off our Capes), the coast is full of privateers & few vessels get in, pray have a post fixed to this place. If I can render any service to you or the officers in this cut: do command me." Norfolk

COL: R. COWPER TO THE GOVERNOR, IN REGARD TO ENFORCING THE DRAFT. March 15th

The Field Officers and magistrates had held a meeting, but found the County had not been "assessed in Specie agreeable to the Act of Assembly, and no commissioners appointed Since 1780. The county has been in great confusion for eighteen months past; the militia composed of water-men and Pilots, and many of the Seamen now absent. The Pilots do duty in rotation on board the French ships; and in march last, in the action between Colo. Mallory and Colo. Dundas, the county lost seven men. Hampton

COL: WM. PRESTON TO GOV: HARRISON.

March 15th
Montgomery
County

A letter from Col: Wm. Davies, Commissioner of the War Office dated the 30th of January was received about the 15th Feby: making requisitions for the quota of men to be raised for the Continental Service and act of Assembly of Oct: 1780. In April 1781, he had had the County laid off, in accordance with the Law, and the "thirty eight men called for" were drafted. The Commissioners of the Tax not having the money to pay their bounties, the men were furloughed, and so the matter stood, until the receipt of the above mentioned letter. As many as had not deserted were again collected, but there being no money to pay them, they were again furloughed. He had "moved the Court" that a levy of Sufficient money, be made, but this was rejected. He has done all he could to carry out the orders under this Law, but with no avail; the men will desert before "any thing effectual can be done." Calls attention to the necessity of filling the place of Colo. Ingles, resigned on account of "his infirmities." Proper persons should also be added to the "Commissioners of the Peace," rendered necessary for keeping good order in that "frontier County to which so many disorderly People resort from different parts of this State, as well as the Southern States."

March 15th GEORGE WRAY, 1ST JUSTICE OF ELIZ: CITY Co., TO THE GOVERNOR.

Hampton

In accordance with Col: Davies Instructions a session of the Co. Court had been held with a view of executing the provisions of the Law of 1780," levying a two pr: cent. tax in Specie, and for collecting provisions, clothing &c., but that owing to the disturbed situation of the county for the past eighteen months, nothing could be done. The county had sustained Several diferent corps of troops "Stationed at Hampton; their Sheriff had been killed in the service, they had had no Court Since march 1780, and no Commissioner appointed. He therefore asks for Instructions as to whether this Law should now be put into execution, and awaits his reply.

March 16th

COL: GEORGE SKILLERN TO COL: WM: DAVIES.

Botetourt
County

The orders to recruit the quota of men for the Continental Service are received, and the officers of the County summoned to carry them out, but he regrets to say "the business has been put completely out of his power," because of the discontent and resignation of the officers, arising out of the promotion of Mr. Ward as Lieut: Colo. over Colo. McClenahan" who has on every occasion distinguished himself as a most zealous Friend to the cause, and in several engagements in Carolina very deservedly acquired the Character of a brave officer." He is "exceedingly popular in the County" and unless commissioned as Lieut. Colo. it will be attended with very bad Consequences" in as much as the other officers, so influential with their companies will refuse to serve, thus rendering the militia of the County entirely useless. Mr. Ward is however "a man capable of business & much attached to the Cause and is generally esteemed as a sober honest man." He awaits the "determination of this unhappy dispute," before which it will be impossible to comply with any orders sent by his Excellency.

The Proclamation in regard to the British Prisoners of War came to hand some time ago, many of these men are in the County, and upon being arrested and brought before him, had produced Certificates of their having taken the Oath of Allegiance to the State," have paid taxes, and behaved as good Citizens. Others who have friends in the County seem desirous to "become subjects." He will not send them down until an answer is received to this letter. The clothing due from the county should have been sent, but no one would undertake to carry it, unless paid in Specie. He has "one Rifle & Shot-bag taken from a deserter;" as it is public property, "would wish to know what is to be done with her."

COL: THOS: NEWTON JNR: TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

March 17th

"Dr. Sir

We are at a loss for the laws of the last session of Assembly. I shall esteem it a particular favor if you'd get them from the Printer & send them to me, having a right to a set as member of the Assembly & a justice for this place. we only rec'd the law for procuring a wagon two days ago, have not the Act yet for holding a Court of Claims, nor know not how to proceed in getting our quote of men for the Continental Service. I only rec'd a letter a few days ago from the Gov'r dated two months past, is it not greivous to think, we cannot get three men to Act as Judges in a Court of Oyer for trying the traitors, they are all taken up here & sufficient proof to hang many of them if the Court was to sit here; but the witnesses have not money to bear their expenses to Richmond, & the most atrocious villians will escape by it (even murderers) if the public cannot provide some way of carrying the people up at an easy expence, by sending a vessel to attend on them, or procure some judges to attend here or at Williamsburg on the occasion, if these escape, adieu to all order & Government in these parts. Some came to Princess Ann Court with Clubs a few days ago, but by spirited exertions they were quel'd, yet if examples are not made, they will be too many for the good people, as it will be best to

1782. be jack of both sides, pray give me your opinion whether a person March 17th having a parole & refusing to act as a militia man has a right to trade, open stores &c., & whether he ought not to be sent off to the Enemy.

I am,

with 'respect, yr: obt. Serv't."

MAJOR PAT. LOCKHART TO GOV: HARRISON.

Botetourt
 Co.

Resigning his commission, in as much as he cannot do duty in the present confused state of things, growing out the dispute between Mr. Ward and Mr. McClenahan as to their right to the Lieu't: Coloneley. Ward had been recommended by the Court of which he (Lockhart) was a member, and he opposed his election, from no hostility to him, but because to promote him over McClenahan, would be a positive affront to the latter. This recommendation had given such general dissatisfaction, that all the officers had resigned, at a time when "an Insurrection, of the Tories in a neighboring County was Hourly expected." Subsequently, Mr. Ward had intimated that rather than "impede the service" by persisting in his course, he would decline contending for the commission, but he has since been Commissioned, whereupon the whole of the Officers have resigned, and the districts cannot be laid off, nor can a Court Martial be held in the County. The greatest confusion has followed, and no officer can be expected to do his duty with credit or satisfaction "while matters are in their present "situation."

March 19th

JOHN BECKLEY TO GOV: HARRISON.

"Sir

Richmond

The writ of ne exeat republica, being judicial process, the Attorney General cannot, I presume, with propriety, prepare one in the case you have been pleased to refer to him: nor for the same reason, does it seem to come within the letter of those powers, which the Constitution or, any particular law, hath placed in the Executive.

In the present case, two remedies lie open to Mr. Desmarais. By the first if either of the parties is a citizen of this State, upon a Bill filed and allegations proved, his Judges of the High Court of Chancery, during vacation, or the Court in term time, will order a writ of ne exeat republica: the other remedy is provided by the Act of October Session 1779, "for encouraging the commerce of nations," by which it is declared "that the Consul of any particular State or nation, residing here, may take cognizance of all differences, controversies and litigations, arising between subjects or citizens of his own State only, and finally to determine and compare the same, according to such rules or laws, as he shall think fit, and such determinations to carry into Execution. And that where aid shall be required for executing the same, the Governor, with 1782.

 advice of the Council, using their discretion therein, may order any March 19th sheriff within his own County, or any military Officer whatsoever, to execute, or to aid or assist in executing any such determination: provided the same does not extend to life or limb of the offender."

Of these two remedies, the latter appear to be the most summary and effectual for Mr. Desmaris.

On behalf of the Attorney General, I have honor to be, Sir,
 Your Excellency's most obdt, humble servt."

J. MADISON JNR: JOS: JONES AND A. LEE TO GOV: HARRISON. March 19th
 "Sir

The motion we made for Congress to accept the Beef, that might be Philadelphia supplied by the State for the Southern Army, above her former quota of that article, in divisions for its value in the last quota, is referred to The Superintendent of Finance, who has not yet reported upon it.

If our accounts are true touching the evacuation of Charlestown, which is said to have taken place on the 24th ult: it will hardly be an object for us to press, considering the precedent it will establish.

The capture of Cornwallis and of his Army has made a great impression on the European Courts in our favor; & the evacuation of the Southern parts of the U. S., will probably raise such an opinion of the establishment of our Independency beyond the power of G. B. to shake, as to incline some of those Courts to an Alliance, that may make our Enemies despair of ever succeeding against us. The alarm in England is very great. Strong & pointed Petitions have been presented against continuing the war, the opposition in the House of Commons has reached within 41 of the ministerial majority, & the accounts from N. York are, that the Lords, North, Germain & Sandwich are actually displaced. Vigorous proportions on our part, for the ensuing campaign, will give such efficiency to these impressions, as may probably put a period to the war.

We enclose* the paper which will show the success of our Ally in the W. Indies.

Our Colleague Mr. Randolph, who left this place for Richmond yesterday, will give you a more particular account of the contents of our latest Dispatches & of the proceedings here, than it is proper for us to commit to paper.

We have the honor to be, with the greatest respect, yr Excellency's most obedient & most humble Serv'ts."

1782. COL: GEORGE MOFFETT TO THE GOVERNOR, in regard to the execution of March 20th the draft for the Continental Army, ordered for the 9th of April.

Augusta Co. With much "concern" he informs his Excellency "that it is probable that day will begin with tumult & End in some thing worse." He is convinced "opposition will be made to the allotment, and not a role or list of any kind be left with our Officer, which (if nothing worse) will put an effectual stop to the allotment."— The people are much disturbed in mind, and are highly indignant at the proposed drawing, and cannot be persuaded, but that it is imposed "contrary to the mind of the last Assembly." They are too much exasperated to be reasoned with, and are not aware of the "evil consequences of their conduct." Notwithstanding all this, he thinks with proper caution, and by allowing time for persuasion, and not compelling the immediate execution of the Law, many of the Districts may be induced "to draw their lots." To further ensure the draft, he recommends that every District that furnishes its quota of men, be credited with a "tour of militia duty" except on occasion of insurrection or invasion. By a temperizing policy much mischief may be prevented and probably in the course of two months many men may be inlisted.

March 20th J. BRADFORD TO MESSRS. J. MADISON & J. JONES ESQRS., Delegates in regard to certain military stores at that place belonging to State of Virginia.

Boston They are yet unsold, and he has not been able "to get them off," altho' he has made every effort to do so. The most he can get for the shot is "the price of old iron." If risked "at vendue," they will scarcely bring costs. The Gov: of Massachusetts thought they "might be purchased for the use of our Castle" but they were not wanted—concludes "If the spirit of Privateering s'd again revive they may be in demand in part, and with that prospect its possible there might be those who might speculate."

“The cavalry in the neighborhood of Petersburg will probably never be better equipped in this State, than they now are, and General Greene has sent, I am told, more than once for them. They allege the want of cloaths, bnt the fact is that Colonel White carried with him to the Southward all the clothing which he received from the State and at York, which was more than sufficient for his whole corps; yet he left no cloaths for any of the men that he did not take out with him. Colonel Baylers cloathing has gone on from Philadelphia to General Greenes army, and he is waiting till he can have it brought back. Colonel Bayler has more horses than men in the State, and Colonel White more men than horses.” Under those circumstances he desires instructions, whether he shall or not, inform the officers, that no more supplies can be issued to them, without proper Continental authority.

1782. Christopher Tompkins informs Gov: Harrison, that as "Commissioner of the Tax" for King William Co., he had re'd last year a quantity of Tobacco, as part of the "Two pr: cent Tax," for raising that County's quota of men for continental Service. Gov: Jefferson had ordered him to transmit all such Tobacco to the Executive, but the Enemy had prevented this. He has had no orders Since Genl: Nelson's, requiring him to hold it, subject to Executive demands. Requests instructions &c.

March 22d Capt: Churchill Jones, 3d Regt. L. The Troops that are to serve there, by the last Return from that Post does not exceed 200. I am surprised to hear that they are not supplied properly. I shall immediately enquire into his conduct & displace him if a speedy alteration don't take place."

March 22d ARCHIBALD STEWART TO COL: SAMP: MATHEWS AT RICHMOND.

Staunton Asking his interference with the Executive to have him excused from "Serving as a Commissioner" for the district of Greenbrier, in as much as he has much "business as a lawyer" in that quarter. Does not consider himself qualified to become a Judge, and would much prefer to "take a stand at ye Bar." In addition to this the Court for the District of Montgomery will probably set at the same time, and as he is "engaged on one side of all the disputed causes" his appointments will necessarily prevent the acceptance of the office.

March 22d Ared. Blair, Clerk of the Council, certifies that Wm. Rose Keeper of In Council the Public Jail, had rented by order of the Executive of Mr. Richard Adams, a house for his official use at the rate of "ten thousand pounds of crop Tobacco of the upper Inspection of Jas: River," pr: year; and authorizing him to re-lease the same at "fifteen thousand pounds toba. of the upper Inspection of Pamunky River."

COL: THOS. READ TO THE GOVERNOR.

Charlotte Co.

In regard to the negroes with the French Troops encamped at Charlotte C. House, under Genl: the Duke de Choisy. Upon receiving the letter of the Executive he had sent a Sergeant and guard with proper authority to receive those negroes from the French and return them to their owners; whereupon the Duke considered this proceeding unnecessary; and insisted that the Governor and himself had agreed as to how the negroes were to be disposed of before he left Richmond. Col: Read then dismissed the Sergeant and guard, and now informs his Excellency of the Duke's course, with the information that "there is a number of negroes with the Troops" and unless they are reclaimed, "those who have Property of that kind in the vicinity of the Camps will suffer by their going off," &c.

Major Belfield informs Col: Davies that it is impossible for him to march the Troops Southward without Colo. Baylor's orders. He is informed Capt: Russel has provisions in Manchester; but as he has no way of sending for them, suggests that a vessel or a wagon may be gotten in Richmond for this purpose.

COL: DAVIES TO THE EXECUTIVE.

March 23d

Calling attention to the conflicting claims of Lieut: Colo. Ward and McClenahan to their respective ranks, in the militia of Botetourt Co., and the great dissatisfaction and excitement growing out of the same, among the people. Requests instructions as to how this difficulty shall be arranged, whether by cancelling Col: Wards commission or by submitting the whole matter to a court of Enquiry. Requests also Executive action, as to whether the indulgence asked for by Col: Skillern, in behalf of the British Prisoners in that County, shall be granted or not.

JOHN MOYLAN, CLOTHIER GENL: TO COL: DAVIES.

His absence at Boston had delayed replying sooner to his letter of the Philadelphia 20th November. From the scattered "state of our supplies" until lately he has not been able to answer the enquiries made by Col: Davies on the subject of clothing for the Southern Army &c. Since his accepting this office, his entire time has been given to collecting the clothing and preparing for a general distribution of it, which he regrets to say has not sooner been in his power to effect. Now however he is happy to say that the supply in most of the necessary articles is sufficient for the 1782. current year, and he will be prepared to fill Genl: Green's requisitions March 23d at an early day. He will not be able to make up past deficiencies if this be done; the expence and delay being so great in sending Stores to Genl: Green's remote position. It would give him particular pleasure to comply with the requests of Col: Davies, by sending supplies of clothing to Capt: Peyton, but Congress having lately declared "all State appointments void" in the clothing department, this is impossible. Mr.

 John Hamilton has lately been appointed "Clothier Genl: to the Southern Army" through whom in future all supplies of clothing will be issued.
 To facilitate the recruiting service in Virginia, a quantity clothing will be deposited with Col: Febiger, who will account for the distribution of the same. Concludes, "I beg you will accept of my best thanks for your polite offer of assistance in the Execution of my business, which when occasion offers, I shall take the liberty of availing myself of."

March 23d

COL: DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

"Sir

War Office

I received yesterday from Genl: Clarke, a letter of the 18th of last month. He is very anxious to be joined by Colo: Dabney, and represents that the infantry of the new legion altho' not very numerous, would be of infinite service to his operations, and if they should reach him by the first of June, he hopes they will be sufficient to turn the scale. He writes in a very urgent manner for the Cannon your Excellency promised him, but at all events, he says he must have two brass four-pounders. The piece he has is a three-pounder, and this he represents to be too heavy. I am therefore apprehensive that the four pounder we have will be of no service to him, as they are all of them old fashioned heavy French pieces, and weigh nearly as much as the common six-pounders. If there are any here belonging to the Continent, it perhaps might be as well to take them, as your Excellency has agreed to the exchange of our battering Cannon for lighter. Genl: Clarke writes also for rigging &c. for boats, and adds that without them he cannot execute his designs; and that unless he receives considerable supplies by June, the consequences may be fatal to the Country. How to transport these various articles, together with the clothing appears to me a difficulty not easily overcome. Genl: Clarke seems to think it best, if Col: Dabney's infantry is sent, that they should go down the Ohio with the whole of the supplies of every kind, and there are boats belonging to the State now lying in the Red Stone in Monongalia: if Col: Dabney cannot reinforce him the General desires that every thing that can be sent him, and particularly the two brass four pounders, may go by Holston on cars made for the purpose, with a small escort through the wilderness. Mr. Carny, however thinks it impossible. Genl: Clarke recommends this gentleman as very serviceable to him. He attends your Excellency with this Letter and perhaps may afford some information. I shall be happy to receive your further orders, and have the honor to be,

March 25th

COL: DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

"Sir

War Office

There are Six 6-pounders, and four 3s, all of brass, belonging to the Continent, now at manchester. The three pounders will probably answer Genl: Clarkes purpose fully, though I suppose he will not require more than two of them, espeecially as by the order of Council, all of his regular troops are to be consolidated into two Companies of Infantry. I mention this the more particuarly, as I shall send out the order of Council by Mr. Carny, and unless the Executive make some alterations in it, Genl: Clarke will be obliged to dismiss all his Officers of Artillery, and those of the infantry will be incapable of managing the pieces properly, at least 'till this campaign is over, and probably they will not understand their business until then. The other three-pounders at manchester, will answer extremely well for Captain Roane's company in the regular legion, and are much better adapted to the nature of a light Corps, than the heavy pieces we have of our own. As no application of mine to the Continental Commissaries of military Stores will be effectual to procure them, I must beg the favour of your Excellency to give an Order for them, should you approve of the measure.

I have the honor to be, &c"

He may himself be able to remove some of the causes of Complaint: but he at least desires he may be retained until he shall be able to go to Richmond and give his personal attention to the business—He trusts he may not be held responsible for the inconveniences which will follow this sudden action of the Executive—As to the wagons and teams in private hands at Petersburg, he was obliged to adopt this course or "let the creatures perish," especially as the Continent had no forage in the State, and she refused to furnish any. Genl: Spotswood desires the Troops under his command to be called out, and "reduced to some order" as soon as possible. Should this be deferred until an enemy invades the State, it would be difficult to collect them for prompt Service; and he is apprehensive many may desert unless this is done. Should this be done, and they are not wanted in the State, "we are certain they will be serviceable farther South—and notwithstanding they cannot, by the law be marched out of the State but with their own Consent" he flatters himself that he shall "have influence sufficient to carry them anywhere the Executive shall think proper to order them"

Excellency will please consider this & give your directions. Coll: Dabney, I suppose will fully inform your Excy. of his situation here, which must be very disagreeable; however I hope times will mend. The disaffected are taken up & under examination and some undoubtedly will be sent to Richmond for further trial, but unless some vessel is procured at the public expence, or the sheriff empowered to impress one to carry the witnesses up they must all escape. I pray you to take this matter into consideration, as in this case if a future invasion happens the people hereabouts will determine whether it is not better to stay with the Enemy & be received as good citizens with money in their purses, or turn out & endeavor to defend their country & return in poverty to their possessions. I hope yr: Excy. will not be offended at my freedom, as I really can, from experience assure you it is true & beg that you'll interest yourself in our behalf, as I think from experience you have seen something like it up the country. I am with the greatest respect

Begs pardon for being troublesome, but his Sons "Herbert & Will" assure him, he is always ready to oblige, &c—"Tarlton and his gang of theives" paid him a visit on their turn up the country the last summer, and took from him "six valuable naggs"—He had before this furnished the service "with two of his best," so that he was without any, except a "pretty valuable gelding" left by Tarlton, "but quite run down"—This horse he had fattened, and had taken the lawful steps to let his owner recover him if he could be found. Under the Order of the Board of War, collecting all horses left by the enemy, Capt: M. Wall of the Q. M. Department took possession of him, but is willing to redeliver him, knowing the circumstances of the Case, provided an Order be given him—He therefore request "this extreme favor," and that the order be sent to Dr. Hull at "Blandford."

W. ARMISTEAD TO THE GOVERNOR.

Richmond Having been for some time discontinued as "Commissary of Stores," but not having yet received his pay as such; and in view of the increased expence of living in the town, he begs to be allowed to "take up goods" according to their current value not exceeding one-half his wages due, in payment thereof. He will interfere as little as possible, if this be allowed, with Articles that may be necessary for the Army—Precedents of this kind are not wanting, and he trusts the application, altho' it involves a bad bargain on his side, may be considered by the Executive a reasonable one.

March 29th

CAPT: JOHN PRYOR TO COL: DAVIES.

Richmond He has for some time been anxious to make an arrangement by which a more complete magazine for the State could be established, than by supplying the materials and relying upon the Continental Laboratory. As this Laboratory is about to be moved to New London, he suggests some steps should be taken by which men can be instructed in the art of preparing "the different composition" for fixed ammunition, making port-fires, Tubes, &c., &c., and he has proposed to Capt: Green now with him, to instruct Capt: Allen and others of the most expert workmen in this art. Capt: Green complains very justly of his never having received compensation from the State for his services. He had lost everything by his efforts to save the Public Stores from the Enemy, and is willing to compromise "for one piece of Irish Linnen" for his former services, and will, for another piece undertake to instruct Capt: Allen and the men, as above mentioned. An excellent Tin-man, whose term of service in the Continental department has expired, is in the town and should also be employed. He will detain Capt: Green until a reply is received.

When Baron Steuben's Troops were passing from Petersburg to Chesterfield C. House in April 1781, as Commissioner for that County, and Dep: Com: of Issues for the State of Virginia, he was required by the Baron to supply the troops with "one gill of Rum or other spirits prman, and a Pint to each officer." All the continental Stores had been sent up the country, and the order could not be obeyed except by buying or borrowing. This he did from "Mr. David Frankling of Chesterfield County," and supplied the men, as "continental Com: of Issues" taking receipts &c. He gave his individual obligation with security for this rum, depending upon Mr. John Broune Deputy Commissioner to see that the accounts were settled. By his negligence this has not been done, and either he or Mr. Franklin must suffer. He trusts however that the matter may be settled through Major Forsyth, who has in his office the "certificates given the 26th April 1781."

Mr. Chas: Dick, acknowledges receipt of Col: Davies letter informing him "that nothing cou'd yet be done towards carrying on the Factory." Also of the 5th inst., mentioning there would be no order issued for the articles arising from the specific tax, in the adjacent counties, to be appropriated to the use and support of the Factory. He does not desire to be responsible for more than is absolutely necessary; and regrets to hear that no "meat" will be paid in, money only can get it. Some of the workmen will re-engage if they are "victualled as usual." He is sorry so much time has been lost, and probably more, as arms are certainly needed, for want of which alone, the Enemy have been enabled to penetrate so far into the country.

The "Financier" (Robt. We are apprehensive that in the present state of things, it will not be enough for the recruiting officer to assure the People that the clothing will be ready at the Rendezvous for those that enlist: but that he must have some uniforms with him to convince it is not an imposition, & that they will not suffer, as others have done for want of clothes. But your Excellency will be better able to judge whether this is necessary: & therefore we shall not press for the clothing to be sent, previous to the Recruits being rais'd, till we have the honor of hearing from you.

Indeed the current of adjudication before the revolution, seems to have been, that an acquittal by an examining court is a good plea in bar. This, as I have been informed, was founded on the peculiar phraseology of the law, respecting such courts—But on the other hand, it is notorious that when a grand jury finds a bill “not true,” the suspected person may be again drawn into question at a future day.

COL: JNO: FLOYD TO JOHN MAY, ESQR. April 8th

"Dear Sir,

The Savages began their Hostilities early in February, and are constantly ravaging the most Interior parts of the County, which makes it impossible for any one Settlement to assist another—Even the Populous parts of Lincoln are infested, & from the number of Horses already taken off by them, it is notorious to every capacity, that their design is to disable the Inhabitants from removing, untill their present intended Campaign from Detroit against Fort Nelson can be carried into effect. This design is communicated to us through three different channels & so well authenticated that it cannot be doubted: and the Conduct of the Enemy ever since last Fall, coincides exactly with the information. One fourth of the militia is called for by Genl: Clarke, for the purpose of Fortifying the Fort against a Seige—but from the immediate danger, in which every one conceives his own Family, the authority of militia officers at such a distance from Government grows every day weaker & weaker, and the new invented Ideas of a separate State, calculated on purpose for disaffection & an Evasion of duty, are so many causes to retard the necessary Business, and seems to threaten us on all sides with Anarchy, Confusion & I may add Destruction—But even to suppose that the Works can be completed before the arrival of the Enemy, it is then impossible that Genl: Clark, with the inconsiderable number of Troops He now has, can defend it: and a Dependance on Militia scattered over three extensive Counties, under the circumstances before mentioned, is depending upon a very great Uncertainty, especially when the Enemy have all the advantages of a heavy current, from high up the Miamia to the very place of their destination. they can float from the mouth of that river to the Falls in less than thirty hours—And to suppose that our Spies should discover their approach as high up as Miamia, it will then take eight days at least, before we can be collected, if we were under the strictest military Subordination—Should no reinforcements arrive in May & Genl: Clark be obliged to evacuate his post, rather than suffer such a quantity of military stores to fall into the Hands of the Enemy, and the whole Indian Army let loose among the scattered Inhabitants unprepared to receive them, what must be the consequence? Is it not evident that the whole must fall a Sacrifice? As a means of averting the storm which is gathering against 1782. us & preventing these fatal consequences, your immediate Interposition April 8th with the Legislative Body & with the Governor & Council is now called for by every Inhabitant of Jefferson County—This is our last effort:

 and your exertions on this occasion may possibly save our Families from the Hands of merciless Savages.

You are sensible from your own knowledge of this Western Country, that no place can be better calculated for the purpose of carrying on the Indian War against (if I may use the Expression) the Interior Frontiers of this State, than the Falls of the Ohio—Its situation is exactly central to the Northern, Southern, & Western Tribes. The distance to Holston, Clinch, New River, Green Brier &c. very trifling—Their supplies already here provided, & the communication to the British Posts in Canada very safe and easy. I would further observe that if this Country must be laid waste, which nothing but an early reinforcement or an Accident can prevent; those settlements above mentioned must once more experience the disadvantages of a Savage War & must contend with more than ten times the number which have heretofore visited their Borders—One who is unacquainted with the true Situation of this County & also me, might probable conclude that those reflections might proceed from Timidity—But you are acquainted with both, and can Judge whether it is so or not.

Their force and number of women and children

Our whole strength at this time is three hundred & seventy men, and who, according to the best calculations I can make, have about eight hundred & fifty helpless women & children to take care of, & very generally deprived of every possible means of removing back to the settlement. This is at present as just a State of this County, as I am able to give you, only I omitted to mention that this number of men were exclusive of the Small remains of the Illinois Regiment.

Who am Dear Sir, with much respect your very hble Sevnt &c &c.

JOHN MAY, ESQR.

April 8th "Intelligence respecting the murder of the Indians at Muskingum," having been laid before Congress—it was ordered

In Congress "That the same be communicated to the Executive of Pennsylvania and that of Virginia, to enquire into the facts"—

The following is the "Relation of what Frederick Lineback was told by two of his neighbors, living near Delaware River above Easton, who were just returned from the Monaungahela"—

Statement of "That some time in February one hundred & sixty men living upon the massacre of the Mora- Monaungahela set off on Horse back to the Muskingum, in order to vian Indians destroy Three Indian Settlements of which they seemed to be sure of &c being the Towns of some Enemy Indians—

After coming nigh to one of the Towns, they discovered some Indians on both sides of the River Muskingum. They then concluded to divide themselves into two Parties, the one to cross the River, and the other to attack those Indians on this side. When that party got over the River, they saw one of the Indians coming up towards them. They laid themselves flat on the ground, waiting till the Indian was nigh enough, then one of them shot the Indian and broke his arm: then three of the Militia ran towards him with Tomahawks: when they were yet a little Distance from him, he asked them, why they fired at him, he was Minister Shebosecks (John Bulls) son; but they took no notice of what he said, but kill'd him on the spot—They then surrounded the Field, and took all the other Indians prisoners—The Indians told them they were Christians and made no resistance: when the militia gave them to understand, that they must bring them as prisoners to Fort Pitt, they seemed to be very glad—They were ordered to prepare themselves for the Journey, and to take all their effects along with them. Accordingly they did so. They were asked how it came they had no cattle? they answered that the small stock that was left them had been sent to Sandusky. In the Evening the Militia held a Council, when the Commander of the Militia told his men that he would leave it to their choice, either to carry the Indians as Prisoners to Fort Pitt or to kill them—when they agreed that they should be kill'd. Of this resolution of the Council, they gave notice to the Indians by two Messengers, who told them, that as they had said they were Christians, they would give them time this night to prepare themselves accordingly—Hereupon the women met together and sung hymns and psalms all night, and so did likewise the men, and kept on singing as long as there were three alive—

April 8th

In the morning the militia chose two Houses, which they called the Slaughter Houses, and then fetch'd the Indians two or three at a time with ropes about their necks, and dragged them into the Slaughter Houses, when they knocked them down: then they set those two Houses on fire, as likewise all the other Houses. This done, they went to the other Towns and set fire to the Houses, took their plunder, and returned to the Monaungahela, where they kept a Vendue among themselves.

Before these Informants came away, it was agreed, that 600 men should meet on the 18th of March, to go to Sandusky which is about 100 miles from the Muskingum.

1782. Indians, viz 33 men, and 66 women and children"—another from the same says "The Moravian Indian Congregation at Sandusky is butchered, as it is reported, by the Scotch—They came and told them they must prepare directly for death. They Indians requested but an hours time for this purpose, which was granted. They went to their meeting House to join in prayers to the Lord. After the hour had passed, they fell upon them, and butchered all of them in cold blood, in the meeting house, and then set fire to the house"—

Having had several applications from the counties of Lancaster, Northumberland and Westmoreland for a supply of arms, to defend themselves against the plundering parties frequently visiting them, and the Privateers that infest the Bay, and in as much as the people of these counties had sent most of their own arms with their militia to the Siege of York, he recommends that a suitable supply be sent to them—upon which the Governor endorses the communication "Please to furnish so many arms as you think necessary for the defence of the within Counties."

EDMD RANDOLPH, ATTY: GENL: TO THE GOVERNOR.

"Sir

1782.
Richmond

The capital facts in the petition of Mace Freeland are, that Robert Williams, a bastard, hath become felo de se, is intestate and has left neither wife nor issue of his body. The Legal consequences from hence are, that his lands belong to the Commonwealth in right of escheat, and his personal estate in right of forfeiture—In this situation of the property of the self murder, the petitioner solicits the executive to grant to him the slaves and personalties of Williams, he being in that line of succession, which would have cast them upon him, had Williams been legitimate. I cannot readily see the reason upon which the interposition of the Executive is desired, with respect to the slaves. For the Act of assembly declaring slaves to be real estate, provides that they shall not escheat, for a defect of inheritable blood (See ——) and a subsequent Act forbids a forfeiture of them, except in those cases in which lands and tenements may be forfeited—But as Lands and tenements are not forfeitable for suicide, the slaves in this instance are equally protected against forfeiture. It is clear too that they cannot escheat. It follows therefore, that the Executive, altho' their power to regrant should be acknowledged, need not interpose in regrating the Slaves since they are not vested in the Commonwealth. The Act of 1779 concerning escheats and forfeitures does indeed assert, that slaves accrue to the Commonwealth by way of escheat, but this institution relates to British subjects alone, and leaves the former of the two foregoing acts to its full operation in the case of citizens.

Presuming that Robert Williams hath been found Felo de se by a regular inquisition (which moreover by no means appears from the petition) I shall not deny that Mace Freeland will be stripped of the personal estates, unless the Commonwealth should restore it. But thro' what channel of power is restitution to come? British Governors have regranted, it is true; but they acted thus upon ground of prerogative alone. Our Constitution excludes prerogative, and I do not know any law, which delegates to the Executive of this day an authority to regrant.

Should your Excellency and the Council, holding sentiments different from those which I have now delivered, decide in favor of your power to regrant, propriety would seem to require, that the petitioner should produce the inquisition, upon the body of Robert Williams, and evidence of his allegations before any measures could be taken in compliance with his request.

 "Sir
 I am sorry to inform your excellency that the savages have begun
 Montgomery their usual depredations upon the unhappy Inhabitants of our Fron-Co. tiers. They have this Spring killed & scalped Two Girls the Daughters of Capt: James Maxwell on the Head of Clinch & at the same time took nine prisoners: And I was well Informed yesterday, that about eight days ago Two Children of Capt: Ro: Moffetts were taken in the same neighborhood—parties of militia were sent out, but could not overtake the Enemy. Majr John Taylor, who has the command of the militia in that quarter, writes me that the people are in the utmost consternation & talk of removing their Families unless some Militia are stationed there for their defence & that they are in the greatest want of ammunition. As that part of the Frontier is much exposed & Indeed has been frequently visited by the Enemy for several years past, perhaps your Excellency might Judge it proper to order some Gun Powder to this County, of which it is destitute, and direct the manager of the Lead mines to give a small supply of Lead from time to time, as it may be wanted for Public Service: and at the same time direct that some men may be sent to range the woods and endeavour to guard the Inhabitants on pressing occasions. This might be a means to encourage the people to continue at their plantations and support their Families. 1782.

Your Favour of the 2d instant enclosing the proceedings of Cumberland Council in appointing the Rendezvous, came to hand the 6th— Old Ct:

I immediately proceeded to making out the necessary Instructions, and Appointments of the Officers to superintend the different Rendezvous, who are as follows :

Richmond	{ Capt: Young Liet: Vandervall Ensign Harris	Cabin Point	{ Capt: Thos: Thweat Leut: Saml: Hogg Let: James Holt
Fredsburg	{ Capt: Jas: Williams Leit: Jno Robertson Ensign Lettle	Prince Edward	{ Capt: John Stith Lt: David Walker Let: Hezekiah Morton

Staunton	{ Capt: Thos: Payne Leut: Jas: Hamilton Ensign Henry Hughes	Montgomery	{ Capt: Lovely Let: John Barns Lt: Math: Clay

For various reasons I was obliged to appoint Lovely, though he is not industrious: But he will do his Duty, as he is rather skittish & has been pretty near a C. Ml—The other Superintendents I hope you'll approve of. The reason why I do not continue Colo Towles at Fredericksburg, is that too many men and a Waggon or two are employ'd tending him and Major Willis, and Capt: Williams will do the business as well with less attendance—At Richmond, Fredericksburg and Peytonsburg I believe there is continental Posts kept, where Provisions may be had—at the other Posts, I am confident there is none. I have therefore directed the Officers superintending to call on you for an order for the specifics for that purpose. The reasons of my Posting Reid at Peytonsburg is that when he has collected a Company for your Reg't, he is to march it off, and Stith relieve him to go with the 2d, and so on in Rotation, as you recommended some time ago, and which I think will be the best plan—" * * * * *

1782. Col: Davies represents to the Governor, the very exceptionable conduct of Mr Ballard, the Dep: Commissioner of Lunenburg Co. who had reported the cattle collected by him as unfit for use, but having gotten Mr. Pierce's order to sell them, had bought them himself at much less than their value. He has been charged with other acts of misconduct, and the Executive is requested to order enquiry into these matters—

"Sir

As I had the honor to mention it to your Excellency in my last, I had determined to quit this place & go to Staunton—my view in this was to relieve the inhabitants of this county of a burden which I am sensible must have fallen heavy upon them & to have the inhabitants of Staunton to contribute of a small proportion towards the support of the legion, since I was informed they could do it with ease. Your excellency recommended to me the removal of the legion from here & the commander in chief ordered me to remain in this part of the country. I was sensible my going to Staunton would answer every purpose. I thought it was my duty before I moved to Staunton to obtain the good will of the people there & the interference of the first & most popular inhabitants—in that purpose I wrote to those last by my qt: master, telling them that far from having any idea to be disagreeable to them & to prevent even the appearance of distressing them, I would have no officers or men or horses quartered in to their houses or out houses—telling them that should they agree to supply us plainly for a time, no shorter than three weeks & desire that I should remove from there at the expiration of it, I would cheerfully answer their wishes—those your Excellency will conceive, are all what it was in my power to say or do—their answer who is one of the most kind one for the legion express that should your excellency indulge us with an order to receive the specific taxes we would be welcome.'

 inclosed with good Timbers 9 feet high only, from 4 feet upwards 5 feet thick—The whole country w'd be evacuated, as Panicks of that Kind have proved very catching, and the fate of the neighboring garrisons at Licking last year was fresh in their minds—The only plan I could devise to prevent it & sufficiently secure the provisions laid up at Bryants & this place, was to build a new Fort upon a very advantageous situation at this place & make it proof against Swivels & small Artillery, which so terrify our people. I laid off the Fort, upon the simplest plan of a Quadrangle & divided the work equally among four of the most pushing men, with a Bastion to each, authorizing them to employ workers from this & the neighboring Stations & assuring them of their pay myself. On the Faith of such assurances considerable sums of money have been lent & advanced to the workmen, so that the work in about 20 Days has been nearly completed in a workmanlike manner. The Gate is nearly finished & the magazine contracted for. The whole Expence amounts to £11,341.10s, as will appear by the account herewith Sent. It is in vain for me to assure your Excellency that Diligence and Economy has been used in this Business, as the Work so abundantly proves it. I believe four times the expence never before made for the Publick a work equal to this. An Emulation among the overseers, & Rewards in Liquor to the men proved powerful Incentives to Industry. Being a charge of an uncommon nature, I thought proper to present it to your Excellency & the Council, being better Judges of the Necessity & Expediency of the Work than the Auditors, who are probably unacquainted with the Circumstances of this County. By either of the Delegates your Excellency may have an opportunity of transmitting the money—

 8 feet wide and between 4 & 5 feet deep."

I have the Honor to be, with the greatest respect, your Excellency's EDM'D RANDOLPH TO GOV. HARRISON.

April 22d

He had the day before delivered to Mr. Webb "the cypher prepared for the correspondence between the Executive and the Delegates in Congress from Virginia." It is formed upon "the principles of the "Peltus'"

1782. French cypher," and may be said to be "inscrutable." Being disappointed in the additional information, which he expected from Philadelphia concerning the grievances of the settlers under the Virginia Government, who will fall within Pennsylvania by the running of the proposed boundary Line, he begs leave to enclose, the within enquiries, or "queries" addressed to him as an individual, by two gentlemen, one of whom was formerly a member of the Virginia Assembly from the county ceded to Pensylvania and now also represents the same people in the Legislature of this State. It will be readily understood by the Executive why he could not with propriety discuss the 3d 5th & 6th queries" with those gentlemen, and had therefore disposed of the "ideas therein suggested in a very few words. He now submits them, with the other queries contained in the paper, and adds—

Steps that should be taken to secure proper information on this question.

"What is necessary to be done on this occasion, it belongs not to me to determine; But I cannot forbear to express our apprehension, that our citizens will be alienated from, and lose all confidence in our government, if they should sustain injury for acts done by them, as public servants, or the decisions of Courts holden under the authority of Virginia, Should be annulled as flowing from an usurped jurisdiction. Perhaps the assembly of Pennsylvania which were sitting when I left Philadelphia, may have taken measures upon these subjects. Were it recommended therefore to the Delegates, to collect and transmit copies of their proceedings, better grounds would probably be furnished for the conduct of the Executive."

Western territory.

"I was instructed by my brethren in the delegation to obtain access to the entries of the council before the revolution. A report is prepared for congress in the form of an instruction to the ministers of the United States who are to negotiate peace, in which the affair of Western territory is pretty fully discussed. But we suppose that the subject would receive considerable illustration, by consulting those entries," the information gotten to be applied to the present controversy. Continues, "So often has your Excellency been harrassed by the sufferings of the Delegates, from the scantiness of their supplies, and so much does my mind recoil at describing to the Executive my private distress, when I do not believe they can relieve me, that necessity, urgent necessity alone compels me to inform them that I am now in a situation, truly humiliating to myself, and I might add, disgraceful to the Commonwealth. I could not have rescued myself from the hands of these creditors to whom I was indebted for my subsistence during my stay in Phil'a, without borrowing about two hundred pounds. My note has travelled after me and I cannot meet it with my own purse. The settlement of my accounts will probably shew that I have not dissipated the public money, which I have received. Will the Executive place these £200 upon such a footing as my embarrassment requires, and their "authority will justify?"

“Sir

Philadelphia

Your Excellency’s favor of the 12th came to hand yesterday.
 There is at present no Delegate here from N. Carolina. As soon as one arrives we shall apprise him of the want of Commissioners suggested by you.

The office of the Superintendent of Finance does not contain the information you wish relative to the amount of payments made by the States in the new Continental Bills, no regular return having yet been transmitted tither. As far as the portion of these bills allotted to the use of Congress shall be unissued, as also as far as the requisitions made in them on the states, shall be unpaid, they will constitute a charge ag'st the States respectively. But the rate at which they are to be charged is yet to be determined by Congress.

The Delegates have long had it in charge from the Executive to provide a conveyance to Virginia of certain stores taken on their passage from Richmond & carried into Boston, or if that could not be accomplished, to have them sold. They lye in the hands of Mr. J. Bradford, formerly our agent for the U. States. We have written various letters to him on the subject & rec'd various answers, without being able to fulfill either of the alternatives. The first indeed has long been relinquished. Our last letter requested him preemptorily to sell the stores & remit the amount.

We have again endeavoured to obtain from Congress some explicit decision on the territorial cession of Virginia, that the Assembly may not again be left in uncertainty on that subject. The sickness of the Pres'dt which suspended the vote of Maryland, furnished a pretext for postponing the business, which we judge it prudent to yield to. As soon as he returns to Congress, which will probably be in a few days, we shall renew our proposition, and continue to urge it, till we obtain in some form or other, such evidence of the purpose of Congress as will be satisfactory to the State.

Early in the last year a plan was formed by the Courts of Vienna and Petersburg for bringing about a general pacification under their mediation—The preliminary articles which were proposed with this view to belligerent powers, are copied in the inclosed paper No: 2.* Congress have just received from † [the minister of francee some informal communications relative to the issue of this pacific experiment. among them is the answer of the british court, given in June last. It explicitly and emphatically rejects that part of the plan which relates to the negotiation between her and the Colonys, and guaranties the result as incompatible with the relation of subjects to their Sovereign and the essential interests of the empire: alleging at the same time that a great part of the Americans are disposed to return to their Allegiance, and that such steps wou'd furnish the rebel cheifs with fresh means of nourishing the rebellion, and confirming their usurped authority. the final answer of the mediating courts professes great impartiality and

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO COL: DAVIES.

"Sir

Washington
 Co.

Your letter of the 4th Instant, with one of prior date from his Excellency the governor, came to hand, both of which discourage us in our operations against our Savage enemies. The want of money is a bad thing: but good advice from wise heads was at least expected. It is not the fault of the people, our being at war with the neighbouring Savages. They have struck the first blow, and are not going to desist until the terms of war are carried to their own Country. It is then only that they will be induced to sign a truce.

The South Carolina men, with a determination that reflects honour on them, has lately penetrated the Indian Country on the sources of the Mobile. The last account received by a friendly Cherokee from the Tennesee, a large Detachment was in a critical situation: we were to have cöoperated with them, which would have made the work easy: but for want of the energy of Government, we failed in our effort. The Northward Indians has form'd an intercourse with the unfriendly Cherokees and continues their depredations, both on the frontiers of this and Montgomery County, leaving traces of real distress wherever their parties penetrates. In the Kentuckey County the scene is likely to be more bloody—

Genl: Clarke writes me that we will have a least one thousand more Indians added to our Enemies, this year than last, if measures are not taken early this spring to divert or crush their confederacys. Pardon this intrusion! I am insensibly led into discussions to men living in security, which may let affecting scenes pass with indifference. I have a predilection for my native Country. It hurts me sorely to hear her Government despised, and her citizens destroyed by the Enemy.

I am Sir, with Esteem, your very h'ble Serv'nt."

"Rosegill"

I am very sorry to give your Excellency this trouble, but my Overseer Mr. Thos: Fox has wrote to me, to let me know he has been very ill treated by Some of the military that are quartered on my land in King Wm. I can't help complaining. I have had troops of Horse there constantly for more than Twelve months, which I believe there is not another instance of the sort to be given in this State. I was up there in the Winter. Colo. Temple came to me, made an apology & would then have removed them, but he told me he expected their Accoutrements every day from the northward. the Officers & men then behaved very well. I told him as the weather was so cold, I thought it would be pitty to turn the poor Fellows out of their Hutts, as they seemed to be very warm & comfortable. I am sure I have made a point to furnish every thing I was able & am sure have done every thing in my power to accommodate them. I have desired Mr. Fox to wait on your Excellency who will inform you of every particular better than I can.

My wife joins with me in Our respectfull Compliments to you & Mrs. Harrison—am D'r S'r your most Obed't Serv't."

COL: WM. PRESTON TO GOV: HARRISON.

Enclosing a letter to himself from Col Walter Crockett dated April 15th 1782 giving account of the Killing of two of Capt: Moffett's sons, and of the whole family of Capt: Inglis in Burks Garden,—also of his having ordered Colo. Cloyd to call out at once the militia to assemble at "David Doaks' mill" to protect the settlements, as the people talk of "breaking up" unless help is afforded them. He calls also for provisions, as they cannot be supplied "on Clinch." Col: Preston adds, "I wrote to your Excellency the 10th Instant informing you of the Damages the Savages had done in Montgomery. I last night received the inclosed letter from Col: Crockett. It appears that Capt: Inglis' family were not burned in the House, as he imagined, but were taken prisoners. He raised a party of men and pursued the Enemy: after some days march he overtook them and recovered his Wife and one child, both tomahaked, but perhaps not mortally, and his Slaves. One of his children they murdered, Killed an Officer of the party and made their escape. The Enemy attacked some other Families, but were repulsed tho' I beleive without loss. They Killed a man on Bluestone, and I am told a Woman at Cubbersons' Bottom on New River. Their signs have been seen in various parts of the Country, which has given the greatest alarm to the Inhabitants: and what is very extraordinary that five Houses they attacked, that four belonged to Officers, and some of them a considerable distance within the Frontier Settlements, which induces me to beleive they are conducted by Tories. I am at a loss what measures to fall upon for the Defence of the distressed Inhabitants. The Public Credit is so low, that I am doubtful it will be impossible to procure Provisions, as no Specific Tax was brought in last Year, and but a small prospect of this year producing any in the present Exigency. Provisions can-

 April 26th no money on Hand, renders the Task of supporting a proper number of men for the Defence of that Extensive Frontier exceedingly difficult.
 I would therefore most earnestly beg your Excell'y's Advice and Instruction herein, by Mr. McGarock, as not only my own Family, but a great number of other Families are exposed to the cruelty of a Savage Enemy.
 The general scarcity of Gun Powder is also an alarming circumstance.
 Indeed from the present gloomy prospect, I am apprehensive the Inhabitants of the Frontier Settlements will be obliged to remove to places of Safety—I make no doubt but your Excellency in Council will consider the Distress of those People and fall on every method in your Power to relieve them. Any Instruction I am fav'd with shall be obeyed to the utmost of my power.

I am,
 Your Excellency's most ob. Sev't."

Translation of the above cypher, is as follows “Congress received yesterday some supplemental communications through the Channel mentioned in our last. They speak on ye part of our ally much regret at the thinness of our military ranks; insinuate the idea of co-operating with us in expelling the enemy from their remaining posts within the United States, and observe that G. Britain still reckons much on her numerous friends in this Country and will spare no means of increasing them. It is supposed, in particular that experiments may be made to seduce the States to separate negotiations. He had received the letter desiring to know what had been done with the deserters in that County. They had been apprehended and sent to the Army at Gloucester, but as soon as they found they were put into the Continental service, deserted again—Many were never caught because of the convenience of escaping by water; and some had gone to the enemy. The eight men sent to Richmond, four of whom were substitutes and only eighteen years of age, had all been sent back “as not being able bodied”—He expresses surprise at this, as he “was then satisfied that those men were better than the drafts, as they went freely & wood have made good soldiers after being awhile in ye Army.” The Clothing and wagon required of the County have been furnished.

The Situation of the County very bad: the officers without commissions, altho' more than a year ago he had applied for them, and the men without arms—He has been endeavouring to get a vessel to transport the Salt to Mr. Young as ordered, but there is “no such thing to be had.” The Enemy are still in the Bay, notwithstanding the presence of French Cruizers, and he therefore thinks it would be safer and but little dearer, to “have it waggoned.” This Salt has been stored for more than two years and its value fast disappearing by actual loss—
 The pans are now idle; three of them much cracked, and “only one that's whole.” Begs to be excused for the “bad páper & Ink as it's very hard to be got.” Requests Col: Davies to direct his communications in future to “the Commanding Officer” as he intends to resign his Commission.

Has found it impracticable to draft the men in that county for the Continental army, and therefore has postponed it to the 28th May, by which time "the Assembly will make it more easy or divert it into some other Channel—Informs his Excellency of the "disagreeable news of the Savage Enemy invading the frontiers" about two weeks before and terrifying the defenceless inhabitants. He has sent "above Eighty militia" exclusive of them sent to Tygarts Valley, to their defence "& should there be a real need sessity to continue them," unless orders are given to supply them out of the Specific Tax—Thinks it a hard case, that he should be called upon to send "70 men" to defend Monongalia County while the frontiers of Augusta are "so distressed by ye Enemy."

When Col: Armand's Cavalry came to Staunton, there being no law for providing for their support, but for the voluntary contributions of the Inhabitants at his instance they would "undoubtedly have perished or plundered." The Provision Commissioners are now acting, but have no directions how they are to dispose of the supplies received. Very little bacon to be gotten in the County, but the beef will support the Legion a considerable time.

Col: Thos: Godwin enclosing to Col: Davies militia Return &c. Out of total of 708 men, there are eighty five condemned to serve six months. The wagon and Clothing will soon be sent up to Petersburg.

Setting forth the utter destitution of the Continental Departments in the State—He finds it impossible to transport stores to the Southern Army, there not being a wagon in condition to be used; "no artificers to repair them and shoe the horses"—these latter are lame and poor—The Quarter master at Petersburg informs him he knows not how the stores are to be forwarded; the "once flourishing branch of his business

Circular from Rob't R. Livingston (Secretary of Foreign Affairs) addressed to Gov: Harrison; and enclosing copy of a resolution of Congress, instructing him to "make a confidential communication" to the several States in regard to the "intelligence received through his office," in order that they may thereby be more fully impressed with the necessity of united and determined Coöperation with the French "our generous Ally"—in driving the enemy "from the remaining Posts within the United States," and thus show to the world the falsity of the assertions of the British Court, that the states are not united or determined in the support of their national independence—The Circular, refers to the "intelligence," "as an assurance that Britain had absolutely declined any interference of the mediating Powers between them and what they call their rebel subjects," that "they persist on every occasion, in representing us a divided People who anxiously wish to return to our connection with England &c." * * * *. In this they have two objects in view—1st "to encourage England to continue a war, which they expect to see, terminate by our own weakness and languor," and 2nd, in case of a negotiation, "they put such a face upon their affairs," as will entitle them to make demands at our expense," which they would not dream to think of," "if the mediators were acquainted with our firm resolution, never to return to our obedience to their government"—Besides which they cast a degree of odium upon the conduct of France, representing it, as the support of a discontented faction, rather than as the generous ally of an oppressed nation—"There is reason to apprehend that in order the better to secure the advantages of this deceitful policy, to themselves, they will make proffers to each of the United States—If any of them should listen to them, (which cannot however be presumed) they will urge that, as a proof of their assertions—If they should even decline, receiving these proposals, and refer them to Congress, as from the nature of our union they undoubtedly must; Still as the result of the experiment, cannot be known for some time, in Europe, they will avail themselves of it in some measure, if negotiations should open"—"This artifice of the enemy may be counteracted in two ways," "both deserving the serious consideration of your Legislature"—"The first, and most important, is by making such exertions to procure a respectable army early in the season, that the mediators casting their eyes upon the muster-rolls, may there read a full refutation of all that British Artifice can suggest—("I need not observe that this measure must go hand in hand with taxation—since an army, without the means of supporting them, would only increase our evils)—The second is, to anticipate Great Britain, by such resolutions, as the information contained in this letter suggests—Resolutions which strongly mark a spirited determination in the Legislature of each State, to listen to no negotiations, except through the intervention of Congress, "thereby manifesting" their attachment to the independence of their Country and their inviolable regard to the faith they have pledged to each other, and to their allies—These may either prevent the attempt I apprehend, or arrive in time to prevent the effect which the false expectations built thereon, might otherwise have in Europe—I mention this to your Excellency, without any express direction from Congress—It is more than probable, that your judgment, and the zeal and wisdom of the Legislature, may improve these loose hints to the general advantage of the United States—I have the pleasure of assuring your Excellency, and the Legislature, that the fairest prospects are now before us of terminating the war, by a single exertion: though I am not at liberty to say that the plan of the ensuing campaign is absolutely determined on—Yet I have great reason to believe, that we shall receive such powerful military aid as with becoming vigor on our part, will free every State in the Union, from the grasp of the enemy—* * * * *—"We have at no period, been in a situation to second fully, the endeavors of our ally to serve us—We either neglected to assemble our army in time, or to provide the means for supporting or moving them. A feather would have turned the balance last year, notwithstanding the powerful aid we received abroad—Providence blinded our Adversary. To their temerity we owe our success. . But, Sir, let me ask whether

1782. any State did then, or have even now, done all its power to enable our May 2d generals to prosecute the victory? Or rather let me turn to what is more within my line, by observing, that the inferiority of our army in point of numbers, to that of our ally, while they acted at Yorktown, has been considered in Europe, as a proof of the assertions of Great Britain, has been urged as an argument of our weakness, our weariness of the war, or our internal divisions—A moment's reflection will show the advantages, that this affords our antagonist, in a negotiation: how much it weakens the claim we make, and how many important benefits may be lost forever, by our appearing in Europe, to receive our Independence rather as a gift, than to have established it by our exertions—But Sir, it is still in our power to repair these errors—Let us avail ourselves of this favorable moment for expelling the enemy, and recovering our diminished Credit among the nations of the Earth. I make no apology for the liberty I take—Your Excellency, I am persuaded, is too sensible of the truth of these observations to think they could be delivered with less earnestness by one, who feels their importance; and I am confident you will bring them before the Legislature of your State in such manner as will best serve to ensure them their attention.”

Accomack. Expressing his great concern at the proposed removal, of the Continental Soldiers then on the Eastern Shore; in which every aid is given to Major Poulson, Chargèd with this duty—He adds—“The purpose of this letter, is to obtain permission for these soldiers, or a part of them, to remain amongst us” for “without some regular force stationed here, this Shore must be ruined”—that at that moment four of the enemy's barges were on the Coast of Accomac, capturing vessels, and plundering the inhabitants—The presence of a small regular force enabled the militia to remain at home on their farms, to be ready when wanted, instead of being subjected to the harrasment of false alarms—Such a force as a guard could watch and follow the enemy from point to point, prevent their landing and thus do much in protecting the defenceless people. In as much then, as the Salvation of the Eastern Shore, which had already furnished so much to the cause of the Country, depended upon the presence of some of these troops, he begs Col: Davies intercession with the Gov: & Council in their behalf, and Closes with a request for arms, ammunition and clothing, very much needed for the use of the militia—

The Indians had made three incursions into that Country since the 1st of April: the militia under Cols: Nevill and Evans, were distributed among the different Forts, and were fed by the people, as no provisions had come from Rockingham County as ordered—Pack-horses and bags, with proper escort for protection against the Indians, who had appeared forty miles east of that place, would be necessary to transport sufficient provisions for the troops—He had already 22 families in his Fort; and should like “to stand his ground,” but if he should “break” the whole valley would follow his example. His situation had become very precarious since the “breaking up” of the Buchanan Settlements; the people in the Fort under a “panick,” hoping the militia who should come to their relief would bring their own provisions, in as much as “the road had become too dangerous to go out in search of them—

GEO: ROGERS CLARK TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

May 2d "Sir

Fort Nelson

Inclosed is a copy of my last to Col: Davis (Davies). The apprehensions of the designs of the Detroit Gentry in this Country is reduced to a certainty. They have their eye on this post and the Spanish Illinois: if they carry their point its consequence is obvious—We are taking every measure our policy dictates to us to put the departm't in as good a position of defence as our circumstances will permit. A late confusion among the Inhabitants, occasioned I believe by some emmissaries from the Northward hath retarded our progress in business considerably, but by the exertions of many of the principal officers of the Country, that deserve credit we are like to reduce the people to subordination. in short they begin to suspect those that first confused them was their greatest Enemies.

I believe in a short time it will be dangerous for a man to speak of new Government in this Quarter, except among a small party of blackguards. The body of the people now seem to be allarmed for fear Virginia will give up their interest. There is a formidable fortress that will soon be compleated at this post, but my greatest dependance is in blocking up the Ohio at the mouth of Miami with gallies. We have two gondolas ready to mount, and a gally on the stocks, that will be finished in about twenty days, that I think will do the business. She is seventy three feet Keel, calculated for the navigation of the Ohio, to have forty six oars, one hundred and ten men: one six, six fours, and a two-pounder, is her proposed metal. We have great dependance on the Cannon you promised us, arriving in time; have lately received some encouraging reports respecting them. We arranged our business on as small a scale as possible to promise success. You may judge from your own circumstances the situation of our Credit—If the Country can be saved from the impending blow, a remembrance of our past anxiety and trouble will give pleasure—Let our fate be what it will, I flatter myself that your Excellency will find that your business has been well attended to in this Quarter. If we should be so fortunate as to repel this invasion without too great a loss to ourselves, the Indians will all scatter to their different countries, and give a fair opportunity for a valuable stroke to be made among them—if you was to think it advisable to order about five hundred militia from Washington and Montgomery Counties to rendezvous at Kentucky the first of July, it might probably be attended with valuable Consequences—Their fate depends on that of this Country, and I should suppose good policy wou'd require a body of them should immediately march to the support of this—

My last letter will give you a full Idea of the Indian Department. the body of Indians on the Oubache have not yet declared War. I expect it to take place at the Grand Council this month at the Ouian.

I am Sir, with the utmost Respect, your Obedt. Servt."

JOSEPH MARTIN, INDIAN AGENT, TO GOV. HARRISON. May 3d

"Sir

When I was at Richmond in November last with Two Cherokee Chiefs, the seat your Excellency now fills was vacant, Governor Nelson having a few days before resigned the Government, by which reason the Chiefs were not answered in a manner as they expected, altho' was promised by the Executive some assistance of Cloathing & ammunition &c—They have at sundry times applyed to me since, being much distressed for such necessarys, and as I have not recd. any instructions from your excellency, am at a loss to know what answer to give them. I beg leave earnestly to recommend to you Sir, to give them what assistance you can, as I believe a number of the Towns are friendly attached to us and will not draw off, if we can supply them with some necessarys. I am now attending the Assembly of North Carolina at this place, to remonstrate to that Legislatur the Impropriety of extending their Western Settlements to near the Cherokee Towns on Tennessee, as a petition from the back Country is laid before them for that purpose, which will unavoidably bring on war with that nation should our people proceed to form settlements adjoining their Towns. the Indians on their part, have shewed every mark of friendship for a people in their situation to do. I shall do everything in my Power to prevent a war from ensuing. The Indians are very desirous of going to the Congress agreeable to General Greene's recommendation, and if as much cash cou'd be furnished as wou'd defray the expence of Twenty Chief, I wou'd undertake to go with them.

I am Sir, with the highest respect

May 4th CAPT: JOHN PRYOR TO COL: DAVIES.
 "Dear Sir
 Fredericks- I have peregrinated as far as the S. W. Mountains, and to this burg place, in search of persons to contract for the repairs of our damaged arms, and hitherto have been altogether unsucessfull. public proposals have become such a scarecrow, that the people Shudder at the bare mention of them, and seem so prejudiced that they are predetermined before they hear your scheme not to engage. Mr. Hunter seems to be the only one that I have seen who I think could be depended on for this business, tho' he has been so much abused heretofore by the Public, that there remains but one way to engage him farther, which is to appropriate a certain part of the Taxes for his payment to be collected by the sheriffs & paid to him from the most convenient districts. At present he has discharged all his workmen. The Public Factory at this place is totally at a stand for want of provisions & in short for everything else, as Mr.
 Dick tells me that the whole of the damaged Arms might be repair'd here. he has a great number of very valuable workmen whom he has furlow'd for want of provisions—from this I shall set out to day for the Point of Fork & shall call on several Gentmn. in the way to whom I have wrote to make proposals. I now despair of any plan being effectual short of the one you proposed, of having an Act of Assembly for every Militia man to furnish himself w'th a stand of Arms complete within a certain limited period, and strike some line for a preference of purehasing out of the Public Stock, to prevent their being so dispers'd & remote from whom they might be first wanted. this would certainly encourage the manufacture of Arms in our own State & promote the importation of them from others, as there would be, I suppose near 50,000 stand wanted to complete the whole of our militia." * * * *

I am, with the greatest respect & Esteem

Dr. Sir, your mo: ob Servant."

Three men have been brought to me as Substitutes, two for Militia Divisions, and one for an Individual under the last Law. The first is a mulatto man born of a woman, born free, but at the Time of his Birth a bound Servant 'til 31: the man is bound in the same manner to a Mrs. Hughes in this County, was never on the militia Roll. he was enlisted and brought by a Division in Cumberland.

The other two are also mulattos, born of a free Woman and gott by a Slave belonging to Mr. Woodson of Cumberland, to whom she was bound for a certain Term of Years. The men are also bound to him & he claims them as Slaves, and so does Mrs. Hughes—I am not sufficiently acquainted with the Laws of this Country to determine what to do—will therefore be extreamly oblig'd to your Excellency to give me Directions whether to keep these men or to give them up to those that claim them, and whether I am justifiable by Law, to receive any more under the same circumstances.

Having been desired by Genl: Greene and the "Commissary General of Prisoners" of the Southern Dept: to give every assistance, in executing the cartel in Virginia and thereby facilitate the exchange of prisoners, he draws attention to the fact that the American naval prisoners on parole in this State seem "not known to any Commissary of prisoners at all." Many of these, seeing others exchanged, have found themselves unnoticed and neglected and have appealed to him for redress. He therefore suggests that all paroled prisoners in the State be notified through the "public papers" to report at once at his office. This will determine who are and who are not; worthy of official protection. The sending of the six-months men from Richmond has left the place entirely without a military guard: he therefore requests orders, whether the militia shall be called upon, or whether a "Company from Col: Dabney's Legion shall be directed to come up"—

The Executive adopt the suggestions above made: but order out the militia, until the arrival of Col: Dabney's men.

 There has not been since, time sufficient to procure the Information the Executive wrote for, relative to the inhabitants lately transferred from the jurisdiction of Virginia to that of Pennsylvania. We shall endeavor to obtain it for the next post. The Secretary of Congress assures us that 20 Commissions for Armed vessels were forwarded on the 30th ult: in consequence of a letter from Mr. Blair on the subject. If that number is insufficient, the balance shall be supplied on the first notice.

The enclosed Gazette will furnish your Excellency with all the parliamentary intelligence by which we are as yet enabled to interpret the views of the Enemy. The perseverance of the antiministerial party in the supposed efficacy of conciliatory overtures seems to be no less obstinate than that of the court has been, with respect to military coercion, and as manifestly portends a delay of peace. The path of our duty under these circumstances cannot be mistaken. A scrupulous fidelity to our foreign engagements & a vigorous preparation for expelling the enemy from our Country must press themselves on every attention.

Letters from Spain inform us that the Garrison taken at Minorca consisted of 2600, including every description, but 1500 only, of effective troops: and that this success of the Spanish Arms would be followed by redoubled ardor in the seize of Gibraltar. Our Affairs at 840. 153. 157. 315. 561. 385. 51. 95. 428. ever 210. 6. 471. 492. 95. 566. 297. We have been supplied with no news of late from the W. Indies, owing chiefly to the success of the Enemy's Cruisers on the inward, as well as outward bound trade of this river, which is in a manner annihilated by them.

We have the honor to be, with Sentiments of CAPT: JAMES ANDERSON TO "HON: GEORGE WEBB.

He is constrained by "pressing necessity" to lay before the Executive his reason for "soliciting a discontinuance of the contract" between himself and the Commonwealth—For two years past, he has not received a pound of Tobacco, upon the "agreement entered into—with the board of war on the twenty first of March 1780. He has had no other support for his family but the Salary arising from his "nailers": and this has disappeared with the paper currency. During this time he has suffered great hardships, and is now "without provision or money to purchase any, and very little prospect of receiving any soon." He therefore must press a "discontinuance" of his contract, and he desires this letter to be laid before the Executive at once—Before concluding, he entreats him also "to lay before them the following question—

May 8th MAJOR R. CLAIBORNE TO COL: DAVIES.

Richmond The Governor having directed that all requisitions, upon the State from the Continental service in future, should pass through the war office, he begs leave to call attention to want of transportation for the stores to Peytonsburg. There are six wagons & teams in Manchester ready to start but there being no forage provided, they are not able to move.

May 8th John Smith informs Col: Davies of having just received his letter of Richmond the 22d February last, "which was by accident found in the road by a County Person who transmitted it to me." The officers in the county have done their duty in accordance with the instructions rec'd—out of the thirty one Beeves required, all have been furnished and accounted for, but three, now on hand, and which will be delivered up as soon as demanded.

May 9th Capt: Samuel Jones informs Col: Davies, that his "returns of Richmond receivals and Issues of Quarter Masters' Stores" is nearly completed, but he desires to be absent a few days in Amelia, having "just rec'd an acco't that my mother is dangerously ill and desires to see me."

May 9th Capt H. Young informs Col: Davies, that he can furnish Capt:
 Richmond Russel with forage for six teams to Peytensburg, but how they are to be supplied on their return he cannot say, in as much as he knows not what disposition has been made of the forage in the Counties "between this and Peytonsburg." This fact will show the advantage of requiring the County Commissioners to furnish forage &c to the Lieutenant instead of himself—

Colo. Charles Harrison, 1st Regt. Artillery, informs Col: Davies in reply that the men belonging to his regiment will move Southward the next morning—He would be glad to comply with his request but “the want of Artillery-men to the South” obliges him to hasten the march of the few he now has.

May 10th
Fredericks-

He should have replied sooner to his of the 7th April, but has been hoping to receive sufficient provisions and money from the specific Tax “to answer the purposes of the Factory”—but having been disappointed in this, and the season far advanced, he is urgent that something be done at once. A small amount of money will suffice at present, as the number of workmen must be proportioned to the amount of “meat and bread laid in” for them. A small part of their pay advanced, with any guaranty of the rest being paid in the future, will secure them: tho' they refuse to enlist as a Corps, preferring to work by the job—It is not the “quantity but the goodness of the workmen that is necessary to do business to advantage”—and from 20 to 40 may be employed—A “good Stocker will do his musket, and a Lock-filer his Lock a Day”—

He hears there are three receivers of Specifics in that County, but not “300 lbs. bacon amongst them”—An order on Mr. Burket Davenport of Culpeper, who has charge of this business, for what may be

1782. necessary, will save "laying out money" for that purpose, which should May 10th be applied to the purchase of "stocking plank, steel, &c—There is a plenty of Flour and Corn on hand—

Continues—"There are 800 muskets, mostly in bad order, left here there, and there is no place in the Factory Houses to put them in: as room is much wanted to lay by the work when finished. There is the new Magazine would answer all the purposes very well, but wants a small matter to have it made fit for use. I cou'd wish the arms that may be thought proper to send here for repair were sent in cases, as they damage much more in bringing loose, and many articles stole from them. the cases wou'd serve again to return the good arms in. Good

 Executive, to which please referr, and have only to add, that did it belong to the State, it might be made of much more service than it is:
 As it can never belong to Mrs. Dixon longer than a peace comes, she should have been content to receive the Rent as long as she cou'd—I believe it does not contain above Two Acres, joins the State Factory land, and can be of no good service to any one else. It is morgaged in the Gl: Court as a British property for above double what it is worth, the Estate can't redeem it, and a suit brought by Colo. Towles to foreclose the mortgage, when the Times put a stop to all Business in the Courts.

If it can't be confiscated as above, it might perhaps be condemn'd for the use of the State, by the Assembly, appointing a disinterested Jury to value its worth" * * * * *

COL: GEO: CORBIN TO THE GOVERNOR.

May 11th

His Excellency's letter of the 28th Feb'y had not been received until the 29th of March—in obedience to which, he had made the necessary enquiries in regard to the conduct of Edward Ker, and Edmund Custis, of Aecomac, Colbourn Barrel and Jas: McAlpine, British Subjects—In the spring of 1781 a brig loaded with "wet and dry goods," bound from Charleston S. Carolina to Portsmouth Va., owned by Barrel, and commanded by McAlpine, had been driven ashore on the coast of that County—There two men with the crew surrendered themselves to Mr. Arthur Upshur, who agreed that they should retain their Clothes and Chests undisturbed—He was the man willing to grant these terms, because he had apprehended they were coming to rob him, instead of with the intention of surrendering; and was also a very humane man—Barrel and McAlpine subsequently had applied to him (Col Corbin) for permission to go to Philadelphia with all his crew which he could not legally grant, but at the same time did not like to keep so many prisoners in the county. In the meantime, after a proper conference with himself on the subject, Mr. Custis purchased of Barrel, some of his own private clothing, a small clock, a telleseope and a suit of curtains, all of which he had a right to do as these articles were the property of Barrel under his agreement with Mr. Upshur—They also had dealings with each other for two horses when they expected to go to Philadelphia &c, that in justice to Mr. Custis, he saw nothing improper in this, and had always considered him "a friend to American Independence"—Soon after the above transactions, these prisoners were exchanged at Portsmouth for an equal number from that County—The horses left by McAlpine were with Mr. Ker, who sold one of them for 100 barrels corn, "not yet hard," and Capt: Parker seized the other. He does not think Mr. Ker, in bartering for the corn, intended it for the enemy at Portsmouth, in as much as he had behaved with the greatest caution since the year 1776, since which time he had been under suspicion: though he (Corbin) did not consider Ker as friendly to American Independence—Col: Corbin expresses much regret, his Excellency should still dwell upon the "illegal intereourse," carried on between the people of that peninsula and the enemy; but refers to the case of Rev: John Lyon, who although tried and convicted, was nevertheless allowed to return and was then at large amongst the people, much to the surprise of all—This illieit trade had been the souree of many and great evils, but a desperate remedy to a desperate state of things had been applied the 1782. July before, when "three of the most notorious villians, who had robbed many and murdered one innocent man" had been seized and hung "with very short ceremony"—Since then, they "had enjoyed some peace and quiet"—But, he adds, the late order for the removal of the Continental troops had produced the greatest concern, lest their enemies infesting the Coast in barges should thereby be enabled to renew their depredations, and in connection with these "dregs of humanity," the tories, return to take revenge upon the friends of the Country—

In accordance with his request, the minutest enquiries had been made, in regard to Mr. Hector McAlister, Commissary of Prisoners to the British Army under Lord Cornwallis; and that it was only known, that he had gone to New York with the British Officers soon after the surrender, and had not been since seen at Yorktown—A gentleman named John McAlister, now keeps a store in Williamsburg, who came to the place from Fredericksburg after the seige of York, formerly lived in Philadelphia, and had been an officer in the American Army—Thos. Hughes still continues in town on his parole, and only wants for some tobacco from Mr. Ross to enable him to go to New York—

May 16th

Enclosing extracts of letters from Col: J. Cropper and Col: Geo. Corbin of the Eastern Shore, and from Col: Dabney in command at Portsmouth in regard to the state of things in that peninsula and the removal of troops &c—

War Office

Col: Cropper writes on the 2nd May "The purpose of this letter is (if possible) to obtain permission for these soldiers, or a part of them to remain among us, for without some regular force stationed here this shore must be ruined. At all times we are surrounded by danger, and the season is now come, in which we are continually in alarm. At this moment there are four or more barges of the Enemy on the coast of Accomac. two captured a schooner in sight of my house yesterday, and I received certain intelligence last night that two more are at Chingoteague (the next inlet above the one I live in) on their way from New York—Two barges landed their crews at Major Custis' on the 17th inst: and would have done considerable mischief there and in the neighborhood, had it not been for the activity of Major Poulson's troops, in conjunction with that of the militia—With a small regular force to watch this kind of enemy, and to follow them up and down the coast, the militia certainly can be alarmed of the time and place they are wanting, but without them the militia will be constantly marching and Countermarching, sometimes too soon and sometimes too late, and they will be so harrassed and hindered from their farms, that often times they will prefer not turning out to save the property of their neighbours rather than run the risque of a false alarm. This County has furnished so many men for the Army and Navy heretofore, that it is exceedingly drained of men, and unable to station guards nightly, equal to its protection: therefore Sir, be assured that the Salvation of the Eastern Shore, separated as it is from any succours that might be sent from the Western, depends in a great measure on the men you have ordered to be taken from us—

1782.

Let me beg you Sir, to communicate the intention of this letter in a manner better than I am capable of doing to His Excellency our Governor and his honourable Council and send me by the bearer, as soon as possible their answer thereto. Use your influence with them to save this Eastern Shore, by suffering at least a third part of the men we raised under the last draft law, to remain among us. I conceive (and hope you will on reflection think so too) that these men could be of more service on this shore, than on any part of the Continent."

Col: Corbin writes at the same date, "I was this day informed that the regular troops stationed on our shore for our protection were immediately to be withdrawn—I have therefore taken the liberty of representing to you the horrid dangers with which we were threatened about 12 mos: past, by the Barges that infest our Coasts aided and assisted by the Maryland Refugees and the disaffected among ourselves—

Pardon me for reporting (for I am sure it must be fresh in your minds.) the bloody plots which those inhuman wretches formed against the principal well affected inhabitants of this County. I pass over the many plundering scenes which have been exhibited in this County, honest families surprised in the night and robbed of all their valuables, striped naked of cloaths, turned into the open air men, women and children, regarding neither age or sex, and their peaceful habitations burnt to ashes, and shall only mention that they had appointed the night, prepared a number of ropes as instruments of death, and marked their devoted victims; but the kind hand of providence was against them: a few nights before the appointed time, a party of them went out to induce the negroes to join, more effectually to carry into execution the black designs, but one of them being discovered by a master whose slave he was enticing to join him, called on the villain to know what business he had there? who replied, I will soon let you know, and soon after shot the master dead—The neighbours of the deceased with a number of well affected citizens went in pursuit of the murderers, caught the slave before mentioned, whom they had carried off by force, and being by him informed who were the guilty persons, three of the ringleaders were immediately seized upon, carried to the gallows, where, (after making a free and full confession of their guilt as related by the negro) they were hanged as a terror to like offenders—These are the natural consequences which are produced by a want of protection, and a due execution of the laws of the land, which could not be effected in times of anarchy and confusion without military aid—

Now Sir, as order and good Government cannot approve such illegal exertions as above mentioned, altho' excited by a love of humanity, & exercised upon the worst of beings, least general Anarchy take place; then hope you will use your influence to have a part of these troops (if all cannot be granted) to be stationed among us. I cannot doubt your assistance and success on this occasion"—

Col: Charles Dabney, on the same subject writes from Portsmouth May 11th—"A Small vessel arrived here a few days ago to carry the cavalry to the Eastern shore, but as she had no guns, and badly fixed for their accommodation, and having received information that the Enemy had armed boats in the Bay, I determined not to send them till I could hear from Richmond—If the executive are determined to send them (which I could wish might be avoided, as the detaching the corps is very distressing to me), I would advise that application be made to the French for an armed vessel, as there certainly is a risque in sending them in any other.

The cavalry are much in want of Saddles: those on hand are unfit for service."

Regretting his inability to collect the revenue in the County, because "the larger majority" of the people omitted to list their tithables the last year. The defaulters are liable to a penalty, and the Grand Jury will doubtless present them, but "we shall never get a petit jury to find guilty those who can prove that the magistrates, with whom they were to enlist, were hiding from the enemy great part of the summer, and when they returned home, that masters of families were generally performing military duty 'til the last of October." This should have been anticipated by the Legislature, and the Commissioners should have been supplied with lists of tithables for the present and not the former year: this would have removed the complaints against a law, which as it now stands, subjects numbers of people to the payment of a tax on slaves "that are dead or shipped beyond Sea by the British"—

CAPT: JOHN PRYOR TO COL: DAVIES.

Richmond Giving at length, account of the difficulties he had encountered, ever since his appointment as Com: "General of Military Stores of Virginia"—In his late efforts, in obedience to orders, to collect the scattered Ordnance stores of all kinds, the great want of transportation has very much interfered with his duties: and that in consequence, they have remained scattered and insecure, and liable to injury—He has made every effort to establish shops for the repair of arms in different parts of the County by contracts with private individuals; but the people have no confidence in the ability of the Legislature to enforce the collection of the Specie tax, because the money is not in the Country and therefore think they will never be paid for their work. They do not regard the offers to exempt such as might work for the public, from military duty, because they have ceased to apprehend another invasion. Mr. James Hunter, is the only person, who seems disposed to undertake the repairing of arms upon being paid "a certain part of the taxes" for his work—He has been obliged to furlough most of his artificers, because he had not the means of supporting them—Steel, & oil were much needed: also spirits of wine, brandy, nitre &c in order to employ Capt: Green of the Continental Laboratory in preparing ammunition, before he goes off to New London, where he proposes to fix his Laboratory—Wants funds to prepare the Cannon ammunition for the armed vessels, under the requisitions of the Commercial Agent—Asks for a keeper of the Magazine, and Superintendent of the Laboratory at the Point of Fork, and the requisite pay for them—Encloses an estimate of the ammunition wanted for the Ship "Cormorant"—also for "drums and fifes" &c—In accordance with the late orders, he is apprehensive he may be called to perform active military duty, to receive recruits at Cumberland Old.  good disposition of his nation" but had stopped in the Cherokee towns on account of what he had there heard, lest he should be ill-treated by us. "He sent his business" by the Cherokee messengers, herewith enclosed with the "Cherokee talk"—The goods sent to the Chickasaws having provoked jealousy amongst the Cherokees, a good Agent, (the present one being entirely out of credit with them) might turn this, to some account, as the Cherokees were in a naked and deplorable condition for want of goods and ammunition—He had sent an answer to the “talk” of the Chicasaws; and would have delayed doing anything until he (Col: Campbell) should himself go down, but provisions were so scarce, and as “the public had no credit” to purchase any, he had ventured to hear them, and send them away as soon as possible—He requests, that copies of these “Speeches” be sent to the Executives of Virginia and N. Carolina, or to Congress: “for it would be bad policy to neglect the application of the Indians,” as the emissaries of the enemy would certainly take advantage of this—Refers, in closing to the “handsome manner,” in which “Abrams’ people” had captured a Major Cummins, suspected of being a “Spy” &c.

An address, from the friendly Chiefs of the Cherokees, to the Commissioners of the United States, appointed by the Hon: Genl: Greene, and delivered, to Col: Evan Shelby, one of them, by two of their Captains &c—

After making, and performing the usual ceremonies, one of the messengers rose, and addressed Col: Shelby as followeth—

Brother,

We are sent to you, by the Beloved men of the friendly Cherokees. The reasons we come, are that our Chiefs concluded, if their young men came, it would not have the same effect; as they confided that their sentiments would be uttered by us, as they wished them to be expressed, and that they would have weight with you, as the case of our nation calls for speedy relief—We heard that our brothers, the Americans, was much displeas'd with us. The reasons we hardly can guess. Col: Martin threatens us often, and says we will be visited by an army again, if any more of his Countrymen are plundered or scalped by our nation. The roguery of the Tories, that came among us, and the Theives of our people that join them, we cannot restrain, as we are unsupported by you. Many of our people are now lying out, and knows not what to do, afraid of your enemies, and your people—We ventured in with dread: but are now glad to find your people, so friendly disposed, and you so ready to hear the greivance of a distressed nation.

Brother, we are very scarce of provisions, and will suffer, if we have not the opportunity of getting supplied from your settlements, by paying for it, with such articles as we can spare, altho' we have but few, having no ammunition to kill game with: and if we had, it seemed dangerous even to hunt, for fear your people should kill us, as they did a party of the Valley-Town people: we hope through mistake, thinking they were from Chickamogga.

Brother, you have been in our Country, and know what a weak, distressed people we are become. Look back and recollect what a numerous and warlike people we were, when our assistance were asked against 1782. the French on the Ohio,—We took pity on you then, and assisted you.

 May 20th We have been continually since, decreasing, and are now become weak. What are the causes? That war, and succeeding invasions of our Country. You were no nation then. Your Father lived over the Great Water. You claimed the same head, we then did. You now have cast him off, and called him your enemy. The French and Spaniards you call your true friends. We believe they are such, having lately told the Creeks and Chickasas not to hurt you. We are sincerely disposed to call the Head-men of America, our Fathers, your friends ours, wishing for an unsuspecting intercourse, so that we may again be cloathed, and all other benefits renewed—

Brother—We suspect the situation of the Red-people to the Southward, and particularly that of our nation, is not attended to by your Head-men near the sea-side—Prove yourself our friend in this day of our distress. Let not this “Talk” fall to the ground disregarded, but let it make a deep impression on your mind, and give a full representation of our case to our Fathers, the Head-men of America, who will surely relieve us, as they will be sorry to hear that their children are poor, and naked, and hardly wherein that to subsist.

Brother, The Chikasas have American and Spanish Traders among them, who have brought goods in plenty, and every one seems contented and in a flourishing way. But we who were foremost in making peace with you are in poverty and distress, which grieves us sorely—

In token of our friendship and sincerity, we send you a String of White Wampum—
 A String—

(Copy) The message of the Chief of the Chikasas, as delivered by the messenger from the Cherokees—

The Great Chief of the Chikasas sent one of his beloved men and Captains to his friends the Cherokees, to acquaint them that he is at perfect peace with the French, Spaniards, and Americans, and that he had now three large stores of goods in his Towns, being brought from Mobile. The Chikasas' messenger was desirous to come in with the glad tidings to the Great Island, had not the news of war between you and us prevented him, but he earnestly requested us to acquaint you of the friendly disposition of his nation to the white people of America, and that as he came through the Upper Creek, he was at a Council that was held there in consequence of an Agent from the Spanish Governor of West-Florida arriving among them. That he found the Creek Indians were much pleased with the proposals made by the Spauiards, saying they were now going to have their old Father take care of them. The Agent authorized to hold the Treaty, was the same person who was Commandant of the Alabama Fort, when Florida was given up to the English. The Chikasas' messenger was ordered by the Creeks, not to let any of the Chickamogga people know his business, as he passed thro' their Towns, as he might be murdered or delivered to the British Agent. 1782.

May 20th

In Confirmation of the truth of what we have delivered, we present you with the String of White Wampum, we received for you, from the Chikasas Messenger—

A. String"—

I don’t doubt but your Excellency is acquainted with the *Resolution of the House of Delegates of yesterday respecting them, & I am sorry to inform you that in consequence thereof we shall loose all our officers and men. Capts. Maxwell & Harris have determined to quit the ships. As Guard Ships or Cruizers, I fear it will be out of your Excellency’s power ever to get them manned.

I shall take the earliest opportunity of communicating to the manager of the Lead mines your Excellency’s gracious Pardon of Thomas Johnstone & William Smith & the service they are to perform”

The wagon and team were sent to Gloucester Camp, with the “150 infantry & 30 cavalry” under Col: Hill and Capt: McAdam. All the muskets were left there by order of the General, they say. May 24th

"Sir

I have been favored with your Excellency's Letter of the 27th ulio: and as early afterwards as possible, submitted the subject of it, to the consideration of the General Assembly of this State. You will perceive by the enclosed Resolution of that Body, that they view the matter in the same light with your Excellency.

Annapolis

I cannot but regret that the rash conduct of an inferior officer has induced your Excellency to entertain an opinion derogatory to the honor of a State which ever wishes to rest upon terms of perfect harmony & friendship with the Commonwealth of Virginia.

As there was an Evident necessity for my referring the matter to the Consideration of the General Assembly, I trust that you will consider it as sufficient apology for my not returning an earlier answer—

I have the honor to be, with Sentiments of perfect respect and Esteem
Your Excelly's mo: obed't Hbl. Servant

Whereas the Ships "Cormorant" and "Oliver Cromwell," two Ships of War belonging to the State of Virginia, have been assessed by the Assessor of Baltimore Town, contrary to the spirit and intention of the Law for the Assessment of all property within this State: and Bonds taken for the Security and payment of the Tax arising on the valuation of the Same,

Resolved, that the Bonds aforesaid, taken for the purpose aforesaid, be, and they are hereby declared void: and that His Excellency Governor Lee is requested to inform His Excellency, the Governor of Virginia that the Conduct of the Assessor of Baltimore Town is not authorized by any Law of this State, and that direction will be given to prevent any Instance of this Sort in future, which may tend to the interruption of that Harmony which it is the desire of this State may ever Subsist between the two Governments."

 Dr. Franklin also informs us that a Bill is on its passage through the British House of Commons for the Exchange of American Prisoners—it appears that an emissary has been sent to Mr. Adams at the Hague, from the British Ministry to sound him relative to peace, and to know whether he had any powers from Congress to conclude a truce. A conference was held between the Emissary and him, in the presence of Mr.
 Adam's Sec'y, and terminated as soon as he received information that there were powers lodged in Europe for treating of a Peace, which he said no person in England could ascertain until then, altho' he confessed it had been announced in all the Papers of Europe—We have related these facts to you, but as many of them are secret in their nature, we trust they will not be divulged, but in such proportion as they may be usefull in opening the Eyes of our Constituents to the Chicane and Duplicity of our Enemy, and the firmness and good faith of our Ally—and as they may stimulate all ranks to energetic exertion to obtain the desired object, of an honorable peace in Conjunction with an Illustrious Ally and Independance. Mr. Adams' Letter to Dr. Franklin of the 26th of March, also informs him that ten or eleven of the Cities of Holland have declared for our Independance, and that he expects that Province will determine the next day to admit him to an audience—he says the picture of England drawn by the above mentioned Emisary from G. Britain is for them a Gloomy one—We have at length obtained, and herewith send you a Copy of the Pennsylvania Act of Assembly you sometime ago requested to have—

LETTER OF WM. DANDRIDGE TO THE GOVERNOR.

He has been a considerable sufferer from loss of slaves who had gone off with the enemy in their different incursions through the Country; some of whom he had recovered—But that from the fondness for the idle and dissipated life they had lead," while with the British army, they had again gone off. He is sorry to say, many of them are with the French Army, where they were encouraged to remain—That one "very likely and valuable fellow" was in the employment of a French Major, who upon being asked to surrender him, said the man informed him he was a freeman, and he had therefore a right to employ him—Upon an attempt being made to secure the said slave, he got off; that the same officer had gotten another in his service, hired in the same way—He begs, some steps be taken by the Executive to prevent such abuses.

He has nothing on hand fit for the Artificers, but will furnish “any kind of Clothing particularly named” if ordered by the Governor. Richmond

THEOD’E BLAND JNR. AND J. MADISON, JNR.: TO GOV: HARRISON. June 4th

“Sir

Our last of the 28th ulto. informed your Excellency fully of the State of news at this place. Since which nothing material has happened, except what the enclosed News Paper contains. There yet remains some doubt relative to the event of the action of the two Fleets in the West Indies. Accounts from Martinique by different channels and of a late date, appearing to render it dubious whether Rodney’s letter is spurious or real, we confess however, we have no expectation of its being the former: Yet there is great room to believe that the remainder of the French fleet will form a junction with the Spanish at Cape Francois, and that the combined fleets will have a decided superiority in the West Indies, which will enable them to proceed with the Expedition against Jamaica. Philadelphia

We find in a Report the Superintendent of Finance has made to Congress—the substance of his letter to you on the subject of Stores, and have since had a communication with the Minister of France on that Subject, who informs us he answered your letter to him, relative thereto, and he hopes satisfactorily, but requested us to acquaint your Excell’y “that the misfortune which the Count de Guichen’s Convoy had met with, rendering it very difficult for the Ministry to procure transports for the supply of their own fleets and armies, and to bring out the supplies ordered for the United States, he fear’d it would not be practicable to send out those which had been purchased for the State of Virginia in any short time.” He gave us to understand that the transfer of the Debt from the State of Virginia to the United States had been a misunderstanding of the Ministry, or some of the under officers & that it

1782. would be revoked and accommodated to all parties—we think however June 4th it would not be imprudent in the State of Virginia, if they wish soon to have those stores, to provide transports for them, and to obtain the same convoy as those Vessels which are to bring out those belonging to the United States.

The *Count de Beniousky, having renewed to us, an offer which has been made to Congress, and not accepted, as will be seen by the enclosed papers, No. 1. 2. 3. 4 & 5, we thought it a matter of too much consequence not to transmit to your Excell'y, which we have done, with copies of all the Papers relative thereto, as above-mentioned, which have been before Congress. It will rest with your Excell'y to consider the propriety of taking the time of the Legislature thereon. The terms offered in the Paper No: 4. refers to those which have been made to Congress, which your Excell'y will see in the Paper No: 1. and an explanation thereof in No: 2, after having been remarked upon by Genl: Washington. We have only to add on this subject, that the gentleman who makes the offer does it as an individual. That he is a Polish nobleman and a near relation to the late Count Pulasky—That a part of the Troops he offers and many of the officers (as he informs us) are such as have followed his fortunes in the partition of that Kingdom.
 That Banish'd from his own Country, he professes a desire to become (with his followers) a citizen of some one of these United States, that he has recommendations from the French Ministry to their Minister here and has had his countenance. The Rejection of his offer to Congress arose from a doubt in two or three of the States concerning the propriety or policy of their being accepted by Congress. It is our desire that the offer made by him, if not accepted, may be kept as secret as possible, and that the answer thereto may be transmitted through us with all possible expedition, as he will be under a necessity of departing for Europe in the course of three or four weeks from this Date, either to put himself in a state to execute his proposals, or to take other steps with his troops which are now in the Imperial Service, and will shortly be at his own charge—his desire of secrecy and the expedition with which, Mr. Webb informs us he will travel, has induced us to prefer a conveyance by that Gent'n to one by the Post on this occasion.

*The name of this officer is spelt "Bieniewsky" in Sparks' Correspondence, where is to be found part only of Genl: Washington's letter dated at New-berg April 27th, 1782, commenting upon & approving the proposition of Count Bienewsky. The Delegates enclose herewith a copy of the proposition rejected by Congress, to be submitted to the State of Virginia, viz: that he, (Bieniewsky) is to furnish three Legions of foreign troops, amounting in the aggregate to 3488 men, rank and file to serve under the authority of the State as her own troops &c.
 Accompanying the copies of Bieniewsky's proposition, is a copy of Genl: Washington's letter (No. 1.) in full, giving seriatim, his views upon the several heads under which the proposition is expressed. The communication and letter of the Delegates in Congress having been brought before the Executive in Council, they on the 13th June, referred the same to the Genl: Assembly for their consideration. But we find no record of any action having been taken by that Body upon the subject.

Since writing the above, Genl: Washington has informed Congress by a letter read yesterday, that he had received intelligence of some movements of the Enemy at New York, which indicate a considerable embarkation, as upwards of 80 transports, under a strong convoy had fallen down to the Narrows, in order, as was supposed, to take in a large body of troops—that the whole of the regular troops had been reviewed, and a very large proportion of them were under marching orders, for what purpose not known—We submit to your Excell'y whether it would not be prudent to be on our guard—notwithstanding the delusive appearances lately held out: at least, not to relax in any preparations for carrying on the war.

The last post brought us no letter from yr: Excell'y.

With the most perfect respect we are,
Yr: Excellency's most obe't Hu'ble Servants.

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO COL: DAVIES.

June 5th

"Sir

Late accounts from Washington and Montgomery Counties confirm what I apprehended, that the Northern Indians would continue their depredations the whole of the year—I am diffident to propose any scheme for our defence, that might draw from the funds destined for the great objects of the war: however the people expect to be protected, and I make no doubt the Executive will agree with me that the welfare, the existence of a deserving part of the community is an object requiring some attention.

Richmond

I would propose that the Commanding officers of Montgomery and Washington may be empowered to order out of their militia, a number not exceeding two hundred men to proceed down Sandy River to a convenient spot where there may be a Portage, and erect a Fort, leaving about 30 men to garrison it. The others may either act in conjunction with the Kentucky people in making incursions into the Enemies country, or range on both sides of the Sandy River towards the Ohio. Orders for the specifics may be sufficient to supply them.

1782. As to the Cherokees, instructions to Col: Martin to be advised by any June 5th two of the Commissioners appointed by Genl: Green, on important matters would be of service. I think a few goods applyed, and some addressed in negotiation will keep them quiet. Perhaps the whole of this business might be better plan'd and conducted by the Governor ordering a Council of the Field Officers of the two Counties to meet, form a plan for the operations of the campaign, or the general defence of the two Counties, subject to the control of the Executive from time to time.

Hearing that a party of Indians, about ten days ago, were seen within twenty miles of my House, I intend to ask leave to go home about the last of this week. Should the Executive think proper to do anything in this matter, I will wait upon them to receive their commands.

I am Sir,

yr: most obt. & very humble Servant."

June 6th Col: Davies lays before the Executive information just rec'd from the War Office County Lieutenant of Washington, and desires instructions therein.
 From reliable sources he is also informed "that the works at the Lead mines are so entirely out of repair" that unless some step is taken to put them in order, or to purchase lead, not only the western settlements, but "perhaps General Greene's army may be put into a critical situation for want of ammunition."

 Having on hand a large supply of "Seconds or ship-stuff" liable to spoil, recommends it be baked into bread, as if sold will not bring half its value. The clothing will soon be ready. The public corn and oats in Brunswick, Greensville & Mecklenburg had better be sold, as they will not bear transportation at the present excessive cost of wagonage.
 Asks what is to be done with the wheat on hand "now wasting."

 wealth."

Col: Davies represents to the Executive the necessity of at once selling the "Specifics" collected, lest they all spoil: the bacon he fears is already damaged, and the flour in many parts of the Country is seriously injured. Suggests that no one is yet appointed to succeed Col: Lindsay or Mr. Whiting, and recommends Mr. John Scott of Albemarle, Mr. Graham of Dumfries or Col: Peyton of Loudoun as being proper successors, &c.

 with disagreeable consequences, when the Executive power, given by the Constitution, shall be divided. He will not trouble him with a ED'WD RANDOLPH TO GOV: HARRISON.

June 15th

"Sir

Until the present moment, I have been unable from the load of criminal business, to return an answer to your Excellency on Mr. Andrews' case. Richmond

By the Constitution the Governor is authorized, "with the advice of the Council of State to grant reprieves or pardons, except when the prosecution shall have been carried on by the house of delegates, or the "law shall otherwise particularly direct." So general are these expressions, that were this the only legislative provision on the subject, no scruple could exist concerning your power to pardon in every instance, not falling within the exception. It would be immaterial too, whether the pardon preceded or followed the conviction.

The act however which declares which shall be treason, cuts off your right of pardoning only after conviction, in treason. Mr. Andrews then, not being convicted, and the extensive right to pardon derived from the Constitution, remaining unimpaired before conviction, it follows, that your Excellency may now interpose with the hand of mercy. There was much reason why the legislature should not lop off your otherwise constitutional power of pardoning, before conviction. For the detection of treason frequently depends upon the information of an accomplice, whom it may be necessary to render as unexceptionable as possible in point of testimony, by obviating the objections to which, without a previous pardon, it would be continually exposed on the part of the criminal: who would not fail to urge, and with success too, that he was making court to government for his life by the virulence of his evidence against his accused brother.

Besides, altho' it might be improper that the Executive should interfere after conviction, that is, after the crime of treason shall have been fixed by a jury, yet every man being in the eye of the Law before trial, innocent, there can be little danger arising from intrusting to the Governor & Council the power of pardoning before trial. My opinion therefore follows from these observations in favor of your power to pardon Mr. Andrews.

1782. I cannot allow however, that your passport already given, is a discharge to the sheriff for his failure to bring Mr. Andrews to the court. For it is possible, that at the time of granting it, you were not apprized of his being in custody of the law on suspicion of treason. If so, this would destroy the passport, howsoever broad the words may be, upon the footing of deception. But I do not suppose that the construction of the terms of the passport would admit the idea of its operating as a pardon.

The matter being thus reduced to the question of expediency, and this being a political, rather than a legal inquiry, I shall trouble your Excellency no farther, than to assure you, that I am,

With great respect
yr: mo: ob: Serv't."

 amount of what they have obtained for two or three years past. The amount extended in the enclosed account, under the head of Quarter master's department, is taken from the books of the state quarter mas-amounts he refers "to the specifics collected from the adjacent counties for the supply of the detachments of Continental cavalry in King William, the post at Cumberland Old Court House, the post at Peytensburg, and Armand's corps at Charlottesville and Staunton. The supply of these posts and detachments was unavoidable, till the Financier could take the business up, and was directed by your Excellency in Council.

 I have not been able to procure any return as yet of the amount of these supplies but as the whole business of this kind is now undertaken by contract on Continental account, I hope the persons hitherto employed, will now have sufficient leisure to adjust their accounts."

Portsmouth That he is averse to making complaints, but that starvation stares the garrison in the face, unless relief is afforded. That nothing but the discipline kept, had prevented a mutiny—Thinks a Seine would be of extreme use in furnishing fish: and the health of the men required spirits, a supply of which they have been long promised—From all accounts, he hears Bermuda is garrisoned with only two hundred men—A plan for its surprise had been suggested by Col: Dabney, and as there are no troops belonging to the Continent, who more ardently desire to signallize themselves," and as there were a number of inhabitants of that Island "who would venture their lives" with the Legion in this enterprise, he trusts it will meet the approbation of the Governor, and thus show to the world that Virginia had not lost her spirit; that it would mark an "era" in the history of his administration. Gentlemen well acquainted with the Island think the State Ships would be sufficient for the purpose, and that the "Carolina" Frigate would ensure success.

Col: Davies expresses to the Governor, his embarrassment in undertaking to provide for the support of Genl: Spotswood's Legion. The Counties on the South side of James River had sold their "Specific tax" to the French, or were appropriated to the supplying of Peytonsburg, Cumberland Old C. House, Richmond & Portsmouth—The Counties between James & Rappahannock rivers had to supply the cavalry at Charlottesville, the people at Point of Fork and Factory at Fredericksburg—The lower river Counties had paid money instead of provisions, and all beyond the mountains had been allotted to the defence of the western frontier—Under these circumstances he thinks they can be best supported in the District composed of Fauquier, Loudoun & Prince William Cos.

"The effect of the rejection of his plan, by Congress has betrayed a temper which is very far from enhancing our esteem for him." * * * * * The destination of the Fleet, which had lately sailed from New York, was unknown to them—The letter from Oliver Pollock, with the enclosed "Bill" had been put into their hands by the gentleman in whose favour it was drawn; and "as we shall probably be applied to here after, for information on the subject," they beg his Excellency to let them know "the steps taken thereon."

J. MADISON JNR: AND THOS. BLAND JNR. TO GOV: HARRISON. June 25th

Regretting the loss of the mail of the previous week, in as much as they had understood it contained an intercepted Packet intended for England. A private letter from Mr. Adams of the 11th April, had brought the news of the action of Holland, Zealand, Utrecht &c., in favour of our immediate recognition and treaty with the United States, and that six more provinces would concur in this move. They had been stimulated to this least they should lose the benefit of their commercial relations with the U. States by a general pacification; which would then bring English goods in competition with their's. They observe also, that the ordinances of Congress against British manufactures, affords a favorably opportunity to introduce those of other countries and that the consequent loss to Great Britian, will induce her to one immediate acquiescence in the freedom of America, and to a general peace. The illicit trade with New York, under the encouragement of the enemy, and the obstruction to foreign trade had seriously impaired the public finances; also from the discovery of supplies of British goods imported under "collusive captures" concerted between vessels from N. York, and others fitted out on the neighboring coasts. Congress was then considering a remedy for these evils. Philadelphia

That he should send at once the six hundred stand of arms to York, but suggests a conductor be appointed to accompany them, as the militia Quarter-masters were not to be depended upon, and they would become damaged on the way, not being in cases as he desired—Mr. Royall, a young man who had served in the field with him, and who "possessed the art of living without money" would answer well for this duty—If the militia were to take the field, it would be necessary to appoint "Conductors of military Stores."

 June — a Deduction has been made, of seven hundred thousand Livres therefrom, on account of Virginia, for stores purchased for that State by the Ministry of France, whereby the State of Virginia becomes a debtor to the United States. This appears to us at present to be the act of the Ministry in France, but from what motives, or by whose instigation is not clear to us. When it was determined to solicit that loan, we can only find that Congress authorized the Minister of the War department of foreign affairs, and minister of finance, to ask such a supply. We hinted to your Exeelleney in our last the distressed and critical State of the finances, and the measures which would probably be proposed by Congress in hopes of exciting the States to all the activity and energy they are capable of in that line. We have not been mistaken in our conjecture, and Congress has deem'd speedy exertions of such consequence to the welfare of the general cause, that altho' there is but a bare representation left, they have come to a resolution to dispatch two of their members to the Southern, and two to the eastern States charged with an explanation to the Executives and such of the ——— as may be in possession of the true state of our finances and the causes leading thereto. They have also ordered an exact state of the loans, subsidies and moneys received, to be laid before them by the minister of Finance, together with an acc't of their application. Messrs. Rutledge & Clymore are deputed to the Southern States. Mister Root & Mr. Montgomery to the Northward, the latter set off to morrow.

Letters from Dr. Franklin so late as ye 30th March last, inform us that England is weary of ye War—that She appears to want to get out of it if She knew how—that she is nevertheless making useless attempts to withdraw us from france, by secret applications to our Ministers in Europe, at the same time that she is playing the same game by her commissioners here, and by secret. tho' fruitless application to the Court of france accompanied by great and advantageous offers to that Court which we are informed from another quarter, France has nobly rejected and categorically answer'd by declaring she will accept no offer, but the independance of the United States."

About the 16th of June he rec'd his of the 2d May giving account of the "dangerous situation that the Kentucky Country was in," by the incursions of the Enemy, but he could not have made more haste than he did, had his own life been at stake. The Guard promised him by Col: Joseph Nevill of Hampshire Co. to go down the river, never came nor has he heard one word from him Since. Since his arrival at Redstone Fort he has been employed in drying and repacking the Stores damaged by the bad conduct of the Waggoners, in his absence. Major John Harden has built a flat bottomed Boat in which to proceed down the river, but neither Major Walls or Lieut. Clarke or himself have a penny of money, a pound of provisions, or a man to "pull an oar;" and it will be impossible to move until the water rises. He will leave for the Falls of Ohio at the earliest opportunity, but cannot risk the stores without further orders, having now to keep constant guard over them in person. Hopes assistance will soon be sent him. The Credit of the State worth nothing in that County, and but for Col: Hardins' furnishing him with provisions, he could not have subsisted. He had sent to Pittsburg to Genl: Irwin for assistance, but Col: Wall just from that place failed to get the aid needed to forward the articles down the River.

July 5th

COL. WM. PRESTON TO GOV: HARRISON.

July 6th

Sir

Your Excellency's Letter of the 15th of June came to hand the 21st of that month—I immediately wrote to the Field Officers of Washington and Montgomery to meet me at Montgomery Co. House about forty miles from my house on the 2nd Day of July—They met accordingly and proceeded to the business recommended by your Excellency a copy of which I have enclosed.

The same Day I issued orders to the officers in this County to raise 100 men under active officers, with the greatest expedition for the relief of the distressed Inhabitants, and at the same time appointed a Person to receive the Specific Tax if any should be brought in &c. Coll: Campbell returned to Washington without Loss of time to take the same steps there for the Defence of that Frontier.

My declining to undertake the directions of the men to be drawn from Washington did not proceed from any other cause than the great Distance from my House, which is within a mile or two of the Line of Botetourt, to the parts where those men are to do duty, which rendered it impracticable for me to superintend them to any Purpose, so that the Service must have suffered—Colo. Daniel Smith, a very worthy officer who lives on Clinch will be a very proper Person, under Colo. Campbell's direction, to have the care of these Troops and there are two Field Officers belonging to this County that live at no great distance from where our militia are to range, whom I have directed to take a particular charge of them. This will not be attended with any expense, and the officers will correspond and Co-operate with each other: therefore a divided command in this situation & while we act on the defensive will not I hope, be a Prejudice to the service.

Signs of the Enemy are frequently seen in different parts by our Scouts, but there have been no Damage done, since about the middle of June, when two men were killed and three made prisoners in this County.

Your Excellency may be assured that nothing in my Power shall be wanting for the defence of the Inhabitants, and in so doing the strictest regard shall be paid to economy.

I am your Excellency's most obedient humble Servant."

1782. "At a meeting of the Field Officers of the Militia of Montgomery and July 6th Washington Counties, in conformity to instructions received from his Excellency the Governor &c to concert and settle some proper Plan for the Defence of both Counties.

Present—

Wm. Preston	}	Field officers for Montgomery county.
Walter Crockett
Joseph Cloyd,
Daniel Trigg
John Taylor
Abraham Trigg

Arthnr Campbell	}	Field officers for Washington County.
William Edmonston
Aaron Lewis
James Dysart

Major Patrick Lockhart, District Commissioner.

It is the unanimous opinion of the Board of officers that the 200 men, permitted to be drawn out by his Excellency the Governor for the defence of the Frontier, be disposed of, into the following Districts, viz—
 On New River, in the neighborhood of Capt: Paris, 30 men—Sugar Run 20—Capt: Moores', head of Blue Stone 25—Head of Clinch, 25 men—

In Washington, at Richland 20—Castle Woods 30—Rye Cove 20—Powell's Valley 30 men. The Extent of the different Districts—From Capt: Paris's to Sugar run 10 miles—to Capt Morris' Head of Blue Stone 30—to Capt: Maxwell's head of Clinch 16 miles, which is nearest the Washington Line. To Richland's 24—to Castle Woods 30—to Rye Cove 28—to Powell's Valley Fort 26 miles,—in all 164 miles—

We find the greatest difficulty in making any Provision for the support of those men while on Duty, as their is no Specific Tax brought into the Places appointed for that purpose in either of the Counties. The officers have therefore recommended it to Major Lockhart the District Commissioner to purchase 200 Bushels of Corn in Montgomery County at the most convenient Places to where the Militia are to do duty, at three shillings per Bushell, being the current Price, and an equal quantity in the County of Washington, for the use of the Troops &c., which we are convinced will be a great saving to the State, as the transporting of grain from Botetourt, where there is some belonging to the Public, on hand, to the several districts where the militia are to do Duty will be attended with very great expence. the distance being from sixty to one hundred and sixty miles &c—

As objections have been made to that part of the Governors instructions ordering the direction of the Militia of Both Counties while on Duty, under that of the County Lieut: of Montgomery who lives upwards of 180 miles from Powell's Valley, and not less than 90 miles from Richland District in Washington, which renders it impossible and useless for him to have these men under his direction, for which reason he declines that part of the Command. Let it therefore be humbly recommended to his Excellency the Governor, to alter that part of his Orders, by giving the superintendance of the Troops in each County, to the commanding officers of the same, as it will save the expence of a Field Officer being on duty, which otherwise would be necessary: and the Defence of the Frontiers will in all probability be better conducted—

July 6th

The Board of Officers are unanimously of the opinion that the Counties of Montgomery and Washington will provide the number of men ordered for their Defence, without calling on any of the neighboring Counties for assistance, unless there is a real occasion to do so, in some Emergency: or on the approach of a large Body of the Enemy.

They also beg leave to suggest that the usual manner the Indians conduct their attacks on our Settlements, makes it necessary that a proper number of Scouts be employed in each District to discover their approaches, for which reason it has induced the Officers to direct that two be employed in each District, for the immediate safety of the Inhabitants—

Signed by Order—

COL: WM. PRESTON TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

“Sir

I have sent the Proceedings of the Board of Officers to his Excellency the Governor as is directed in his letter of the 15th of June,” * * * “Every possible measure to support the men called out has been taken, & yet I doubt the Consequence as there are neither Public Horses, Bags &c to carry out any Corn or other Grain that can be collected, and am & always have been extremely averse to Impressing when Troops can otherwise be supplied. I have however put copies of his Excellency's the Governor's Warrant into the hands of two Prudent Officers with directions not to use them unless an absolute necessity, & even then with the greatest caution, so as not to distress individuals.

Montgomery
Co.

Active popular officers are appointed to command the militia to be called out, with orders to engage the men, if possible, to serve while there is occasion, without drafting or bringing men from other Counties, which last is always attended with an enormous expence & too frequently with disorderly Behaviour on the march”— * *
* * * * *

“I hope I shall stand excused by his Excellency the Governor for not accepting the Superintendency of the militia to be raised in Washington: the distance being so great and the nature of our defence such that 1782. had I attempted to act, the good intentions of the Government in protecting these frontiers would have been frustrated. It neither proceeded from Disobedience nor the trouble attending it, & the rather as I have so long experienced the latter that it has been familiar to me.

I am with every sentiment of esteem your most obed't Servant."

July 6th      Capt: Thomas Payne informs Col: Davies that Col: Cameron does Staunton      not furnish his men with the necessary supplies, consequently he has been obliged to furlough them, that they may support themselves by labour. Begs for relief for himself as the expence of living at a Tavern without the benefit of his rations is more than the finances of a Continental officer can stand.

July 8th

COL: W. ROANE TO COL. WM. DAVIES.

"Sir

Essex Co.

I rec'd a few days ago your letter of the 28th June, directing one sixth of our militia arm'd and accoutred, to march immediately under the command of proper officers w'th necessary provisions to York Town: in consequence of this order I have directed so many of the militia as will make up the number within a few days to meet in readiness to comply with your request. I cannot however but think his Excellency the Governor and Council when this order was made omitted to attend to the peculiar situation and circumstances of our Country. I therefore request your fav'r to make particular application to that Hon'ble Board in our behalf. Some considerable time before the surrender of the British Army at York, a very great part of our militia, was in obedience to the ord'rs of Government on actual duty and all the Arms, as well as those that belonged to the County, as if private persons were carried with them, and have been never return'd. So that at this time I do not suppose we have a score of good muskets proper for duty within our County. The Hon'ble Board most certainly too must be well acquainted w'th the situation of the County, but least some of the members may not, I beg leave to say that the River Rappa. is for upwards of twenty miles our Eastern Boundary, and affords such depth of water, that the largest ships frequently pass, and have taken in their loads, besides this there are two sets of public warehouses immediately lying on the Banks of the river, in w'h there is always considerable quantities of Tob'o belonging to the Public, as well as to many private individuals. The great number of Familys living very near the River Bank for this distance up the river, without any means of defence against the Cruel and Rapacious Enemy, I should suppose merits particular attention. it must be remember'd that several attempts have been made by the Enemy to plunder and rob us, and that they were drove off & taken prisoners by the spirited behaviour of our militia: but these actions were perform'd before we were deprived of our arms— I yesterday evening had an account that a number of the Enemy in Row Boats in Coan River went to the House of the late Honbl. Presley Thornton Esqr., at w'h place the Family of Mr. Mottrom Ball lived, and after treating every one in the most outrageous manner, plunder'd & Robb'd the Houses of every thing they came across & God knows the no: of negroes they carried off w'th them, or how soon we may share the same fate, as we hear very frequently that they are commit'g Robberies at the mouth of the River & in Piankitank, not more than a few hours sail from us. His Excell'y the Governor & Council therefore, upon considering our situation, I have no doubt will be pleased to furnish us with a few good musketts &c and direct that our militia should perform duty constantly from the Town of Hobbs' Hole to the lower end of the County w'ch will be more than equivalent to the duty required from the neighboring Countys, at York-Town. We are in want of a number of Commissions immediately for our officers, agreeable to the recommendations of our Court, which be pleased to send by Bearer Capt: Thomas Wood, who will furnish you with an account of what are wanting.

I sometime ago received a Letter from his Excell'y the Governor, direct'd to Isaac Smith Esqr., in Richm'd County, Col: Thos. Gaskins & myself, desiring us to obtain a full state of the Capture of the Boston Schoon'r by the crew in the Vessel in w'ch Col: John Webb was interested, and to take depositions. The original Letter I immediately sent to Mr. Smith & Col: Gaskins & wrote to them to meet me at last Essex Court to take proper steps to do this Business, but Mr. Smith's being up the Country prevented our meeting: however as I have just received an answer from him, I fully expect very shortly it may be in our power to proceed therein, altho' he mentions in his Letter that a Capt: Abraham Outtan & his Barge's crew on the Eastern (Shore) ought to be examined as witnesses in the occasion & it will not be within our power to do that part"— “Should His Excell'y & Council think proper to order a few arms &c for us agreeable to my request, they may be assured that the greatest care shall be taken off them & in the case of actual Invasion, that our militia will at all times most readily fly to the assistance of their Brother Citizens.

I am, Sir, with Respect,

Your most obed't Serv't.”

July 9th MAJ: PAT: LOCKHART TO COL: DAVIES.

Botetourt In regard to the collecting the Specific tax in his District. There are none on hand in Montgomery, Washington or Greenbrier; no beeves, clothing, wagon or team yet furnished in Washington Co. Receipts for what has been collected in Montgomery and Greenbrier enclosed.

The cattle in the counties where the militia to do duty are to be used by them. He has followed the suggestions of the Board of Officers, preferring to buy, rather than to impress, or transport corn at great expence from Botetourt to Washington Co. He has sold some damaged flour for cash in hemp. Will collect all the State horses and use them in transporting provisions to the Stations until further orders on the subject &c.

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

1782.

"Sir

July 10th

Before this reaches you, no doubt you will have received from Col: Washington Preston, the result of the Council of officers directed to be held by the Executive, to which I beg leave to refer. Co.

There has been no disturbance in this County for several weeks past, from the Northward Indians. It is conjectured Col: Crawford's movement over the Ohio may have drawn their attention. They effects his disaster may produce, it is to be feared they frontiers will feel this summer yet.

Our small settlement in Powell's Valley has been much harrassed by small parties of the Cherokees from the Chickamogga Towns. They not long since killed two men, and has most ruined the inhabitants by destroying or carrying off their stock. Capt: Samuel Newell an active young officer that lives there, has had the good fortune to overtake two of their parties, one about forty miles below the Cuttawa, or Cumberland Gap, fired on the Indians in Camp, wounded some and retook every thing. The other party was overtaken when asleep, one killed and another wounded. they rascals had to make the best of their way home naked. I understand that these Indians (are) with some renegade Tories, ruined Indian Traders may most probably be deemed a selection of Thieves at Chickamogga, than a national enemy. The chiefs of the nation protesting against their measures and wishes we may cut them off.

A matter, something disgraceful, happened lately between us and that nation. Two friendly young Indian men was coming up the Holstein with a canoe loaded with peltry for Colo. Martin, was killed privately near the Long Island by two villians, who in attempting to make sale of the skins, was detected and they goods reclaimed, but the inhabitants would not suffer the criminals to be brought to justice, alledging against the nation in general the late depredations on the frontiers. Colo. Martin sent an express to the Towns giving an account of the accident. The Chiefs returned for answer that they believed his relation of the matter, and were willing to hold us by the hand as Brothers yet. I hope this matter will end here, altho' the promises of Chiefs has little influence with the relations of the murdered, among Indians, if an opportunity offers to take private revenge.

This outrage was committed by two citizens of N. Carolina. Their Government is so badly organized, so feebly administered, or perhaps from the local situation of that part of the State, that there is no bringing culprits to justice. Besides, I observe a jealousy of Virginia in assuming the whole agency with the Indians and a monopoly of the Trade. Perhaps this is such a national concern that it may be best accommodated by Regulations of Congress. For I doubt whether Carolina would be competent to the task were it relinquished in their favour.

1782. I am sorry to hear that the Goods ordered from the public Store should be stopt, especially as the Governor's Letter and answer to the Indian Talks is gone foward, which if not fulfil'd will make us look little in the eyes of the Indians, and will give the enemies emissaries amongst the Indians a handle against us. The County shirts (if all received) would be but a partial supply; besides European goods if of an inferior quality are more pleasing to Indians than homespun. I should not be so importunate on this subject were it not that I have understood that Genl: Green has expectations that thro' the management of the Commissioners he appointed, they indians may be armed and kept quiet, or so dividing as not to answer the wishes of the enemy in making a diversion on the frontiers of the South in case he should be pressed by the enemy from Charlestown.

I am Sir, with much Esteem your most Obedient Servant."

P. S. As Col: Preston refuses the direction of the Militia on Duty in this County I wish to receive orders expressing the will of the Executive on that Subject."

July 10th Capt: H. Young complains to the Governor, that as yet he has received Richmond very few of the "Public negroes that were employed at Warwick" notwithstanding his orders that they should be forthwith delivered to him by Capt: Thomas. A number of people have in their possession horses, "branded with the State brand," and refuse to give them up, although they have no certificates to show by what means they acquired them.

July 11th Wm. Hay, Com: agent requests of the Governor permission to sell a Richmond quantity of cordage and ready-made Sails on hand, in order, in "his present Distress for money," to settle Debts of his Department.

July 12th J. ROBERTSON TO COL: DAVIES.

Petersburg In regard to collection Specific tax supplies. Mr. Yarbough informs him there are about 200 Beeves in his district, a large quantity of flour "and 1800 bushels of wheat" but not a farthing of money. He has not even money to pay his current expenses, and indeed has a charge against the state of five pounds. If all the Districts are in this condition "the case will be desperate." He will cross the River at Cabbin Point to Jas: City Co., continuing his efforts and will give further accounts. Has engaged a vessel at Petersburg to take flour to the College Landing, as it is not safe to venture round to York by water. His wagons will transport the provisions from the Landing to the Garrison at York.

COL: CHARLES DABNEY, VA. STATE LEGION, TO THE GOVERNOR.

Hampton

Urging relief for the wants of his troops—and adds “with concern”—that unless they are supplied with money, and more regularly furnished with provisions, he can not hold them together “many months longer”—That numbers have already deserted on this account; that he had been obliged to borrow a small quantity of flour and bacon, and should be forced “to seize provisions from the inhabitants” when this was exhausted, unless Mr. Robertson could afford them supplies—He has been informed by Genl: Savellette, who commanded at York, that the Count de Rochambeau desired his “Legion” to remain at or near Hampton, hence he had halted at that place—The cavalry had not crossed over to the Eastern Shore, because the French had no vessel, that would answer to transport horses—He encloses the following anonymous letter picked up in the Quarters of the commanding officer a few days ago, which expresses the temper of the men &c—

“Gentlemen,

“We are now under the disagreeable necessity to inform you of what we would not wish to have in our power. the necessaries of Life allowed to us by the State we do not Receive: and has reduced us uncapel to perform our duty which is excessive, and our clothing & pay retained from us & no satisfaction will a poor soldier receive by a complaint but stripes. its shocking to behold a Legion of men who has proved themselves soldiers, * * * raged detested, half starved, no likelihood of receiving the least satisfaction for their service, but the greatest severity officers can inflict on them & sports themselves there-with. We believe there cou'd but few instances of the kind be produced to support an army. Many of us have flew from our colours, which we in general condemn their base conduct (but to stand so long * * * 'til they have been punished to intimidate others) but we are afriad if two thirds were put to Death the rest would not remain. it would be commendable to put the entire to Death and not to punish them for want of food, clothing and their pey. the unanimously wish for an engagement to perrish at once. We wish Our Country to be victorious, and wou'd perrish to a man in support thereof if Justice wou'd take place, but Gentlemen our patience are waried and provided our grievances are not redressed, are resolutely determined to do ourselves justice very quickly.”

1782. PHILLIP MONTAGUE (Commanding officer &c.) TO THE GOVERNOR.
 July 13th
 Middlesex
 Co. That having received two orders from the Commissioner of War "to hold in perfect readiness one fourth of the Militia" and "one sixth properly accoutred and officered, to march to Yorktown," he takes the liberty to inform his Excellency of the peculiar situation of that County, and he believes that instead of drawing men from them, assistance should be sent to defend the county against the barges and Privateers of the enemy, and from "the ravages of a plundering set, whose cruelties no man can judge of who has not felt them." He begs that two Posts be established; one at "Pine Top" at the end of the Peninsular towards the Ches: Bay, the other at Urbanna, which alone could give security to the people. Gives an instance of a Privateer schooner and two barges, that had been for several days, in and about the mouths of the Rappahannock and Pianakitank Rivers, capturing by water, and landing, and robbing the inhabitants "of their all." He adds, that during the past year when the army was in that neighborhood, fifty or sixty guns were impressed from the inhabitants, thus depriving them of the means of defence, and begs the county may be supplied with public arms in place of those as soon as convenient.

THEO. BLAND, JNR., AND A. LEE, TO THE GOVERNOR OF VA. July 16th
 "Sir,
 We had the honor of receiving your Excellency's Letter of the 6th together with one of the same date from the Clerk of the Council enclosing the Resolutions of the Assembly on the supplies requested from his most Christian Majesty. Philadelphia

The Resolutions we immediately transmitted to the Minister of France.

1782. We shall inform your Excellency, from time to time of the proceedings of the several Legislatures touching the seizure of british goods. July 16th That of N. Jersey has lately passed an act for this purpose.

It gives us very great pleasure to be informed that an effective Law is at length pass'd, not only for the good of the service, but because, tho' many of the States are equally deficient without equal reason, yet the whole odium is centered upon Virginia.

We have informed the Delegates of South Carolina of what your Excellency mentions. Those of N. Carolina are not here. Still we are without any intelligence from Europe or the Islands. Genl: Washington & Count Rochambeau are at present in this city to consult on the operations of the campaign.

There is a report here from N. York, that the Enemy have evacuated & burnt Charlestown & sent the Garrison to the W. Indies. Sir Guy Carleton is so desirous of retrieving the soldiers we have taken, that he offers, if we will exchange them for seamen, to stipulate that they shall not serve against the United States during twelve months. But he will find this artifice somewhat too shallow for his purpose. Lippincut is not, nor is it expected he will be given up.

We have the honor to be, with great respect, Yr: Excellency's
most obedient & most humbl Servants."

July 16th Capt: H. Young requests Col: Davies to order the Commissioners Richmond who may have received wagons and teams to send them to Richmond at once. The urgent demands upon him for transportation requires this.

July 16th CAPT: JOHN PRYOR TO COL: DAVIES.

They have been receiving 3S. 6d. pr: day, but will be satisfied with less, if furnished with clothing. Mr. Anderson having declined working for the State, he asks to whom he must apply for articles for his Department, &c.

Protesting against the conduct of Wm. Mitchell, “Superintendent of Flaggs,” in allowing undue Privileges to the British Brigantine “Alexander” &c. Permission had been granted to this vessel by the Governor and Council to leave her moorings in York River, and to go to Norfolk or Portsmouth to “refit,” and thence to “Burwell’s Ferry on James River” to take in a cargo of Tobacco, due Messrs. Telfair & Likely, “capitulants at York” for goods purchased of them, for the Army—In addition to this, Wm. Mitchell the Superintendent, had authorized John Hunter, Capt: of the Alexander to purchase in Norfolk or Portsmouth 30,000 staves & heading for export in certain other vessels—flags of truce &c.”

Norfolk Co.
Undue Privileges allowed British “Flag” vessel &c

Col: Godfrey informs the Governor, that instead of “barely examining the rigging and repairing defects, or at furthest caulking the vessel,” advantage was about to be taken of Mitchell’s order, “to make a new vessel of an old one” and “that too for a cruel & savage Enemy”—Experienced men had decided her in fit condition to make a voyage to New York with her cargo, and this was an attempt to get their vessel repaired at a cheap rate, in order to make a voyage to Europe instead of New York—The people were so enraged at this procedure, they could scarcely be restrained from open violence—

The other part of “the permission granted by Mitchell” was unaccountable in the extreme—“Our own vessels go out daily” without being allowed to load with such articles as staves &c., whereas the Capt: of this Flag had actually purchased the thirty thousand for export—In addition to these facts, other preparations were in progress on this vessel, looking to a long voyage—He sends Mr. Wilson, as express for instructions as to whether the vessel shall be “allowed to sheath” and “the Capt: to ship staves &c or not.”

Col: John Scott accounts for the Specific collections &c in his District—Finds 800 stand of arms in the hands of Mr. Peter Marks, and “ten hides”—flour, wheat, corn and oats, and some “Continental Hemp” found, but “no tallow.” The hides he puts out to be tanned on shares. The clothes delivered to Capt: Peyton: and most of the bacon and grain appropriated to the support of the Post at the Point of Fork.

"As the houses at the "Point of Fork" are now ready for the reception of artificers, and some of them are already there, I submit to your Excellency whether some person should not be appointed to take charge of them. The armorers that were with Mr. Anderson, the taylor and shoe-makers that were at Albemarle Barracks, and the several persons, employed in the Laboratory, will assemble at that place in the course of a month. The arms from New Castle, and other places are daily going up, and the management of the people and the care of the public stores, which will arrive there, requires the appointment of a person of authority, application and experience. This appointment may be made too, with a real diminution of expense. I hope I shall not be presuming, by intimating an opinion that there are some persons employed in the several Staff Departments in the State, than the present situation of our affairs seem to require" &c. Should his Excellency require a return &c" of these, he will find the statement made above to be true. He is therefore convinced, that the appointment of one judicious and attentive person, would be sufficient to superintend the entire business of the Place, and recommends Capt: John Peyton for this office—The "gun-work" could be done at Fredericksburg by Mr. Dick—As Mr. Anderson has positively refused to do any more work for the State, he desires instructions as to whether this refusal shall be allowed &c.

 defenceless situation at present, than at any period prior to the capitulation at York" and how the repairing of these arms is to be accomplished, and at the same time maintain the Continental Garrisons at York and Hampton, he leaves his Excellency to judge. He is aware of how he should be censured, on this account, were the enemy to visit the state, but the want of money must continue, so long as the State is encumbered with the expense of the Troops below. The loss of Mr. Anderson is seriously felt, in as much as he will not undertake the "public business" without proper guaranties, having lost all confidence in "the public faith." He suggests whether it would not be wise to agree to pay him "weekly or monthly" for all the arms he will repair, out of the money in the the hands of the Commissioners, as long as it may last.

 charge of on by his Excell'y in Council on the 25th of January last, for my tak-post at Rich- ing charge of the Public Shop as an Apothecary, & performing every mond &c. Duty as a Surgeon at the Post of Richmond. I therefore consider myself excluded (unless called on to perform service at other Places or in another manner) from any emolument whatever, other than the 20 S. pr: day—It may not be amiss perhaps to observe, that for a considerable time this spring there were very few Persons sick in the Hospital—I therefore consulted you, & the consequence was, that in May, I discharged David Jones as Orderly, whose Pay was 5 S., three Rations, and Economy &c half a pint of Rum pr: Day—I have managed, by one of the young Gentm. who lives with me, from that time to do without that expence; but as the sickly Season is now approaching, it may be necessary to have that office filled again—as it is extremely necessary when any number of patients are in the Hospital—If I am not at Liberty, whenever I think proper, to employ nurses, attendents &c., provided the expence does not exceed the former allowance, I shall be glad to be informed of it—and also what mode is to be made use of for procuring

I was last night favour'd w'th yours of the 17th inst:—Mr. Tyler says he is a native of New England, went in one of the Irish cutters that formerly traded to this River. he says he was taken and convey'd to New York, where he got his parole to come to Portsmouth in Virg'a while the British occupied that Post. When they removed to York he came with them. When York was captured he went up to Baltimore. he never took an oath on either side. those inhabitants that staid in York with the British tell me he appeared much at his liberty while the British were here, & that he came to York about three weeks before the British removed from Portsmouth, and after a few days return'd to Portsm'th. Information was made to Genl: Lavalette and myself. we were both of opinion that he should not be suffer'd to return to Baltimore, for which purpose he had embarked and got some distance down the River. I got the Commodore to send after him & the General had him put under guard, we not having a Jail to confine him.

I make no doubt scantling can be procured for rebuilding the Barracks, which the inhabitants of this Town have much at heart, for we have, & still suffer great loss from our houses being used for that purpose. I am inform'd Genl: Stevens is to be down shortly. I hope your Excellency will use your influence with him to let his troops encamp. I think their health will depend on it, and it will afford great relief to the inhabitants. the militia that are here I am inform'd are badly of for provisions. the Commissary was to depend on the Commissioners of the Specific Tax. the distresses of the people in this County retard the progress of that collection—

I am happy at being informed by your Excellency's letter of the 17th instant, if the prospects of supplying the Troops under my command and shall take proper steps to make them acquainted with it.

Mr. Robertson has not yet arriv'd at this place, tho' he informs me from York he has large supplies coming in, and will be here shortly. I will inform your Excellency as soon as I can have an opportunity of going to York, my opinion of the Situation of the Barracks, and what addition will be necessary to make them fit for the reception of five hundred men. The scheme for employing the Soldiery to work on them I think a very good one.

Agreable to your directions, I sent to employ Mr. Hobday to transport the Cavalry over to the Eastern Shore, but am inform'd he is gone up York River in a vessel and will not return in some time. I have wrote to Colls. Mapp and Savage, on the Eastern Shore requesting they will send a vessel from thence.

Genl: Lavalettee is very anxious that all my core shou'd remain at this place and its neighborhood, and informs me it was Count Rochambeau's wish when he left Williamsburg. July 20th COPY OF ORDERS FROM SECY. OF WAR U. STATES, TO CAPT: GUION.

"Sir
War Office

The French troops are to be immediately withdrawn from York Town in Virginia, by which the large quantity of Ordnance and Ordnance stores now the property of the United States will be greatly exposed and liable to be lost. To remove them to the head of Elk becomes necessary to the safety of them.—You are therefore hereby empowered and instructed to cause all the Artillery and Stores, the property of the United States to be removed with all possible expedition from York Town to the head of Elk, where you will receive my father directions respecting them.

You will proceed immediately to the head of Elk, and charter there two hundred tons of shipping, some of which might be suitable to take on board the heavy cannon—if you cannot obtain the full complement of shipping there, and you have no good assurance from Mr. Yates, the Qr. Mr. at the head of Elk (to whom you may, under an injunction of secrecy, communicate your business) that you can get the vessels at York Town, he must proceed to Baltimore and charter the remainder there, and send them to you as soon as possible—Care must be taken that some of the vessels are furnished with suitable tackle to take in the heavy pieces. If you should not be able to get any vessels at the head of Elk, you will in that case proceed to Baltimore and charter the vessels there—you will get them on the best terms possible, engaging their pay as soon as their freight is discharged. I suppose you must ensure the vessels—you will not suffer a question of that kind to delay you one moment. I imagine there will not be any great risque, for there will be, if the stores are loaded in time, a 44 gun ship to convoy them.

July 20th

If you find it necessary, you will apply to the Commanding Officer of the militia to put on board each vessel twenty or thirty men, which number will be sufficient to defend her against the small boats. Should they be attacked by large vessels they must attempt to run her on shore—the men may prevent her being burnt, and the Ordnance and Stores from being destroyed.

When you arrive at York Town, you will apply to the Qr. Mr. there, for his assistance in removing the stores to the landing—I suppose they are on the ground where we left them—if they should have been removed the trouble of doing it will be saved—

There were a great many shot left at different places—many were lying on the shore below the british work, which we took from them before the surrender.

You will apply to the Commanding Officer of the militia to give you all the aid you may want in collecting and loading the Stores, so that it may be done with so much dispatch as to permit you to sail with the french, and take the advantage of their convoy—Without fail send off with them such vessels as shall be loaded—let, therefore, as they are the most valuable, the cannon be put first on board.

There were left a great number of waggon carriages and wheels—if they are not sold, bring as many of the best wheels as you can, and sell the remainder—bring all the gun carriages you can pick up.

You will particularly inquire what quantity of powder and fixed ammu'n was left—let that also be secured as soon as may be. You will herewith receive 300 dollars to refund the expence of collecting and loading the stores &c., for which sum you will be accountable. In chartering of vessels you will procure such only as can come up to the head of Elk.

There will be a number of french troops and artillery men at York. I think you will obtain very considerable aid from them if you apply for it.

You will, I suppose, find a civil magistrate in York—Should there be one, you will wait upon him and request his assistance if you should want it—he will be of use to you in collecting the teams, provided the people should be averse to the removal of the ordnance.

1782. Great address, secrecy, and dispatch are necessary in transacting this July 20th business successfully. The confidence I have in your activity and

HARRY JONES TO COL: DAVIES.

Bedford Co. Making report of the "Issues" of his District for the present year—the business delayed, "by the Indisposition of Mr. Jones who has been lingering for six months past, and how long this may be the case God only knows"—He must resign, unless a favorable change takes place,
 "to prevent ye state from being injured & maintain my character as a man of business"—In regard to furnishing the contractor at the Point of Fork, he suggests, that the expence of transporting to such a distance will cost more than the Specifics on hand are worth: if sold for cash the articles would not average 25 pr: ct: their intrinsic value—Some might be disposed of to the Continental contractor at New London, which would be better than transporting them "upwards of 100 miles"—There is no money in the people's hand with which to purchase anything at public sale—He asks further instructions upon the matter—

G. GILCHRIST TO COLLO. CROPPER.

Dear Colo.

After I left your House, I proceeded with the flag, agreeable to your directions. the Barg's being so very long before they came to us from tuder's Island, caus'd me to stay till this morning. When I met the flag at Mrs. Wisharts they were exceedingly exasperated that you did not see proper to exchange their Prisoners & said they wou'd certainly carry them to New York. Doct: Williams went with me—they had a man that was badly wounded. they offer'd the Doct:
 twenty pounds to take out the ball. I inform'd them he shou'd try, provided they wou'd release the prisoners on parole which they agreed chearfully. the Doct: proceeded, but all to no purpose, tho' we got Walton & Sterling released. they now swear bitterly to take all the prisoners they possible can & take them to New York. from what I can learn they are determin'd to git you if they can." * * "they now have 34 negroes & 22 white men on board. I wou'd recommend you to be much on your guard &c" * * * *

I am Sir, your obedt. & very hbl. sevt—

N. B—I demanded the meaning of that word when I met the flag, they cou'd not possible tell. When I went on board I asked the man that wrote it. he said it was (Audubon). I asked him what it derived from. he answered that this Audubon was one very great man. one that regulated matters of that kind in regard to exchanging prisoners, which was all I could get out of him—I have a great deal to tell you concerning them, but have not time—Mr. Custis is now waiting. I have sent some clothes for the little prisoner that wanted to be hung.” I never wrote so bad in my life; am so hurried & half asleep.

“Sir

The Letter of the 11th with which your Excellency honored us, Philadelphia came safe with the enclosed Resolves, which we shall lay before Congress.

The Superintendant’s contract for the main Army is ten pence pennisylvania curr’y, per Ration, which is 25 pr: ct: less than what your Excellency mentions—We shall make the application you recommend, to Congress. No Instructions have yet reached us in the important points which were stated to the assembly for that purpose.

The enclosed Paper contains all the late advices from Europe, Congress not having received any Dispathehes. But we have no doubt of our Independenee having been acknowledged by the States General.

We have the honor to be with the most perfect respect,

CAPT: THOMAS RICHARDSON, COMDG., TO COL: DAVIES.

Testifying to the activity and vigilance displayed by Mr. Jno: Robertson, the Com: Genl: of the State and his assistants, who upon their credit alone had managed to supply the garrison at a time when the Collectors of the Specific tax could get nothing from the surrounding country. Mr. Robertson, being about to leave York, he urges the appointment of "one John Crawford" to do the duties of Commissary; "a man most singularly esteemed by the officers and men," on account of his faithful services, and successful efforts in feeding the troops in their great distresses. He has on hand one month's provisions, but a few Camp Kettles are necessary, the men having nothing "to cook their victuals in." Only about two hundred militia are left in the garrison.

COL: WM. DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

"Sir

War Office

Agreeable to the order in Council of the 18th, I beg leave to inform your Excellency that a number of public arms were delivered last summer to Sir John Peyton by order of Gov: Nelson. This was done without the intervention of myself or the Commissary of Military Stores: so that I am wholly unable to ascertain the number. It is probable some entry may be made of it, in some of the Council books.

The arms are in store, which were left at the siege of York: no doubt there are many private ones among them, which might be separated, and upon proof the property returned to the owners: tho' the fact is, that the militia on the Gloucester side went off after the siege was over, and left their arms stocked upon the ground. Many of the private arms therefore belonging to the County of Gloucester are probably among those that were brought up from below, and lodged at New Castle.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your Excellency's most obed't Servant."

Respecting his collection of "specifics" in his District—He cannot hire drivers for the cattle to be sent to York for less than three dolls: pr: day—: recommends therefore that in each county a sufficient number of militia be detailed to drive cattle—in as much as it will cost more to hire them than the cattle are worth, if to be driven any distance. He has not yet been able to get the money they have collected out of the hands of the Commissioners, and knows not when he can do it—

John Pierce informs Col: Davies, he has given Mr. Robertson an order for "all the specifics & cash in the hands of the Commissioners of York, Elizabeth City & Warrick Countys," but apprehends but little will be realized from them. He has never gotten the wagon & team required. He will be in Richmond to settle his accounts, before the 1st September, at which time the Collection of the Specific Tax expires—

GENL: NATHL: GREEN TO GOV: HARRISON, OF VA.

July 25th

"Sir,

I have had the honor of your letter of the 23d June, and thank you Head for your assurances of affording me all the support in your power. Quarters Ashly River

Genl: Muhlenberg writes, the state has agreed to raise three thousand men. The mode is not mentioned. I wish it may be successful, but I have my fears if the plan is founded on that fatal policy of appearing strong on paper, or only showing a disposition to do as much as the other states, without intending it should have efficacy and success, which has been too much the spirit of politics in all the states—I say, should this be the spirit and tenu of the Law, which I hope is not the case, it will only serve to feed our expectations, without affording that substantial support, which is necessary to free ourselves, from the farther ravages of the enemy. I was sorry to hear lately, that Virginia had departed from the plan, recommended by Congress for obtaining a revenue by tax for the support of the war. Nothing more wanting than a spirit of union among the states, and every little deviation, even in the mode of doing business, from what is recommended by Congress, tends to weaken and defeat the measures taken for national security. And more especially, when this happens in one the first states in the union, whose example others copy with pride and confidence, in full persuasion of its being perfectly right. Great part of the calamities felt by the United Provinces, was owing to a want of proper spirit of union, and the independent measures which each took for their own security, without regard to the general safety of the whole, and great 1782. part of the evils which we have felt, and the only remaining hopes, July 25th which the enemy have had for a long time, is that a want of a spirit of union among ourselves, might render our opposition, ineffectual in time.

Nothing has given me more pain, than the opposition I hear was given in your house of Assembly, to the plans of the Financier, to give credit to public measures with the people. Upon what principle the circulation of his notes, was opposed, I cannot imagine. The measure is highly important in a political light, as it appears to be one of the few means left to keep the wheels of government in motion—In a commercial point of view it must be highly beneficial to the state, for it is certainly calculated to leave among them the little specie in circulation, and to afford a medium to increase commerce, and inspire industry. In my opinion, the opposition was ill-judged, to say no worse of it—

It is reported here also, that the state is going to keep up a Garrison of 1000 militia at York and Gloucester. I cannot help thinking they will find the expence far greater, than the advantage. The expense and the risque are the only criterion, to decide upon the propriety and policy of the measure. The force is either too great, or too small. If it is intended to check little incursions only, the force is too large: if to oppose a serious invasion, too small. While we weaken our force, with divided measures, we shall burthen ourselves with a useless expence, and after all be open to the inroads of sudden incursions. I do not know the particular object of this body of militia, but suppose they are called out, to supply the place of the French troops, who, I am told have marched from Virginia northerly. Be it what it may, I think a little time will convince you, that the benefits are far less, than the charge and trouble attending it, to say nothing of the inconveniences which will be felt in the continental measures from the states wasting its resources in attempting local security.

Savannah is evacuated, but the enemy must be driven from Charlestown by force, and this we have little prospect of being able to effect, without greater exertions than I can flatter myself with—

I have the honor to be with great respect,

Your Excellency's &c &c—

JOHN EVANS, COUNTY LIEUT: TO GOV: HARRISON.

July 25th Honour'd Sir,

Monongalia
Co.

Agreeable to your orders of 22d of May last, to me directed, I have cal'd on General Irvine. he informs me its out of his power to give any assistance Except in amunition. the hored barbarity of the enemy has struck the inhabitants of this county with such a panac that they are determined to Quit the country unless your Honour will Enterfere and give them the necessary aid. the men you ordered to our assistance were Obliged to be discharged before the expiration of their time for want of provision. Col: Wilson informs me he has repeatedly applied for provision to Col: Harrison of Rockingham, but have Rec'd but very trifling. the militia from Frederick, Berkley & Shanandoah I expect will be here soon, and no provision for them nor none to be had. I hope your Honour will take it under consideration and adapt some mode for our relief, particularly in that of provision and how and what manner the men are to be supported. I could git Beef & flour by impressing, but we have no salt, and that of taking people's property I am very leath to undertake, could any other method be adopted. I have made the strictest enquiry concerning the murder committed on Muskindom, and find only one man that went from this county & since, he is dead—

About the twentieth of May last Colo. Wm. Crawford, with five hundred men went against St. Duskey (Sandusky) and a few miles from the town the Enemy met them, and from the best accounts our loss were not less than 100 men. Colo. Crawford himself taken and Colo. Wm. Harrison with many others, by a prisoner who were taken at the time and made his escape, informs he saw Colo. Crawford tied to a stake and burnt, and by one other prisoner who has since come in, says, he saw Colo. Harrison Quartered and burnt. Since that the enemy attacked hannah's Town in Westmoreland county, kiled a great number of the inhabitants and burnt the town. Yesterday I was creditably informed that the Enemy had burnt Fort Henry at the month of Wheeling, but I do not assert it, though I have reason to believe it is true. These instancees causes our Frontiers to be very ticklish, as we are so scattering, the small settlements so great a distancee apart. I received a line from your honour dated 9th of May concerning men being inrold. who lived in forts. I can assure your honour that since I have had the Honour of commanding the county such a praetice have never been allowed. Upon the Whole I submit to your honours Superior Judgment hoping that this part of the State will not be allowed to fall a prey to so barbarous an Enemy as those Savages—

and am with the greatest Esteem your Excellencies most Obedt. Servnt"

I received a letter from Genl: Lavalette yesterday directing me to stop all Flag vessels that may be bound from James River to New York, till further orders from him. this he informs me is in consequence of Orders he has just received from Genl: Rochambeau—As I did not conceive I had any right to interfere in this business—I communicated the contents of the letter to Commodore Barron who has wrote to your Excellency on the subject. A french Brig arrived in Hampton roads yesterday from Cape François and sail'd this morning for Baltimore. the Capt: I am informed says that thirteen French Ships of the Line, and three Frigates sail'd from thence a few days before he left it, their destination not known.

Since my last letter to your Excellency Mr. Robertson has been here and informs me he will foward on an ample supply of provision in a few days—The Clothing for the Troops arriv'd a few days ago.

I have the honor to be, Your Excellency's Most Obedient Serv't—

P. S. “Since writing the above, a french Brig has arrived in the Bay, and has taken a pilot on board to bring her up to Hampton roads. the officer that came on shore informs us that thirteen ships of the line, three Frigates and a cutter (part of the fleet from Cape François) is now off our capes; he believes they will not come in the Capes, but are bound for Boston.

COLO. ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO GOV: HARRISON.

July 27th "Sir

Washington
County

In a Letter just received from Colo. Martin are the following paragraphs "as to the Lead you mention, when I was down in December last the Executive gave me an order for 2000 lbs of lead on my own private account to sell to the settlers, which will appear on their Books of that date, which is all the lead I have received since the Treaty. I beg Mr. Jameson may be apply'd to, who was at that time Lieut: Governor and signed the order mentioning the particualar use it was for."

"Last night Ellis Harland (a noted Indian Trader of great influence among ye Indians) returned from the nation, who informs that the Chickamogga Indians are desirous for peace, that they were to set out for Chota with the Prisoners the day he left there. that Springston (a Linguister) is there waiting arrival, at which time he is to come for me to go and receive them. I expect him every hour. Harlin has brought a large quantity of Wampum and Talks in with him, but being siek, is not able to give them out otherwise I should send them to you. The old warrior O'Kana—Stotee has sent to me informing that he has resigned his authority; with the consent of the whole nation to his son Tuckasee (he is the man that went down with Col: Gist some years past commander of the party) and desires that I will attend at Chota to assist at the ceremony of his installation, in the name of Virginia. But I think not to concern in that before I hear what the Governor will say on that subject. The Powder that was ordered for the use of the Indians, I beg you will hurry down as soon as possible, as promises will no longer do—I beg Sir, that you will not fail leting the Governor know how matters stand; in particular mention the Lead, as nothing gives me more pain than to be under the displeasure of my Superiours. I have sent this day to Col: Sevier to appoint a place to meet Colo. Shelby and myself, at which time if they think of giving the Chickamoggo Towns Terms of Peace, I shall send for you and Colo. Christian."

Whilst Colo. Martin seems assiduous to promote a conciliatory plan with the Indians, a force is raising I understand, by order of the Executive of North Carolina to attack all the Cherokee Indians that do not submit to certain terms, hard in their nature: such as removing to certain spots near our frontier settlements and live in future by agriculture.

Should your Exceelleny disapprove of such measures in a sister State, of which not only we, but the Union may be interested, your representation and influence, no doubt, will procure such a revision of the Order of North Carolina as may alter its most exceptionable parts. Col: Martin meeting with some misfortune in his family, he mentions as the reason of his not waiting on you himself on this occasion. But hopes to be honored with your commands by an early conveyance—

I am Sir, your most obedient and very Humble Servant"

Perhaps you have not had the account of our worthy Friends, Colo. Crafford (Crawford), Colo. Wm. Harrison & Wm. Crafford nefue to Colo. Wm. Crafford & and many others who fell into the hands of the Indians on the late Expedition against the Sant: Duskey Towns, so full as I am able to inform you. The 5th Inst: I was at Fort Pitt when John Knight Surgen's mate to 7th Virginia Regt. came in & said he and Colo. Crafford was taken together by the daliways (Delawares) To a camp whear there was nine more prisoners on Friday & the Tuesday following they were all put to Death But himself. he said they were all march'd into Town, Nine was Tomahoked & himself & Col. was to be Burnt to the Stake. Colo. Crafford he saw Tyed & Burning nearly two houres & behaved like a hero. The Trator Simon Girty was standing by. The Colo. Cryed out to him no merey, only shoot me, which his Reply was, "Crafford I have no gun" with a laugh, "how can you expect any other—this is Retalation for the meravins (moravians) that was murdered last Spring." the Colo. made no reply, nor was heard to make any noys the whole time of his Tautor—after about two hours he fell on his face. one of the waraurs (warriors) jumpt in & Scalped him & throughed up hot coles & ashes on him, & then the Colo. got up & walked; & then the Doctor sd: he was taken away & told he was not to be burnt there, but was to be taken to the Shaynee Towns, where there was about Thirty Duliways (Delawares) lived to give them some satisfaction for the murder of the meravins, and on his way he made his Escape, was 21 days coming in to Fort Pitt & his subsistance the whole time was green goos bearys, nettle tops & green may apples—

One Slover has made his Escape about twelve days since the Doctor, & gives an account of all the Prisoners that was taken, was put to death. that Colo. Harrison was Burnt & afterwards quartered & stuek up on poles. Wm. Crafford was also burnt, & himself was the last that was Bro't to the Stake to be Burnt—there came on a suding heavy Rain which prevented them Burning him that day & that night he made his Escape & got into Wealon (Wheeling) in 7 days—I have not seen Slover myself, but I saw his accounts in Wrighting from good authority—

This is Convincing that onexpearine'd men ought not to have their own way in war, that good men must suffer on their aecount. the murder Committed on the meravine is Every day Retalated for—Sixteen days ago Twenty-five Persons Kil'd & taken by the whole party of Indians—They consisted of about two Hundred. they took & destroyed a great many horses & Cattle & horesel goods—there seems to be a great spirit in general amon'st the people for another Campaign, which I am in hopes will have the desired Effect—

WM. MITCHELL TO THE GOVERNOR.

Expressing his great regret at having allowed a "Flag vessel" to go to Norfolk & Portsmouth to be repaired—In this however he had followed the example of Commodore Barron who had allowed the same thing. What he did was from ignorance of the commercial regulations and the laws applying to Flag vessels. In permitting the vessel to take in staves, he supposed it was done to facilitate the storing of hds: of Tobacco, and it did not then strike him as a breach of authority on his part. Admitting the justice of the complaints made against him, he begs to be forgiven for the offences ignorantly committed, and as soon as Col: Dabney arrives, he will with pleasure resign the charge of the vessels under his directions—

When at your office last, I think you condescended to furnish this County with two hundred stand of arms, not more than half the number wanting: and provided I would bear the expence of sending for 'em, you would, by the first post give order for the same. in my way home at Hobshole hired a man to bring 'em from Fredericksburgh, and wrote Mr. Dick what passed between us relative thereto, with a small addition of some amunition to be sent also, there being none left with Colo. Gaskins since the Gloucester Expedition, therefore the one would be useless without the other. however by some means or other there happen'd a disapointm't, to the great mortification of the bay side inhabitants, many of which, while meeting the collector with a willingness to pay their Taxes, was ruined by the negroes & a few white men in the enemy's Barges (this being the practice ever since the arms were taken to Gloucester, and from that, carried the Lord knows where), therefore our people does not complain without cause, and unless they can be furnished with means of defence, and that soon, the consequences will be a removal from their habitations or totally destroyed and rendered thereby useless to mankind in general—I hope some alteration will soon take place so as to grant that peace and tranquility desired among the good people of this state and yt. yo. and every well wisher thereto, will lend a hand toward the accomplishment of it, wh. is not by me the least doubted, being with the utmost sincerity,

Finding that several States are still in the habit of making partial Payments to their Troops, as well as of expending monies for the purchase of Cloathing, It becomes my duty to inform you, that the requisitions for the service of the Current year, included both the Pay and Cloathing for the Continental Army. Any payments which the several states may think Proper to make, or any expenditures for Cloathing or the like cannot be admitted in deduction from the Quota Assigned them—It becomes necessary from many reasons, which I will not trouble your Excellency with ye enumeration of, that nothing be received from the States but money. this alone can prevent those intricate accounts which hitherto have involved every thing in a Labarinth of Confusion. Had the States complied with the requisitions made on them for the Current service, in any Degree proportionate either to the Magnitude or Urgency of the Occasion, we should e'er this, have had the Pleasure of knowing that our army enjoyed all the Emoluments they have a right to ask for.—I take the liberty to add, that it would be proper to cause Accounts to be transmitted to the Paymaster General, as speedily as possible, of what has been advanced for Pay, that he may at least prevent a double Credit for the same sums. With respect to the Pay, which may have become due, anteriorly to the first day of January 1782, it will become a Part of that Debt from the United States, for the Funding of which, Revenues will be required from the Several States, as soon as Congress shall have digested their Resolutions on that subject—

Finance

I have on many occasions delivered the sentiments contained above, to several of the States, as circumstances called or occasion required, but it appears necessary to make the formal communication to all, and therefore I must pray your Excellency to excuse any repetitions which may have happened—Before I close this letter, I must observe Sir, that of four millions, payable according to the Requisitions of Congress by the first Instant, I did not receive forty thousand Dollars—Judge then, 1782. of the anticipations which were necessary to bring us where we are.

 July 29th Judge of the situation in which we are placed, and be not surprized at any Consequences which may follow from that Universal neglect which is alike unaccountable and inexcusable—

I have the Honor to be

July 30th COL: WM. DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

War Office "Sir I have enclosed to your Excellency, the List of Staff within my department, with their pay &c, which will probably appear high, especially if compared with the allowances given by the General Assembly to the other officers of State—

The Quarter Master's duties are greatly circumscribed, to what they were during the Invasion, nor does his business much exceed that of a Continental Assistant Deputy Quartermaster at a Post: especially as he has, exclusive of other Assistants, a Forage Master, waggon master and Hostler under him, which the assistant Deputy, to the best of my recollection, was not allowed to have, and was obliged to act as Commissary to the Post, besides—

The Assistant Quarter Master seems wholly unnecessary in the present state of affairs, especially when it is observed, that by the present establishment of the Quarter Master's Department, which your Excellency may choose to see, the Quarter Master General is allowed to employ as many Clerks as may be wanting, at a much cheaper rate, who might be equally competent for the business of keeping the accounts. This post of Assistant Quarter master has been reduced in the Continental establishment, where it was infinitely more necessary than it possibly can be here.

The Deputy Quarter Master has been dispensed with for more than a month, as I thought him unnecessary in our circumstances; and the person resigning, who held that Post, it has not been filled up since, but the appointment still remains as part of the present establishment. If a comparison is made with the Clerks and Assistant Clerks in other offices, those employed in the Quarter Master's department appear to be particularly favored as to their allowances, tho' their duties are confessedly no greater than those of the others.

The Commissary of Military Stores tho' very necessary in times of Invasion, does not appear to be absolutely necessary at other times; at least the person with the pay of the Assistant, would be sufficient for the business under the same direction of the war office as at present.

It might perhaps be well enough, if the appointment of Commissary General of Military Stores was, like that of the General officers, to take place, only in times of Invasion. Such is the case of the appointment of the Adjutant Genl: of the militia and some other great staff appointments.

The Hospital department is and ever will be, very circumscribed in its duties in times of tranquility like the present. Half a dozen patients at Richmond, with the charge of sending down medicines and hospital Stores to Colo. Dabney, are almost the only object of a Physician and Director General's care. If there was a necessity for a medical officer of that dignity any where at present, it would seem that York or Hampton should be the place; but even there it is not necessary. Regimental & occasional Surgeons will be fully sufficient for the present numbers in Service. An apothecary would probably answer every purpose of a Director General, as the duties must always be very trifling, except in an Invasion, when a person might be employed with a handsome allowance for the services actually performed; which would be equally useful and much more economical than the present establishment.

1782. I would beg leave however, to observe to your Excellency, that the July 30th warrants for pay of the Quarter master's & Military Stores departments were not made receivable in Taxes, as was the case with the Hospital and many others; perhaps therefore should your Excellency be of opinion that any abatement or alteration of their allowances should finally take place, yet you might also judge it proper that to the end of the present quarter, the present establishment should be continued, and that any new regulations which your Excellency may think necessary to order should not take place before October next.

On this occasion I confide entirely on the indulgence of your Excellency, if I presume to suggest to you the necessity of appointing some person to settle the various accounts of quartermasters, Commissaries, Commissioners & Contractors &c., both past and to come. This is a business of so much importance, that without it there can never be an expectation of Justice being done the Country.

A Quartermaster or a Commissary draws large sums of money from the Treasury; Six or eight months afterwards he settles with the Auditors, proving by his vouchers that he has laid the whole money out in horses, cattle, waggons, or anything else: but here the enquiry ends, tho' it is evidently a matter of as much moment to the Public, to know what has been done with the horses, cattle &c., as it was with respect to the application of the money. For want of such an appointment infinite abuses have been committed. None of Finney's, Porterfield's, Brown's or Pierce's Accounts of Stores and Issues have been, or ever will be settled, altho' they all may have got a quietus from the Auditor's, as to the money they received—Thus, Captain Young regularly makes his quarterly settlements with the Auditors, and the exact sum of money he has laid out is ascertained, but as to the application of his purchases, it rests solely with himself. This is a circumstance I know, he thinks highly improper and would be glad to see remedied—This appointment is necessary also as a preparative to the settlement of the Continental account, and more immediately for settling with the District Commissioners and with Mr. Robertson.

I do not conceive it within the duties, or Lieasure of my Office to undertake any of this business. It appears to me improper that the same person should have the power of disposing of the Public Stores and settling the Accounts. He might dispose of them for his own purposes with security—

Should your Excellency concur in sentiment as to the propriety of this appointment and the reduction of the Post of Assistant Quarter Master, I should think it an act of Justice due to Capt: Jones, the present Assistant, to recommend him to the favorable attention of your Excellency, as a person whose experience in Military arrangements, and whose knowledge of Accounts render him every way proper to be employed. As to the Quarter Masters Accounts for the last year, during which he acted in that department himself: those Accounts may be examined in the War Office, if no proper person will undertake it. 1782. July 30th

I now beg leave to refer your Excellency to the letter I had the honor to address to you on the 17th, relative to the situation of the Point of Fork. It becomes daily more necessary that some regulations should be taken respecting that Post, and Captain Peyton has been waiting some time for the ultimate determination of government.

I beg your Excellency's pardon for the length of this letter, which I hope may be so far confidential as not to expose me to the Ill-will of the Gentlemen in the departments of which I have spoken. No person has a more exalted opinion of their abilities and virtues than I have: They were of my own recommendation almost to a man, and the persons of whom of all others I would chuse. I am governed wholly by a regard to the Public interest in the representations I have made, and have the honor to be, with the highest respect

Your Excellency's Most Obed't

and very humble Servant."

PETITION OF JOSIAH CANTZ a citizen of Georgia, TO THE GOVERNOR OF VA. July 30th

Praying to be allowed the benefit of the Law in regard to registering slaves on the part of persons coming into the State with such property— He had failed through the absence of the Clerk of the County in the militia, and the neglect of the District Judge to register his slaves, when, being driven out of Georgia, he had come to Virginia—He also prays for permission to sell two slaves to discharge certain debts incurred, as his purpose is to return to his home in the south at once. Names of slaves— Jack, Scipio, Jerry, Daphne, Elsy, Aggy, Kesiah, Creshia, &c. Powhatan Co.

COLO. THOS: POSEY TO GOV'R HARRISON. July 30th

Asking relief in behalf of the officers of the Virginia Line—Refers to the difficulty they had in getting money or supplies when first ordered to join the Southern Army—Through Mr. Ross' kindness certificates for a moderate amount of money had been negotiated, which however were of little avail in the long journey they had, and the country to which they marched. Genl: Green's difficulties and misfortunes had prevented his receiving any funds for paying off his Army up to this date—This rendered their own condition very uncomfortable, especially with the sickness arising out of the fatigues and exposures of the campaign in Georgia. The evacuation of Savannah occurred on the 11th inst., at which time an arrangement had been entered into between the State Savannah Geo:

1782. and certain British merchants, by consent of Genl: Wayne, by which July 30th goods could be purchased of them—The sufferings of the officers had induced him to contract with these merchants for Goods to be paid for in Tobacco to the amount of 113986 lbs.; for which he became personally responsible, and which is to be delivered to them at Richmond Va. on the first day of Dec: ensuing. In view of all the circumstances, the sufferings of the officers, their distance from home, and this being their only dependance for support, he appeals to the Executive of a state that heretofore never disregarded the wants of her troops, when it was possible to supply them, to take steps to deliver the above amount of Tobacco as required, to be deducted afterwards from the pay of the officers. Having become responsible for its delivery his honor is at stake; and if it can be done in no other way, he suggests that the Government issue certificates in favor of the officers for the amount of tobacco, made receivable with the Planters. Capts: Scott and Parker are charged with the duty of waiting on his Excellency in this matter.

If money could be sent out to him at once, almost all the eighteen months' men whose times expire in September, would engage for the war. Concludes "The fatigues of the campaign, together with sickness has reduced my corps about twenty men, nearly the half of which was kill'd in action—Nearly the one half of my men and officers are at this time in the hospittle, many of which are dangerously ill. Lt: Barbour

Urging the sending a sufficient quantity of arms and ammunition to the County, exposed as the people are "to the will of the wretched infamous crew of plundering barge-men." The Comm: of War had ordered fifty muskets and a small quantity of ammunition, but this small number of arms will not suffice for "the five or six hundred militia" they have. The county is defeneeless against the enemy, two of whose barges are now "in the river with about twenty white men & as many negroes in each, frequently on shore destroying almost every thing within their power." Col: Gaskins had long ago resigned his commission and the next officer in command has been ill, so that the people had been left much unprotected.

In my last to your Excellency I conveyed some intelligence respecting the temper of the succeeding Cherokees, and the measures adopted in N. Carolina to subdue them. This day I received the enclosed Letter from the Agent of Indian Affairs, and hope it will reach you by a speedy conveyance, that your Excellency may be enabled to give such orders to Colo: Martin in time, as may be needful. 1782.

July 31st

It is with pleasure, I reflect that the Ideas of conciliation the Executive lately adopted is likely to have the most happy effects, in saving not only the Southwestern frontiers of this state, from the annoyance of a very troublesome enemy: but will give peace to the frontiers of three more Southern states.

None of the goods ordered for the use of the Indians are yet come to hand: those and as large an addition as possible of the most needed articles of cloathing would come most opportunely after the delivery of our captives. Col: Wm. Christian, who is the first Commissioner under General Greenes' appointment to Treat &c., will, I expect give further information on this subject.

I have the honor to be your Excellency's very respectful & most obedient Servt—

LONG ISLAND Y'R 28th July, 1782.

“Sir

Since my last to you by James Parberry, Springston has come in with Two prisoners, one a woman of about thirty years old Taken from Green River, five children Taken with her, who are yet in Chiekamogga. her husband & his father weare Both Kill'd. his name was Stanley. The other a boy of about ten years, son to Thos: Steward, who was kill'd going down the River with Colo. Donoldson. Old Judge friend with the approbation of all the warriors of Chickamaugga have sent me a string of white Beads. Requesting I will take hold of them & meet them in Chota by ye 14th next month then and there I shall receive all the prisoners—that if I Request it he & as many of his Warriors as I will Direct will Come in with me & go to any place I shall Direct & settle a peace to the satisfaction of the Governors of Virginia and N. Carolina. I shall sett off on Wednesday next, shall be much oblige to you if you be so good as to send Immediately to the governor, as he may Send & Direct in what manner to proceeed. I hope you will contrive matters so as to get an answer from him by the time I Return from the nation with the prisoners—the ammunitiion &c ordered by Government I can hear nothing off, the Indians often applying. I dont know what to say to them, they are greatly Distressed for every necessary of life. Could Government assist them by any means, I think never in a better time.

W. ARMSTEAD TO COL: DAVIES.

In behalf of Mr. Francis Ratliffe, the sheriff of the Co. and the collector for Blessland Parish, New Kent. He has been drafted for military duty in the Garrison at York, and is willing to resign his place as collector &c., but his securities having been given and being in the midst of his duties as such, cannot do so now—He has applied to the Executive but “was informed they had nothing to do with it”—“The answer is short but not satisfactory”—He takes the liberty to ask his advice in the matter, in as much as if Mr. Ratliffe is forced to leave the business he is now engaged in, both he and his securities must be ruined—

Levin Joynes informs the Governor, he is waiting on his Excellency “for an order on the Commercial Agent for Five Thousand pounds of Tobacco, voted by the General Assembly in their May Session 1780, to each of the Virginia Officers then prisoners of war,” among whom he was one, and was “named in the vote.”

Norfolk Requests to be furnished with a copy of the “Act” for establishing a Lighthouse on Cape Henry. “The duties are not paid for want of it.” Unless some mode is “fallen upon to be more strict with Flags the trade of the Country must be ruin’d.” Calls particular attention to the abuse of permitting “some mercenary men among us” to ship Staves &c. in them—allowing them to take tobacco is bad enough, but this additional privilege should at once be put a stop to. The “Flags” at Burwell’s have had staves sent to them notwithstanding the guard it there. Concludes, “I am really sick of the times & hope they will mend soon.”

He would gladly send the arms required to the County Lieuts: but has not the means. Regrets the number repaired is so small, but “the want of Pay and Scarcity of Bread” makes the men “work with no Heart,” and as they are now labouring “for nothing” he dares not insist upon their doing much more. In regard to the Mill Place, he thinks the Assembly should take it upon paying its valuation, for Public use as is done in other States. Repeats the absolute want of bread or flour and begs he may be supplied “Some how or other.” Has rec’d 650 lbs Bacon from Culpeper. Th want of money deprives him of many articles necessary to the operations of the works, Lead for proving gun-barrels, and Bolsters for file-cutting. The magazine is almost finished; the upper room for small arms 28 feet square, and will hold all the Small arms until wanted; the under part is vaulted for ammunition, and fire-proof except against lightening. If necessary he will put up a “Franklin.” “His zeal for the State” makes him thus minute in his suggestions &c.

I think it my duty to acquaint you that a spirit prevails on this River, which if not averted to must be attended with dangerous & ruinous consequences to the State; for if I am not supported in the Authority of my office, Government must fall short of their expectations in the Revenue proposed from the collection of Duties on imported Goods and Tonnage.

Your Excellency may remember that I laid before you on Sunday last certain letters &c. which I had taken from the Flag Brig Charming Jenny, in consequence of our Information on suspicion that British Goods had been imported—in my pursuit after this Brig, I met with a Schooner at Fredericksburg from Maryland, laden with Salt, having in the first instance obtain'd from the office in Maryland a permit to go only to Baltimore, and came here. She then passed the office on Rappa'nk and had sold a part of her Salt. Having found from experience long ago, the only way to do the Publick Justice, would and must be, a Strict & Impartial Execution of my Duty, and knowing the Maryland craft to be remarkable for evading their duties, I had determined to make examples of them, & therefore without hesitation seized this schooner, and libelled her in the Court of Admiralty; having secured the Sails, and ordered the cargo of Salt to be landed. As one Shelton, in whom I could confide, was there, I gave him the care of the Vessel and Sails.

This, joined with (what they term) my assurance in searching the flag, incensed the people of Fredericksburg to such a Degree, that a mob was instantly raised, and the Sails taken from on board the Sloop, by violence. Luckily for Shelton he was not on board, or him they would have either murdered or treated badly, but the former its said was resolved on. The ring Leaders, it is hinted, were men of note in Fredericksburg (Mr. William Harvey merch't & Mr. Samuel Roddey meret. & Alderman of the Town). in the cellar of the latter it is said the Salt is stored—however of this we have no Proof—One Bingy, a Ship Carpenter was unwillingly led into this measure & Capt: Shelton says, confesses himself one of the mob—I would on information of the Salt's being in Roddey's warehouse, have gone and searched it, but salt is of such a nature that no discovery could have been made from its peculiarity, therefore I think it better to wait for better Authority, being determined to hazard every thing to have the Law enforced. but the mercantile Interest is so great on this River, that every effort proves ineffectual—

"Sir

"Peltus"

Not arriving at Richmond until the afternoon of Saturday, I did not receive your Excellency's note of the 30th ult: before that day.

Surely the importation of british subjects, if they be designated by the term "enemies," was an offence in the flag, unless there should be some apology for so doing, not communicated to me.

But I know not any punishment, pecuniary or corporal, denounced against such an act. Those british subjects indeed, if unauthorized to return to Virginia, may be treated, I presume as enemies.

But if by the term "enemies" be meant, persons suspected of treason, it seems allowable, that a flag may bring them to the country. They are citizens supposed to be innocent until conviction, and are at liberty to risque themselves upon a trial for life or death. It would sound strange then, if the bringing of a culprit, who has a right to return, should be punishable. 1782.

August 5th

I fear too that no law can be found animadverting on the owner of a flag who went in her to New York. I have often thought that these cases deserved legislative attention. At present, I can only say that they appear to be wholly omitted, unless some aiding or comforting can be proved.

I have the honor, Sir, to be with respect

The cause of action is a charge against them of partiality in the execution of their office. Mr. Luzerne wrote to Mr. Jefferson during his administration, urging him to quicken the decision of these causes. He applied to me, and transmitted my answer to the Chevalier. I was sorry to inform him, that the event of these trials, would probably be contrary to the expectations of the plaintiff, from an absolute defect of testimony. My reasons for communicating these circumstances to your Excellency, is that I find from La Croix himself, that a similar remon-

RICH'D GRAHAM TO COL: DAVIES.

Dumfries

Reporting the state of collections of "specifics" in his District. He is about to send off a Cart with the clothing from Fairfax and Loudon, and will send in the money as soon as collected—

The Bacon has been ordered to Dumfrees, Colchester and Alexandria in time for the French Troops, hoping they would purchase the whole of it, but they took only enough for the waggons. The wheat at Alexandria "has the fly it" and could not be ground, "the mills being all dry. He had since sold it and a hundred bushels left at "Genl: Washingtons & Mr. Gilpin's mill. A few beeves may be had for the Factory at Fredericksburg, and some estray at Mr. Custis & Mr. Fitzhugh's Quarters shall be collected—

He has been to Alexandria to have a settlement with Mr. Hendricks the Commissioner, but he refused to do anything in the matter, saying he had made a return of what he had recd. to the State. It is said most of the grain collected was sold to the French by Mr. Hendricks, which causes complaint in Fairfax—the matter should be looked into. He has rec'd seven good hds: Tobacco from the Commissioners, which have been delivered to Messrs. Hunter & Allison, to account of Mr. Hay C. A. August 10th 1782. Every effort shall be made to bring to a settlement all the Commissioners in his district, but finds it a 'tedious troublesome business'—He has in vain tried to get a settlement with those of Stafford and Loudoun, for the years 1780 & 81.

Capt: John Peyton informs Col: Davies, he shall proceed to transport the Arms up from Westham in canoes as soon as the river rises sufficiently, and Capt: Young's wagons on their return that way, may bring up some as "back-loads." August 10th Point of Fork

He will endeavor to employ some person who can repair arms, as soon as possible, and requests that a few men and some tools may be sent up with the first arms that come.

A visit from Mr. Robertson the Contractor, is much wished for: unless he makes his appearance soon "we shall be under the necessity of plundering for our rations" & G—d knows that will be a bad speculation in Fluvanna where the Inhabitants are likely to starve themselves."

"Sir

Your Letter of the 8th of July reporting an Act of the Virginia Assembly, I have lately had the honor to receive. "Head Quarters Ashby Hill" South Carolina

The plan proposed for the completion of your Line, I think a very good one: and as it materially concerns the honor and interest of the State to carry it into execution, I am persuaded your Excellency will exert all the powers of Government to effect it.

You appear to be impressed with proper notions of public good, and have a clear and distinct idea of the advantages resulting from an attention to the interests of the Army.

1782. Neither the change of Ministry nor the passive conduct of the Enemy August 12th ought to induce a relaxation of our exertions at this important crisis:— bold and decissive measures will destroy the hopes of conquest, and in a little time will secure and establish that freedom for which we have been so long struggling. On the other hand, inattention and supineness, if they should gain the ascendeny, will inevitably destroy our prospects, and ruin our hopes. The present moment is precious to our views if properly improved:—to secure a peace we must prepare for war.

A variety of circumstances concur to induce a belief that the Enemy will evacuate this Country in the course of a few weeks. Great preparations are making at Charlestown, a number of transports have arrived, and many of the Adherents to the British Government are about to imigrate to East Florida.

Desertion prevails very much among the Enemy, and a general discontent has taken place among the Tory Party. A proclamation has been issued by order of Genl: Leslie, desiring such as chose to go to St. Augustine to give in their names and all others who wished to depart to any particular place in the Country or else where, to make their intentions known, that steps may be taken to accommodate their views and wishes:—at the same time asserting the expected evacuation of this Country.

Should this happy event take place, it will be an important advantage to all the Southern States; they have long groaned under the weight of oppression, and have suffered as much as they can well bear.

With sentiments of the highest esteem and respect,

I have the honor to be,

Your Excellency's most obedient and most humble Servant."

"Sir

The parts of Mr. Sturman's letter which respect the Court of Admiralty, belong to the department of a different gentleman from the attorney general. I mean the advocate of that court. "Peltus's"

But I remember to have heard Col: Innes say that he intended to libel the Maryland vessel and her cargo: and indeed I saw Mr. Sturman's instructions to that affect.

How far the flag-ship has forfeited her immunities and has become liable to seizure or condemnation, the letter of Mr. Sturman does not of itself enable me to determine. I dread attacks on flags of truce unless the proof is strong and pointed: and light suspicion alone as yet appears. Not having seen the acts of the last session, I cannot say in which cases british goods are forfeitable merely as such. But if I am not misinformed, the act upon that subject is not in force at this early day. As to the riot, I shall write to Mr. Sturman for the particulars of it: and shall take those measures for punishing it, which fall within my office.

August 13th J. MADISON JNR: THEOD. BLAND JNR: AND A. LEE TO GOV: HARRISON OF VIRGINIA.

"Sir,

Philadelphia

We have been honor'd with your Excell'y's of the 1st of Augt. 1782. We have taken the liberty of conversing with the Secy. at war, on that part of your letter concerning the works at York Town. That Gentm. express'd his surprise at the misinformation you must have rec'd of his conduct of the affair, and with a wish to undeceive you, has favor'd us with a copy of the instructions he gave concerning the Works, together with a letter address'd to us on the subject, both which we have the honor of inclosing to your Excellency.

No material event has taken place, since we had the honor of writing to your Excell'y by Express, when we informed you of a letter received from Sir Guy Carleton and Admiral Digby directed to Genl: Washington, containing information "that Mr. Grenville was actually commission'd as plenipo: for adjusting a Plan of a Peace with the Belligerent powers, and was actually at Paris when the packet sail'd—and that the King of great Britain had order'd his ministers to instruct him to offer Independency to the thirteen Provinces in the first Instance, and not as a condition of the treaty—relying however with confidence that the Property of the Loyalists would be restored to them in America." 1782. August 13th

Congress had order'd this letter to be publish'd with their sense on its contents—which we hope to have the pleasure of transmitting to your Excell'y in the Paper we shall herewith enclose.

What may be the Issue of the negotiation for a Peace, which we have every reason to believe is now on the Tapis, we will not venture to predict, But we cannot help thinking that the Preliminary offer above mentioned, however it may be intended by England, will have a favorable effect on our affairs, as it seems to remove the Principal Barrier, which has hitherto prevented some of the powers of Europe from recognizing us as an Independent nation—viz, the apprehension of giving umbrage to England, by such an interference whereby they w'd have departed from their neutral & mediatorial characters.

We are Inform'd that a great confusion prevail'd among the Tories within the Enemies' lines, immediately on the news above-mention'd transpiring, and it is not improbable but that the ferment it has occasion'd among them, may end in measures by no means advantageous to our Enemies. The American Army continues at its former station—the French at Baltimore, and the F. Fleet under the command of the M. de Vaudviel off this Coast, where he waits to protect the Trade, and to afford a Convoy to such vessels as may be ready to sail in a short time, of which your Excell'y has no doubt been apprised by the French Admiral.

It is with pleasure we inform your Excell'y, that an atrocious and dangerous band of robbers, some of whom have been concerned in robbing the two last mails that were taken and in various other enormities—have been secured in this and the neighboring States, to the amount of above thirty and are now in close Goals. this we hope will give security in future to communications, as 'tis said nearly the whole of those concerned, who formed a line from N. York to Maryland have been discover'd and taken.

We doubt not of your Excell'y's having received satisfactory accounts of the evacuation of Savannah, of which Congress receiv'd yesterday Authentic information—we have the Honor, to be yr: Excell'y's most obed't & very Humb: Servts"

P. S.—Since writing the above, find the publication therein mention'd is not yet in the Paper, but shall endeavor to procure copy of it.

I have the honor to enclose you my instructions to Mr. Guion, the officer I sent to York Town in Virginia to remove the Continental stores from that Port to the Head of Elk. I gave no orders to the French officer. I have no power to command him. I requested indeed, if Mr. Guion should need his aid that he would give it him. I also made the same request to the officer, who commanded the militia in York Town. I had it not in idea to destroy the works. if I had intended that, I must have sent a Body of men as fatigue to have accomplished this business—The Governor, I think has been very precipitate in his decision—I have too high a sense of his honor and Justice not to suppose he will be as anxious to set the matter right, as he has been to expose what he thought was an error. Nantz Setting forth their claim against the state of Va. for £85.14s.9d. for goods and supplies furnished since January 1781—They had been sent in the "Duke of Leinster" taken on her passage to Philadelphia & in the Franklin which arrived there safe." These goods were to have been paid for in one year, but that time has now passed six months, and they beg some steps may be taken to save them from the inconveniences consequent upon this delay. Should the State in future want supplies &c they will be glad to establish with her authorities negotiations upon which to base a safe and economical traffic. Tobacco sent in her own vessels under a Supercargo, who shall reside with them and supervise the management of the business will of course be the medium of their commercial transactions. Should this arrangement be made, they can only refer to their connections with other states, as a guaranty that, the best and cheapest manufactures shall be furnished and upon the most advantageous terms &c &c.

Col: Everd: Meade informs Col: Davies, that a small part of his Legion is now at this place, "totally destitute of every necessary." They can not possibly be kept together unless supplies are furnished at once. His Quarter Master will wait on Col: Davies and state the amount of arms, accoutrements and camp fixtures needed. It will be safe however to receipt for three hundred, he having already recruited more than two hundred and fifty men.

He has however procured some salted provisions, it being unwise to slaughter beef for so few troops as this Season. No Bacon to be gotten, but plenty of flour. He shall order the "Specifics" from Harry Innes's District to be sent to this place, & perhaps Mr. Scott's. Capt. Peyton thinks he has store-room sufficient and will take care of them. "The 70 or 80 beeves in Mr. Innes' District" had better be driven down, as there is good pasturage for them at the Point of Fork: if not wanted, they could be sold in Richmond at an advantage. The post will be well supplied until his return from the Northern Neck, to which place he goes at once. If consistent with Col: Davies views, he proposes establishing a "magazine" of supplies at the Point of Fork, being the most convenient place from which to transport them below; and to receive the specifics from the districts above &c.

Genl: Muhlenburg not adverting to this circumstance has made this appointment 'till the determination of the Surgeon General can be had. But I would beg leave to represent to your Excellency, that such an appointment cannot, upon any principle, be necessary. The Virginia line has already as many as six or eight

1782. Surgeons and Surgeon's mates, altho' there is not more than one regiment in the field. Several of these gentlemen are at home, and why a Surgeon should, under those circumstances be appointed to a regiment that exists only in name, is more than I can account for, especially a person, who has been so lately, and I think unnecessarily appointed a mate. I would therefore ask your Excellency's orders, whether an appointment of Surgeon shall be made out for Mr. Yates to the 8th Regt., or that Genl: Muhlenberg be informed that Congress have directed a reduction of regiments to take place, and that it is expensive and inexpedient to appoint persons to be officers, who must immediately become supernumerary."

A citizen had obtained a Peace warrant for a violent Breach of the Peace, committed on him by another citizen, who was consequently held to Bail for his good Behaviour for 6 months & was also sued at common Law for Damages. Captain Roan of Dabney's Reg't & Brother to the Person sued, soon afterwards called on the Prosecutor & desired him to dismiss the suit, else he would give him a severe flogging. The Prosecutor not discovering any disposition to comply with this demand, Captain Roan stripped off his shirt having caught him undressed in his Chamber & with his Sword beat him in a most violent manner. On this a Warrant was issued for apprehending Roan, but he bids Defiance to the officer whose Duty it is to serve it & refuses to submit to the Institution of an Enquiry into his conduct before a civil magistrate. This violent & flagrant Breach of the Peace by a military man & his subsequent opposition to the civil Power, the magistracy of W'msburg have considered as of too dangerous Tendency to be passed over, without further notice, & have therefore transmitted this State of Facts to your Excellency, that the Executive may adopt such mode, as to them may seem best, to compel the officer to be amenable for his Conduct.

In conferring with him upon the Subject, it is apparent that money and many necessary articles will have to be provided to enable the commissioners to proceed on their business. Col: McDowell had already corresponded with him to the same effect. At least £25 to £30, each, for actual expences, and a sufficiency to purchase "Baggage-horse & furniture." "1 Blank Book, 1 Ream writing paper, 3 papers Ink-powder, 1 Box wafers, 2 lbs. Tea & 25 Coffey, 50 lbs Brown & 15 lbs Loaf Sugar" will be needed. The money to purchase the horses &c. should be forwarded to each gentleman, so that he may use his best judgement in the matter. He has taken the liberty to make these suggestions, because of the propriety of making provisions for so long a journey into a Country where the articles cannot be procured, and because he supposes the Executive "more busied with other matters," &c.

By reference to his letter of the 12th July, it will be seen why this was not done. He has only received from Chas: Dick of Fredericksburg thirty muskets and six hundred cartridges, in accordance with orders from the War Office—Wishes double that number could have been sent, in as much as it is necessary to keep a proper guard over the public Tobacco and Provisions, and for the inhabitants exposed along the River. Lexington

The Fifteenth of this Inst: Bryan's Station was Beseiged by a number of Indians, whereof I am not able to form a Just Estimate: the Attack continued warm for about Thirty Hours, During which Period, the Enemy burned several exterior Houses, Killed three of our men & made large Depredations on the neat stock & Crop—they then Retired leaving three of their Savage party dead on the ground, besides a number circumstantially so—

The Seventeenth, we were Reinforeed from Lincoln, with one hundred & fifty Horse men, Commanded by Lient: Col: Stephen Trigg & Joined by a few of the Fayette Commanded by Colo. Jno. Todd, who compos'd an Army of one Hundred & Eighty Two. We followed them to the Lower Blue Licks, where Ended the Direfull Catastrophy—in short we were defeated—with the loss of seventy-five men—among whom fell our two Commanders with many other officers & soldiers of 1782. Distinguished Bravery. To express the feelings of the Inhabitants of both the Counties at this Ruefull scene of hitherto unparalleled Barbarities Barre all words & cuts Description short.

The Twenty fifth, five Hundred of the Lincoln militia commanded by Colo. Benjamin Logan (who hitherto had neither been consulted, nor solicited to our assistance) marched to the Battle ground in Expectation of a second Engagement, but the Enemy had march'd several Days before. from the order of their march, with many other accruing circumstances, their number was supposed to be nearly six Hundred.

Forty seven of our Brave Kanetuckians were found in the field, the matchless massacraed victims of their unprecedented Cruelty—We are led to conceive that none were captivated, from a number found at the crossing of the Creek tied & Butchered with knives & spears.

Labouring under these Distressing Circumstances we Rely on your goodness (actuated from a principle of Universal Benevolence which is the Distinguishing Characteristic of the truly great & noble soul) that we will not only become the subjects of your Commiseration, but of your Patronage & Protection also. the Ballance stands upon an Equilibrium & one stroke more will cause it to Preponderate to our Irretrievable Wo, & terminate in the Intire Breach of our Country, if your Excellency is not concerned In our Immediate safety—

They should however be required to touch at that place in accordance with their engagements—A certain Mr. Rowan who had come in one of these ships, had been allowed to go to Westmoreland to see his brother a great Tory, who had presented the said Rowan with "a negro boy about 15 years of age" who then had him on board one of the Flags, intending to carry him off by stealth—He intends to seize and detain the negro, and thinks the Brig should be condemned on account of the Captain's evident intention to carry property out of the State without permission—

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO COL: DAVIES, in regard to Indian Affairs.

August 26th
Washington
Co.

“After referring to sundry other communications respecting the “dispositions” of the Cherokees, which he had sent by private hands, because “the low credit of the county” could not afford an Express, continues as follows, “That the present Executive may better understand the history of the war with the southern Indians, it may be necessary to recur to the orders given, and the accounts sent by the different commanding officers, from 1776, down to the present year. One remarkable occurrence in this era, was, on Col: Christian’s reaching the Towns on the Tennessee in 1776 a certain Cherokee chief, called the “Dragging Canoe” a “Cheuconnasee,” seceded from the national councils of the Cherokees, drew off large numbers, and retired down the River, to a place called Choecomogga, near the Whirl in the Cherokee River made new settlements, and gave an asylum to the British Agent and a number of Renegade Tories: continuing his depredations by small parties; drawing to his faction at times more or less of the young men of ye Towns, who had concluded a peace in 1777—In the Fall of 1780, a total combination of these Indians took place, against us, thro’ the address of Col: Brown, the Enemy’s Agent; but this happily was broken by the defeat they met with, from Col: Arthur Campbell and others. Their country was desolated as far south as the Hiwasee River. The hither Towns’ people fled mostly into the mountains for shelter, and soon after made peace. The seceding party fled either, below the “Whirl,” or to the sources of the Mobile. It is from these Towns, together with large accessions of Tories, that Carolina and Georgia have received so much annoyance since our recovery of those states—A view of Hutchin’s late map, will enable you better to comprehend what I have said—

As to present Intelligence: by a letter I lately received from Genl: Pickens, who lives on the frontiers of So. Carolina, adjoining Georgia, I am applied to, for to co-operate with him in attacking the unfriendly Cherokee Towns, and am told at the same time, that Governor Mathews has wrote to our Executive on the subject; but as the Governor’s letter of the same date with yours, mention nothing of it, I consider myself not at liberty to comply with the request: besides, the overtures made by these same Indians for peace, and in some measure countenanced by Mr. Martin, our Agent, renders it still more improper, as I apprehend the Indians wish to engage us to act as mediators—In the month of July, before the evacuation of Savannah, Col: Brown the British Agent, essayed to conduct from thence a considerable supply of goods and ammunition, to his adherents in the Cherokee Country. The whole was fortunately intercepted, and he himself, narrowly escaped by flight—A short time after, as an Escort, was coming down to meet Brown, (not hearing of his fate) they were met by Genl: Clark, of Georgia, near the frontiers of Georgia, and totally defeated—Several Indians and Tories

1782. were made prisoners, and on the field made subjects of retaliation, for August 26th the cruel usage of Genl: Picken's brother, and near 20 men, who were inhumanly put to death, in the Town last winter—The Governor mentions nothing in his letter, respecting our defence against the northward Indians, however, I hope I have come up to his wishes, as only 50 men, instead of 100, are yet ordered on duty, and you may rely, I will be very sparing of expenditures. About ten days ago, the northward Indians killed two men in this county. the party that did this mischief, did not exceed half a dozen, and could not be traced, so as to overtake them. This is the only onset, we have had since the Spring. Col: Crawford's exertions, no doubt overthrew their boasted scheme of annoying the frontier; and I trust Genl: Irvine's good fortune will give us but little to fear from that quarter, after this campaign.

The preliminaries, offered to the Cherokees, are said to be—

1st. To cease all kinds of hostilities with every part of the American States.

2d. To restore all our Captives & 3d To give up into our hands all the British adherents, as Prisoners—

This complied with, I think the force preparing in North Carolina will give over their attack: this I am not a little anxious to see accomplished, as I know, should they go into the Indian Country, they will not properly discriminate: and I believe there is now as good Whigs in the hither Towns, as any on the frontiers of N. Carolina—Whatever may come of this business, I will endeavour that the Executive be speedily informed of the result thereof—

I am, Sir, very respectfully &c &c—

Acknowledging receipt of his of the 15th inst: in which he "Seems to be blamed," and begging to be indulged by way of excuse, as follows—
 "Before I left Richmond last June, I more than once applied for the goods ordered for the use of the Cherokees; I was directed one time to Mr. Hay, at another to Capt: Young—neither sent the goods to Manchester in time, as I desired, nor advanced the small sum of 20 dollars which, I told, was necessary to pay the waggoner, for to enable him to pay expenses out to the Long Island." He had not received the powder ordered to be delivered to him by Capt: Price of Bedford; and rather than thwart "the measures of government, he would lend the Agent "part of the small store" in the county magazine—he then proceeds—
 "Col. Martin set out early this month for the Indian Town called "Chota," to receive our Captives, and propose some preliminaries for a Treaty of peace, with what is called the seceded Towns, or Chocomogga Faction—a deputation of which were to meet him the 1st Instant—
 There are seven other Gent: with Col: Christian to negotiate with the Indians. This transaction of Genl: Green's, I expected was fully known 1782. by the Executive, as I find it has been mentioned in Congress, and August 26th approved of—

The proposal of a Treaty of peace, came first from the Indians, and seems to be considered by the Agent as a favourable sign of the sincerity of their dispositions, as the application have been made in unusual suppliant terms. The proof of all may be better understood after Col: Martin's return from the Council at "Chota" Perhaps the true reason of the pliability in the seceding Chiefs, may be found to proceed from their late misfortunes in Georgia, and the formidable force preparing in the south, to attack them"—

City of Richmond
In Common
Hall

Among those objects which have lately come under the consideration of the Common Hall of this City, as necessary for regulating its internal policy the Establishment of a City Watch has been thought advisable, as a measure Essential to the security of the Inhabitants against those nocturnal depredations and robberies, which have been lately so much practiced among us.

Conjoined to this step, the Hall are pursuing the most effectual measures to expel disorderly persons of suspicious characters, & to break the chain of that confederacy, which seems to be established by a nefarious crew in and about this city, at the same time with the fullest confidence that every endeavour of theirs to attain these salutary purposes will be aided by your Excellency and the Council in the exercise of the Executive powers of Government, so far as the same shall in your Wisdom be thought consistent and proper, the Common Hall are induced, with great deference, to suggest to your Excellency & the Council, a measure which in their opinion will give aid & efficacy to their endeavours. It is Sir, in the removal of the present main Guard, at the Public Jail, and of their relief by a detachment from such Post or Garrison, as your Excellency & the Council shall please to direct, of men to be selected by the Commanding Officer of the Post or Garrison, who have no relations or connections in this, or the adjoining Countys, and who are most orderly and well disposed, such detachment to be relieved regularly, once in every two or three months, if the good of the service may so admit.

The Propriety of this measure will be more apparent to your Excellency & the Council, when it is observed that there is too great reason to suspect that the soldiery of the present Guard have been either principals or accessaries in almost every robbery which has of late been committed among us, and that their licentiousness & ungovernable conduct is such as to endanger, even in the day time, the persons & property of the Inhabitants in the vicinity of the Jail. And the Common Hall further request that your Excellency will be pleased to order the Commissary General of military stores to furnish such a number of arms and ammunition as may be sufficient for the safety & Protection of the City—

By Order and on behalf of the Common Hall."

COLO. DANIEL BOONE TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

August 30th

“Sir,

A Circumstance of Affairs Causes me to write to your Excellency as follows. On the 16th of this Instant, a Large number of Indians with some white men, attacted one of our fronteer Stations, known by the name of Bryan's Station. The seige continued from about Sunrise til about ten o'clock the next Day, then they marched off. Notice being given to the Different Stations adjacent, we Imediately collected 181 Horsemen commanded by Colo. Jno: Todd: Including some of the Lincoln County Militia Commanded by Colo. Trigg, and having pursued about 40 miles, on the 19th Instant we Discovered the Enemy Lying in wait for us, on Discovery of which we formed our Column into one Single Line and mareh'd up in their front within about forty yards before there was a gun fired: Col: Trigg on the right, my Self on the Left, Major McGary in the centre, Major Harlin with the advance party in the front—and from the manner wee had form'd, it fell to my lot to bring on the attack, which was done with a very heavy on both Sides: and extended back the lines to Colo. Trigg, where the Enemy was so strong that the Rushed up and Broke the right wing at the first fire. So the Enemy was immediately on our Backs, so we were obliged to Retreat with the loss of 77 of our men and 12 wounded. Afterwards we were

Fayette County
Boone's Station

1782. Reinforced by Colo. Logan, which with our own men amounted to 460 August 30th Light Horse, with which we march'd to the Battle Ground again. But found the enemy were gone off. So we proceeded to bury the Dead—which were 43 found on the ground, and many more we Expect Lay about that we did not see, as we Could not Tarry to search very close, being Both Hungry and weary, and some what Dubious that the enemy might not be gone quite off, and by what discovery we could make we conclude the number of Indians to exceed 400—now the whole of our militia of this County does not exceed 130. By this, your Excellency may draw an Idea of our circumstance. I know Sir, that your Situation at present is something critical. But are we to be totally forgotten.
 I hope not. I trust about 500 men sent to our assistance Immediately, and them to be stationed as our County Lieutenants shall see most necessary, may be the saving of this our part of the Country.
 but if you put them under the Direction of Genl: Clarke, they will be Little or no Service to our Settlement, as he lies 100 miles west of us, and the Indians north East, and our men are often called to the Falls to guard them. I have encouraged the people here in this County all that I could, but I can no longer Encourage my neighbors, nor myself to risque our Lives here, at such Extraordinary hazzards. The Inhabitants of these Counties are very much alarm'd at the thoughts of the Indians bringing another Campaign into our Country this fall, which if it should be the case, will Break these settlements. So I hope your Excellency will take it into consideration and send us some Relief as quick as possible.

This Sir, is my sentiments without consulting any person. I expect Colo. Logan will immediately send to you by Express. By whom I

JOHN BOWMAN TO GOV'R HARRISON OF VA.

1782.

Sir,

August 30th

Lincoln
County

I take the liberty to ad'ss your Excellency on a subject which I make no Doubt may be agreable to you. on the 20th of this Ins't arived hear Mr. Simon Burney with two Chickasaws warriers, with a written talk from the Chieffs of that nation, Scting forth their Willingness to treat with the State of Virginia on a peace, a copy of which you will Receive by this conveyance, and Being Impressed with a sence of the Distressed cituation of this frontear Settlements, I could not Restrain my Self, but Rather thought it my Duty to Reccomend it to you, in whoes hands the Reigns of Gov'rment are put, and not Doubting of your care and Protection, therefore it is the wish of all I believe that your Excellency might appoint Commissioners to meat the chieffs of that nation at the french Lick on Cumberland River, it being the Place they seame to wish to meat at, in order to establish a peace with them. Should your Excellency with the Honorable Council, think Proper that sume step should be taken with these People, and would wish to appoint Commissioners in this quarter for that purpose, I will mention the following Gents: who in my opinion are the most fit men amongst us for that Purpose, Col. John Donelson, Col: Benj. Logan, and Capt: John Huching—

He also informs us that the Creek nation will take the same measures with them, which would be a fortunate Circumstance to this, as well as our neighboring or Sistren states to the southward, and the joint Interest of all—The Chickasaws Chieffs, urging in their own justifications that when Genl: Clark came into their country and built a fort, and settled many famileys in their countrey the thought themselves obliged to defend their native countrey by arms, and that the should not have taken up against us on any other grounds, which as far as I can judge of facts I Raley believe it to be the case—

If a Peace could be concluded with these two nations, the Chickasaws and Creeks, it would Effectuly put a stop to the Cherokees and Chuckamogga Indians committing depredations on any of our frontears, and compleat the Happiness of the Inhabitants who have long suffe'd by them, and we Conceive that such an alliance might Greatly Discourage the Shawnees, and other Western Tribes. Should this not be an obstacle in the way, I am told that Genl: Clark sent an Express to Post St. Vancent (St. Vincent) to Mr. Dolten there. The purport theirop is enjoined on Mr. Dolten to keep it secret—

The same evening sume Diseffected men that harboures amongst us, Stole about fifteen horses from the French at that Place—On their missing them Horses next morning, they Emediately demanded a sight of the Express, which was Denied them. they then desired Mr. Dolten not to send the messenger away untill the new his assent. Notwithstanding the caution, the Express was Dispatched that Evening and came 1782. safe to the Falls. This Raised a jellosy among the french that it was August 30th with concent of Genl: Clark the men went their, and if this Breach is not spedily made up, the consequences theirolf is to be Dreaded. the french say that if this be the Treatment from us they will be obliged to Defend their Property, by engaging the Deffrent Tribes of Indians to the westward of them that are now at Peace, to come to war against us—

Our seater'd Inhabitants ar Daly Deminishing Having lost 65 of our

 you will have from Col. Logan, the commanding officer of their county.
 I would beg leave to Assure your Excellency, that my hartey wish and Earnes Desire for the Public weal war the only Ocation of my Troubling you with the above obsirvations.

I take the Honour to be your Excellency's &c.

The following "Talk" enclosed.

"A Talk to be delivered by Mr. Simon Burney, to the Commanders of Every different station Between this nation and the falls on the Ohio River. My former Friends, we mean to Conelude a Peace with you.
 As Brothers never falls out with other, but they make Friends again If it is agreeable to you, it is our Desire to be at Peace with you, that Our Corn may grow, and Our stocks Increase for the bennifitt of our Child'r Hereafter.

You'l observe at the Same time, Our making a Peace with you doth not Entittle Us to fall out with Our Fathers the English, for we love them, as they were the first People that Ever Supported us to Defend ourselves against our former Enimys, The French & Spaniards & all their Indians. & we are a People that never forgets any Kindness done Us by any Nation—We sends this by Mr. Burney, Who says he Lately come from Among you & you may Rely on anything he Tells you—On the Subject of Peace Poyman Tauhaus' Talk. We was formerly very good friends, and I thought we should be always so, but we have had some small Differences, but now we are good friends again—Some time ago we had nothing but good talks, all round us & from all quarters but now I can hear nothing But what is bad. I therefore this day send you a Token of Peace. I Remember the day when I was not Afraid to Travel to Chas Town Virginia, or any other Place. Where I was allways well used, but Now it supriess me more than any thing to see and hear how Brothers fall Out, for my Part, I could wish To see it, as it Used to be Formerly. I have been no where, but here at this Place, & at this Place I set down and hear all your disturbances. I heard by Chickasaw fellow that has been sometime among you that you have sent many letters to this nation, and you may think that we received them and despised your Talks, be assured that none Ever got here.
 We are not like white people for when they fight they sends a flag to Each Other & then Renews the fight. But I this day sends you a Flag for a Peace, not to renew any more Battles, as there never was much Fight'g between You & us. As to our part, we have never done you much harm. Its true, some of our young fellows has Stole some of your Horses, but still they never went of themselves. their was other Nations, Creeks, Cherokees, Wanpunockys &c., who Led them out, and what Damage was done, was by reason you settled a Fort in our Hunting ground without our leave, And at that place you suffered most from us. We Receiv'd a Talk From the Illinois, wherein they let us know that the Virginians, French & Spaniards are all as one & desires us to be friends with them. I dont doubt but they have let you know by this time, what they wrote here in Regard to a Peace & when you see this it will satisfy you on our part. Red Kings' Talks you must remember That our fore fathers On both sides were always friends but as for our parts we have had a small differenee, but I dont know who was in the Rong, it is my desire that we should still be at Friendship With Each other, this comes from my mouth, who is King of this nation, and it is my desire that after you see this talk, that when ever you meet with Chickesaws, that you may eat, drink & smoke Together as Friends & Brothers. I hope You'l send an agreable an'r to this, that you & us may set down in safety & plant. You'l receive this a Talk from your friend & Broth'r Poymingoe's Talk—now to convinee you of Our sincerity in mak'g Peace, I have sent four young warriers & one white man, that was with yon before, to convince you of a Peace with us & I am desirous, that they may Be well used & an answer to this Talk, by the Bearers, that we may think of nothing hereafter but our Planting & Hunting &c. &c—

*COL: BENJAMIN LOGAN TO GOV HARRISON, giving account of the disaster at Blue Lick, as follows—

"Sir

Lincoln

County

I beg leave to present your Execllency & Council with one of the most melancholly events that has happened in all this Western Country. On the 14th inst: Capt Holden from Fayette, pursued a party of Indians who had made prisoners of a couple of boys in his neighborhood; he overtook them and was repulsed with the loss of four men. On the 16th a considerable army appeared before Bryant's Station, under the command of the noted Simon Girty, and many other white men; they attacked the Station closely, and defeated different parties endeavoring to throw in assistance, but without much loss on our side. An Express was immediately despatched to Col: John Todd, who at that time was in this County in the neighborhood of Col: Trigg— On the 17th, at night, I received a letter from Col: Trigg, wherein he informed me of what had passed. Orders were immediately given for every man to turn out, and on Sunday the 18th I crossed the Kentucky with a considerable detachment, & the day after arrived at Bryant's, where I understood the Indians had raised the siege & were followed by Col: John Todd, with 135 of the Lincoln militia under Col: Trigg and 45 of the Fayette under Col: Bowman—Dreading the consequences that might ensue from this precipitate affair, I immediately pushed within a few miles from Bryants. We were met by about 25 men, who informed—of a total defeat at the Big Blue Licks on Licking. I covered their retreat, and marched back to Bryants, where I collected 470 men, and the 24th went to the battle-ground and buried 43—our loss in this action is 50 missing from Lincoln, and 15 from Fayette, among whom are Colls: Todd and Trigg (Trigg was quartered) Major Harlin, Capts: McBride, Gordon, Kinkaid & Overton, & Lieuts: Givings, Kennedy, McMartry, Rogers & McGuire, and Mr. Joseph Lindsay our Commissary.

From the situation of the ground, on which our men were drawn upon (the plan whereof I have taken the liberty to enclose) I hardly know how it was possible for any to escape—I am inclined to believe that when your Excellency & Council become acquainted with the military operations in this country, that you will not think them so properly conducted, as to answer the general interest of Kentucky—From the accounts we had received by prisoners who had escaped this spring, we were confident of an invasion from the Detroit Indians. Common safety, then made some scheme of defence necessary; for which purpose, I was called upon by Genl: Clarke to attend a council and after consulting matters, it was determined to build a Fort at the mouth of Licking—& shortly I received his orders for 100 men to attend this business, with a certain number from Fayette. Before the day of rendezvous, I was instructed to send the men to the Falls of Ohio, in order to build a strong Garrison, and a row Galley, thus by weakening one end to strengthen another, the upper part of the country was left exposed, & the enemy intercepting our designs brought their intended expedition against the Frontiers of Fayette—The immense expenses incurred by the state in this western Country, we know is enough to prevent the Government from giving us any further aid; but when your Excellency and Council are informed that the people have never been benefitted by those expenditures, we still hope your compassion will be extended to a detached, distressed part of your country, as it is not in the power of the People to answer the misapplication of any thing by a proper officer. Genl: Irwin, commanding at Fort Pitt, as a continental officer might probably be more assistance to this country could he receive proper supplies from the state of Virginia, than any other measure that could be adopted—As he has the same enemies to encounter that trouble us, and stores of every kind seem to be of little account to us (ammunition excepted)—Col: Trigg being killed there is a Field officer wanting in this county: however I am at a loss how to proceed on the occasion, for all our magistrates have been killed except three; and there can be no

1782. Court to send a recommendation—Col: Hanod, who formerly acted as a August 31st Colonel, and who agreeable to seniority ought to have received a commission, is now in being & I think a very proper person for that purpose—

Before I conclude I must beg leave to suggest to your Excellency & Council, that a defensive war cannot be carried on with Indians, and the Inhabitants remain in any kind of safety. For unless you can go to their Towns and scourge them, they will never make a peace; but on the contrary keep parties constantly in your country to kill; and the plunder they get, answers them instead of Trade. Some days past, a white man, one Mr. Simon Burney, with his Indians, arrived at this place, in company with two warriors, with talks from the Chickasaws nation—wherein they inform us of their desire to conclude a peace, and the reasons that urged them to war; which was Genl: Clarke's settling Fort Jefferson on their Hunting Grounds, without consulting them first, and are now enquiring for him. They own they have done mischief in this, as well as the infant settlement on Cumberland—Should your Excellency & Council think proper to hold a treaty with these People, Col: John Donelson, who has before served as an Agent for the state, is willing to transact any business of that kind—

Since writing the foregoing lines, I have received certain information that Kinchelow's Fort in Jefferson was burned, and 37 souls, made prisoners—Your Excellency & Council will please to indulge me a few moments longer, when I take the liberty to add the situation of 470 persons who surrendered themselves prisoners of war to a British Officer, then in command from Detroit, with a great number of Indians—As well as I recollect these unhappy people were captured in June 1780—And from authentick intelligence that we have received, they were actually divided in the most distressing manner that could be invented. Many of the men were taken to Detroit & their wives retained among the Indians as slaves. Some of the men are now at Montreal & others in different parts towards the Lakes—As the British were the perpetrators of this cruel piece of mischief, I think by the articles of the Cartel, for the exchange and relief of Prisoners taken in the Go: Department, and subsequent measures taken by the different commissioners for that purpose, it is their business, immediately to deliver up in this country, at some American Post, all the prisoners then taken—or retaliation he had on our part—Unless they are guarded back, they will never get through the Indian country.

I have the honor to be &c. &c. &c—

The Diagram of the Battle-ground contains the following note. “The indians kept the path from Bryants to the licks, and when Colo. Todd arrived at the Top of the hill on this side of the river, the enemy made a shew of ab't 30 in the bend. Our men marched over upon the Hill. The indians had a very strong line in front which extended from one point of the river to the other. They had flankers and also a party in the rear in order to prevent a retreat. As the river was very deep only at the licks and the cliffs so steep that a passage was impracticable only where they first marched in—thus circumstanced the Savages, sure of victory rushed immediately up and threw our men into confusion. What escaped returned mostly by way of the Lick—many were killed after they were made prisoners, as they were seen tied. 1782. August 31st

From Bryant's Station to the Blue licks ab't 40 miles & from thence to the Ohia ab't 20 or 25. The Bent of the river was generally ab't  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile over & from the top of the ridge each way made down small dreans—in these places lay many indians undiscovered untill the attack begun.

It appears near all the warriors' on this side of De Troit were on this expedition; some allow 600 or more."

Major Bulgar was mortally wounded, and is since dead."

"Sir,

I received your last Letter appointing me surveyor of this State, to meet the Surveyor of the State of Pennsylvania, in Order to run a Temporary Boundary Line, which I shall undertake if Life and health will permit. I have also agreeable to your Orders, ordered the 150 militia of this County to hold themselves in readiness in case they should be wanting, but what will be done for arms I am at a Loss, as many of the militia men's guns has been taken from them at the Different Drafts and by changing them for muskets when at camp, and others lost, so that the one half of the men of this County has not Arms, neither Doe those that has Guns Like to Spear (spare) them at this critical time. I had 30 muskets from the County Lieutenant of Frederick Last spring when the Comp'y was ordered from this County to the assistance of Monongalia, which I am afraid will prove short of what will want Guns of 150 men.

"Sir

We have been duly hon'd with your Excellency's of the 8th Inst. Since our last such a dearth of Intelligence has prevail'd that not one circumstance worth relating has reached this place or Congress from Europe or elsewhere. We have only to inform your Excellency that among the prisoners arriv'd at this Place, from Mill and fortune Prisons in England (from whence all the American Marine Prisoners have been sent to America) were about forty belonging to our State, who have applied to us for relief. Philadelphia

1782. Yr: Excellency well knows that no provision has been put into our August — power for such purposes, which are very frequently occurring, notwithstanding we have frequently urged the Policy and necessity of it. On this occasion, both Policy & Humanity have dictated to us, to endeavor to procure, by a draught on the treasury of Virginia to the amount of about thirty pounds Pennsylvania Currency, which we hope will be honor'd, and for which we hope we shall stand exculpated, when 'tis consider'd that inattention to this useful body of men in their distress might deprive the commerce of the State of their services, of which it at present stands so much in need.

We have the Hon'r to be, most respectfully

"Two Chicasaw warriors and Mr. Simon Burney a white man came in with flag from that nation and presented a pice of wrighting from their King and others of their Chiefs soliciting a peace with these states: a copy whereof you will receive by this conveyance from Colo. Logan the commanding officer of this county. Those people urges for their justification that Col: Clark's building a Fort and Garrison and settling a number of families in their country without their privity or consent made it necessary to take up arms, "to defend what they deemed their native right, that the cause being in some measure removed, they Declare this desire to be at peace with those states again"—

In view of the terrible losses in the battle with the Shawnees on the 19th of August, and the unprotected situation of the frontiers and inhabitants, Col: Donelson urges the appointment of Commissioners to negotiate a peace, and suggests the French Lick on Cumberland River, as the place most agreeable to the Chicasaws, for a meeting. The writing, or Talk, brought by the Chicasaw warrior and Simon Burney is signed by Poymace Tankaw, Mingo Homaw Tuskon Patapo and Paymingo, with their several "marks," and is a copy of the original, enclosed in Col: Logan's Letter of Aug. 30th, 1782.

He had been employed by the County Commissioners of Provisions to receive all the wheat brought to his mill on public account and manufacture it into flour. This he did, and delivered the flour to the persons authorized by the Commissioners to receive it. Many of these were waggons and canoe-men, negro slaves who could not write and of course could not sign receipts—Had he failed to deliver the flour when so needed, serious results might have followed—He is now pressed for a settlement of his accounts by the District Commissioner, and he is called upon for his receipt—For the reasons above given he cannot produce them, but can produce evidence of the delivery of the flour, provided his Excellency will appoint some “gentleman of experience and good reputation” in the neighborhood, with power to look into the transaction &c.

He has just been informed by Genl: Muhlenberg that under the late Acts of Congress, all appointments of officers in the Va. Line, must originate from the Executive of that State—In the changes proposed to be made He claims the rank of “Full Surgeon”—In February 1779, he was appointed Surgeon’s mate to the 2d Va. Regt: & marched with it to the South, when under command of Colo. Neville, Doct. Roberts being the Surgeon—March 1st 1780, Doct: Roberts resigned at Richmond, upon which he at once applied to Genl: Woodford commanding the “Line” for his “Right as senior mate” but was answered that the Surgeon Genl: of Army was the person authorized to appoint.”

The troops were then on the march to S. Carolina, where he was soon afterwards made prisoner of war and remained so ’till the 12th June 1781—upon application to Surg: Genl: Brown, he order him to consider himself a “Surgeon in the said Line,” but could not assign him to a 1782. regiment until he understood the nature of the "new arrangement."

 Septem. 2d Considering himself a Surgeon, under authority of Dr. Brown on his return he applied to Genl: Muhlenberg for an appointment, but received the information referred to above. Under the circumstances, his claim he contends fairly existed before the passage of the Act of Congress— Under the last "arrangement" the Va. Line consists of eight Regiments, and only six surgeons. While he was a prisoner of war Dr. Monro one of them, was appointed, altho' a "junior mate" to himself. Since his return "Doct'rs Davis and Monro "have been appointed as Ensign"— He thinks each surgeon entitled to the same Privilege, and begs his Excellency will lay the matter before the Council for final settlement, for which he will wait at the "Genl: Rendezvous."

This moment I was honoured with yours of the 22d of August per Express. Inclosed is a return of the officers of my Reg't now here and of those three who went last from this place to join the troops with you. Inclosed is a narrative* of Doctor Knight, by which you will be made acquainted with the inhuman sufferings of our late worthy friend Colo. Crawford, and of the Fortitude with which he bore them to the last. I am sorry to hear that the Assembly of the Ancient Dominion has done nothing for us, however still hope they will consider our services. An Expedition is in agitation here against Sanduskey, Genl: Irwin to command. the proposal from the people. they are to furnish one thousand men from the militia, and also horses, flour and cattle at their own Expence unless the states will in future pay them. The Genl: takes one hundred of the regulars from this post which is nearly half the number here. I am much afraid it will not be carried into execution as the people are much divided. Should the Expedition take place I am to goe with the Genl: and hope in a few days after our return to pay you a visit at Richmond—The General is hurrying the Express &c—

Just as I was closing my letter I rec'd a letter from Clarke at the Falls of Ohio dated the 10th of August. he writes me every thing was then quiet. that he had sent the Express as he had learned by Major Wailes, Genl: Irwin intended carrying our Expedition into the Indian Country, in order to fix the time when the Genl: would move, that he might make an Excursion at the same time."

COL: CHAS: DABNEY TO GOV: HARRISON:

Septem. 4th

"Sir

Your Excellency's letter of the 28th Aug: with a Copy of Mr. Lowry's memorial I have received. I thank your Excellency for the opportunity you have given me to answer his long list of charges, and 1782. I am very sorry you shou'd be troubled with this disagreeable business. I Septem. 4th have always carefully avoided entering into disputes with the inhabitants, and can assure your Excellency this is the first I have ever had during a service of near seven years. The inclos'd paper contains answers to the complaints set forth in Mr. Lowry's memorial, they are sign'd by the officers who were quarter'd on him, and I believe them to be facts. On receiving your Excellency's orders to Station the Cavalry on back River, I order'd Capt. Armstead's Troop to Lowry's, not from a (pique) as he supposes, but on account of the pasturage, and thinking it a proper post to defend that part of the Country from the Enemies Barges. Soon after the Troop was quarter'd on him, he wrote to Col: Lavalette, who commanded at that time at this place, requesting him to come down and send them to the Bay. After finding the Col: wou'd not comply with his request, he moved great part of his pasture fence, for no other purpose, I am very certain, but to compel me to move the Troop. Had Mr. Lowry's complaints been just, I shou'd think the most speedy way of his getting redress wou'd have been to apply to me as Commanding Officer, which he has not done in a single instance, altho'

 I have been several times at his House. The charge of my taking four beeves from him is true. After being four days in Hampton without a single ration of meat to Issue to the Troops, and no prospect of an immediate supply, I was drove to the disagreeable necessity of seizing a few beaves, and being inform'd by several of the gentlemen of that place, that Mr. Lowry was no loser by the enemy, and had a large number of cattle, I sent my Quarter Master to him, with written instructions, to show him the necessity of taking this disagreeable step. I beg leave to observe to your Excellency that part of those men who have signed their names as witness to the truth of Lowry's complaints, from their fondness for British protections, and wishing to see a dispute between the Civil and Military, has taken uncommon pains to promote this diffrence between Lowry and myself. Agreeable to your Excellency's orders, I have order'd the Troops from Lowry's.

I have the honor to be,

Your Excellency's most obet: Serv't.

Capt: W. Armstead, Licut N. L. Savage and Cornet Graves of the 2d Troop State Cavalry reply, in the paper referred to, that Lowry's plantation was selected only on account of the pasturage in it; that the room taken as their quarters was "pointed out to their quarter master" by himself as one he could spare. All possible care was taken "to prevent the Soldiery from injuring him in person or property"—guards placed to prevent their horses from getting into his enclosures, altho' he chose to move his fences, especially one which had stood "Ten years," and that the damage done to his crops was small, and was chiefly by his own stock; that they punished "his negroes for having the assurance to beat a small soldier Boy that waited on Capt: Armstead"—that the most “pointed orders has been giving the Soldiers not to insult the family. 1782.

 We are informed they have frequently endeavor'd to degrade them, and Septem. 4th do not doubt but the soldiers, in their turn has made use of insulting Language.” The Brew-house was occupied but a few days, and was vacated upon his application and the soldiers went into the fields where they are now; that he has never complained to them of his grievances, but has always treated them & the Soldiers with contempt. From the whole tenor of his conduct, they regard him an “Enemy to his Country”—he has frequently been seen “sitting and drinking with one of our musicians who was formerly a British Soldier” and who has since made an attempt to escape.

“Sir

The time is approaching when Mr. Robertson will have a right to War Office demand payment for past supplies: and I am fearful the Treasury will not have the money, after discharging the claims to which the appropriation Act gives the preference. There are a considerable number of materials that belonged formerly to the rope-walk, which may be disposed of to sale, if it should be thought best.

We have no fund for the repair of the Arms as all my exertions have been able to procure but a trifle from the specific collections. With that, I have had some arms repaired, have got all the cannon out of Pamunkey and properly fixed on skids, and am in hopes soon to be able, if I

"Sir

Chantelly

"I have now the honor to transmit to your Excellency an account of the manner in which the act of last session for recruiting the Army has been executed in this county. The militia having been laid off into classes according to Law, our number amounted to 38 and you will see by the list inclosed how each class hath as yet acquitted itself. Not a man has been found, but £259.5.3½ specie has been paid to me, and I have reason to expect the ballance daily. When the collectors have made returns of defaultees, warrants have issued in the nature of executions against such defaultees. Nothing as yet can be done with the collectors failing to make return, until a meeting of the Court shall present an opportunity of making motions against them. I am now to request that your Excellency will direct an officer to come and receive this money, for it remains here at very great risk from the pirates that infest this river and the bay. A stout Barge of the enemy was off the mouth of Coan (about 15 miles below this) a few days ago; and they contrive to get such accurate information of the State of things on land, that I have not the least doubt but that they know long ere now, that the houses of the County Lieutenants are the depositories of the Soldiers Tax and will consequently exert themselves to get possession of the money. This indeed suggests the propriety of quickly removing this collection from all the counties contiguous to the Water, for tho' there is no danger from attempts in the open day, where pains have been taken to arm & Encourage the militia, yet nothing is easier to these pirates, as every days experience proves, than to land in the night and to plunder—houses two or three miles from the Shore and return with Safety to their vessels before day, or any force can be collected to punish them. It is greatly unfortunate for this country that no exertions are made to defend its honor and interest upon the water within the very bowels of the State. It is not only the more general and open commerce that is destroyed, but even the small interior trade is ruined, so that no possible channel is left open for the industry of the people to collect money for their produce, and therefore no possible means left for the future payment of taxes. The soldiers tax with the land tax, will glean up the Specie so effectually from this county, that I verily—believe not five pounds will remain within it, nor any method of getting more than now presents. It may not be amiss to apprise the officer coming for this money, that almost the whole is in Silver, very weighty and bulky and rendering it necessary that he should come provided with suitable means for carrying it off."

I have the honor to be your Excellencies' most obedient humble Servant"—

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO GOV: HARRISON.

"Sir

Your letter of the 23d July last reached me yesterday. The overtures for peace from the Cherokee Choocomogga Towns, and only one feeble attack made this Summer by the Northward Indians, together with the difficulty of procuring provisions, induced me to order out only one half the number of men agreed on at the Council of Officers.

Your Excellency might have spared the reflection, had you been informed by whom the objection was made, and insisted on, for one officer to take charge of the Militia of both Counties to be ordered on duty.

Frugality in expenditures have always been a very serious consideration with me in my public transactions during the war, in proof which I could mention more than one well known instance, which if others in more important stations had as scrupulously observed, our public credit might not have been brought so deplorably low; and our finances so exceedingly deranged—

I am, Sir, very Respectfully

"Sir

I have received your favor in answer to my last latter. I request your acceptance of my thanks for the Justice your Excellency is willing to give to the military line through an unfortunate soldier of my legion. I have also received your letter of the 2d present. I am surpris'd Mr. McKlehenry has made any application or even mention of his horse being taken from him. that horse is a continental one branded Light Dragoons, who was taken by the Enemy & retaken at York, which instances render it my unavoidable duty to retake him & which I am authorised to do by your last proclamation—it is true I have taken eleven horses the greatest part of them continentals. one strayed or stollen from our army. I have taken two which two of our deserters

Camp
Staunton

1782. had carryed of with them & the people wishing reither to keap the horses
 Septem. 9th than to deliver up to us the desarters & horses had leat go the formers—
 I have taken four that were in the enemy's service, had been stollen from our army, & did never belong to those who had them in their possession—no force has been made use of for the recovery of those horses.
 the civil othority has been consulted & since Colonel Mathews is in this part of the country his advices & nothing more have been followed—I would be sorry to conceive even that the orders I receive from the Commander in chief & those he has given & may give for the future should interfere with the internal government of this or any others of the States—in that case he could do something improper, which indeed all the world knows it is not in the power of his nature to do—therefore reither than to expose his great character to the lightest suspicion of impropriety in one instance, I had relinquished as far as in the bounds of my power the rights his orders gave me, since they appeared to be in opposition with the wishes of the new magistration of this State.

I had orders to take avery one of the horses taken at the seige of York. I had orders to retake every horse taken since the 27th July 1781 untill the seige of York. those orders were extensive. I could have recovered more than one hundred horses in six countys of this state, but I answer so far your wishes that I have not pursued any method for recovering those which had been retaken by their true & first owners, & that I have only retaken some of those which were in the hands of people who had no right at all to them, and not the least violence has been made use of—

There is a man in this neighbourhood who has in his possession one of my own legion horses who was taken by the enemy while that corps was employed in the defence of this state, has been retaken & brought from our Army by a man then in the militia & now inlisted in my legion, who confess he took it from the publick—I have made application: the man will not give it up. he has it yet & I know no means of getting him back—this fact must be an undoubted proof of my not acting against the rights of the people—if upon application they deliver their horses freely, then in taking them I answer my orders & certainly in that case can not be accused of acting against the rights of the people.

I am sorry that the believe you give to accounts of men who have nothing more to do in this contest, but to be a burden to both the civil & military, because they are of no advantage in either of those lines, has engaged your Excellency to mention at the final of your letter, that you are far from putting the power of determining the property of the people over whom you preside, into the hands of those with whom you can not by any means trust it—this can not concern his excellency the Commander in chief, Since not only the virginians but all americans enjoy the fruits of the extensive powers they put into the hands of that great man—this must then concern me—but Sir, permit me to ask how I have shown my mind of determining on the rights of the people & even on their wrongs, & who could assure, that should that power be offered to me, my circumstances would permit me to look upon it as an advantage—now Sir, I am far from wishing to determine when I obey orders, & I would not accept of the right of determining—I am neither wanting report, credit fortune & ——— proportion of right of determining, where I was born to enjoy 'them—I am here merely to the increase of reputation in that character in which I am placed since my infancy. I do bound my wishes in America—in addition to it, friendships for this country, policy for own quietude & my natural inclinations engage to follow with care such laws & privileges of the people as are established from time to time by their representatives & which may come to my knowledge—the perpetual hindrance which the military encounter with, from the civil authority in the times of rest has not discouraged me. I know what are republican states in their raising to their freedom. my veneration for a virtuous & free constitution is high & not to be equaled but by my perpetual wishes & endeavour to contribute of my person & fortune to the establishment of it.

I have the honour to be Sir,
your most obt. Servt—

I have received a letter from the minister at war, who says that he expects the enemy will move soon from Charleston."

He is grieved to hear of the distressed situation of Col: Willson and the people in that quarter—he has given them every assistance in his power, and had instructed the Commissioners of Rockingham Co. to reserve the "specifics raised in that County" for the troops on the frontier, under Col: Evans or Col: Wilson. And altho' he had notified Col: Armand of this, his waggons had several times been supplied upon their applying to Col: Harrison for those very articles.

For this reason Col: Wilson's command is now suffering, and he has not the means of affording him any relief. He has no money with which to purchase the Salt ordered for him, and if he had it, could not afford transportation "as there is no such thing here as public credit." He can find no one willing to undertake the repairing the Public arms, and cannot well estimate the cost, but thinks it cannot be done for less than "Ten or fifteen shillings Each." The locks are out of order, ramrods, and new stocks to be made, and very few have bayonets. He has in vain made efforts to bring the Co. Commissioners to a settlement, and desires instructions as to what he shall do, in these cases, as well as in those, when they have acted as Commissaries and Q. Masters to the militia, and have accounts to settle accordingly.

Philadelphia Your Excellency's favor of the 23 and 30 ulto. were rec'd yesterday. Not recollecting that any resolution of Congress declaratory of their ultimate sence with regard to confiscations have been published, we apprehend that some mistake must have led to your remarks on that subject. The Journals of Congress for 1779 are not yet Completed. As soon as they are you shall be furnished with a copy. The propriety of applications to the British Commander for restriction of slaves having never been agitated in Congress, it is impossible for us to inform you with certainty, in what light such a step would be view by them. We can only say that in general all separate & partial transactions between individual States and the Enemy are considered as disaœcording with the Spirit of the Confederacy, that a solicitation of favours from the Enemy at this juncture may not be very politic: and that there does not appear to us any sufficient evidence that the application in question if made would be attended with success.

The loss of the "Magnifique" a French ship of 74 guns in the Harbour of Boston, was thought by Congress, a fit occasion for testifying their sense of the exertion of our Ally in favor of the U. States, and they have accordingly directed the ship America to be presented to the Chevr. de la Luzerne for the serviee of his most Christian Majesty.

General Washington has moved with the Chief part of his Army down to Verplanks point. Seven ships of the line, part of a fleet from the West Indies, commanded by Admiral Hood are arrived at New York: and 15,000 foreign troops have embarked at that place for Halifax.

The Gazette herewith enclosed contains all the intelligence which has yet transpired from the Packet lately arrived at N. York from England. Congress are still destitute of intelligence from their ministers in Europe. The Minister of France is in the same predicament with respect to his Court.

It may not perhaps be amiss to suggest to your Excell'y that advantage will probably be taken of this seeming reverse in the prospect of peace, to speculate on the Staple of Virginia. We hope our Country men will be on their guard against such artifices.

We have the honor to be with sentiments of the highest regard,

Falls of Ohio

This Letter is on a subject that concerns the Chicasaws and americans much. I mean the Establishment of a town for the convenience of trade at the mouth of Ohio, where the old Fort stood. you know that the great Rivers center there, so that the traders can send their goods from that place to Every Quarter of this great country, and very convenient for your nation in particular, as it lies near to your hunting grounds. The merchants can convey their goods to the muschel shoals by water or by Land, as Either way is convenient; and such trade between us would more finally fix that good understanding that each party seem to wish for. And now we have become brothers again, we would not wish to do any thing towards fixing a post without consulting you & geting your consent, which we hope to do, and are willing to pay you for any little tract of land you will let us have. we dont want much, but you know a place so well situated for trade as that is, must soon become a great town, and that it will take a good many people to Raise provisions to supply it. Suppose you was to let us have that little tract of country between the Mississippi, Tenesee & Ohio Rivers. That a line should be mark't, beginning on the Mississippi, twenty two miles south of where the fort stood and Running an East Course to the Tenesee River. This Includes but a small tract of land; about enough to maintain the Inhabitants of the town that may be built, which is all we want. at the same time the Roads thro' this land may be open for the Chieasaw warriors, and no Virginian shall presume Even to hunt or cut a stick of wood over that boundary line without your consent. That the line shall be marked plain, so that no person may be deceived in it, and that it shall forever be a boundary between you and the Virginians. I make no doubt but you will agree to this reasonable proposal, as it must be so much to your advantage in having a good and convenient trade in a very short time after the settlement shall be made, and goods will be much cheaper every year, as the traders will be able to buy their provisions eheap from the farmers that will settle round the town. I am in hopes you will think as I do Respecting this affair. Capt: George who treats with you on the subject of peace is also Impowered to lay this matter before you, and to do all things therein, that may seem good to both parties. And as I Expect our friendship is fixt forever I hope he will meet with no Difficulty in getting you to agree to what is proposed, as it will further convinee your brothers the Americans, of your attachment to them—

I am &c. &c.”

1782. "TO THE GREAT CHIEFS AND WARRIORS OF THE CHICASAW NATION, Septem. 10:h &c., &c."

Fort Nelson "I Receiv'd your speech that you sent by Mr. Burney and the young warriors which you sent with him. I am glad to find that you are inclined to piece. The Americans are always ready to take those by the hand that wish to be in friendship with them, and as ready to sharpen the tomahawk against those that wish to darken the sky. You know you struck the Americans first in favor of the English. It was after that the fort was built at the mouth of the Ohio to watch your motions, as well as the Cherokees and Waponockys, to Encourage trade &c—

But the Soldiers were withdrawn from that place for a short time, with our Intention to prepare and send a greater body of men and provisions. But now we are like to be friends and brothers no such thing is necessary. Except such Settlem'ts as shall be agreed on hereafter between us for the mutual advantage of both nations. You mention in your talk that you would not fall out with your fathers the English that always supply'd (you) with necessaries &c. It gives me a good oppinion of you to find you are greatfull, but you have a wrong Idea. The People that formerly furnished you were the Americans that live on the same land that you do, and not the English that live beyond the great water, that are flattering you, with an intention to make Slaves of the whole of us. I dont think you know the cause of the War between the Americans & the English, as you have only had had words among you, sent by the English to delude you. I here explain to you. The Americans not many years ago, was as one people with the English and took part in all their wars &c. until lately the English got proud and wanted to make Slaves of the Americans, saying that all the lands was theirs from the Rising to the Setting Sun. They brought great Armies among us to Oblige us to do what they pleas'd, and made the Americans pay double price for all the goods they bought and would not let us trade with any nation but themselves. And obliged the Americans to pay dear for all the land they raised corn on, and if a Hunter kil'd a deer they took the skin and only let him have the meat for his wife and children, saying they would soon oblige all the Red people to do so too. They even went so far as to offer to stop the American women from making any blankets to cover their children, and oblig'd us to pay no Regard to the good Rules laid down by the Councils of our old men, but made laws for us as they pleas'd, Killing some of our people that would not obey them, nor would they listen to any thing we had to say for ourselves. Such Cruelty occasion'd us to be poor and naked. We knew how to make Every thing if the English would let us, but we were oblig'd to buy from them for what price they pleas'd—Not being able to bear it any longer, all our wise men assembled at a great Council-fire, make the tomahawk very sharp and put it into the hands of our great warriors, and told them to collect their young men and strike the English as long as they could find one on this land. Many battles was fought in which the English was beat—They cal'd all the people to their assistance deluding them with presents, as you are witness, saying to themselves they would hire the Red people to scalp the Americans and at las make slaves of the whole. but all hath been in vain. Two of their great armies was Kil'd and made prisoners. The French and Spaniards Join'd the Americans. and in a short time after the Dutch, another great nation Join'd us and said the English had no right, nor should not make slaves of the Americans, so that the English are oblig'd now to keep close in their Forts. And I expect in a short time the name of an Englishman wont be heard in the land. And all the Red people that continues to fight for them will be put from under the sun, while those that are in friendship with the Americans, French and Spaniards, will flourish as the green trees. I am a man and a warrior & dont dissemble. Believe what I tell you to be true. The Red people have as great a right to strike the English as the Americans have. But we only want them to sett still and look on, we are able to fight them ourselves. I have fully explain'd the nature of the war to you. Do you be carefull and have it well interpreted to you, and dont be Imposed on. You see what great Right we had to make war on the English, and how wrong the Red people was in fighting against us. And the Ruler of all things has continued to clear our eyes and cast a mist on our Enemies, so that there is shortly like to be a piece thro the land.

I Receiv'd Copies of the talks you got from the Illinois and was glad to find you Receiv'd them. I send you a few strings of wampum to Represent the sincerity of my heart, and to bury the bones of the slain. And now call you my brothers, taking you by the hand, confirming the piece between you and the Americans, hoping that Each party will conduct themselves so as that it may last as long as the waters flow. And that whenever we meet, we may smoke together as brothers ought to do, not Even Remember the days of darkness, and that our blood for the future may be dear to Each other. now brothers as him that liveth above the clouds hath thought fit to Join our hearts and hands together as true friends and allies, would it not be well for you to consider the neighboring nations that live near you, the creeks and others that are at war against us, and let them know of the cloud that hovers over their land, if they do not lay down the tomahawk—The americans are free and gencrous, they hold piece in one hand & war in the other. It would be well in you to Recommend to those people to make choice in time otherways their children may cry, when they might laugh, as the English will be no more. The great men of the Americans will be very glad to hear of this piece we have made, and I shall send letters thro' the land Every where proclaiming the piece that is now confirm'd

1782. between us. that the roads between us and you are made straight & Septem. 10th smooth. That the springs are sweet and the Rivers no longer troubled. But in order Brothers, to make this piece more solemn, I have sent Capt: George, one of my Officers, to Represent me at the great Council of your nation, and confirm what I have wrote to you. he is a warriar. believe what he says to you, as tho' I spoke it to you myself. When he gives you his hand, you Receive the hands of all the Americans and I hope when you are in Counsel together that the sky may be clear, that all your talks may be for the good of both nations, and all people that will hear them. Now Brothers Paymantahow, Mingahamaw, Tuskapapato and Pymingo, I sign my name and fix my seal to this good talk that it may Remain as witness among you, hoping that I receive another from you more agreeable than the first—

Blue Lick

Cols: Trigg
and Todd &c

Enlosed is a copy of the Recommendations made at our last court; so great a change proceeds from a cause truly lamentable, the Loss of our County Lieutenant, and a number of subaltans at the late attacks, but particularly at our defeat at the Blue Lieks when the Enemy put us wholly to the Rout—the eircumstances & particulars are these—On the 16th of August a party of Indians appeared at Bryants & by their behavior a large Party was supposed to lie round the Fort. An Express was sent here, my Brother being absent, I went with about 30 men Discovery and force my way into the Fort. near Bryants I was joined with about 10 more, finding the enemy lay round, we attempted forcing our way. 17 men on Horsebaek rushed in, the greater part of rest being on Foot were prevented & overpowered, obliged to seek safety by flight with the Loss of one killed & 3 wounded, one of which died the next morning—I immediately despatched an Express to Col: Trigg the highest officer in Lincoln, demanding assistance, & also Notice to Colo. Jno: Todd then in Lincoln—

Blue Licks

The Enemy commanded by Simon Girty made an attempt to fire the Fort, but were prevented with much Loss. they however kept up a Smart fire till the morning of the 17th when they went off—the same evening Col: Jno: Todd & Colo. Trigg arrived with a party of men, who with what we could raise soon made 170. On the morning of the 18th we pursued on their Trail. On the morning of the 19th we came within sight of the Enemy about  $\frac{3}{4}$  of a mile, north of the lower Blue Licks—we dismounted & began the attack with vigour, from our left the enemy retreated & we gained ground. Our Right within a minute or two gave way & found themselves to be flanked by the enemy. Our Line then gradually gave way from our Right to our Left till the whole broke in Confusion. The action lasted about five minutes. Our Loss, as near as we can ascertain is sixty six, among whom were our commanding officer Col: John Todd, Col: Trigg, Capts: Gordon, McBride, Kinkaid & Overton, Major Harlan, Major Bulger (who since died of his wounds) Mr. Jos: Lindsay & several gentlemen of note—the Enemy we suppose consisted of three or four Hundred—they took some prisoners, we suppose tho' very few, upwards of 40 were found, but we think a number more lay near the Battle ground. The Enemy must have suffered considerably, a great part of our men fought with much Resolution & Activity. The Conduct of the Officers is by some censured & charged with want of prudence in attacking at any Rate, but as we had no chance to know their number, we thought ours was not much Inferior & supposed we should by a fierce attack throw them in confusion & break their Lines. We are much alarmed in this County & fear the Consequence will be very detrimental if government cannot give assistance, tho' our great dependence is that if the County surveyor would attend, we should be strengthened with additional settlers not a few—

“Sir,

The Officers, Civil as well as Military, of this County, beg the attention of your Excellency & the H'ble Council. The number of the Enemy that lately penetrated into our County, their Behaviour; adding to this our late unhappy defeat at the Blue Licks, fill us with the greatest concern & anxiety. the Loss of our worthy officers & Souldiers who fell there the 19th of August, we sensibly feel & deem our situation truly Alarming. We can scarcely behold a spot of Earth, but what reminds us of the fall of some fellow adventurer massacred by Savage hands. Our number of militia decreases. Our widows & orphans are numerous, our officers and worthiest men fall a sacrifice. In short sir, our settlement, hitherto formed at the Expence of Treasure & much Blood seems to decline, & if something is not speedily done, we doubt will wholly be depopulated. the Executive we believe think often of us & wish to protect us, but Sir, we believe any military operations that for 18 months have been carried on in Consequence of Orders from the Executive, have rather been detrimental than Beneficial. Our Militia are called on to do duty in a manner that has a tendency to protect Jefferson County, or rather Louisville, a Town without Inhabitants, a Fort situated in such a manner, that the Enemy coming with a design to Lay waste our Country, would scarcely come within one Hundred miles of it, & our own Frontiers open & unguarded.  Septem. 11th County & no Surveyor has ever appeared among us, but has by appointment from time to time deceived us. our principal expectations of strength are from him. during his absence from the County Claimants of Land disappear, when if otherwise, they would be an additional strength.

We entreat the Executive to examine into the Cause, and remove it speedily. If it is thought impracticable to carry the war into the Enemy's Country, he beg the plan of building a Garrison at the mouth of Lime-stone & another at the mouth of Licking, formerly prescribed by your Excellency, might be again adopted & performed. A Garrison at the mouth of Limestone, would be a Landing place for adventurers from the Back parts of Pensylv'a & Virg'a, adjacent to a large Body of good Land which would be speedily settled—would be in the Enemy's principal crossing place, not more than fifty miles from Lexington our Largest settlement, & might readily be furnished with provition from above, till they would be supplied from our Settlements here. Major Netherland, we expect will deliver this. he will attend to give any particular information that may be deemed necessary—

Humanity towards Inhabitants destitute of Hopes of any other aid, will surely induce your Excellency to spare from the interior parts of the State 200 men, and a few pieces of Artillery for those purposes above mentioned.

AND'W STEELE TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

1782.

"Sir,

Septem. 12th

The present Important & alarming Crisis claim the serious Attention & mature Deliberation of Your Excellency & the Honourable House. The frequent Incursions & Hostile Depredations of a Savage Enemy upon our Exterior Posts, our Despersed Legions, our veteran army defeated, our Widows Tears & orphans cries grate strongly on the Ear, nay Thunder at the Door of your Council, not only for acts of consideration, but Protection & redress.

Fayette Co.

Lexington

To express the feelings of the Inhabitants at the Ruefull scenes of Barbarities daily perpetrated amongst us, banns all words & cut Description short. So fatal is the stroke that a second similar to that we have already Rec'd will close the Catastrophy & Terminate the Intire Devastation of our County. I would beg leave to inform you that annually since the seventeen Hund'd & seventy eight, an army of not less than three Hund'd Savages Infested our Territories & since seventy six, Eight Hundred & sixty Effective men fell, the matchless massacread victims of their unprecedented Cruelty. A few of the primitive adventurers yet survive, who supplicate your Excellencies Immediate Interposition in their behalf, in granting them such strength, as may enable them to carry on an offensive war, or at least Act in the Defensive with safety, for if some mode of preservation is not speedily adopted the wealthy will forthwith Emigrate to the Interior parts of the Settlement & the Poor to the Spaniards. Dreadfull alternative!! Nature recoils at the thought!—further, from the Jealous apprehension of the Inhabitants I am under the Disagreeable necessity of Informing your Excellency that from the Detainour of our County Surveyor (from whom their greatest Expectations of strength was derived) they are Induced to believe you have either withdrawn that Paternal care which they have long Rely'd on or rather the Executive Body are Dubious of the authenticity of their Claim to those Western Territories—I would also observe that the many Military Operations hitherto Effectuated, or rather Intended for our safety (the Seventeen Hundred & Eighty Indian Expedition excluded, the Honour whereof is Justly due to the militia) have centred at Louisville, a Town distant one Hund'd miles from the Center of our County, to which together with Fort Jefferson, Elinois & St. Vincennes, may the Innormous Expence of the Western fronteers be Attributed & not to the Counties of Kanetucky, which in eompetition would be less than a Mathematical Point. To Conclude, Permit us, once more the Indigent Offspring of an oppulent father, if not Equally to share, yet to partake of your Kind patronage & Protection & beg you would adopt such measures as your Superior Wisdom may suggest to Promote the Peace, wellfare & Tranquility of your Suppliants in particular & the Interest of the Commonwealth in Genl. Then shall we Congratulate ourselves in having you the Illustrious Patron & Protector of our Lives, Laws &

1782. Religious Liberties, when the annals of History will rank your name among the Bravest Patriots & Wisest Politicians & Gratitude like a Torrent will flow from the Heart of every Kanetuekian, whilst we Experience with what firmness you have supported our Interest. Our universal Joy & fervent Expressions of Allegiance & Gratitude.

Those public Testimonies of our Felicities will be Too convincing Proofs to Require any argument to support them.

Richmond He has complied with the orders "in raising and removing the Cannon from Warwick, Col: Caries mill and at this place," and will return the Laboratory men to their business at once, unless there is some other work for them. It is necessary to prepare some ammunition. Port-fires, Tubes &c. for the two pieces of Artillery with the State Legion agreeable to Capt. Roane's request. A small quantity of "Gause for sives" is wanting. There is a "16 Inch Mortar near the road leading to Han'r Court House "which can be brought to town on a waggon carriage, &c.

GENL: P. MUHLENBERG TO COL: DAVIES.

Cumberland
Old Court
House Sending Descriptive lists of deserters from that Post and Chesterfield Court House, and remarking "I should hate to see such a Catalogue of Deserters in the public Papers," would it not be more advisable to have descriptive list of them printed separate & to send a copy to each of the County Lieutenants! These would spread more effectually than the public papers & would prove of more effect."

GENL: P. MUHLENBERG TO THE GOVERNOR OF VA.

Cumberland
old Ct. House He has just rec'd a letter from Major Genl: Lincoln, in which he is instructed that no Commissions can be obtained for the officers of the Va. Line, in as much as under the "new arrangement" about to take place, by order of Congress, a considerable reduction in that force will be made. It is therefore necessary first to fix the rank of each officer, before any new commissions can be granted.

In the late appointment of Reeruiting officers, he neglected to provide for the Post at C. Old Ct. House, where there are now eighty men, whose terms of enlistment will soon expire, but who will probably rein-list, in as much as "the clothing is near at hand." He therefore requests that Captains Woodson & Paine take Goochland & Fluvanna & Capts: Kirkpatrick Bohannon & Lieut: Smith the Counties of Cumberland, Powhatan & the Rendezvous. It will only be necessary that the Co. Lieutenants of Cumberland and Powhatan receive instructions accordingly from the Executive, should this plan be approved. Capt. Ambrose Bohannon's & Capt. Abraham Kirkpatrick's appointment was approved by the Gov'r.

CHAS: DICK TO COL: DAVIES.

Septem. 12th

He has issued no arms since the last returns made. Col: Peachy whose letter is enclosed of Richmond Co. wanted some. In July last he had nineteen workmen employed and five apprentices; by promises and assurances of getting their pay he had kept them at work for some time, but their patience was exhausted, and the sufferings of their families had caused them to drop off, until now he has only four, with two apprentices whose time of service are almost expired. Continues "There is a compleat master workman whose business it is to examine the work, and if properly finished to receive it, direct them where in fault, and instruct them when ignorant, issues out the proper Tools and materials for work, Provisions to be cook'd, in short every thing for the proper management of such a large Family, and when at leisure, works. When Breakfast & Dinner are ready the Bell rings and all regularly sit down at table to eat, when done, to work again, so that no time is lost. When absent they are duly charged with the lost time.

Fredericks-

There is a spacious garden which supplies the necessary Greens and roots, & a noble spring of water. By the above method, order & Government, with sundry rules too tedious to mention, and the greatest Economy, the Factory has been carried on to this day, to the great advantage of the State.

The above manager is at £125 pr: ann: the workmen as in merit from £3. 5s. to £5. 10s. pr: month. Each is necessary in his way, as the scourer of a Gun bar'l cannot do the work of a compleat finisher of musket, or repair Arms. Where work can be done by the piece, I have it done, being better for the country and gives encouragement to the industrious—for stocking a musket 6 shills: fileing a Gun Lock 6 shill—mounting pr: sett 3 shill &c. &c. Thus I have endeavour'd to give you a very short but true sketch of the business of this Factory, which can produce compleat muskets & Bayonets superior to most imported, from the Ruff materials of wood, Iron & Steel, and make their own Tools & variety of machinery for the greater Dispatch. It may be carried on to any Extent, provided to do this, a necessary stock of the most necessary articles are laid in, and the Workmen duly and faithfully paid, at a cheaper rate and much greater dispatch than private Shops, when they hardly know what it is to do a Day's Work."

1782. John Coleman Co. Lieut., informs the Governor, that in accordance Septem. 13th with the Act of the last Genl: Assembly, for recruiting the states quota Halifax Co. of troops to serve in the Army of the U. States, he had summoned the Field Officers, Capts: & Clerks together to arrange the "Divisions" in the County, of which there were "56," and proceeded according to law. The returns have come in, "but produced no Soldier, every militia man had paid their propotion." The Exempts however had not paid, and steps were taken accordingly.

The amount of Tax collected is "four Hundred & seventy pounds," of which he has in hand "three hundred & sixty" and "shall be glad to know by the Bearer" what he is to do with it.

Septem. 13th HENRY BELL TO BRIG: GENL: MUHLENBERG "AT THE RENDEZVOUS."

"Sir

Buckingham
County

I received your favour by your messenger (James White) this moment: in which you request me to send you the circumstances and reasons which induced me to Apprehend and Confine a party sent from your Post to apprehend a Certain John Childres of this county as a Deserter. They are as follows. The said John Childres had been a Deserter I will admitt: but was not so at that time, neither is he so now, or a discharge will avail any man nothing: for I had before me Col: Febiger's (letter) dated the sixth day of August last.

Part of what the Sergeant reported was true, and if you had seen the Letter which I wrote to Genl: Scott, by the Sergeant, you would then have seen that I neither headed the Party myself, nor treated the Soldiers ill. I did not (tho' a militia officer) act in this matter as an officer: Upon Childriss being apprehended, he dispatched a messenger to me and claimed the protection of the Civil Power: In consequence I as a Justice of the Peace for this County had a right, and did Issue my Warrant, and ordered the Officer to take as much assistance as he should think necessary and take the Party together with Childres and bring them before me, to be examined by what authority they had taken the said Childres. accordingly they were taken and brought before me and upon Examination I found they had no orders for doing what they had done, except in their own Justification, said they were ordered by a Sergeant Stephens (who was then out on Command) to go to Childres' and take him and carry him to one of the neighbours and then to wait until he should come up. In order to be fully satisfied in the matter, I Issned another Warrant and Ordered a party to go to the House where the Soldiers said their Sergeant was, to meet them and bring him to me to be examined whether the others had taken Childres of their own accord or not: Upon the Sergeants being brought, I examined him by what authority he had sent them four Soldiers (pointing to them, for I knew not their names) to take Childres. he readily answered me he had: I then asked him for his Orders, which he produced. I then referred to Colo. Febiger's discharge and Compared it with the date of the orders and found that the Discharge was prior to the Orders, and consequently no military Officer upon Earth had a right to take Childres, and thereupon discharged Childres, and told the Sergeant he might repair to his Post as soon as he pleased, for that the officer who sent him had no right to do so, but that he himself was not to blame, neither were the men under his command: and treated them with as much civility as I was master of. 1782. Septem. 13th

You are Grievously misinformed if you think Childres obtained his Discharge fraudulently: for admitting him to have been a Soldier for the war (tho' this by the by, was never before charged against him) no man ever gained a Discharge by a Substitute with less deception: for it is well known that Childres never saw the Substitute from the day he was hired (& that was done without his knowledge) 'till after he had Deserted.

As to my opinion of Childres, it is a matter of no consequence in the Present dispute: for the dispute now is whether the civil or military Power is to govern. If you will examine the Bill of Rights for this State, you will there find who are to be subservient. And as to what Childres might apprehend by being carried and tried by a court martial, I know not: but this much I know, you nor no officer In the Army have any right to apprehend a civil citizen of this State and drag him before a court martial to be tried for crimes he knows not of. As to my treatment of the Soldiers, Disarming and Confining them merely for doing their Duty, I hope I have fully satisfied you on this head: If not, I will Justify it forever. I do know that they were amenable to the officer from whom they received their orders, for their Conduct: and I at the same time know that officers sometimes Issue orders, that were they to be tried by the Laws of this State they could not Justify themselves. It is true you ought to be as much bound by the Laws of this State, as any citizen in it, and consequently ought to take care how you violate them.

I am sorry to find a Gentleman of your Rank and Character get so warm on a Subject, in my opinion not worth it, for it is very true neither you nor I have Authority to do what we think Justice to ourselves; and am sure Genl: Muhlenberg must have forgot himself when he mentions trying the Mettle of the high spirited militia of this County, with the poor remains of the Virg'a Line; for had he not, he would have trembled at the thought of being the first mover of one Brothers cutting the Throat of another.

But this much Genl: Muhlenberg may rely on, notwithstanding what he writes, that I will to the utmost of my Power Defend the Civil Rites of every Free Citizen, not only within this County, but throughout the Whole State. The Officer which I sent and apprehended your soldiers, 1782. informed me he had about sixteen or eighteen men with him: I will Septem. 13th leave you to Judge whether you were rightly informed as to their number or not—

You entertain a very unjust Opinion of me, if you think that I detain Childress for any advantage that he would be to me in any Case whatsoever: and as to your looking to me for him: from me you shall never get him, unless he Commits a Crime for which the Civil Power of this State condemns him to be a Soldier, in which case I would as cheerfully deliver him to you, as any other Officer belonging to the Army.

If I have been so unfortunate, from all that I have said, not to be able to convince you that I have acted a Just Part, and one Justifiable by the Laws of this State; you may represent the matter to His Excellency the Governor as soon as you please, when I have no doubt ample Justice will be done: without the evidence of John Childress—

I am Sir,

Your most obed't Serv't."

Septem. 14th JNO: SCOTT TO COL: DAVIES, in regard to the settlement of the Commissioners' accounts in his District.

Albemarle Co. The Com'rs of Fluvanna, Messrs. Haden, Williamson and Quarles wanted a quantity of Hemp, with which to purchase Sugar of Mr. Peter Perkins' wagons "traveling from North to South" to do which they sold the "public hemp" and have never settled for it. He hears they are about to Settle with the Auditors at Richmond and pay in paper money what it "Sold for near two years ago." They desire to settle "below" in order to avoid doing so with him, and so get "clear without being detected"—He hopes no Settlement will ever be allowed at the Auditors from his District, except through his hands, as he is determined to "sift every matter to the bottom." He is about to "fall on a new method" of bringing the Comm'rs to a settlement, that is "to go to those Gents' houses & live on them till they will settle with me." He fears a bad account will be given from Albemarle Co. Mr. Key cannot be brought to a settlement but he shall go to his house and require it—indeed he would be glad to arrange his accounts with "any body below" rather than with himself "for reasons best known to himself." If Mr. Robertson still wants the corn he wrote for, near the county line of Albemarle & Louisa, it will be impossible to get it, as the County "owes Dr. Walker & Son a large quantity borrowed by the Marquiss' Order, and drawn on the Com'rs to pay it."

ARTHUR LIND TO COL: DAVIES.

Septem. 14th

Respecting his rank as Surgeon in the Army. His appointment
"runs thus." Richmond

"CHESTERFIELD, April 17th, 1781.

Capt:

Lt: Arthur Lind is appointed to do the duties of Regimental Surgeon at this place

STEUBEN, Maj: Genl: "

From this date he has been with the Genl: Rendezvous, has attended and inoculated the Troops and has never been absent from duty. Has never had any assistance, except when Dr. Yates remained one month at the Rendezvous, where he has always had forty to fifty sick men, exclusive of two hundred and fifty-four men inoculated.

He desires now to know what his position is in the Army. If he is a Regimental Surgeon, he "shall do the duties of that post," if Hospital, he "must be appointed to that station" and if neither, he wishes to be paid and discharged. The consciousness of his having always complied with his engagements as Surgeon, gives him a degree of satisfaction "that mankind cannot take away."

Concludes "I took up arms in the defence of American Liberty so early as August 1775. I have served the State from that period to this.
I never had a furlough, & have ever had a great share of health, which has enabled me to persevere thro' the difficulties of a Soldier's life, in every station, from the carrying of a musquet, to the wielding of a Clyster pipe." * * * * *

All I wish, all I want is to know whether I am a Surgeon or not."

ROBERT BEVERLY TO "HIS EXCELLENCY BENJ: HARRISON, ESQ'R, & Septem. 15th
THE HONOURABLE, THE GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL."

"Amidst the many embarrassments & distresses in which we have been for some years involved, it has been difficult for a subject of this state to know by what line he is to conduct himself. The present constitution was intended to be founded upon liberty & the bill of rights 1782. was said to be the palladium, by which our citizens were to be protected.

 Septem. 15th It is not my design to say in what a variety of instances, I have experienced a deviation from these principles. The cause of my present address proceeds from a violence which was offer'd to me last year. In the multitude of articles which were unconstitutionally wrested from me, were two of my chariot horses. They were taken with many circumstances (of) insult by a Mr. John Baylor & his armed party called volunteer Dragoons, were made use of by Mr. Baylor, & at length fell into the hands of Col: Temple of moylands, & Capt: Pemberton, of Whites regiments. One of these horses some time ago came to the plantation of a friend of mine in King & Queen, who hired one of his neighbors to bring him to me, onscious that I had received no compensation for him & supposing that no power could be authorized to detain the property of another.

Sollicitous however, to avoid censure, I wrote to Col: Temple & recapitulated the circumstances attending the seizure of the horse & his being sent to me. From this gentleman I received the answer here inclosed, & from whence you will be enabled to judge who has the most equitable title to the horses in question & whether they ought to be returned to me or not. I should be glad to live in a society where the laws are properly promulgated, & where these laws are to be the sole directors of men's conduct. In such a society, it is an easy matter to acquit ourselves as good citizens & thereby render such a society comfortable to all its members.

Before I conclude, I must beg gentlemen, that you will be pleased, through the hands of Col: Smith, to send me such instructions as you shall think proper upon this occasion, by which you will oblige, gentlemen, yr: most obedt. & most hum. Servt.

"Sir

York Town

Your Excellency's letter by Majr. Dick, I have received, and shall order a Court Martial for the tryal of Capt: Roan your Excellency may rest assured that neither Capt: Roan or any other officer of the Legion shall be protected by the military from the prosecution of the civil law. The warrant against Capt: Roan was issued at Williamsburg, and no attempt has been made to take him here. Last Wednesday about thirty of the Cavalry on baek river refused to do duty, till they were paid, and paraded on Horsebaek in order to go to Richmond and apply for money. from the exertions of the officers they were dispersed, and the ring leaders are here in irons. I shall have them tried by a Court Martial. Unless the Troops get money soon, I fear it will be out of my power to keep them in service. We are very sickly at this post. I have done every thing in my power to cleanse the Town, and can assign no other reason for it, but from the putrefaction of the number of dead bodies buried here last fall, who lie near the surface of the earth. 1782. Septem. 16th

Col: Davies encloses to the Governor a statement from Mr. James Anderson of the Condition of the Tools, &c., belonging to the State, he having retired from "public business" the previous July. Every article delivered to him had been carefully preserved until Arnold's invasion in January, 1781, when nearly the whole were destroyed including "eight pair of bellows"—A few "anvils and vices" alone were preserved. Wm. Reynolds informs Col: Davies, he has had the "mortar removed to Westham" unless he can know the location of the cannon "on the several creeks of nansemond" he can give no information as to the difficulties to be encountered in raising them. Respecting the collections of the Specific Tax in his district. The wheat not yet ground because of the excessive draught in the whole county. The people very backward in paying up their grain, but the sherifs will collect it all. Bacon cannot be gotten, but he can procure beef and pork by bartering for them with flour. The Commissioners of Berkeley, Hampshire & Frederick have as yet made no return altho' he has made repeated applications to them, and has consumed at least "two quires of paper" in writing to them: but he finds it would be as much to the purpose, were he "to write to an Indian" on the subject. The militia ordered to the westward he suppose "won't have to march, as "Genl. Irvin writes that there has not been seen any enemy on the frontiers this five weeks." Should they have marched, he orders that they be halted at "Brasons Town on the southwest side of Laurell Hill." Winchester

DAVID ROSS TO GOV: HARRISON.

Septem. 17th "Sir

Petersburg

By the "Duc de Armberg, "Cutter," just arrived from Ostend, I have received letters as late as the 13th of July, & the London papers to the 6th of that month.

It appears that another considerable change in the British ministry has taken place. my correspondent writes to me that this alteration had been so recent, no proper judgm't could be formed what tendency it would have on the proposed negotiations for peace." * * *
* * * "Some time ago, indeed before my entering into the agency for the State, the situation of the Virginia Soldiers in point of clothing was such as at once ruined the recruiting business, delay'd the service and disgraced the Commonwealth: this, together with the warm solicitations of many of the then members of the council induced me to use my best endeavours to procure cloathing for the Troops upon my own Credit, but no engag'mt was made on either side as I did not know how far I would be able to succeed I could not with propriety contract for fear of the disgrace of disappointing the public. however I took the same measures, as tho' I had been under the most absolute engag'mt.

The continued invasion of the country soon afterwards put a stop to all importations for a considerable time & I expected the orders I had given would not have been attended to, unless removed on my part—however it seems soon after the news of the Reduction of York & Gloucester, my friends took up the orders & proceeded upon them.

By this cutter I have received Cloath'g for a thousand Soldiers including suits for 100 Sergeants. This with another parcel rec'd some time ago, via St Thomas, will be sufficient for 1500 or 2000 Troops.

The coats are of blue cloth, lined through with white serge & metal buttons U. S. A. Waist coats white twil'd cloth lined through with serge, buttons the same as the coats, breeches of stout white twil'd cloth with flannel linings & buttons same as coats & waistcoat—the Sergeants Cloaths made in same manner but better cloth. I wish now to know of your Excellency if this cloathing will be wanted for the use of the State.

I know that we are soon to raise a considerable number of Troops but I also know that there is cloathing ready in France if it can be got in time." * * * * *

Daniel Ross informs the Governor, he will be enabled in a few days to "dispatch all the Flags," and hopes they will carry nearly all (the tobacco) due them. Mr. Braxton has paid but "a trifle of his bond." He has been "greatly distressed in making up the Tobacco, and had not intended to call upon the Commercial Agent for any payment at this time, but being unexpectedly pressed for sums he cannot now discharge," he has requested Mr. Hay to allow him "150 Hhds: upper Tob'o & about 100 hhd: North Tob'o, as there is a large amount still due him, independently of what has been furnished the "Flags." Requiring of them monthly Statements, from all their Agents, Subalterns &c. with the proper vouchers—this has become necessary on account of the "Peculative frauds and the speculating with the public money" known to be in practice among these officers. Unusual amounts of money, in future, are not to be allowed to remain in the hands of any officer or agent; and in cases where it is evident they are living above their means, or appear to have become suddenly rich, especial vigilance is to be exercised, particularly in cases where monies due are retained beyond a reasonable time, or where there may be even slight suspicion of abuses of trust &c.

Respecting the execution of the recruiting law in that County. It had been laid off into "forty nine districts" including the young men just arrived at the age of eighteen years. He has received, however, but one recruit, John Daugherty by name, and he has deserted. Ed: Wilkerson and Wm. Gibbs, "a very infirm man" are the only two militia men ready to be delivered. According to the Clerk's return, the amount of the County's tax to be levied is six hundred and eighty-one Pounds, twelve shillings—A part of this sum he thinks proper to transmit to the Treasury by the hands of Colo. Robt. Goode, "being informed of many bold Robers & house-breakers in these parts." He shall issue warrants against all delinquents, and hopes soon to collect the whole levy. Chesterfield

HARRY INNES, DISTRICT COMM., TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

Septem. 20th

Desiring to be informed whether the "Powder & Lead that is manufactured by the Labrotary" in that County "is State or Continental"? Both Mr. Irish and Mr. Bonne Pirce had failed to give him the information. Bedford County

In accordance with his orders of the 11th June last, he had ceased to issue supplies on continental account; and Colo. Carrington on his way to the Southern Army promised punctual payment for the provisions furnished the Continental Posts at New London & Peytonsburg from Jany: 1st. 1782 to Jay: 1st. 1783, "being the time fixed for discharging all his contracts here."

1782. As to the Powder & Lead used at New London Laboratory, Mr. Price Septem. 20th certifies that all the Powder on hand before the "reduction of York" came from Prince Ed: Ct. House, and what was at York & Wmsburg was delivered to Capt Irish by Thos: Jones Deputy Field Com'y. The Lead, "about fifteen thousand weight" came from the Lead mines.

The Returns of issues made by him, should have long since been made but for his serious illness with remitting fever. He cannot now travel far, and those delinquent County Comm'rs certainly will not come "50 or 60 miles" to settle with him. He will take care to supply all recruits coming to N. London.

Respecting the order "for the fourth part of the Militia to hold themselves in readiness to march" when called upon. He is confident if the Executive were aware of the situation of the Counties along the Bay, where "the Enemy's Barges are continually passing and repassing, plundering and doing mischief they would not desire any of the militia to be taken away." He submits however cheerfully to their superior judgment. As to the public Arms, they were carried away at the time of the Seige of York, together with all the private ones to be gotten and were never returned. He expects a supply from Fredericksburg with ammunition &c., and the sooner they come the better, as the militia "are making a bad appearance" for want of them.

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

"Sir

Washington
Co.

Your favor of the 7th inst: I received a few days ago. The goods sent up for the Indians was forwarded to Colo. Martin shortly after they were delivered at my House, to which I added two casks of Powder from our County magazine, which we could ill spare considering our troubles with the northward Indians. Mr. Harry Innes however writes me however, that as soon as he receives other Powder he will forward it. I dont know who informed the Executive that there was no public powder in the County. My last return by order of the Executive will show a state of that matter; however to explain myself to you, I think in the last year of Mr. Henry's administration, or the first of the succeeding Governor's, 250 or 300 lbs. Powder was ordered from the Public magazine in Botetourt, part of it got damaged crossing New River in a waggon, the remainder I have taken care of and distributed with as much frugality as if it had been of the value of gold dust; besides this there was a certain quantity sent to the particular care of the late Genl: Campbell, part of which was burnt at the battles of King's Mountain and Guilford, and a small part still remains in the County, in the care of Major Dycart. What I heard was in Mr. Baker's possession, I also mentioned in my last return; but it might as well been in the moon for any use it has been to this County. 1782. Septem. 20th

An unwillingness has taken place in fact, to undertake the business of Commissioners of Specifics; not I believe from any disaffection to the public interest, but from the impracticability of executing the law. Figure to yourself a County one hundred miles long and fifty or upwards, broad, intersected by various ranges of high mountains, and consider how hard it is to men of small fortunes, frequently in immediate danger from the Indians, or harrassed in searching for them to carry grain &c. to a magazine 20 or 30 or some cases 40 miles from them. It is true cash is an alternative; but alas of the shining metals we have almost none. The most of this County men happen to be Whigs. Our confidence in the public faith, our zeal for the promotion of American politics learned us early to despise gold and take paper. A few designing pedlars (and perhaps British Agents) with other speculators swept the hard money away before the paper was knocked down, and our distance from market and the dullness of Trade, since none of the new circulating Specie are yet brought in, added to this the public are in arrears to us for personal Service, provisions &c. since the year 1779, particularly the Expeditions to King's Mountain, Cherokee Towns and the affair at Guilford, which straitened poor men exceedingly to mount, equip and furnish themselves with provisions so suddenly for such distant and hard times.

Col: Christian pass'd the other day on his way to the Long Island.

Col: Martin is expected about this time from the Towns, so expect the the negociation with the Cherokees will be brought to a point. I hear Carolina goes on with their preparations for an Expedition against them.

I trusted our Governor or General Greene would have so interfered that no clashing of measures would have happened.

On the 11th Inst: a party of northward Indians penetrated as far in this County as the Settlement on the head of Mockison Creek, which is within ten or twelve miles of Abingdon; attacked a family of fourteen in number, of course secured in an interior part, kill'd the husband on the spot, captivated the wife and six of the children, three of whom after being a short space in the enemies hands, was most inhumanly murdered, one a young woman so long survived the blows as told the tragic tale. Two made their escape the first day and night. The old woman and one child with a considerable booty in horses, household goods &c., was carried foward three days some distance down Sandy River. When part of our militia on duty, with a perseverance in pursuit thro' a most rugged and difficult way, that does them honor, overtook the Indians and wounded several of them, recovered unhurt the 1782. two remaining Captives, with the Indian's baggage and plunder they Septem. 20th had taken.

I have the honor to be with great respect,
your most Obedient Servant
"20th. Sept."

"Sir

Just as I was about closing my letter, a few lines reached me from Colo: Martin: a copy is as follows:

"BATTLE GROUND NEAR LONG ISLAND, Sept: 18th, '82."

Dear Colo.

I this moment returned from the towns, have the pleasure to inform you that the Chocomogga Indians have given up all the prisoners except three, which could by no means be got to Chota. by the Day appointed, but they promise to bring them in very shortly. I believe that never people were more desirous of peace than the Cherokees; but I hear the forces from this State are now starting. I shall set off this evening to see Col: Sevier. Colo. Hardin went with me to the Towns, got his son who was a prisoner. He thinks peace by all means is best. If opportunity offers please write to the Governor, and inform him what I am doing. I should write much more to you, but have no ink, am forced to make use of Gun-powder.

Your most obt. Serv't.

JOS: MARTIN."

About three weeks ago Colo. Martin wrote the Governor of N. Carolina an account of his negociations with the Cherokees, to which at his request I added my sentiments as a Continental Commissioner. No answer has yet been received. And I am told that lately, reiterated orders have been received to proceed on the Expedition, Genl: McDowal to conduct the forces from the North State, Genl: Pickens, those from South Carolina & Georgia. To both of whom several arguments have been sent to embrace the present very submissive overtures for peace from the Indians, as the best means to secure the prosperity of the States."

Yours as before

"We might not be so anxious for peace with the Cherokees, were it not if the war is continued, we will be the greatest sufferers; for probably the Cherokees will be drove from the vally they at present live in, lower down the Cherokee River, or somewhere westward of the Appalachain Mountains. The Kentucky path now full of travellers, and that Country attacked by the Southern as well as Northern Tribes, will make it a place of very disagreeable residence."

He is at a loss what to do towards meeting the demands made upon his district. Mr. Roberson has rec'd orders from him for "every kind of Specifics to be had" and every thing is exhausted except perhaps some "diversion beef" collected with the clothing required—doubts whether the latter will be wanted, as no recruits will be raised in the region of Cabbin Point. GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France & Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith and so forth, To our TRUSTY AND WELL BELOVED RICHARD OSWALD OF OUR CITY OF LONDON, ESQUIRE, Greeting. Septem. 21st Westminster England

Whereas by virtue of an Act past in the last session of Parliament, entitled "An act to enable his Majesty to conclude a peace or truce with Certain Colonies in North America therein mentioned" it is recited, that it is essential to the intent, welfare and prosperity of Great Britain & the Colonies or plantations of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, the three lower counties on Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, S. Carolina & Georgia in North America, that Peace, intercourse, Trade and commerce should be restored between them.

Therefore & for a full manifestation of our earnest wish and desire, and of that of our Parliament to put an end to the calamities of war, it is enacted that it should and might be lawful for us to treat, consult of agree and conclude with any commissioner or commissioners, named or to be named, by the said Colonies or Plantations or any of them respectively, or with any body or bodies corporate or politic, or any assembly or assemblies or Descriptions of men or any person or persons whatsoever, a peace or a truce with the said colonies or plantations or

1782. any of them, or any part or parts thereof, any law, act or acts of Parliament, matter or thing to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding—
Septem. 21st Now know ye that we reposing special trust in your Wisdom, Loyalty, diligence & circumspection in the management of the Affairs to be hereby committed to your Charge, have nominated and appointed, constituted and assigned, and by these presents, do nominate & appoint, constitute and assign you the said Richard Oswald, to be our commissioner in that behalf to use & exercise all and every the powers and authorities hereby entrusted and committed to you the said Richard Oswald, and to do, perform and, execute all other matters and things, hereby enjoined and committed to your care during our will and pleasure & no longer, according to the tenor of these our letters patent; and it is our Royal will and pleasure, and we do hereby authorize, empower, and require you the said Richard Oswald, to treat consult of and conclude with any commissioners or persons vested with equal powers, by and on the part of the Thirteen United States of America viz New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, the three lower counties on Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina & Georgia in North America a peace or a truce with the said thirteen United States, any Law, Act or Acts of Parliament, matter or thing to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding. And it is our further will and pleasure, that every regulation, provision, matter or thing which shall have been agreed upon between you the said Richard Oswald, and such commissioners or persons aforesaid, with whom you shall have judged meet and sufficient to enter into such agreement, shall be fully and distinctly set forth in writing, and authenticated by your hand and seal on one side & by the hands & seals of such commissioners or persons on the other, & such instrument so authenticated—shall be by you transmitted to us through one of our principal secretaries of State. And it is our further will and pleasure that you the said Richard Oswald shall promise and engage for us & in our Royal name and Word, that every regulation, provision, matter or thing, which may be agreed to & concluded by you our said commissioner, shall be ratified and confirmed by us in the fullest manner and extent, & that we will not suffer them to be violated or counteracted either in whole or in part, by any person whatsoever; and we do hereby require and command all our officers Civil & Military, and all others our loving subjects whatsoever to be aiding and assisting unto you the said Richard Oswald in the execution of this our Commission, and of the powers and authorities herein contained. Provided always & we do hereby declare & ordain that the several offices, powers and authorities hereby granted shall cease, determine and become null & void, on the first day of July which shall be in the year of Our Lord One thousand, Seven hundred and Eighty three, altho' we shall not otherwise in the mean time have revoked and determined the same.

And whereas in and by our Commission & letters patent under our great seal of Great Britain, bearing date the seventh day of August last, we nominated and appointed, constituted and assigned you the said Richard Oswald to be our Commissioner, to treat, consult of, agree and conclude with any commissioner or commissioners named or to be named by certain colonies or plantations in America therein specified, a Peace or a truce with the said colonies or Plantations. 1782. Septem. 21st

Now Know Ye that we have revoked and determined and by these presents do revoke and determine our said commission & Letters patent & all & every power article & thing therein contained. In witness whereof we have caused these our letters to be made patent.

Witness ourself at Westminster this twenty first day of September in the twenty second year of our reign.

W. ARMSTEAD TO THE GOVERNOR.

Septem. 23d
Richmond

In regard to the proposed settlement of his accounts. Mr. Hays thinks an Order from the Executive is necessary before can feel authorized to proceed in the business.

When he first came to Richmond to engage "in publick business," it was at the particular "instance & desire" of the Council, in consideration of the great inconvenience attending his removal without previous provision having been made for a dwelling house, that he had rented one at the public cost. This he had unwillingly done, and at the rate of "sixty pounds pr: annum." As soon as his affairs shall have been arranged, he proposes to leave the City; but the rent of the above mentioned house is now due, and unless paid, there will be an attachment of his personal property, "a ceremony which he has no reason to expect his Landlord will dispense with." He therefore begs leave to request that so much of his wages may be advanced, as will enable him "to depart in peace from the premises." In view of the great poverty of the State, nothing but absolute necessity & justice to his family compells him to make this demand.

W. ARMISTEAD TO THE GOVERNOR.

Richmond

Having been required by the Executive to remove to Richmond in the discharge of his official duties, he was provided with a dwelling house at a rent "of sixty pounds pr: annum." It was not in accordance with his wishes to have been thus furnished at public cost; for now as he is about to leave the city, unless his pay is advanced to him at once, his landlord "will not dispense with the ceremony" of attaching his personal property, if his rent is not paid.

The money received of the former Commissioners, is not worth the expence of hiring a person to carry it to the Treasury.

Laying before him an application from Col: White for the appointment of certain officers. From Lieut: Scott of White's Regiment just from the South, he learns, it now consists of only "two troops in the field, and has but 144 men in the whole." Under the Resolutions of Congress of Aug: 7th no more officers can be appointed and Genl: Greene could not have been aware of this fact at the date of his letter on this subject. In addition to this, Genl: Lincoln Sec'y of War, as instructed by Congress, actually withholds Commissions from officers promoted: hence the appointments of "Howel and Throckmorton and Charles Scott" were improper; and of course the same applies to "Hughes and Massey (a South Carolinian)."

Continues, "you will observe by a late change in the ministry the prospect of peace seems to vanish, tho' Politicians think it only a maneuver to put a different face on the negociations, which by the last accounts are still going on.

Despatches which arrived in the Eagle, Capt: La Touch, who was unfortunately run on shore and Burnt near the capes of Delaware, but luckily saved the money and officers belonging to the Army in America, may probably throw more light on the state of affairs. Philadelphia

By the two Frigates mentioned in our last, Congress have received letters from Doct'r Franklin & Mr. Jay, who were at Versailles, dated the 25th & 29th of June. The sum of the intelligence which they bring concerning negotiations for peace, is that the sincerity manifested at one period by the Court of London in her advances toward a pacification, had been succeeded by an apparent design to draw the negotiations into length, with the hope of such further advantages during the campaign as would enable her to rise in her demands.

Some communications which have been made to Congress, by the French minister present the same idea.

The loss sustained in the French Frigate which had got aground in Delaware Bay proves to be greater than was at first reported. The Enemy have succeeded in their attempts to float her, and have taken in her, besides a considerable quantity of merchandize, nearly 50,000 Dollars.

The paper No. 1 herewith enclosed, being an Extract of a letter from Doct'r Franklin to the Superintendant of Finance, will inform your Excellency of some further tokens of friendship, which the United States have received from their Ally."

We have the honor to be, with great esteem, your Excellency's obedt: & h'ble servants.

"I am upon the point of liquidating all our accounts with the Government here, and giving one general obligation for the whole sum that the King has lent us (exclusive of gifts or subsidies) wh. sum amounts to 18,000,000 livres. By the particular obligations I have from time to time given for separate sums, I had engaged in behalf of the Congress, that they should be paid off, the 1st Jan'y 1788, with the interest at 5 pr: cent. By the terms of this general obligation, which is in form of an agreement or contract between the King & the U. States, his majesty graciously considering that it may incommode the U. States to pay the whole sum at one time, is pleased to agree that it may be paid in 12 different yearly payments, to commence with the first year after the peace: leaving nevertheless to our choice & liberty the payment of any greater proportion and more early periods as may be convenient to our finances. His majesty also Kindly & generously remits all the interest already accrued on my former obligations, or that would have accrued thereby to the end of the war, which is already a considerable sum. With regard to the 10,000,000 livres borrowed in Holland, we have that 1782. at 4 pr: ct., and we are to pay the interest annually here, on the 5th of Septem. 24th Nov'r, the first payment in Nov'r next: and after five years we are to begin to repay the principal in ten-yearly payments, so that in 15 years that debt will be discharged. The charges of commission & Banque on this loan have been considerable & paid by the King. These also his majesty is pleased to remit."

Septem. 25th

CAPT: H. YOUNG TO THE EXECUTIVE.

Richmond The shortness of the present crop, has so much increased the demand for grain of all kinds every where within reach of Richmond, that it cannot now be procured on credit, except at very advanced prices. He has only about "twenty days forage on hand" and is destitute of money. He therefore suggests, that a sufficient quantity of the Public Tobacco be disposed of, so as to obtain a supply of grain. The great scarcity of money will doubtless induce the people to take tobacco for grain, if it be offered them before the next collections. Grain is said to be selling low on the Eastern shore; if so, tobacco might be deposited with the Commissioner there, to pay for grain. The risk and freight from the Eastern Shore to this side, will be amply balanced by the difference in prices here and there. Concludes, "Without considering Colo. Dabney's Corps, we shall consume, at half allowance, at this Post, and at the Point of Fork, eighty thousand weight of long Forage, from the first of October, to the first of May, and five hundred bushels of corn pr: month."

“Sir

I wrote your Excellency by Express of the 4th Inst: to which I have had no return, but received the papers & instructions of the 9th by a rider dispatched by Mr. Hay C. A. who delivered the travelling stores &c., and $150 specie. I am sorry to observe the money is by no means adequate to the purposes: however that difficulty may perhaps be got over. this morning Mr. Peterson handed me an open letter from Col: Logan for the Executive, informing your Excellency of the melancholy eatastrophy of many valuable people in that Country. Your Excellency will perceive that Country is in a great confusion and disorder, and be convinced the powers desired by the Commiss’r, in the letter I had the honour of writing your Excellency by Armstrong are not altogether unnecessary—permit me to transcribe part of a letter I received from Col: Bowman, of the 30th of August last dated “Lincoln” “some of our men have been stealing horses from the French at Oport, which has occasioned great disturbance among them. The French sent 50 of the Oport Indians after their horses, retook all their horses. one of our men is missing, we suppose he is killed.

Botetourt

What has raised the Jealousy of the French, is that Genl: Clark’s Express arrived but a few days before the horses were taken, to Mr. Dalton to contrive the cannon privately from Oport to the falls. The French demanding a sight of the express, it was refused, which has confirmed their opinion that Genl: Clark is concerned in sending the men there for that purpose, and if this breach is not made up shortly we may expect all the Western Indians on our backs.” I must suppose Genl:

1782. Clark has sent for the heavy cannon agreeable to instructions, to be removed with as little noise as possible, however the taking the horses in a clandestine way, as it is represented in the above extract, may make it more difficult for the Commiss'r of Ace'ts to settle & examine into the business of that part of the country. I design, with the other Comssrs. to set out the first of Oct'r. we may be detained a few days in Washington county, to make up a sufficient party to pass with security to Kentucky. Mr. Granville Smith is come up, but is wavering in his resolution to go out, as he thinks it will be exceeding difficult to provide horses & other necessarys without money. meeting with Col: Logan's Express, I thought it might not be amiss to write by him.

I have the honour to be, with great respect Your Excellency's most obt. Humble Servant."

DAVID ROSS TO THE GOVERNOR.

' Arrowfield ' Thanking him for renewed proofs of his friendship and politeness. He trusts however he shall be able to ride in a few days, when he will appear in Richmond to meet these difficulties &c.

Septem. 26th Capt: A. Bohannan has received the Governor's appointment as

DAVID ROSS TO THE GOVERNOR.

' Arrowfield ' He observes that under the present arrangement, the "Financier Genl: is to Cloath the whole army." He, himself, claims no contract, although he imported the goods solely for the purpose of clothing the Troops, and as he was not bound to the State, of course the State is not bound to him. The letter his Excellency proposes to address to the Financier is all he can expect, and if he wants to purchase clothing, "he may as well lay out a part of the money in Virginia, as else where."

Jno. I rec'd your favor pr: Capt: Kirkpatrick: I am unhappy to be informed that his Excellency the Governor should (from the reports of busy people) suppose me capable of acting a part so derogatory from the line of duty in particular & the Interest of the State in Gen'l, as to attempt the destruction of the magazine, or any other part of the public stores at this place, which is under my care. The very Idea wounds my feelings much. I therefore request that his Excellency (should he think it advisable) order an enquiry into my conduct respecting that matter, as also for my other Transactions of the duties of the Post since I have had charge of the Department.

I hope it will not be thought strange that the door was forced, when I tell you that the magazine was guarded by a Contin'l Soldier, who knew little of his duty, owing to his Just Joining the detachment. COL: WM. CHRISTIAN TO GOV: HARRISON.

Septem. 28th

"Sir

I take the Liberty of addressing a few Lines to your Excellency, upon the Subject of the Kentucky Country, and flatter myself it requires no apology, as you are acquainted with my being a Representative for that Country. A few days ago, the Report of an Expedition made by the Savages into Fayette reached this far, and perhaps may be at Richmond before this Letter; but as I have seen a Letter from Colo. Levi Todd, I will enclose an extract from it, for your Satisfaction, as you may not yet have had any well authenticated account from thence.

Montgomery
Co.

The number of men killed is a lamentable thing for that Country, and the loss of some of their principal and best officers adds greatly to their sorrow. Besides this disastrous Event, a few Days after, 37 People were taken in a station upon Salt river, about 40 miles from the Falls. These successes will surely encourage the Shawanese to new Enterprizes. Kentuckey it is supposed does not contain above 1000 men at present, the general Part of the young men having come off this summer, as is commonly the case when Danger appears there. The Settlements are so much scattered, that it is difficult, and takes some Days to collect a Force together, particularly to go to any Distance from their own Families, when no other man knows what number of the Enemy have entered the Country, nor where the first Stroke will be made. The last Blow has cast a Gloom over the whole Country, and indeed Sir, their Distress is so great, that I need not attempt to describe it. And moreover, all accounts agree that there is Danger from the Wabash Indians, who are disgusted with our Proceedings in their Country.

It is true numbers of People are now on the Road, moving out, but from the encumbrance of women, children and stock, the men will be of little service in fighting for the Country this year. And I am doubtful many of them will turn into Carolina towards the Cherokees where they may live in safety. If no succour is sent to Kentuckey, and the war with the British continues another Year, it is more than Probable the whole of the Inhabitants will be killed, taken to Detroit or driven away: And when that is no longer a Barrier, Washington, Montgomery and Greenbrier must suffer. These Counties have suffered this year from small Parties, but Kentucky employs the attention of the Bulk of the Shawney Nation. Your Excellency will please to reflect that any Force which may be marched from Fort Pitt against their 1782. immediate enemies, will be of no service to Kentuckey, or the Rest of our Frontiers Southwest of Augusta, which seems to be the distance allotted to the Shawnese and Mingos. I believe Colo. Crawford's Expedition was against Sanduskey, and if General Irvine carries on another, it will probably be the same Course, and do as but little good—

From your Excellencies known humanity and willingness to relieve every Part of the Country under your Care, I can have no doubt, but you will readily fall upon any measures which may appear to you eligible for the Support of Kentuckey. I would therefore propose to your consideration the Expediency of having Garrisons erected upon the Ohio, and defended by regular Troops, as I hope you could spare a Regiment from the lower Country. Besides the Falls, the mouth of Kentucky and mouth of Licking would be proper Places. Perhaps Spotswood's Legion could be sent out: Such of them as are equipt as Dragoons would be of essential service against Indians. Even musket men with bayonets would be of more use than it is generally thought: as the Indians of late depend more upon the use of their Tombaks and Spears, than their Fire—

In the mean time Sir, until something more permanent can be done for the country, I am induced to offer myself to your Excellency and the Council, to aim at raising five hundred Volunteers in the Counties of Augusta, Rockbridge, Greenbrier, Botetourt, Montgomery & Washington to hasten out on Horseback. And when arrived there I would expect to be joined by what Force that country could spare, and would suppose the whole might form a Brigade of 1000 men: and with them I would hope to be able to make an excursion throughout the Shawnee country. Considering the Finances of our country, I should expect every man to find himself a Horse, arms and accoutrements, and also Provisions & Forage to carry him as far as Washington Court House, where some supply might be procured out of the Taxes of that County, to last from thence to Kentucky. I would wish to avoid all unnecessary Parade & Expence, and also the being encumbered with Beeves or Pack-horses. I suppose the men would expect to have their Horses and accoutrements valued, & if lost, paid for at some future Day; and no doubt they would think of being entitled to the same Pay as others in like service, & for the Provisions found themselves. The men who would go from here would not be too many for acting as mounted Infantry & Dragoons. Perhaps I could procure a few proper Horsemen from Henry, Bedford & Amherst. And I have a chance for some in Sullivan County upon Holston. Col: Preston of this County and Col: Campbell of Washington, have both offered me their assistance, and I expect I should have the assistance of the Officers in the other Counties. The season of the year may be thought unfavourable for such a scheme: but I conceive it would be no great obstacle to such men as would be excited to go from motives of Generosity & zeal for the People of Kentuckey. Horses can live well all the winter at Kentuckey, and in the Shawney Country, and a successful attack upon Indians in the winter, 1782. would Distress them vastly more than at any other Season. If the whole number of volunteers I mentioned cannot be got no doubt a considerable part can, and ever so few going out would Inspirit the People of Kentuckey, and give new life to their operations. Septem. 28th

Should your Excellency & the Council think well of my proposals, I hope you will hold out such encouragements for the Volunteers as you think Right; and give me such instructions and Powers as you may judge proper. The Bearer Capt: MacCorkle will be able to give any further Information you may want, and can convey your Orders to the several Counties & to me.

I beg your Excellency to believe I have not the most distant wish to acquire any lasting Command in the Western Country; a few months will afford Time for all I expect to execute so that any Appointment you may vest me with, cannot interfere with any other Person there. If the Plan is approved it ——— endeavour to go through with it, And if not, I will not Doubt but your Excellency will do the best for that Country that you find can be done with a good Prospect.

I am Sir, your most obedient & humble Servant."

"Extract of a Letter from Col: Levi Todd to his Brother, Capt: Robt. Todd."

LEXINGTON, Aug: 26th. '82.

"On the 16th Instant, in the morning an Express arrived from Bryant's Station informing us it was expected a Body of Indians lay round the Fort. I Set off with 30 men to see if it was so, and before I got there (which is five miles distant) was joined by 10 men from Daniel Boones. I found the Place surrounded & intended to force our way in. Seventeen of the foremost Horsemen rushed in; but being attacked at the mouth of a Lane; the remainder, some on Horseback, and myself and Ten others on Foot, were forced to retreat, leaving one man killed, and having three wounded, one of whom died next morning, but the other two will recover.

Our Brother being over in Lincoln, I sent Expresses there desiring assistance. In the meantime, the Indians made a violent attack upon Bryants Fort and continued it all day & night: and a storm was expected. However they met with some Loss, and on the morning of the 17th went off. In the Evening, our Brother, Col: Trigg, and Major Macgary came with 130 men. On the morning of the 18th we collected 182 men all on Horseback, and pursued the Enemy till 8 o'clock in the morning of the 19th, when we got sight of them forming in a Ridge in a Loop of the River, about three Quarters of a Mile North of the lower blue Lick and over the Licking. We had then pursued about 40 miles. We rode up within 60 yards, dismounted, gave & sustained a heavy and general Fire. The ground was equally favorable to both Parties and the Timber good. The left wing rushed on & gained near 100 yards of 1782. ground. But the Right gave way, and the Enemy soon flanked us on Septem. 28th that side, upon which the center gave way & shifted behind the left Wing. And immediately the whole broke in Confusion after the Action had lasted about five minutes. Our men suffered much in the Retreat, many Indians having mounted our men's Horses, haveing open woods to pass through to the River, and several were killed in the River.

 Several efforts were made to rally, but all in Vain. He that could remount a horse was well off, and he that could not saw no time for delay. Our Brother received a Ball in his left Breast, and was on Horseback when the men broke. He took a course I thought Dangerous, and as I never saw him afterwards, I suppose he never got over the River. Col: Trigg, Major Harlin, Major Bulger, Captains McBride, Gordon, KinKead, and Overton fell upon the ground, also our friend James Brown. Our number missing is about seventy-five. I think the number of the Enemy was at least 300, but many of the men think five hundred. Colo. Logan with 500 men went to the ground on the 24th, and found & buried about 50 of our dead men. They were all stript naked, scalped, & mangled in such a manner that it was hard to know one from another. Our Brother was not known.

As People in different parts of the Country will be anxious to know the names of the Killed, I will add a List of what I can now remember—

Colo. John Todd, Col: Stephen Trigg—Major Silas Hardin, Major
 Edward Bulger—Captains Wm. McBride, John Gordon, Joseph Kinkead,

In regard to the Gun Factory at that Place. Little more can now be done, but to guard the premises and take care of the effects, that nothing be lost, or injury done to the public property. It is important however to pay off the "Hands" and all arrearages due according to promises made them, that they may return to work upon call. But it is absolutely necessary that a stock of necessaries be laid in, and that the men be regularly paid to carry on the Works.

Richard Yarbrough informs Col: Davies, there are many public Beeves collected in pastures on expence, which should be sold as they will soon begin to "fall off." They can only be sold on several months credit. If to be driven to Richmond the idle Soldiers should be sent for them, in as much as it will be too expensive to hire men for the purpose.

B. LINCOLN SCY: AT WAR TO MAJR: GENL: GREENE.

Septem. 30th

"Dear Sir

By the letter herewith (enclosed) from His Excellency General Washington, which was sent to me under a flying seal, you will learn that the propriety or impropriety of removing the Troops or any of them this Winter, is with you to determine.

War Office

If you should think proper to remove any of the troops northward this fall, I wish you would send on the Delaware Corps, and the overplus of a full Regiment of each of the Maryland & Pennsylvania Troops. These with the recruits here will form one other Regiment in each state. It will be much better to have the Regiments formed, and the men as much as possible together, than to continue them in the detached state they have been for some time—for this idea however we are much indebted to you.

I wish you would incorporate the Virginia Regiments of Horse into one, on the Plan of Congress.

I have also to request that you would form all the Continental troops with you, who have been enlisted either for the war, or three years, into proper Corps, as directed by the resolve of Congress of the 7th of August last, which I forwarded you some time since, and now inclose a duplicate.

The moment you have taken your determinations what troops you will retain, I wish to be informed whether they can or cannot be supplied with cloathing with you: of this I suppose there will be no doubt, in case Charles Town should be evacuated. Indeed we had better give almost any price, than think of sending from here. We have met with so many losses and delays, that we have little hope of success, should it be again attempted: however if the cloathing cannot be obtained for you, it must go from hence.

I have the honor to be &c."

He has also recently denounced him (Joel) as a "damn'd Rebel," which demands that some notice be taken of conduct so reprehensible on the part of a paroled prisoner, and so insulting to one who has sacrificed so much for the country. It gives the enemy particular pleasure to hear him abused, who "has sacrificed every thing for this country," especially by "a man whose life is so justly forfeited by his conduct towards this State."

COL: ARTHUR CAMPBELL TO COL: WM. DAVIES.

October 3d

"Sir

From Col: Christian and the accounts sent by Major Netherland, the Executive may be fully informed of the State of the War in the Kentucky Country. What if it should be the policy of the British Ministry to drive in from the other side the Apalachian mountain before the signing the preliminaries of peace.

Washington
Co.
War in the Kentucky
Country

At any rate they are uniting the Savage Tribes, and endeavoring to sow the seeds of deep laid animosity, which will lengthen the Indian war to a longer period than most imagine. Nothing now will put an end to it, but a decided blow in the enemies country, and a peace given them in the hour of their panic and misfortune, afterwards conducted by a proper Superintendency, or that Canada becomes ours, or our Allies.

The method of arming and arraying our militia ought to be varied. The Bayonet and Scymeter must be introduced to enable us now to face the Indians. And Evolutions suited to the woods should be learned both by Foot and Horse. All our late defeats have been occasioned thro' neglect of these, and a want of a proper authority and capacity in the Commanding Officers. Never was the lives of so many valuable men lost more shamefully than in the late action of the 19th of August, and that not a little thro' the vain and seditious expressions of a Major McGeary. How much more harm than good can one fool do. Todd & Trigg had capacity but wanted experience. Boone, Harlin and Lindsay had experience, but were defective in capacity. Good however would it have been, had their advice been followed. Logan is a dull, narrow body from whom nothing clever need be expected. What a figure he exhibited at the head of near 500 men to reach the field of action six days afterwards, and hardly wait to bury the dead, and when it was plain, part of the Indians were still in the Country. Genl. Clarke is in that country; but he has lost the confidence of the people, and it is said become a Sot; perhaps something worse.

 with so many victories, to his natural boldness, he will be confident.

This state of our Western Affairs calls for the united wisdom and most serious attention of the Executive.

The Carolinians against the Cherokees. The Carolinians are gone on with their Expedition against those Cherokees, they say that gives an asylum to Tories.

Chickasaw Chiefs, &c. I wish they may succeed, but still dread the consequence of multiplying our Enemies. Two Chickasaw Chiefs have been at the Carolina Settlement on the Shawanee or Cumberland River, from thence they came to our Settlement on Kentucky. Peace are their profession, but complain of our making settlement at the Iron Bank, on the Mississippi.

Recommends a Proclamation from his Excellency requiring all such delinquents to report without delay either to the Commanders at Richmond or York, on pain of being treated as deserters. Those preparations that were made and the measure taken to let the Enemy know that we were fully acquainted with their design (which in fact we were) I believe has saved the Western Country, by their losing all hopes of Reducing the falls, divided their force, sent some to Weel-ing, and the main body to make a diversion on Fayette County. And had it not have been for that Imprudent affair at the blue licks, the country would have sustained very little damage. I learn Col: Logan has sent you a full acct. of the whole transaction. The Conduct of those unfortunate Gents was Extremely reprehensible. The Enemy continue to skulk in small partys in different parts of the country but do little damage at present. The movements of the Enemy last Spring

1782. By some Overtures from Kaskaskas the Chicasaw nation is like to be on good terms with us. I enclose your Excellency, their message, and my answer with other papers which I hope you will approve of. They blame Fort Jefferson for being the cause of the war between us, but its notorious they had done a great deal of mischief for two years before, and the building that post actually stopt a formidable Expedition Intended against the frontiers by them and their allies: My principal reason for sending Capt. George to the nation, was to give the negotiation a greater appearance of solemnity, and probably Induce the Chicasaws to Oblige the Cherokees &c. to cease hostilities, as the Chicasaws is the most potent nation in that Quarter.

You will observe S'r my Instructions to Capt: George Respecting the purchase of the lands in the bounds of Virginia, below the Tenesee River. From some hints I had from Mr. Burny one of the messengers from the nation, I conceiv'd this to be a most favourable opportunity to procure that tract of Country, if the Indians would part with it, which there was some probability of, as they dreaded us much, having continual Reports among them of a large army which Intended to visit their towns, and would wish to be on good terms with us as soon as possible. Tho' the State, with propriety might claim the lands without their consent, it must cost an expencive treaty hereafter to get peaceable possession of it when the officers should want it. These were my Enducements: if your Excellency approve of the plan it would be necessary to send our Express Immediately to me with Instructions to Ratify the proceedings of Capt: George, in case he should make the purchase, or make void all he may do. I expect his Return about the last of november with some Chiefs with him that may wish to git their business Immediately done in order to return home. I sometimes doubt that the sum I have Instructed Capt: George to offer will be too low a price to Engage it. But if their zeal for a piece should continue, perhaps it will do. The northwestward Indians have wholly Engaged in the war against us, Except the peoncashacos, and those near the settlements on the Mississippi. We have lately thought of making a sudden attack on some of the Shawanees Town this fall, as Genl. Irwins Enterprise gives a favourable Opportunity, but cannot assure you that it will take place but a great probability.

A Late stroke of your Excellency hath added greatly to the strength of this Country, That of ordering the delinquents of the Counties to do duty with the Regular troops in this Quarter; it will have most salutary Effects altho' few Examples may be made." * * * * * "The works at the falls was at the Expense of a considerable quantity of flour, as were Obliged to make a fund of it. October 19th

“Sir

I had the pleasure of Receiving your Letters by Maj'r Walls and Mr. Karney the 30th of July past, at which time the gents arrived with the stores all safe, surmounting uncommon difficulties. They just arriv'd in time to save what few troops was remaining, for desertion was so common and Impossible to prevent that I believe in a few weeks more searcely any would have been left. I have endeavour'd as far as in my power to comply with the orders of Government that you Enclos'd to me (see the Enclos'd) I could have wished to be present at the meeting of the officers you mention'd. I have received but a faint information of their Report. As for dissipation and —— prevailing in Col: Slaughter's Core, However agreeable such conduct might have been to their sentiments I believe they seldom had the means in their power, for they wer3 generally in a starving situation. Colo. Slaughter suffering his garrison to be Ridicul'd by the Inhabitants of the town Occasion'd disorder among the whole. Nothing would Excuse him on this point but his dependance on such a set of people for Every thing he could get to subsist on. As for the propriety of their receiving half pay, I could wish not to be the Judge. Your Recommendations Sir, Respecting the great care of Stores of all kinds are Exceeding good.

Lincoln
County
Cave-Spring

1782. I flatter myself there will be no want of Care. In a department where October 19th business hath been as Various and Extensive as this hath, there can be no Doubt of many Errors being committed, many hath been detected.
 But by Report I believe there is more noise made about it than is necessary, principally originating from the little men that is sometimes sent to government from this quarter. Jealous of their importance, Embrace that declamatory principal so very agreeable to such bodies, suposing by striking at the principal characters of their Country, that Strangers will View them as men of consequence. The Credit that is given to such characters near the helm of affairs, I can assure you S'r hurts the Interest of the State greatly. The expences in this department hath been considerable, but had it not been for them and the consequential service, we should have been obliged before this to have spent five times as much in defence of our frontiers, and Except some Expences that have proved unnecessary, as a citizen, I am satisfied with the propriety of the whole.

Accounts have been long prepared for settlement, but I doubt the arrival of auditors. I have examin'd nearly the whole, and Expect to finish the Remainder on my Return to Fort Nelson. I make no doubt but you have Receiv'd a full account of the unfortunate defeat of Colo's Todd and Trigg. The Country has suffer'd considerably, but there is a probability of Recovering their lost spirits. It was exceedingly fortunate that such preparation was made, as mention'd to you in my last.
 Otherways the Country would have unavoidably been lost. The plan of an Expedition against the Shawanees is now on foot, and I believe will take place. If it should fall through the Country will be in a very critical situation, Except Genl: Irwin should prove successful, as the Enemy are so Elated they will use violent Exertions.

I have the Honour to be, with greatest Esteem,
 Sir, your devoted Humble Servt.'

GENERAL NATH'L GREENE TO GOV: HARRISON.

October 24th

"Sir

Your letters of the 30th Aug'st and 27th of September, I have had the honor to receive, the last came to hand this day. I observe the law of the State enclosed in your letter of the 30th August is as well calculated to bring men into the field as anything of the kind would be, but often more depends on the execution of a law than the formation. It was by no means my intention to charge the state with adopting a policy to save appearance, more than with a view of filling its regiments. I only meant to remark that this had been the effect of those laws, but too generally from the difficulty of executing them.

In regard to the proper execution of a law

That Virginia has been prodigal of her blood, and of her treasure is generally agreed, but until lately it is thought by some of her best friends, her policy has not been well directed. It was for this reason I took the liberty to give you my sentiment upon calling out so large a body of militia for so inconsiderable an object as that of protecting York, appeared to me at the time I wrote. By your letter I find I had wholly mistaken the matter, both as to the object, and at whose instance they were called into the field. I have only to observe my motives were friendly, and I hope my zeal will apologize for my mistake. It affords

Virginia

Finances

1782. me the highest satisfaction to hear, Mr. Morris' notes are in such demand October 24th with you, as I consider the business of finance the first object of the Finances consideration of the United States, and their establishment inseparably connected with it.

When I wrote to Col: Davis (Davies) respecting the appointments that Col: White had made, I was told the only difficulty in obtaining a confirmation of their appointment was my not having signified my wishes to the Governor of this State on the subject, and that the State would confirm nothing at the instance of Colo. White. I also was told Colo. White's the appointments had been made by and with the approbation of the appoint-ments Marquis during his command in Virginia, and that the appointments were judicious. From these considerations I wrote Col: Davis on the subject in general terms, not doubting but that Col: White had confined his appointments to such limitations, as appeared to be consistent with a just economy and the constitution of his regiment. This not being the case, I can do nothing in the matter until I am better informed. I wish your Excellency therefore to let the matter rest until you hear further from me, or something more conclusive is done by the Minister of War on the subject. I thank you for your flattering confidence and obliging disposition expressed on this business, in your last letter, and beg leave to assure you it shall always be my study to merit a continuation of both.

The Enemy still hold Charlestown, but it is expected they will be gone in a fortnight or less. Great part of your troops under Colo. Posey are on their march for Virginia. I sent home all those who were not for the war, and directed them to the place of general rendezvous, there to be discharged by General Muhlenburgh. I adopted this mode, in preference to discharging them as their time of service expired, that the State might have it in its power to try to reinlist them, as Colo.
 Davis advised to, but to make the attempt here, and to try to obtain money of the State for the purpose. But I thought sending them home would be the most probable mode of giving success to the attempt.

I am with due respect and great esteem,

Your Excellency's most obedient, humble Servant

The above is all he can think of and hopes it will be satisfactory. His last letter, just acknowledged as received, had been sent a month before, and he adds "I find it went by a maccaroni and shall never trouble such creatures again but to catch butterflys." Desires clothing for the workmen "as the winter is coming on," and the arrears for the years 1781 and 1782 settled up. In addition to these, the expences incident to the Iron & steel supplied by Mr. Hunter; to procuring plank, coal, firewood &c., the wagoning the "movable articles from the Factory to a secure place on Cornwallis' & Tarltons near approach" &c., were not yet paid. All this had been accomplished, only by confidence reposed in him, and he trusts the Executive will do all to maintain it.

Brothers,

We are happy to Assemble this day and smoke together in the true sense of Friendship, glad that you have cast off that austere, contentious Disposition, which hath long invited your young men to outrageous proceedings, and listen to the friendly proposeals of your Brothers who are here present. Brothers we are sent to speak to You on these four Strings of Wampum from our Great Warriar Genl: Clark, whom you Call your beloved man. Brothers I am glad to hear you request Peace. We are Americans free and Generous to receive our friends when we know them and their foundations. As for my part I hold peace in the one Hand and war in the other, but am desirous to receive any friendly persons in friendship than hold them in contempt. the Americans never made it a practice of purchasing friendship as the English has hitherto accustomed, because they are Sensible that bought friendship is corrupted with Treachery, as plainly is seen by the different nations of red people to the northward who hath with the greatest zeal and assiduity sought for the Succour of the Americans when too late.

Brothers I am Sensible that you are unacquainted with the foundations of this War, a part of which I do here lay before you. the English and the Americans even as one family, but the English grew proud and thought themselves our superiourers. that we should be deprived of our Liberties and rights and like servile slaves, support them with our Labour, but our spirits would not admit us to Condescend to such Impositions—in opposition to their Tyrannical proceedings we took arms in defence of ourselves.

Brothers, you know that we furnished the several nations with manufactures before the war began and are able to furnish the Same to this day and I hope Ever will be to Those who are true friend to the Americans—and those that choose to hold us in contempt, we will as fondly furnish them with powder and Ball to the Destruction of their men, women and children.

Brothers, I have one more circumstance to lay before you. The French, the Spaniards & the Americans are as one family, and this family comprehends the hole of America—in consequence of which the British can hold but small share of America, but I do not mean to flatter you as the Events of which you may see around you among the Northern nations of red people. 1782.

October 24th

Six Strings of Wampum.

Brothers, what I have said to you is from my Heart—this paper that I now deliver to you contains the Substance of my business, it is the Talk from the beloved man in consequence of the one you sent to him, in reading that you read his Heart, all the Nations are Witnesses that he always Speaks the Truth as the Sky is now clear. I hope—I hope that peace and Amity will imediately take Place, that you send him an answer that may further convince him that he need not look any more with a bloody Eye towards this Land. The winter is near at hand & I have a great way home. I hope to receive your answer as soon as possible

I am your Brother,

{ In the presence of Capt:
} Robt. George and James Sha-{ lock, Indian Interpreters.

Answer from Piamathihaw, Minohomah, Piamingo, Chambeau, the Red King and Several other Sachams and Warriors.

Brothers,

We received your Talk and the speech of the beloved man and are happy to think the Sky is Clear and mount the throne of Peace and Unity and Smoke together in the Countenance of true Brotherhood. We have had this long time a Desire to take hold of our beloved man by the hand & make our case known to him, that we were constrained by the Council of bad people to hold our beloved man in contempt, but our wisdom hath taught us to the contrary. The English put the Bloody Tomahawk into our hands, telling us that we should have no Goods if we did not Exert ourselves to the greatest point of Resentment against you, but now we find our mistake and Distresses. The English have done their utmost and left us in our adversity. We find them full of Deceit and Dissimulation and our women & children are crying out for peace, from their move we were daily Expecting to be destroyed by him, but have found an expected mercy from his hand, but this speech gives us pleasure and chears the heart of all our warriors, and now Brothers let us light the old Council Fire and Smok together. let us bury the bones of our slain on both sides and forgett all. let us think on the old Friendship that ware formerly Between us and the Americans our Brothers. Let the Roads and water courses be open clear and sincear friendship be planted. Whenever we meet Brothers, we shall endeavour to confirm our brothers the red people of our acquaintance to the same Sentiments.

1782. Brothers, We perceive your uneasiness of Delay but we will Smoke October 24th together before we part. We are poor and destitute having no wealth to give you in return, but in sincerity do join Hand and Heart in the true Bands of friendship, hoping that You will Excuse our poverty as our hearts are open to unity, never to violate our Friendship whilst grass doth grow and the water doth run, and always when we meet to eat out of one dish and one Spoon & Smoke out of one pipe, and am in hopes you will convince the beloved man, of our Sincerity, how his good talk hath regained our people and that as soon as the Spring advances we shall Send a Saehem and Warriors to see him and further convince him of our sincerity, as well as to speak on other Business.

We are your friends & Brothers,

COLO. JOSEPH CROCKETT TO GOV: HARRISON OF VA.

“Sir

Charlottesville
 Virginia

I received your Excellency's letter of the 16th Instant, the purport of which I am at a loss to answer so clearly as I could wish. as for Genl: Clark's conduct, last campaign whilst I had the honor to serve under his com'd (as touching his military character) I cannot think he is deserving censure. his greatest misfortune & loss of usefull operations of the campaign, was the want of men, altho' the Genl: strain'd every nerve in his power, to raise a sufficient number to penetrate into the heart of the Enemy's Country, and was assisted by a small number of good men, to complete his Laudable design. it appeared to me to be out of the power of any human Existance to cause a sufficient number to Enter the field, or subject those few that were already there to good order. the Genl: often told them of the evils that has already befell them, if that campaign miscarried. One place of General Rendezvous was Wheeling, where the genl: expected to be joined with a thousand militia from the Counties over the mountains: out of which two hundred & fifty only joined, and the half of them deserted after drawing a quantity of arms, Blankets, Leggings, shirts &c. &c.—the greatest part of those that did not desert, threatened mutiny for Several days. nor was this all the Genl's disappointment. there was a certain Quota of men to be sent him from the Counties of Berkeley, Frederick & Hampshire, of which he never received one.

I know the Genl: is much censured in the neighbourhood of Fort Pitt, 1782.
 Fort Pitt, for the Loss of Colo. Laugherry's party, for whom he waited October 24th five days at Wheeling: disappointments being so frequent, he lost all hopes of his coming, and moved down the River. the Colo. coming to Wheeling the next day, sent a boat after, with a Letter to the Genl:
 that he would be glad If he would wait for him, as he had One hundred & thirty men without provisions. the Genl: sent a small boat with ten Keggs of Flour, and wrote the Colo. he would leave Boats enough at a certain Island under a small guard, for the reception of his men, with a quantity of Flour, Ammunition &c.—to prevent desertion, he would move slowly down the river. the unhappy Colo. without proper caution, Landed his men at the mouth of the Maamma, at which place was a large number of Indians, who destroyed the whole of the Colo's party.
 The Genl: purchased of Mr. Gibson, at Fort Pitt, a considerable Quantity of goods, Liquorers, Sugar, Coffee, Tea &c., which the officers in general accuse him of making a very unequal distribution.

It was thought there was one more instance in which General Clark
derogated much from the Importance of his trust. there was a Mr.
 Ellett who traded to New Orleans with 5000 wt. Flour. he stored his flour at a Mr. Newel's, who lived at a place cal'd the new Store on the Monongalia. Said Newel took the Flour in his care, who was also employed by the purchasing Commissary to receive public Flour: Mr.
 Ellett took the opportunity of going down the river with the Genl:—
 when we came to the Falls of Ohio, the river being very low, Ellett was under the necessity of unloading his boat to descend the Falls, and carry his flour over the falls in small Crafts: he unloaded near the place where the public flower was landed (of which we had a large Quantity, near 4,000 Keggs). I saw Mr. Ellett taking flower from the Bulk of the public. I asked him how he came so to do. his answer was "don't you think that damn'd old Newel at the new store, has misplaced sixty Keggs of my superfine flower, and I must take sixty of your Corse." I immediately informed the Commissary, his answer was "the Gen'l knows it." I asked Mr. Ellett what mark his kegs had. he told me all his was manufactured at William Henshaws mill, and the Barrels was Branded with the two first Letters of his name. Some few days after this Mr. Ellett sail'd down the River. there was a Mr. Randolph who came down the River with us & who had formerly transacted business for Genl: Clark to the westward. I never heard him mention going with Ellett untill the morning he set sail and then went on Bord Ellett's Boat—this affair gave every man reason to suspect —— . The Genl:
 some few days afterwards Issued an order for the whole of the flower to be sifted and Repacked (as it had received damage coming down the River). I told the Sergeant & several of the soldiers who were appointed for that duty, that I would give them a treat, if they would let me know where they found a kegg Branded W. H. —— contained finer flower than the rest, I wanted to draw —— for my own use. I enquired fre-

1782. quently of them. But they told me they could find none Such. I was October 24th present when Mr. Ellett Loaded his Boat at the new Store. I heard of no flower being missing or misplaced nor never heard it mentioned going down the river.

I have the Honor to be your Excellency's most obt. Servt.

COL: WM. DAVIES TO THE GOVERNOR.

War Office In reply, "that he had had no other information respecting the breach of the peace by Capt: Roan, than the letter from the Magistrates of Williamsburg." Col: Dabney tells him, there had been a Court Martial held for the trial of Capt Roan. It appeared to him the object of this Court, was not to try Roan for beating Baxter, but for resisting the civil authority, and the Magistrates conceive their representations to the Executive in the latter case, "as ground for a decision against him."

Enclosing proceedings in the court of admiralty of New Jersey in the case of the sloop William & John, libelled and sold as a prize on account of Hope Willets—who had gotten possession of her as follows—One Thomas Osborn, had been a Seaman on board a British Armed Boat called the "Trimmer, commanded by Jesse Turner"—the said Trimmer captured an armed Schooner called the "Katy and Nancy" and Osborn was put in charge of her as Prize master, but having run ashore in a gale, near Hampton, was captured by a French guard & put on board a "Flag Brigantine," from which he and four men escaped in a small boat. In this boat they boarded the sloop "William & John," loaded with Tea & pork from Virginia, and having captured her, put her Captain and "two hands" ashore, and proceeded with her on their voyage to New York. About four Leagues off Egg-Harbour, he was recaptured by the "armed Boat Luck & Fortune commanded by Hope Willets" and carried into New Jersey. He informs the Executive that those interested, have no recourse except by appeal to the Commander in Chief or to Congress. By arrival of the ship Alexander at Boston," 30 days from S. Kindness to-

Chicasaws &
 Chicamaugas

I am honoured with two Letters from your Excellency, respecting the Chicasaw and Cherokee Indians. The humane sentiments you breathe towards those Tribes of Savages are perfectly similar to my own, and it will give me pleasure to co-operate with your Excellency in obtaining a peace with them on some permanent Principles, that the cruelties and Horrors of Indian wars, intolerable among civilized nations may in future be prevented.

The Chicasaws have done us little Injury, with whom a peace may be easily concerted. The Inhabitants of the Over-hill Town, and Valley Settlements of the Cherokees have been rather neutral than offensive, and have not of late been the object of public Resentment, as those of the middle settlements and Chicamauga Towns, against whom our Expedition hath been carried on this Fall, under the command of Brig: General McDowel, and Colo. Sevier, to punish them for the murders and Barbarities they have committed on the Inhabitants of this state, without provocation, and while the Overhill and nearer Towns, who had the greatest Cause of complaint have not been hostile, but have peaceably submitted as yet to the Trespasses of our people, which I am sorry this Government could not prevent, from the late distracted situation of our public affairs: but am taking every step in my power to quiet the friendly Indians, until I can meet the General Assembly to take further measures with these refractory persons, and adopt some lasting plan of reconciliation with all the Indians at War.

The Assembly have failed to meet me at this Time to which they stood adjourned; but I flatter myself to have a session about the first Day of Jan'y next when I shall do myself the Honor to lay your Excellency's Letters before that Body & urge the necessity of treating with those Indians in the manner you propose under legislative authority. 1782.

 The Chicamaugas seem not yet disposed for peace, as no proposals have been made yet from them to the officers commanding the militia against them or to me—in Consequence of which some of their Towns have been destroyed, a few Indians Killed, the principal Body having fled, and our militia have returned, waiting for further orders & Instructions. I shall delay all further hostilities against them, untill we have fresh cause of Complaint, giving them in the mean while an opportunity to sue for peace, the other Tribes of that nation having disclaimed their Proceedings. I shall early communicate to your Excellency the Transactions of the Assembly on this subject, if I can obtain a Session, otherwise the Executive will take up the Business; of which you will have immediate Notice. The friendly Disposition your Excellency is pleased to discover in cultivating harmony between the sister states of Virginia and North Carolina, whose interests are, and ought ever to be mutual, being nearly connected with almost every Tie, gives me the highest pleasure and satisfaction. Rest assured Sir, that every thing in my power shall be effected on my part, that the same may be continued on a solid and lasting Foundation.

The passport intended for the "Brig Mentor" had been stolen out of his Room. The truth was she was met at sea by another vessel, and being informed that all tobacco not mentioned in her passport would be seized, "thirty hhd's: would have been too great a loss." He had suffered great uneasiness on account of the disputes with Messrs. Goosley & Gibbons, but was willing to submit to the decision of any fair court. Troubles with the Inhabitants at York 1782. Col: Dabney had ordered the Stockade at York "to be cut down for winter firing," when he left, and warned the Inhabitants not to take any of the wood. Notwithstanding this "a Mr. Goosley who thinks himself superior to the rest of his fellow citizens" had given great trouble in this business. Mr. Gibbons had carried off much of this wood which he had ordered the soldiers to carry back &c. Goosley presuming upon his forbearance had grossly insulted him in his room, behaving with great insolence, and threatening unless the wood was returned "he would play the devil with us all." Asks if there was no protection against the insolence of civilians.

He could only account for this Conduct on the part of Goosley & others from the fact, that the presence of the military at that place and at Hampton served to prevent the running "of immense quantities of goods" into the state in the flag vessels from New York, "a crime that too many will be found guilty of." Mr. Gibbons had sued him for taking the wood out of his yard, and thinks he had done nothing wrong in carrying off wood which did not belong to him. He hopes the suit will be transferred to Richmond, as he would not trust to a jury of that county: and as he has "incured it" in the performance of his duty, thinks the Country should not let it be at his expence &c.

"Sir

Lincoln Co.

I embrace the opportunity by Capt: Madison, of acquainting you of our return from the Indian Country. we left the Ohio the fourth, with one Thousand and fifty men, and surpris'd the principall Shawone Town on the Evening of the 10th Inst: amediately detaching of strong parties to different Quarters. in a few hours two thirds of their Towns was laid in ashes and every thing they ware posses't of destroy'd except such articles as most usefull to the Troops, the Enemy not having time to secrete any part of their Riches that was in their Towns. the British Trading post at the head of the Miame, and Carrying place to the waters of the Lakes shared the same fate by a party of one hundred and fifty Horse, Commanded by Colo. B. Logan, whose property to a great amt. was destroyed. the Quantity of provisions burnt far surpass any Idea we had of their stores of that kind. The loss of the Enemy was ten scalps, seven prisoners and two whites retaken—ours one Killed, one wounded. after laying part of four days in their Towns, finding all attempts to bring them to a Genl. action fruitless we retired, as the season was far advanced and the weather threatening. I could not learn by prisoners that they had the least idea of Genl: Irwin's design of penetrating into their country. should he have given them another stroke at Sandusky, it will more than double the advantages already gained. We might probably have got many more scalps and prisoners could we have known in time whether or not we were discovered, which we took for granted untill getting within three miles some circumstances happened which caused us to think otherways, though uninformed. Col: Floyd with three hundred men was ordered to advance to bring on an action, or attack the Towns. Maj'r Walls with a party of horse, being previously detached by a different Rout, as a party of observation. Although Col: Floyd's motion was so quick as to get to the Town but a few moments later than those who discovered his approach, the Inhabitants had sufficient notice to effect their escapes to the woods by the alarm cry that was given on the first discovery, to be heard at a great distance, and repeated by all that hears it. of course our parties only fell in with the Rear of the enemy. COL: S. CLARKE TO GOVERNOR HARRISON (Copy.)

Novem. 27th "Sir,

Lincoln Co.

I embrace the opportunity by Capt: Madison to inform you of our safe return from the Indian Country. I left the Ohio the fourth, with one Thousand and fifty men, and surprised the principal Shawanee Town on the evening of the Tenth Inst: amediately detaching off strong parties to different Quarters, in a few hours two thirds of their Towns was laid in ashes, and every thing they ware possessed of destroyed except such as were most useful to the Troops, the enemy not having time to secrete any part of their Riches that was in ye Villages. the British trading post at the Postage on the Head of the Miami shared the same fate by Colo. Benj. Logan; and a party of one Hundred and fifty Horse, whose property to a great amount was burnt—the Quantity of provisions destroyed far surpassed any Idea we had of their stores of that kind. the loss of the Enemy was Ten scalps, seven prisoners and two whites Retaken, ours one Killed one wounded. After laying part of four days in their Towns, finding all attempts to bring them to a genl: action Fruitless, we retired; the season being far advanced and the weather threatening. I could not learn by the prisoners, that they had the least Idea of Genl: Erwin's intention of penetrating into their Country. should he have given them another stroke at Sandusky, it will more than double the advantage already gained.

We might probably have got many more scalps and prisoners could we have timely known whether or not we ware discovered; which we took for granted, untill geting within three miles. Some circumstances happened caused us to think otherways though uncertain. Colo. Floyd was ordered to advance with three hundred men and bring on an action or attack the Town. Major Walls with a party of Horse being previously sent on a Different rout as a party of Observation. Although Colo. Floyd's motion was so quick that he got to the Town but a few minutes later than those whome discovered his approach, the Inhabitants had sufficient notice to effect their escapes by the allarm cry that was given on the first discovery and to be heard at a great distance and repeated by all that hear it, so that he only fell in with the Rear of them. I must beg leave to recommend to your Excellency the militia of Kentuck who did themselves Honour on the occation, especially their desire of saving prisoners.

Versailles Barclay; in reply to his of the 15th Nov: 1782, requesting him to foward the arms, stores and clothing intended for Virginia, if possible in an armed vessel, or under Convoy, for protection against the enemy's cruisers, as agreed between the Cher: de la Luzerne and the Hon: Benj: Harrison at Philadelphia &c.—he says, “You are not acquainted Sir, with the difficulties that prevent the furnishing the Arms, Amunition and Cloathing, which the State of Virginia wishes to have provided here, and deliver’d to their order.” he had made those known to the Cher: de la Luzerne, and new orders would consequently be issued on the subject. The King had found that great inconvenience and complications would follow the delivery of such articles to separate States, to be paid for by the United States, consequently Mr. Harrison or any other agent of Virginia would be instructed to treat with Mr. Morris, for such portion of military stores as might be sent to the order of Congress. If the Virginian should prefer that their purchases be made in & forwarded directly from France, he would with pleasure give his attention to their wishes. He returns the Commission granted him by Virginia, in as much as it had not had the effect for which it was forwarded.

Novem. 29th

D’r Colo:

I thank you for your favour of the sixth of April last, which this moment came to hand, accompanied by a letter from B. Genl: Irvin to Genl: Clarke, Dated Fort Pitt, seventh Inst: announcing that the Intended Expedition against Sandusky under his Command in Oct: last, was Countermanded by the Secretary of the Continental board of war, in consequence of the Savages being silenced on our frontiers. The most pleasing and Interesting intelligence Ever yet Experienced by the Citizens of this Department. As the most accurate accounts will be given you of our late Expedition against the Shawana Indians, I shall be silent on that head (with this observation only) that we Recrost the Ohio River on the 18th Inst: having kill’d ten Savages, taken 10 prisoners, Depopulated seven Towns, and burnt ten thousand bushels of corn.

I have no Reason to doubt but the conduct of those, by whom the State have suffered abuses, will be held out to the most conspicuous View, and treated as atrocious criminals.

I have this day made out the locations for your warrants committed to my charge by Capt: Holt, and shall enter them with Colo. Marshall, whose office is now open in two or three days. After which shall pro-

ROBERT MORRIS TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

Office of Finance In reply to his of the 16th instant. he had that day written to Mr. Barclay urging him to forward the Arms &c for Virginia—hopes any opinion he may have expressed on this subject may not be misconstrued.
 Necessity of getting arms from France If the necessity existed for these articles, motives of expediency should not weigh against it, and no expence should be spared to procure them. He supposes the Legislature of the State will control the matter of expenditures on this head, and expresses the hope, he will meet with success in placing the State in a posture of defence.

*COL: S. CLARK TO GOV: HARRISON.

Lincoln Ky. He had just received his Excellency's letter of the 17th Oct: and could not understand it, until he had recalled certain circumstances, which proved to him, false "reports and memorials" had been sent to the Governor. He regrets that he has not copies of his former letters, and will not be able to be as minute in what he has to say as he could desire. The disturbed and critical condition of that country and the difficulty of procuring an Express had prevented him from giving the government the information he desired to send.

Reasons why Posts had not been built

Continues—"I have in a former let'r I think given you satisfactory Reasons why the Posts alluded to was not built. preparations were made early in the spring for the execution of your orders, but a full Acc't of the designs of the Enemy caused us to alter our plans—prudence directed that we should not enter on too large a scale—the Fortifications at the falls was first to be repaired, proceed to Kentucky, from thence to Licking & compleating our works in Rotation—but in the execution of this business I had not only to counteract the design of the Enemy, but a powerfull party indeavouring to subvert the government, of which I have reason to believe, that great part of those whome give your Excell'y so much Intelligence belong. Those and many other Resent circumstances caused us to meet with difficulties in drawing out the Militia, hardly to be surmounted with the assistance of many worthy gentlemen in office—I found that it was impossible to Build those posts without the greatest probability of sacrificing a party,

Enemies within the Country conspiring to overthrow this government

as not less than six or seven Hundred men could have keep possession of the mouth of Licking. After six days being within Eighty-six miles of the Body of the Enemy, and the clamours of Eaven those people whom I suspect to have made their complaint to you was that such post could not be supported and of no consequence, though I believe it not to be the real sentiments of the whole, but rather to disapoint the design, to save themselves from the duty—Receiving repeated Intelligence from the Enemy we endeavoured to fix on the most likely plan to save the country. Colo. Todd's militia was excused from all other duty but that of keeping out proper scouts and spies on the Ohio and Elsewhere to discover the approach of the Enemy, to give time & to Imbody a sufficient force to Repell them, as it could not be previously done, not certainly knowing in what quarter they would make their stroke. instead of those necessary duties being done in which their salvation apparently depended, the Enemy was suffered to penetrate deliberately into the bowels of their Country and make the attack before they ware discovered. this I beleive is what is wished to be blinded, and the neglect to be one of the principal springs to that mad pursuit and carnage of the Blue Licks, as the Reverse of fortune would have obliviated the former neglect. I must confess that I have been defitient in my duty in not given you an ac't of every circumstance attending this unhappy affair, but hope to be excused as it was only owing to my Delicacy in affecting the memory of the gentlemen who Fell, not conceiving it to be of singular advantage to government, and knowing it would fix an Eternal Stigmy on others Characters, but as the Scale has turned to the amazement of many, I shall amediately collect every circumstance relative to the whole affair for you perutial." * * * * *

He begs the Governor not to listen to further complaints, and feels persuaded that if he knew "the true character of many of these gentlemen" that he would never refer to them again. Gives as apology for this remark, the zeal he has for the public interest, and the estimate he has of his goodness. Refering again to the memorial from Fayette Co. he adds, it was "to cover their misconduct, and a prelude to a Maj'r's Commission for a Triffle and a Col's for a person something more deserving, to the prejudice of a valuable man Mr. Swearingin, their former Major who had been absent for some time and was Dayly expected, which would have prevented their design. to my certain knowledge they now dread the Execution of what a few of them were deluded to pray for again, Col: Donoldson, who was last spring chairman of the Committee that endeavoured to subvert the Government and cost us soe much trouble to overset, since bearing an important Commission &c.

GEO: ROGERS CLARK TO GOV: HARRISON OF VA.

"Sir,

Lincoln Co.
Ky.

Since the return of the Expedition, nothing of moment hath transpired except that of an official account of Genl: Irwin's disappointment. the Country seems to Injoy perfect tranquility at present. how long it will remain so, time only will show, but I have reason to expect that the Enemy will be silant for some time. I had a great prospect of geting the post at the mouth of Licking, built and garrisoned by the Army on our Return, but found it would be exceedingly disagreeable to them to be detained. if in my power, your Orders shall be executed. but how these posts are to be supplied I cannot as yet conceive. nothing can be got on the credit of the states. the expenditures of Gov'nt for a considerable time being on private funds, I have by disposing of some Lands that I was possessed of, Laid in a tolerable Store at the Falls: but if divided between three or four posts will be but trifling. I sometime past wrote to you on the subject of the specific Tax, and have Received Col: Davis (Davies) letter ordering that of Fyat (Fayette) to be delivered, which will add much to our store. I cant account for the reason 1782.

 why the other two counties should be excluded. I have heard of Com- Novem. 30th missioners being appointed for the collecting the Tax in districts, and have thought Col: Todd to have been appointed to this, as the Letters from the war-office mention'd his delivering of the whole Tax, but uncertain the countrey is so circumstanced at present that no draught from the Interior frontier will be necessary for some time, as the late enterprise will put the enemy in great confusion, except you should think of an excurtion against the Oubash nations in the Spring, which would finally prevent their making any powerfull attempt for some time, and perhaps silance near the whole in that Quarter, as proper speaches well timed divide their councils and keep them in confution.
 if you should think of puting any such thing in execution I shall yet Receive pleasure in making every preparatory stroke in my power before I leave the Countrey, which period I hope will be by the last of March, as the Commissioners have at last arrive and expect to do business with them as soon as I fix on some probable plan for Building, garisoning and victualing the posts on the Ohio.

December 3d JOS: JONES AND J. MADISON JNR: TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

Philadelphia In reply—that to solieit a repayment or sale of powder from the magazines of the U. States would be impolitic—they had been informed that there were in Virginia* three hundred and thirty six barrels of loose powder and seventy of fixed ammunition, and that supplies should be sent as the emergency required them. The Sec: at War desired to be informed as to the productiveness of the Lead mines in Va., intimating that perhaps powder might be exchanged for lead, with the State.

They had deferred making any further purchases from private individuals, preferring that the State should not be encumbered with a debt for stores, which should be borne by the U. States. Rather than annoy the Cher: de la Luzerne in regard to the direct importation of the stores from France to Virginia, they had thought it best to communicate with Mr. Morris, as to the chances of affecting that object, under his auspices: but it was uncertain how far this channel could be relied upon.

When near seventy miles on his journey to that country when he received a letter from Mr. G. Smith declining to serve on the Board, on this account able to fill the vacancy thus caused. He had not taken an escort from Washington Co., as authorized by his Excellency, but had ventured through the wilderness in rather a small party, and after twenty three days journey had arrived safely but done very little business. This was owing to the people having been out in the forces sent against the Shawanee Towns. The death and removal of many persons connected with the transactions in that County, into which the Commissioners were to look, would retard the business very seriously. There was good reason to know that "the greatest abuses" had been committed in that Department. The printed notices of the proposed meeting of this Board not having come to hand, he had caused written ones to be despatched to "the Illinois" summoning Col: Le grass and others. Neither Mr. Bullock, Mr. Barbour, or Mr. Shannon were in that Country, on this account the business would be much delayed. Lindsay and Harrison being both dead, their papers were left in great confusion. He should probably have in his possession, when he returned papers of great value, and on this account desires a guard be furnished by the Commanding Officer of Lincoln County.

Acknowledging receipt of his Excellency's letter of the 6th September, enclosing his appointment of "Agent at the Court of France for the State of Virginia." He should at all times be happy to render any services to the State or to himself personally. He had also rec'd the letter relating to M. Penet, who had left Nantz and was then in Germany. To avoid the possibility of his (Penet's) abusing his Powers, he should advertise "in the Paris Gazette and other general papers" the appointment just received from the State of Virginia as her Sole Agent. He regrets to add, that by a letter from M. de Vergennes, it would not be possible to negotiate a loan for the State, but this was not of much Consequence "as every thing seems to tend to peace."

COL: JOHN CROPPER JNR: TO COL: WM. DAVIES, PR: MAJOR J. POULSON. 1782.

“Dear Sir,

Decem. 6th

On the 28th ultimo, I received a letter from Commodore Wally, requesting a number of Militia to full man his fleet, in consequence of his intention to attack the enemy's barges then off Onancock. In compliance with which request, on the 29th, I went on board his fleet myself with twenty five volunteers of the Accomac Militia. On the 30th at the head of Cagey's Straits, we fell in with and engaged the enemy. When we approached them, within about three hundred yards, and the fire began to be serious, our barges all run away except the Commodore's (the Protector) in which was Major Smith Snead, Capt: Thos. Parker, Capt: William Snead, myself and five other volunteers. This dastardly conduct of our comrades, brought on our barge the whole fire of the enemy, which was very severe, and it was as severely answered by the Protector, untill the enemy's six barges were within fifty yards, when most unfortunately, the cartridges of our short eighteen pounders caught fire amidships; the explosion of which burned three or four people to death, caused five or six more all afire to leap overboard, and the alarm of the barges blowing up made several others swim for their lives. The Enemy almost determined to retreat from our fire, as they told us afterwards, took new spirit at this disaster, and pushed up with redoubled fury. On the other hand our people opposed them with the most daring resolutions, there was one continual shower of musket balls, boarding pikes, cutlasses, cold shot and iron stantials for eight or ten minutes, till greatly overpowered by numbers, and having all the officers killed and wounded we struck to them, after having wounded their Commodore, killed one Captain, wounded another, killed and wounded several of their inferior officers, and killed and wounded fifteen of the Kidnapper's crew, the barge which first boarded us. Commodore Wally was shot down, a little before the enemy boarded, acting the part of a cool intrepid gallant officer. Capt: Joseph Handy fell nigh the same time nobly fighting with one arm, after the loss of the other. Capt: Levin Handy was badly wounded. There went to action in the Protector, sixty-five men; twenty-five of them were killed and drowned, twenty nine were wounded, some of which are since dead, and eleven only escaped being wounded, most of which had leaped into the water to save themselves from the explosion. At the foot you have a particular account of the loss sustained by the volunteers on board the Protector.

He is also ready to settle with any person he may appoint, but desires to be allowed to pay in warrants instead of money. This favor he would not ask, but that his own circumstances demanded it. Being “the youngest Colonel in the Virginia Line,” he finds himself retired, under the late Act of Congress, and should be obliged to resume the labours of his profession, for subsistence—unfortunately, most of his books had been destroyed with his other property at Norfolk, during Lord Dunmore’s occupation of that Place, and the remnant had been burnt by the enemy at Suffolk. He had never received a farthing of pay since August 1779—so that unless granted the indulgence to which his claims upon the state, and his efforts to serve the country with fidelity and zeal entitled him, he should be subjected to serious inconvenience, &c.

Recommending that Elkanah Hudson, concerned with two men named Rucker in horse-stealing, be pardoned in order that he may become a witness against his accomplices, this being necessary to their conviction. He had been admitted as a witness in the County Court of Amelia, but the proceeding was irregular—Unless pardoned his credibility as a witness could be “very much suspected” (!)—The object of this application is only to “enforce public justice.”

D'r Gent'n

Lincoln Co.
Ky.

I have received your several Let's of ye 14th Nov: and 4th Inst. The settlement of the Ac'ts of this Dept. is what I have long most ardently wished for, and nothing in my power shall be wanting to facilitate the business, but have to inform you that several persons Employ'd as alluded to in yours of the 14th November, do not come under my notice in the settlement of their Acets—the comertial agents and part of the purchasers for the campain Eighty one, to-wit, Mr. John Dodge of Illinois, Col: William Harrison of Monongehaly & Capt: R. Madison of Botetonrt and Deputies as they ware appointed by government and ordered to settle their Acets. with the Auditors. Notwithstanding, I shall take pleasure in promoting the settlement of those or any other acets: that may concern the Publiek, flattering myself that when the whole should be adjusted, that you will find that great attention have been paid to orders, at least as great as circumstances would admit of in all acets. I could possibly pay attention to.

His Excellency the Governor hath Recommended it to me, to solicit you as counsellors in any military ease that may be of a Dubious nature, and if your times would permit I should thank you for your advice in the following case of Importanee to this Countrey. In Jan'y last I receiv'd orders from the Executive to have the following posts erected and garrisoned by draughts from the militia; the mouth of Kentucky, the mouth of Licking, & Limestone. Various circumstances put it out of our powers to have this business Executed, without the greatest probability of loosing the party that should be sent for the purpose, untill the present Fall, when it would have been attended with the loss of the late Expedition. Since my return I have received further instructions to have those orders Amèdiately executed. I don't think they would have been so positive, if his Excellency had not been imposed on by some designing fellows that do not care for the Interest of the Countrey or Know very little about it—of which your presence will better inable you to judge. it is now not my business to inquire into the propriety of Establishing those posts under our present circumstances, but to execute the orders if in my power. at the same time I could wish to know your opinions of them, and particularly in what manner they are to be supported with provisions &c.—there may be about sixty thousand lbs. of Flower in store at Fort Nelson, and not a Ration to be bought on the credit of the State. Small quantities of meat is to be got by hunting at the Reasque of the lives of the Hunters and expence of almost its worth of amunition. the grain Tax of Fyatt (Fayette) is ordered to be delivered for the support of the Troops and expect to be impowered to receive that of the other counties—the whole that will be collected I doubt will be but a small amount. this is all the dependance we have for the support of those posts without government would furnish cash or send Flower by the way of Pittsburg. I believe there will be a sufficient number of delinquents to garison one of them. the militia will murmer, but I believe may be got to duty. if there should be any other circumstance that you wish to know of me, before you favor me with the Result of your consultation, I shall transmit them with despatch to you.

COL: WM. CHRISTIAN TO GOVERNOR HARRISON.

"Sir,

Great Island

I came to this part of the Country a few Days ago & was informed by Colo. Martin that a party of Cherokee Indians were here, on their way to Richmond, and desired me to assist him in turning them Home again. Accordingly I attended to-day, and we had some Talk with them, which Colo. Martin will communicate to your Excellency. The miseries of those People, from what I see and hear seem to exceed Description; here are men, women and children almost naked—I see very little to cover either sex, but some old Bear skins, and we are told the Bulk of the Nation, are in the same naked situation. But this is not the greatest of their Evils: their crops this year have been worse than was ever known, so that their corn and Potatoes, it is supposed, will be all done before April. And many are already out, particularly Widows and Fatherless Children. * * * *

Deplorable condition of the Cherokees

In their Commonwealth there is no provision made for distressed Families, and such as cannot provide for Themselves, seldom get any assistance. The great Scarcity of Ammunition makes their case still more deplorable. If they had a supply, all the Families who have Hunters among them could procure meat, which would enable them to live on a while in hopes of better days. Besides, it is in vain for your Excellency to send them Goods without Ammunition, because without, they can procure no skins to pay for them. We are informed that the Creeks upon the Mobilles as well as the Shawnese have threatened the Cherokees; and in their unprepared situation may force them to disturb our settlements. Indeed Sir, it appears to me that a moderate supply of Ammunition and goods would be a means of averting all the misery attending these People, as well as save many of our own frontiers. On this subject I have a word more to add. We are told that some hundreds of those Indians must inevitably die with Hunger, unless something is done for them; and it appears to me that the most speedy and certain way to relieve the widow & the orphan, would be to allow Col: Martin to purchase two or three hundred Bushels of Corn to distribute as their necessities may require. I find that the party here, consisting of fifty odd, are living on Col: Martin's corn. Whenever a family begins to be in a starving condition, it is very probable they will push for this Place and throw them themselves upon him for Bread.

 measures for their relief

They had received his Excellency's favor of the 7th. They had communicated the measures taken to relieve the unfortunate prisoners on their way to Virginia, and had heard nothing of those expected by way of New York. Every thing should be done for their relief, but they feared it would be impossible to effect anything by drafts on the State, or the sale of Tobacco. Philadelphia Prisoners from Canada

They express the hope, the accounts of the evacuation of Charlestown, given by his Excellency may be true. That event considered doubtful in Philadelphia. By a letter from Capt. Berry of the Alliance Frigate, they are informed of his having captured and carried into L'orient four of the Jamaca fleet, "laden with 1200 Hhds: Sugar, 400 Hhds: Rum, a quantity of coffee, logwood &c." The Rami lies foundered at Sea, and the crew saved, part of whom were put on the prizes captured by him. It was further reported, another ship of the Line was lost &c. Whereas, I have been informed that there are in different parts of this state a number of the subjects of ye King of Great Britain, who have presumed to enter it since the declaration of independence, and from the mistaken indulgence of the civil & military officers, have been suffered to remain, contrary to the Laws and good Policy, as thereby the enemy may be enabled to establish an interest, and form a seditious & malignant party in the bowels of the state, by whom they may not only be apprised of every step taken by Government for its protection and safety, but may, if not timely prevented, by calumny and falsehood alienate the affections of the good citizens, from the Government, and retard the Execution of the best of laws. To anticipate these evils, and to root out this interest, as well as to do justice to the faithful and deserving members of the society, I have therefore thought fit by and with the adviee of the Council of state to issue this my proclamation, requiring and strictly enjoining all civil magistrates, County Lieutenants and other inferior officers of militia to make diligent search within their several counties, and to apprehend all such persons as come within the above description (Deserters from the British Army having passes from the officer at the post to which they deserted excepted) and to send them under guard to the Comman'g Officer at Richmond, in order to their being sent to some british Garrison. He is informed that the subject of that contract was then agitated to the injury of the former Executive as well as to himself. If anything had been communicated to the Governor, he hopes he will suspend his judgment, until the matter be enquired into, when he feels assured, that not "only the Contract, but the manner of executing it" would reflect honor upon the former Executive and upon himself.

JOS: JONES AND J. MADISON JR: TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA. Decem. 24th

"Sir,

We have no southern mail this week. Since our last a Frigate Philadelphia from France has arrived in Delaware Bay—by her we have Letters News from France in relation to the efforts at peace from our Commissioners at Paris, so late as the 14th Day of Oct. inclosing a Copy of a Com'con to Mr. Oswald of the 21st of Sept., revoking the one granted the beginning of the preeceeding month, in which the States of America were called British Colonies and Plantations. the last authorises Mr. Oswald to conelude a peace or truee with any person or persons duly impowered for the purpose in behalf of the thirteen united States of America—these new powers were given in consequence of the absolute refusal of our Com'r to treat under the first Com'con to Mr. Oswald. You will receive a copy of the Commission transmitted to Congress from the secretary of foreign affairs. Some steps have been taken by the Com'r subsequent to the receipt of these new powers, but nothing so determined us to authorise the forming any conclusion, or what may ultimately be the issue of the negociations. When we reflect upon the different interests to be considered and the time necessary for their discussion and adjustment, we ought not to entertain too sanguine hopes of a speedy conclusion, even if it should ultimately be a favourable one—on the contrary prudence and sound policy dictate that we pursue with unremitting attention the measures proper for War, untill we are certain they are no longer necessary. The treaty of Commerce with the seven united provinces of the Netherlands, we have good reason to believe, was signed by the parties, the 7th of October, Decem. 30th COLO. WM. CHRISTIAN TO "THE HON'BLE COL'R SAMPSON MATHEWS" RICHMOND.

"Dear Sir,

Mahanaine I was lately down Holston near the Island, when Col: Martin the Virginia Agent for Indian Affairs informed me there were a number of Cherokees in the Island who intended to go on to Richmond. This he seemed very desirous to prevent, supposed it would be a disagreeable visit to your Honourable Board. He showed me a letter from his Excellency our Governour, in which a wish seemed to be expressed that I should assist and advise him when opportunity offered. We then went into the Island, and after some Talk with the Indians they agreed to return home again. We took down in writing all that passed, which with Letters from Colo. Martin and myself to his Excellency upon the same subject, we sent by Colo. John Taylor, who was present & who was to deliver the Papers as he returned to Caroline.

Indians persuaded not to go to Richmond

After writing the Letters by Mr. Taylor, Col: Martin and myself had a good deal of Conversation about his situation, where he is as an agent for Virginia. As soon as we talked a little about it, I saw the impropriety of it, and we agreed that I should write to you upon the subject. And in order to give you a better Idea of the Country, I have scratched down a rough map* of that Part of it which now comes in question. The Island is in North Carolina about ten miles: and in my opinion, it is not very agreeable to the North Carolinians for Us to have a Trade and Agency in that State: although they don't complain much about it, being greatly pleased with the Complaisance, and Politeness of Governour Harrison.

Map of that country
Carolinians

The settlements down the River, extend about 30 miles, and to the Southwest and South much more. The only way the Indians can come to the Island in safety is up the River; and even on that Rout they have suffered. Two of their men noted friends to the White People were murdered last summer, on the River, within the settlements, as they were bringing up a Canoe with skins and Furrs to the Island. Col: Martin, knew, took and confined the murderers three in number: and although men in no Repute, were rescued by a Body of Armed men

Dangers to which friendly Indians are exposed

their Neighbors in a few Hours. And since that two other Indians were Killed about the lower settlements. These Inconveniences obliged Col: Martin to go all the way to the nation, with the goods the Executive furnishes him with, which adds considerably to the Expenses attending the Trade. And if Public business is to be done, it is a great Risk to bring the Indians to the Island. Decem. 30th 1782.

What I mean then to submit to your consideration, is the removing of the Store and Agency to Cumberland Gap. The Gap lies directly betwixt the Lines of Henderson and Walker, but a Post might be fixed within both, to be certainly in Virginia, as the lines are but 2½ miles asunder. The Gap is near half way betwixt our settlements on Holston and Kentuekey, and a post there would be a resting Place for our poor citizens going back and foward & would be a great means of saving the Lives of Hundreds of them. For it very seldom happens that Indians will kill People near where they Trade: and it is thereabouts the most of the mischief on the Road has been done. The best hunting ground the Cherokees now have is down Tennessee & up Powell's valley to Cumberland Gap: there being certain fixed Bounds betwixt them and the Chieasaws and Creeks over which neither must trespass. And at any rate the Gap is nearer to the Towns than the Island: more convenient for their Trade, and more safe on account of our own People. State Agency should be removed to Cumberland Gap &c.

Besides wherever an Agent is, Indians will be every now and then coming to him. In Powell's valley they could, for some time to come furnish themselves with Provisions. At the Island they have no chance but to live upon Col. Martin. It has however, been the case for a long Time past, for I am convinced all the pay he gets from the State would not buy the Provisions he has to give away to them. If our Trade should be increased, I dare say Powell's river is navigable for canoes, and would answer that End as well as at Holston.

Col: Martin could easily procure a number of Families to join him and erect a Station next Spring in Powell's Valley, and would willingly do it, if directed so to do by Government. Notwithstanding I think the Pay of half a dozen or a dozen men for a few months at the Beginning would be well laid out. Indeed I always thought our State ought to have kept a Post at the Gap. There is a noted place called Martin's 20 miles above the Gap, where there was a Station some years ago, that might answer. But the Gap is much to be preferred to any other. Col: Martin is a Field Officer in our Washington, and I should suppose there need be no officer in Pay at his Station; and no other expence attending the men, if any are ordered, but their Pay and Provisions. Col: Martin should be aided in establishing a Post in Powell's Valley

I view the change I propose, as of great Importance to the Frontiers of Washington; to our Peoples Journeying to and from Kentucky; particularly the poor families moving out; to the Indian Trade and to the Indian Agency in general. Will you then Sir, be pleased to reflect a little upon the subject, and state it to his Excellency our Governor, and our Honourable Council?

1782. I know of no views but the Public good, that Martin or myself could Decem. 30th have in this change. I have therefore to stipulate with you Sir, that if Character of the proposition is disliked, that the Blame may fall on me alone. I wish Col: Martin to mention to you that I have been well acquainted with Col: Martin's &c. Transactions, and management for more than 6 years past, and have always observed him to be a faithful, trusty servant to the Public; Acting at all times fairly and openly, without respect to the censure or applause of the lawless or licentious. I have always found him a man of the greatest candour and Integrity in all his dealings Public and private; and I verily believe the back country does not afford a man so fit in all Respects as he is for your Agent. I am sure he has been within an Inch of loosing his life in the service, when a man of less zeal for the Country's welfare would have shunned the Danger. In short Sir, he is a undesigning, plain, honest, brave man, and understands the manners and disposition of the Indians better than any Body I know; Besides he is held in great esteem by all Ranks of them. It is for fear Col.
 Martin has been or may be traduced by men unacquainted with his merit, that I trouble you upon this Head; and am satisfied it will give you pleasure to know that those in Trust, under the Direction of your Board are honest men.

Decem. 31st JOS: JONES, AND J. MADISON JR: DELEGATES TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

"Sir,

Philadelphia Yesterday's post brought in your Excellency's favor of the 21st. intelligence being received the last week that Virginia had repealed her Law imposing a duty of 5 p. ct: on imported articles and prize goods in consequence of the recommendation of Congress on that subject, sus- 1782. pended the journey of a deputation of three Gentlemen from Congress Decem. 31st to the State of R. Island to represent to their Legislature the evil con- Good effect of sequences to be apprehended from their continuing to withhold their the action of assent to a measure so indispensably necessary to the general welfare, Virginia &c. and which had met the approbation of the other states in the Union.

We shall be happy to hear that such parts of our letter upon the subject as your Excellency was pleased to lay before the Assembly may be thought so far to deserve the attention of that hon'ble Body as to produce a Influence of renewal of the Law, in the latitude recommended by Congress, espe- Virginia

WM. REYNOLDS, W. GOOSLEY & WM. CARY, MAGISTRATES TO THE GOVERNOR. Decem. 31st

In regard to Capt. Waterman, sent to Richmond to be brought before York the Governor & Council for examination. They had ordered his arrest when he returned to York, and therefore thought it proper to give all the information respecting him, in their possession. He had once commanded a vessel in the London trade, and after the evacuation of Philadelphia by the British Army, he took command of a vessel in Mr. Beall's service. Having heard of his uncle's death in London he had gone to that city; was subsequently captured and impressed on board the Garland a British ship, but escaping to a privateer, he had succeeded in landing on Hog Island on the Eastern Shore, and thence came to York.
 From what they had discovered, they were of the opinion he had not come back to Virginia with any bad design, but was anxious to reside where he had been always kindly treated &c.

MATHEW GODFREY, CO. LIEUT: OF NORFOLK AND WM. ROBINSON CO. LIEUTENANT OF P. ANNE CO. TO THE GOVERNOR.

“May it please your Excellency,
Since the capture of the British Troops at York, there have returned to the county of Norfolk two ministers of the Church of England, to-wit, William Andrews and John Bruce, each of whom joined the Enemy, on the evacuation of Portsmouth, and continued with them, untill the British Army was Reduced: and altho’ Mr. Andrews denies the authority and Jurisdiction of the Common-wealth, he tho' not long returned, has already entered upon the discharge of some parts of his Clerical Function, such as marrying, and christening children, and Mr. Bruce, from what has passed from him in conversation intends the same in the County of Princess Anne. These Men having by their conduct, thus clearly manifested their Disaffection to the Government of the Commonwealth, we submit it to your Excellency, whether very pernicious effects may not arise from their being permitted to mix with the People in General, many of whom they may, in all probability seduce from their Allegiance and affection to this Government, by spreading Doctrines and tenets which may place it in an obnoxious point of view.

Should your Excellency concur in Sentiments with us, we humbly submit it to your wisdom, whether it would not be proper to suspend or silence the above two ministers, and more especially as at this time nothing is of greater importance than to keep the minds of the People as firmly united to the American Cause as possible. Hoping that your Excellency will take such measures in respect to the above, as may appear just and necessary.

MAJOR ALEX: DICK, TO GOVERNOR HARRISON. January 1st

Requesting to be retired from the service as a supernumerary, in as much as Col: Dabney's remaining, his command would require only one field officer. Richmond

GENL: S. H. CLARK TO COL: DAVIES. January 1st

Urging the policy of paying his officers and men at least a part of their dues: great want of cannon, there not being enough for one block house, instead of the amount necessary for five Forts. Number of Troops decreasing; but if the militia of Kentucky were organized so as to furnish one man to serve during the war, for every fifteen enrolled, force enough to garrison the Posts would thereby be raised. Not a ration to be gotten on the credit of the state, consequently some plan for the support of the Troops should be fallen upon, by the Government. He is preparing to begin the works "at the mouth of Kaintucky," but apprehends the necessity of abandoning them at last, for want of support &c. He is a stranger to the proposals looking to a general peace, and to save blood and treasure recommends prompt measures to defend that Department, &c. Lincoln Ky. Condition of the Troops, Forts &c.

J. AMBLER, TREASURER, TO GOV: HARRISON. January 1st

In reply—It would give him great satisfaction to comply with His Excellency's order to furnish Mr. Irvine of Phil'a, the "6817 Dollars"—but the impossibility of meeting the numerous demands upon him will be apparent when it is known that there was then in the Treasury only £5000, in Tobacco; that the Gen'l Assembly had ordered the immediate payment of £50,000 to the Continental Receiver, to which were to be added the pressing claims of the government officers, and the holders of "civil list warrants." His situation under these circumstances was far from enviable &c. Treasury Office

He should ever gratefully remember the favours granted him by His Excellency, particularly in the permission granted him, to become a retired Supernumerary &c. Hoping to serve his country as a citizen, or in any useful capacity, he now desires the further favour of being made manager of the Gun manufactory; that place being vacant. He had written to his Excellency on the sixth of December last, but Capt: Barney of the Packet Washington having been detained for Dispatches from Paris, he is enabled to reply to the Governor's letter of the 11th November just received. There was little probability of supplies being furnished by the Court of France to any of the States of the Union, individually. The only hope, and that a feeble one, would be to make personal application at Paris. This he should do. He had conferred with Dr. Franklin in the matter of obtaining Convoy for the transportation of supplies, but as this assistance could not be procured on Continental account, there was no possibility of obtaining it for Virginia. The general opinion at that Place was that there would not be a very speedy Peace. Should the war continue, he thinks the French Ministry would furnish the loan wanted by Virginia. The loan for Pennsylvania might be effected in Holland, but the merchants of Amsterdam preferred making advances to Virginia, because the payment of Interest could be made by that State in an Article (Tobacco) which always commanded cash, and of which there was a constant consumption, &c.

In obedience to his orders, he had "enquired into the state of the Gunnery" &c. By his Father's papers he found the Factory much in debt, particularly to the officers, workmen and laborers.

It would be necessary to pay off these arrears before the work could go on. Under the estimate of the annual expenses of the factory rendered by his father, if complied with, the state could be completely armed in a short time. Should his Excellency & Council appoint him to succeed his Father, as superintendent, he should endeavour to serve the State to his own and the satisfaction of the Executive.

"Sir,

On Christmas day last the Indians attacked the house of John Ingles on Clinch in this county, scalped and otherwise greivously wounded, a young man of the name of Cox, overtaken in ye field. the second day afterwards as they enemy was making off towards the head of Sandy-River, came on three hunters, two of whom they killed. This attack at so uncommon a season, and notwithstanding Genl: Clarke's success, has dishartened the whole settlement of Clinch greatly—in-so-much that they have generally come to a resolution to abandon the river early in the Spring, if some apparantly effectual measures are not set on foot for their protection—A Fort erect on Sandy-River, west of the Laurel Ridge seems to me the only probable measures. A negotiation for peace with the northward Tribes may do great things; yet it will not be certain but several small parties will annoy us thro' the summer if some active exertions are not early made to intimidate and prevent them."

* * * * *

"I should not be so importunate on this subject were I not fully persuaded of the danger that may be expected from a Tribe lately initiated, but not subded, and who will at last be secretly supported from Detroit notwithstanding all Carlton has promised—Some of our Countrymen lately from Canada gives various and well evidenced reasons for this opinion. Since my return from Richmond I addressed the Governor on this subject, and should not again have troubled any of the Gentlemen of the Executive had it not been, that I was lately waited on by a deputation of officers from Clinch, informing me of the fixed resolution of the inhabitants, as above stated, &c.

I am Sir, Your mo: obt. hble Servt.
&c. &c.

Jan'y 29th COL: WM. CHRISTIAN TO GOVERNOR HARRISON, BY MAJOR PELHAM.

"Sir,

Mahanaine
Col. Martin agent should be removed from G.
Island to Cumberland
GapNecessity of a Post at Mouth of Licking &c.

About a month ago, I wrote to Col: Mathews, one of your honorable Board, recommending and advising the removal of Col: Martin, your Indian Agent, from the Great Island on Holston river, to Cumberland Gap. I gave some reasons in that letter why I recommended the Alteration, which I hope Col: Mathews stated to the Board." * * *

"However Sir, the chief Design of my troubling you at this Time, is to remin'd you, that it has been long talked of, and I dare say often recommended, that a Post ought to be erected on the Ohio at the Mouth of Licking or Lime stone River, for the benefit of the middle and upper Parts of the Kentucky Country.

The Falls is beyond a doubt a proper station for a garrison, but it is of no more use to the upper and middle Country than a Post on James River would be to the people on Potomack. 1783.
Jan'y 29th

I rather judge Limestone to be the most suitable Place, and that a hundred men would be a sufficient number for a Garrison there. It would be a proper Place for the Rendezvous of Troops going into the Shawney Country, and for the Debarkation of Families moving down the Ohio. The other advantages arising from a Post there, I need not explain, as they will in a moment occur to your Excellency. There is one however I have just thought of that I will mention. At Limestone or Licking would be a proper station for an armed vessel to cruize from, up and down the River. But it ought to be light and manageable for twenty or thirty men, which number in a proper constructed vessel would be strong enough to attack any number of Indians in Canoes. There is one thing I will mention, and although it may appear Selfish, yet you ought to be acquainted with it. Fayette County is the most exposed to the Enemy, of any County in the State, or perhaps in America, and if neglected, the Inhabitants will I dare say from Report, move away in great numbers to Cumberland in North Carolina: and if the present Inhabitants makes a Break I don't know where any others would be found to take their Places. I am informed by Letters from Kentucky that the People seem pretty easy just now, being amused with an account of a Cessation of Arms betwixt us and our Enemies: and some other accounts of General Carlton's having proposed to stop hostilities, from the Indians. The latter we hear often by travellers from Pennsylvania. Be those matters as they may, I have very slender Hopes that the Shawnees will regard either Carlton or Haldimand's Talks, in any short Time; besides the Doubt I have of Carlton's sincerity. And therefore I guess the People exposed ought to make Preparations for an early and vigorous attack. Small Parties have already been on our Frontiers: and near the Falls of Ohio. Their success will send out others, in spite of any vague and doubtful orders from their generals at ten or twelve hundred miles distance.

The River to be protected by an armed vessel &c.

JOSEPH MARTIN, INDIAN AGENT, TO GOV: HARRISON.

Long Island

"Sir,

I returned from the Cherokee Nation on Monday last. The news from that Quarter is, that there is Warriours sent from four different Tribes of Indians from the neighbourhood of Detroit to hold talks with the Cherokees, Cheekasaws, Creeks, & Choctaws, from thence to proceed to San Augustine. The old Tassall informs me they are to collect as many Warriours from the Southern Tribes as in their power lyes, to assist them the Insuing Campain. That all ye other nations are this Spring, to Imbody in the neighborhood of Detroit & march from there with a party of British forces against Fort Pitt; from thence to the Falls of Ohio & Kentucky, & from thence to the Illinois in order to take the above places and destroy the Kaskaskian Indians, as they are sure of success. This appears to be their design and plan for this year.

They inform the Cherokees that if they will but join them they will be well supplied with every thing they want, for nothing: the above Indians were seen at the Creek Nation on their way to St. Augustine, accompanied with 575 Choctaws & near 500 Cherokees. I expect they will be back some time in March. At their arrival in the Cherokee Country I am to have Immediate notice. Therefore if your Excellency should think proper to order about 100 Horsemen to hold themselves in readiness, they might be easily cut off before they could cross the Ohio. I am told they have dispatches from the Commander at Detroit to the Commander at Saint Augustine; in all probability if they could be defeated on their way home, which I think is Easily Effected, we then should be made acquainted with all their secret plans of war. 1783. February 2d

Your Excellency's instructions respecting the Treaty with the Southern Tribes has not come to hand. Col: Donaldson have been waiting since the 2d of last month on that business, and waits your Excellency's Instructions. Maj'r Reid who I have Imploid to carry these dispatches, has also engaged to go to the Chekecaws' Nation, to fix the time of meeting at the Cumberland River. he is a person whose Diligance & Fidelity may be depended on. And I presume that it would be highly necessary he should be Enabled to make a good Apperance, to strike the Attention of the Indians where he is to go, as it may answer a good purpose with Those people.

I have the Honour to be,
your Excellency's

GENL: NATHL. GREENE TO GOV: HARRISON OF VA.

February 3d "Sir,

Head Quarters
Charles Town Thanks for the confidence reposed in him

Your favor of the 24th of December, with the several enclosures I have had the honor to receive. I am much obliged to you and the Council for your generous confidence in my integrity, and hope every part of my conduct will continue to merit it. I am sensible with you, of Checking improper suspicions, and of the impropriety of the liberty Mr. Banks took even in a Confidential Letter. There is nothing but the surmise that applies to me—If you will read his Letter, you will see the special privileges granted him even by the enemy, not by me—He never had a flag from me, nor any other indulgence whatever. He went into Town from George Town under Col: Lushington's flag, and came out to Camp under the Enemy's flag with liberty to return again, and this obtained by his friends in Charles Town at the same time that it was refused to every Body else.

How Banks got his flag of truce

When it was known that the Enemy intended to evacuate this place, a number of merchants made application to the Governor and Council for liberty to remain here with their goods. The peculiar situation of this Country induced them to consent to it. Before the evacuation Mr. Banks made large purchases of these Merchants: and some little time before it took place, he came out to Camp, where he was introduced to me, before which I had never seen him.

Steps to procure clothing for the army
&c.

Having received orders from Genl: Lincoln to procure clothing for the army almost at any price, and seeing it would be impossible to get it from the northward, and the troops in a suffering condition, I consulted Mr. Banks upon the practicability of procuring an assortment for Bills on Mr. Morris—He offered his services, and told me that if I could advance about 1200 Guineas he thought he could procure the Goods 20 pr: cent. lower of the same Merchants before the Enemy left the Town, than afterwards. I advanced him the money, and drew him a sett of Bills, the same mentioned in his Letter, and forwarded by Major Forsyth, and wrote to General Lincoln the steps I had taken to procure the cloathing, as you will see by a copy of my Letter to him of the 11th of November—I have been thus particular, that you might comprehend the whole transaction; and that you might have it in your power to inform General Scott, that the imposition he imagines he had discovered has no foundation, for the Bills were drawn for the public service, and the Secretary at war advised thereof—How far Mr. Banks has dealt generously in the prices of the purchases he has made, I cannot pretend to say, having never examine the invoices. Notwithstanding the agreement made with Mr. Banks, I gave the Clothier, as you will see by a copy of his instructions, to try all the Merchants, generally, intending to purchase of him who would serve the public on the best terms. But unfortunately the Merchants would not sell for Bills on any terms, and this made an obligation the greater, to Mr. Banks, who furnished us with all the articles of Cloathing we wanted. I have been obliged to draw Bills for two months pay for the officers—Mr. Banks has given those credit also, when few or no other Merchants in Town would. Every Merchant will make his advantages, and I suppose Mr. Banks has done it in the price of his goods furnished the officers. 1783. February 3d

Genl. Scott's

I did not know that Major Burnet had engaged in business with him untill a few days ago. I know he had it in contemplation, and intended to leave the Army to go into business, his friends approving thereof: but I understood him every thing would be conditional untill he consulted them. Major Burnet &c.

However, all his engagements must have taken place after the evacuation: and it was my intention he should have been out of my Family before he entered into any business.

Lest there should remain a shadow of doubt respecting Mr. Banks' surmise, I herewith enclose you a copy of certificate* sworne to before Henry Pendleton Judge of the Superior Court of this State.

I am not conscious of having done anything in my whole life that should render a measure of this sort necessary, but as I cannot tell what lengths jealousies may run, and knowing that public officers should be like Ceasar's Wife, not only innocent, but free from suspicions, I take the liberty to trouble you with this Certificate, if anything of the kind should be insinuated, that you would do me the justice to which Mr. Banks' imprudence, and Genl: Scott's indelicacy have exposed me. Mr. Banks took a very improper liberty, nor can I imagine what he could ground it on, unless it was from my saying to him that Major Burnet had thoughts of leaving the Army, and going into business, if the Enemy should evacuate Charles Town; and should he go into business, as he had long been in my Family he would oblige me by rendering him any services in his power. Mr. Banks has entered into contract with Lt: Col: Carrington for the subsistence of the Army; and he was the only Person who could be found to make an offer, altho' the army were starving, and subsisted with the point of the Bayonet. I only mention this lest you should have a more unfavorable opinion of Mr. Banks than he deserves. How far his going into Town in the first instance was justifiable, I cannot decide on. The transaction was known by the civil authority of this state, and it lay with them to punish him, if he had exceeded the priveledges of a Citizen belonging to another State.  February 3d not less than 40,000 dollars, for which I shall draw Bills on the Financier: and as I provide this cloathing at your instance, and by your order, I hope you will prepare the Financier for the drafts, that the Bills may be punctually paid. I have already drawn in favor of Messrs. Banks & Comp'y for 8,000 Dollars in Bills of Different value to secure the cloathing: and by this step I am in hopes to save at least 20 pr: ct. on the Goods.

I am to advance also 1200 guineas, which I am in hopes to get of Mr. Hall the Continental Receiver.

You will please to inform Mr. Morris that I have applied, and propose to appropriate this sum to the payment of the Cloathing—If in anything I have exceeded your intentions, you will please to inform me. My estimates are barely sufficient for covering the Troops, and as I am informed the Northern Army is compleatly clad, and as you mention a desire that this should, I have laid out accordingly as far as the Articles necessary for the purchase could be had. Many things cannot."

Instructions to the Clothier (Capt: Hamilton.)

"Sir,

You will proceed to Charles Town, immediately after it is abandoned by the Enemy, and endeavour to ascertain whether the Articles necessary to compleat this Army with Cloathing can be had for Bills on the Honlb. Robt. Morris Esqr. Financier to the United States, and at what prices.

As early as possible you will lay before me an estimate of the Articles wanted and the prices at which they can be had: accompanied with an invoice specifying the quantity, the prices, and the names of the Persons to whom they belong, which they will be so good as to furnish you with—

February 3d WALKER DANIEL TO THE COMMISSIONERS FOR ADJUSTMENT OF WESTERN ACCOUNTS.

New Holland "Gentlemen,

Agreeable to the request of Mons: Carbonneax (the Protho notary and notary Public for the Illinois Settlements) I have had a conference with him through the assistance of Captain Tardiveaux: he appears to have been instructed as to the ground of his message by the better disposed part of the Inhabitants of the country whose complaints he represents.

The principal topics of conversation that passed between us I will endeavour to give you, as far as my recollection will avail me. He complains that they are wholly without Law or Government: that their Magistrates, from Indolence or sinister views, having for some time been relax in the Execution of their Office, are now altogether without authority: that crimes of the greatest enormity may be committed with Impunity, and a man be murdered in his own House and no person regard it: that they have no Sheriff nor Prison: and to crown the general Confusion, that many people have made large purchases of three or four hundred Leagues, and are endeavouring to have themselves established Lords of the Soil, as some have done in Canada, and have settlements made on these purchases, composed of a set of men wholly subservient to their views.

February 3d

As a remedy to those Greivances, he would recommend that a President of Judication be sent them, with Executive powers to a certain Extent, and that subordinate civil officers be appointed to reside in each village or station, who should have powers to hear and decide all causes upon Obligations not exceeding three hundred Dollars, but that those which were given for more, the adjusting and settling all accounts whatever, and determining finally upon all intricate and important Questions should be reserved for the Court, which might be held at Haskaskias: and consist of the President and a majority of the magistrates.

He wishes the Grant in which the Kaskaskias Settlements lie could be considered as making one District; it contains five villages, of which Kaskaskias and Kohokia are the principal. The Grant reaches from Piazza to Amarie, about ninety miles along the Mississippi, and back from the River as far as the Illinois extends, that is to the Lakes. (I doubt the extent of the Grant to the N. E.) The Tract comprehended within these limits he informs me, was by Solemn Treaties, granted to the Settlers by the Indians, and has never been disputed by them. He further observes that there is no man in that Country whose abilities and Influence by any means capacitates him for the office of President; and he believes it would be absolutely necessary for a year or two, to have a company of Regulars stationed in the Country, who should be under the direction of the President; otherwise he conceives their decrees would not be carried into execution, as the Licentiousness of the People has risen to such a height. He seems anxious to encourage Population among them, and as an encouragement to adventurers to migrate thither, he wishes the President were vested with powers of granting Lands in moderate Quantities (for he appears afraid of monopolies) to such as chose to become Inhabitants of their Country. He says the Spaniards have the liberty of trading up any of their Rivers on the east side of the Mississippi, while they are prohibited by the Governor of Pancore to enter any one River on the Spanish side, and that they ardently wish proper representations were made of the matter, that they might enjoy reciprocal advantages with their neigh-

1783. bors, and especially that they could be allowed the Liberty of trading February 3d up the Missouri.

He complains that the Board of Commissioners have not settled the obligations which were given, payable in Peltry agreeable to the known Rule and constant practice of the Illinois Country, which is, when a note is given for 50 lbs: in Peltry, for Instance, and the obligor fails to pay in Peltry, that then he is considered as bound to pay 100 Livres in money.

My own observations to him, I presume, are unnecessary to communicate to you, though if you desire it, I shall upon being notified thereof, at any Time be ready to do it. As by your Commission, you might be empowered to enquire into the Situation of the Country of Illinois, and state their grievances to Government, I thought the above narrative might not be without its use. I have the honour to be Gent: with great personal Esteem,

Your most obt. & most humble Servant.

P. S. I have omitted, I observe in the Body of my Letter, to make mention of Mons: Carbonneaux's having pressed with much earnestness that the Inhabitants of Illinois might be permitted the enjoyment of their own Laws and Customs.

 from a transaction which had the public good, and the relief of the suffering soldiers for its objects: nor can this explanation be necessary to support his reputation, unless the people have lost all sense of generous confidence, which would too strongly mark a general corruption: but as private jealousy saps public confidence, we think this explanation may be of public utility."

Lieut. W. Clark.

The Officers, after consultation & mature deliberation find that the Garrison in its present situation, is by no means equal to the importance of the place. That there is not above one third of the men necessary for its defence, and in a short time the unavoidable casualties will reduce the number to not more than twenty or thirty men. That there is not more than three months Flower in store, not one pound of meat, and no possibility of procuring a sufficiency by the usual method of hunting. That there is not a sufficiency of lead to defend the Garrison twenty four hours in case of an assault. Some parts of the Fortifications going to wreck, and not men to make the necessary repairs. Also that the men appear to be on the Verge of mutiny in consequence of having served so long without receiving pay & other necessaries, and no prospect of an alteration for the better.

These considerations and the daily expectation of the Enemy now in the opening of the Spring induce the officers to conceive, that without some speedy remedy is taken they may be reduced to the shocking alternative of evacuating the Post. And should either its fall or the Evacuation happen, for want of the necessary supplies they cannot think themselves answerable for the consequences, being conscious of having done their duty as officers. But as it is the determination of officers & men to defend the Post to the last extremity (being sensible of its importance) wish only for the means, And hoping that something may be speedily done for the better support of the Department, Majr: Walls is hereby desired to lay this, with the State of the Garrison, before the General, requesting him to make the necessary alterations or Amendments, and lay the same before the Commiss'rs, or take such other measures as he may think most proper.

"The situation of my affairs in this quarter has not admitted of my being in Virginia as early as I wished, and it will still be some time before I can come. In the mean time I am advancing respectable payments to my creditors there, on account towards their debts, which will satisfy them till I can arrive to make a final close of their claims.

Charlestown

My resignation of Deputy Quarter Master General took place on the first of January, when I was to have proceeded immediately to Virginia; but no successor has yet been appointed, and I have been reduced to the necessity of remaining here or of leaving the department in a degree of confusion not wholesome to the present state of our Finances.

I am sincerely sorry the Letters opened by General Scott from Mr. Banks to Mr. Hunter should have occasioned so much uneasiness in Virginia. The inclosed publications will no doubt remove any suspicion as to the General, and I am persuaded Mr. Banks' conduct in his commercial views will also stand irreprehensible.

We have encountered the greatest of difficulties in procuring contracts for the subsistence of the Army here. amongst the inhabitants of the country the bands of Society had undergone too many fractures, and property too many revolutions, to leave us a resource in combined interests for the business.

The mercantile characters were mostly Foreigners unacquainted, as well as unconnected with the country, and consequently would not speculate in such an undertaking on nice calculation. Every endeavour has been made to excite a Competition for the business, but in the course of three months an offer of no sort could be drawn from any but Mr. Banks. he has undertaken it at somewhat less than 11d. sterling, equal to 17½d. Pennsylvania Curreney. This is very high, but other resort was left for the support of the army. The measures of Government for giving us supplies had entirely failed, and for the last two months we have rarely received more than half rations, and frequently no meat for five or six days.

For a few weeks after the enemy left this country the people remained in tolerable tranquility, tho' not as to the interior country. in a State of Society the principles of Whigg and Tory were so equally disseminated amongst them that mutual hostilities, and in many instances murders have left resentments which several Generations will be required to efface. But even that tranquility is now over. Several Parties of the banished characters have lately, through the upper parts of Georgia, penetrated into this State, and are now within 50 or 60 miles of this capital, plundering & burning the property of such characters as are odious to them, and some murders have been committed. The nature of the country and the dispersed as well as unconnected situation of the 1783. inhabitants leave it in the power of very small parties to spread destruction before them with impunity. Deep swamps afford them the securest cover whenever danger approaches, and the only possible means of ever interrupting them is by Dogs. These animals both parties have in this country, trained as regularly for hunting of men as ever they were for beast. In short sir, this is, and must continue an unhappy country. The people are ideally restored to their political state, but that political Fabric wants the necessary foundation of a social & cordial Connection, besides being liable to constant depredations from incensed and desperate enemies.

Our cavalry have been sent after those people, but I fear can answer but little purpose, from the reasons I have mentioned.

I have the Honor to be your Excellencies
most obedt. Servant."

He had been appointed by the Genl: Assembly to superintend the building of the public Foundry, and after its completion was ordered by the Executive to take charge of its management, in which capacity he acted until its destruction by the Enemy. During this time he had been compelled to hire labor to carry on the work; and to secure hands had become personally responsible to the owners of slaves and others, who had no confidence "in the public." These people were now clamorous for their money, and he begs the interposition of his Excellency to protect him from the obligations under which he lays on this account. He thinks "three or four years service to the State, without receiving the least compensation," should be a sufficient argument in his favor now.

COL: JOHN MONTGOMERY TO THE HON: THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS FOR THE SETTLEMENT OF WESTERN ACCOUNTS.

Feb'y 22d

"Gentlemen,

As I am Sensible that many Reports prejudicial to my character hath been spread by persons of an Evil disposition, and perhaps their character not known, may of course make some impression on you; and as my aects. are now on the carpet. I take the liberty of addressing this short narrative to you, the Contents Being an undeniable truth, I am in hopes will have the desired effect and disperse any suspicions you may have, originated by those Characters alluded to. In 1777, being ordered with my Company from Wholstons to the Kentucky Country for its defence, I remained there untill the year following, when Col: Clark arrived at the falls of the Ohio with a body of Troops on his way to the Illinois. I Joined him, and on the presumption of our being Suckcessfull, it was thought prudent to Establish a small Post at that place for the conveniency of a communication between the Illinois and Kentuckey Countries. after which we set out on our intended enterprise, and met with all the suckcess we could wish for, principally owing to the secrecy of our movements. after remaining in that country untill circumstances appearantly permitted our Return, I came of with the volunteers, having Instructions from Col: now Genl. Clark, to Feb'y 22d and verbal messages, when I received Instructions to raise three hundred men and Join Genl: Clark as soon as possible. raising the greatest part of the Troops, I proceeded down the tennisse river, after destroying the lower Cherokee Towns in concert with Col: Shelby's division. I proceeded on my rout and arrived at Kaskaskia the 29th of May 1779. an Expedition being already planed, or rather a manouver to prevent the Enemy's taking the Field and Distressing the Frontiers, I was Ordered to conduct the Troops by water to St. Vincent on the Wabash, Genl: Clark crossing by Land to that post with a small escort. the appearance of a design of attacking the Enemy on the Lakes being kept up untill the apprehensions of all danger of their attempting anything Capital that Season Vanished, a Garrison was ordered to be left at St. Vincene. The body of the batalion marched back to the Mississippi to Garrison the Towns Kaskaskia and Kohas. Genl: Clark finding the Public interest required that he should reside at the Falls of the Ohio untill provision should be made for the Insueing Campaign, I was ordered to take command of the Troops in the Illinois; make often reports of the State of the Department to Genl: Clark, and to be careful to have Expences of government as moderate as possible: drawing bills of Exehange on him or the Treasury of Virginia for the payment of the Expenees of the Troops, studying the general Interest of the State and Tranquility of the Inhabitants of the Different posts leting all kind of oppressions be the last shift. this is the Substance of orders I received. I set out for Kaskaskia the 14th of August, and disposed of my Troops according to order, drawing Bills on the Treasurer for the suport of the Troops. after some time the Inhabitants refused to Take Bills drawn any other way than on Mr. Pollock of New Orleans or the Treasurer addressed to both which I was necessitated to do or suffer my Troops to perish, not daring, from the nature of my Instructions to Impress provisions, if to be got by any other mains on moderate Terms. What might have been Genl: Clark's views for giving Such orders I can't acct. for any other way than that of his views of future operations being such that he suposed it to be our Interest to keep the Inhabitants attached to us by Every means in our power, knowing the influence they had over the minds of a great number of Savage Tribes. My Troops suffered, as the credit of the State fell: no payment being made for the Bills that was Drawn, and never haveing any goods, or other property in my possession to have purchased provisions, which was generally in Specie notes, which the vouchers to my acct. will best show. Bills I gave cash, for the recruiting Service was Depreciated. it required all the Industry we could possible make use of to support ourselves, by hunting &c. in the Spring 1780, we were threatened with an Invasion. Genl: Clark being informed of it Hurryed his departure with a small body of Troops from the Falls to the mouth of the Ohio, when he receiving other Expresses from the Spanish Comm'dts and myself, luckily joined me at Cohos, time enough to save the country from Impending ruin, as the Enemy appeared in great force within twenty four hours after his arrival. finding that they were likely to be disapointed in their Design, they retired after doing some mischief on the Span'h Shore, which would have prevented, if unfortunately the high wind had not prevented the signals being heard. in a few days a number of prisoners and Disarters left the Enemy Confirming a report that a body of near thousand English and Indian Troops ware on their march to the Kentucky Country with a Train of artillery, and the Genl: knowing the Situation of that Country apeared to be alarmed and resolved to attempt to Get there previous to their arrival. at the same time he Thought it necessary that they Enemy was retreating up the Illinois River, should be pursued so as to ataet their Towns about the time the might have been disbanded, distress them, convince them that we would retaliate and perhaps prevent their joining the British Emisarys again. previous to my knowledge of the above Resolution I had Informed Genl: Clarke of my Desire of Leave of absence for some time, in order to return to my family. it was then he informed me of his resolution; and that the Publiek Interest would not permit of my request being Granted, that I must take command of the Expedition to Rock River, while he would attempt to interrupt the army marching to Kentuekey, and if they got them before him Except the weakened the country too much he would raise an army and atempt to play them the same Game in the Miami country, as he hoped I would go towards Miskelemacknor, and if we Should be Tolerable sucksessfull and the business properly arranged, I might absent myself for four or five months in the fall or winter. after Given me Instructions he left Kohos the forth of June with a small Escort for the mouth of the Ohio on his rout to Kentuekey. I immediately proceeded to the Business I was order'd and march'd three hundred and fifty men to the Lake open on the Illinois River, and from thence to the Rock river Destroying the Towns and crops proposed, the Enemy not Dareing to fight me as the had so lately Been Disbanded that they could not raise a sufficient foree. after returning, takeing every method in my power to regulate business, I was resolved to return home, but after Deliberating some time, was convinced that the risque by land was Great without a Guard, which our circumstances would not admitt off, and that I could posably as soon or sooner return by Water than by land. what might also induee me in a great measure to Take my rout by Orleans, was the probability of Recovering some deserters from the Spanish Governor, and put a stop to that pernicious practice, which I in a great measure effected as that Gentleman appeared willing to comply with any proposition in his power to promote our interest. finding that a passage to Virginia was not expected in a Short time, I resolved to Return Emediately, and according to my resolution set out on the fifteenth of March and returned to my Command the first day of May 1781. the want of provision obliged us to Evacuate Fort Jefferson the Eight of June & the Gen'l interest required my attention at the falls of the Ohio, when I arrived the second of July a few days before Genl: Clark. on my first Return from New Orleans, I was alarmed to find by some letters for Genl: Clark setting forth many allagations and Instructions in consequence to the Comd's of Fort Jefferson. I was Emediately convinced that some malicious person in my absence had made reports much to my prejudice asserting that I had made large purchases pretendedly for the State and appropriated them to my use, which is a palpable falsity, as it is well known that I never attempted any thing that could give the least suspicion of such practices. of course these reports have originated from false malicious persons so Common in the Western Country and so apt to be credited by persons that ought, and would despise them, could the know their charactar. You are sensible how fond some perticular classes of people are, of spreading reports prejudicial to others. a low charactor, in the Eastern part of the state, he fits himself out, come to the fronteers, supposes on his rout, that although of an Inferior Class in his own neighborhood will be at least Equal to the First in the Country he is a going to push himself into Company and perhaps Gets kicked out; and Emediately makes a point of Exclaiming, not only for sake of Revenge, but is in hopes that strangers will view him as a man of consequence. but Sirs, you are too well acquainted with the world to make it necessary for me to say any thing more on the Subject of such Characters. I flatter myself that you will at least find, that too great credit have been paid to party reports, and that officers zealous in the interest of their Country, that have saerifised their all for it, have suffered by those very men, who not having virtue enough to step forth in its Defence, have maid their fortunes under the banner of those officers they wish to Destroy. no person but those that have been witnesses can have a just idea of the adress and Fatigues that it hath required to suport this Department that have Been the Salvation of all our fronteers, and saved much blood and Treasure, always Labouring under Every Kind of Difficulty, the want of men, money and provision, and haveing not only to Counteract the designs of a Powerful savage Tribe, encouraged by British Emissaries and others Equally Dangerous to the State. A duty I owe myself and Country require that I should give you every information in my power which will always give me pleasure, whenever you call on me.

Many of the Inhabitants had already taken steps to retreat to the interior. Enclosing copy of a letter from Capt. Valentine Thos. Dalton, to Genl: Clark, dated Quebec Oct: 29th, 1782. The original had been put into his hands before he was on parole, and he hopes the names of himself and the writer will not be mentioned as they are both paroled prisoners. He warns the Governor against giving implicit faith to all Dalton says, and refers to Col: John Gibson, the bearer of this letter, for further particulars on this hand. He should have written from Philadelphia, "but emerging from an Enemy's Prison," and being led to think himself neglected by his Country, he had not sufficiently composed himself

1783. to state what he had been informed respecting the obstructions made to Feb'y 24th his exchange by the state of Virginia; but he now begs the Executive will endeavour to promote it, should it come under consideration.

Dalton Cap- Dalton states in the letter to Genl: Clarke, that he had been surprised tured in his bed, by a party of Warbash Indians and Captured, for which he blamed the people of St. Vincennes—He had been informed the Indians had made several attempts to take him alive, by order of the Commdt.
 of Detroit. After having been paroled, some British officers had offered Offered a Commission in the British service him a Commission in their service equal to the one he held in the American, with many other promises &c, but he had assured them he was not a Second Arnold, and that his "Sentiments were the same as the brave Col: Crawford who suffered by them two years at a slow fire till Expired"—"this and many other Cruelties" he reminded them of, which displeased them, and he was next day put on board an armed vessel bound for Fort Erie, & thence marched to Quebee. He expected to be sent to Boston with other prisoners in Company with Col: Campbell.

After giving account of the means by which communications are kept up across to the frontiers he adds "a grand scheme is now preparing. Sir certain of the strength of Detroit, but the new Fort is very strong, and every preparation made for its defence by covered ways, new batteries Sources of his information &c. He had gotten his information from some good Americains, to be found among the merchants, who tho' under great restrictions had furnished him with necessaries. Mr. Graverod & Forsyth were among Spies those. These were those who went to Kentucky, Fort Pitt &c. as spies, by whom the Enemy were informed of every movement made by our people. Some of the prisoners taken on the Frontiers had taken the Traitors &c. oath of Allegiance to the Crown and being on their way to be exchanged, it was expected their assistance would be given to the British in making ineursions into our country. Mons Rosbloek formerly governor of Illinois, who broke his parole at Williamsburg had been there a few days

Enquiring whether his accounts as settled by the Commissioners and returned, were satisfactory? and whether there was any objection to paying him the balance due him, as soon as there should be Funds in the Treasury? His solicitude in this matter is very much increased by the necessity to which he is driven, and which compels him to sell part of his private property to discharge his debts. Some may suppose this to be the only debt due him “from the public” and “that he could wait for payment like many other public creditors” but he had furnished the State other supplies of various Kinds, and adds “From the time of General Gates' defeat till the Reduction of most of the British Posts in the Southern States, I furnished that Army with bar iron & Horse shoes, & with my own money paid the Waggoners for transporting them to the Army. those supplies alone amount to near one thousand pounds & were furnished at a very critical & distressing period, for which I received Genl: Greene's letter of thanks. He then draws attention to Feb'y 24th another important subject—viz—The public had erected several buildings upon his Estate in Fluvanna, and no terms had been stipulated, for this or other property of his converted to public use—he should not trouble the Executive with an Estimate of his losses incurred by the enemy following up and destroying the public stores at his estate, as he thought "private Interest should bend to the pub: good," but he trusts it will be thought proper to appoint some person to treat with him in regard to the occupancy of his property, purchased by himself, and for the use of the wood and other things necessary to maintain the Post at that place, &c.

Feb'y 25th GEO: ROGERS CLARKE TO THE HON: THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, TO SETTLE WESTERN ACCOUNTS, &c.

"Gentlemen,

"New Holland"

In consequence of the conversation that passed between us on your receiving a State of the Garrison of Fort Nelson, I have been led into the train of thoughts I now transmit to you, on a subject that concerns not only the Inhabitants of this Infant Country, but the Tranquility of all our more Interior frontiers. Prejudice & party disputes, and the want of aids from Government hath in a great measure been the occasion of reducing this Department to a Defenceless State, at a time when we might suppose they were rising superior to the Enemy they have to contend with. How it hath been supported under these difficulties would require a pamphlett to convey to you the Idea of the measures that have been taken, rather than a Letter. Its present defence is what we ought to be solicitous for, for reasons obvious to every thinking man that is zealous for the welfare of this Country and will divest himself of prejudice, must know that great part of the State owe their protection to this Settlement, being far advanced towards the Enemy's Country, engaging the attention of those Savages that would (had they no such object) make frequent depredations on the Fronteers, and would have long since caused the richest part of our Country to have been abandoned, and instead of that assistance to the General defence, that have been given by the frontier Countries of the State, they would have required support from the more interior parts. What might not have been the consequence in such a situation; and what is that of this Country at present, detached from all immediate resource, surrounded by numerous Savage Tribes, inflamed from Education and the prospect of British reward. Our interest in them nearly lost for the want of support. The Troops formerly a Barrier, reduced to a handfull, the credit of the State sunk; not a shilling of money, not a Ration to be procured any other way than by voluntary advances from a few individuals. The Illinois settlements like to be lost to the State through inattention that will nearly double the Enemy, and the whole of the Savage Tribes let loose on a Country void of the necessary military stores to enable them to defend themselves, had they other supplies. 1783.

Feb'y 25th

Emissaries among them dividing their Councils and destroying their Interest at the seat of Government, ready to take the advantage of the first opportunity to separate them from the State they live in for the advantage of a few Individuals, who at present rejoice at every misfortune they meet with. Too few in number to harrass the Enemy, in the manner it ought to be done, and too great a number of women and children to make their escapes from the Country. We may expect nothing more certain than an Invasion the ensuing Fall if no measure should be taken to prevent it. Indian Tribes joining the Bloody League will counterbalance what they suffered last year, and finding us to be too weak to keep up those Garrisons we have occupied &c; those circumstances with a little British Flattery will induce them to make a Violent attempt, and perhaps agreeable to the Genl: Council of the nations last fall, will embody, as they express it, from the rising to the setting of the Sun, and finally drive the Kentuekians across the mountains and then the other Inhabitants into the Sea. In short, I think the settlement in extreme Danger, and that the interest of the Continent require that it should be immediately put in a state of defence, which is by no means in our power without assistance from the Executive. I have repeatedly wrote to them on this disagreeable subject, without as yet receiving an answer, & therefore think it highly necessary that an Express should be sent immediately to Government, laying a state of the Department before them, in which I hope for your assistance.

I make no doubt of it, from the Idea I have of your disposition, as it will farther convince them of the propriety of their taking some immediate steps for its support, by advancing money, Troops & Stores; at least such part as cannot be procured in this country. Fort Nelson ought by all means to be supported, as in the eyes of the Enemy, it is a key to the country, and immediately between the Body of the Enemy and the settlement. A garrison or two higher up the River might be necessary as a Barrier to the Eastern parts of the Settlement. one hundred Regulars in each, reinforced occasionally by militia, which would be much cheaper than Garrisons of militia relieved every two months, and exceedingly burthensome to the Inhabitants. This is the smallest scale that I could possibly suppose would answer the purpose; and not then, except our army should penetrate to the head of the Oubache some time the ensuing summer, as the greatest body of the Enemy live there, those on the Miami retiring since the last expedition, by defeating them, it is more than probable they would come to any terms with you before they would suffer their crops to be destroyed, which always 1783. involves the nation in the greatest distress and prevents their going to Feb'y 25th war, neither can they recover the loss in a short time.

The greatest part of the hostile Tribes at present are of those people that have been in alliance with us until lately. An Expedition into their country would be appropo to what they ought to expect from us from the nature of the different Treaties held between us. Such an armiment to set out in July would prevent any capital designs they may have on this settlement, as that is about the time they generally take the Field when they move in large Bodies: their whole attention would be taken up by the Idea of defeating said Army as the preservation of their Families would depend on it. If they were disappointed you might be sure of any reasonable Terms. I could not suppose that such an undertaking would be difficult or expensive. 170,000 lbs Flour to be immediately purchased at Pittsburg and sent to Fort Nelson, and some other necessary stores. Kentucky might furnish 1,000 Troops, 500 to be drawn from other Quarters which would compose a sufficient Army, and probably in two month do the business proposed: at least they would convince the Indians that they were inferior to us, that the British assertions of our weakness was false, and that we could at all times penetrate into their country at pleasure and destroy that Idea they have of their ability of routing the Kentucky country or prevent its population, and might induce them to suppose that their own Existance depended on their Amitty with us. take a slight view of the undeniable advantages the settlement is of, to the States at large. we then might with propriety suppose that there ought to be at least 350 Regular Troops kept up in this Department, one third at St. Vincents, well supplied with necessary supplies, and a sufficiency to furnish any little army that might be drawn into the field, which under these circumstances might be raised at any time, & penetrate into any quarter of the Enemy's Country at pleasure.

- “Sir,
 Lincoln Co. Ky. Yours of the 19th Dec: came safe to hand the 2nd Inst: I am happy to find that my proceedings with the Chickasaws met with your approbation, although Capt: George was not as successful as I could have wished. he mentioned very little on the subject of Land to them, as I had verbally instructed him not to do so, except the nation was gen'ly at home. His arrival at their Towns being in the high of hunting time, they could not collect the Council necessary in such cases; but I beleive the Lands may be obtained with a good deal of ease, if proper measures are taken. This is the first opportunity since his return, of a safe conveyance to you. the talk of the Indians, you have enclosed. I believe the Peace is fixed between us. I did not know, nor yet learn when they were to meet Major Martin. If the Chicasaws arrive before I leave the Country, I shall attempt to compleat your wish with them. The several letters I hope you have received this winter, will give you an Idea of the situation of Affairs in this Quarter at that time, but much more alarming at present, as the Ouabache Indians have at last generally Declared War, and I doubt, the Combination of Savages which the last Expedition was intended to have confused, still subsists: and if the destruction of the Shawnee property and the appearance of such a force in their County at a time when they supposed we were too weakened to attempt any thing, do not discourage them, I am affraid the Western Part of this settlement will be tore to pieces the insuing fall without the greatest attention & without something should be done by Government to prevent it. The Illinois will be Garrisoned by the English in a short time, as they have now little to fear, Since getting the whole of the Ouabache Indians engaged against us. we should have to cut our way through them before we could get at such Garrison. I have but little confidence in British promises of putting a stop to the savages continuing the War: its dangerous to their Interest, and their conduct among the Western Indians fully point out their Views. Supposing them sincere, the late expedition would be attended with the most salutary Consequences in showing the Indians what they might continue to expect, and they would of course with greater Ease comply with the British request; for they do not view themselves as dependant on the English, for them and ourselves have formerly taught them to think so much of themselves, that they would strike both if they were equally affronted.

In my last letter I flattered you with the prospect of our attempting one of the Forts on the Ohio immediately. I was too sanguine in my hopes without Funds from you for the purchase of Provisions. Enough could not be provided to march a sufficient Body of men to the spot: Corn is the only article of Provision that could be got in tolerable plenty, a Bushel of which could not be got on the Credit of the State. I can't certainly conceive what reason your Excellency could have for supposing that I should be backward in having your Orders respecting those Forts executed. if in my Power one of them in particular would add greatly to my interest, and supposing me to be fond of Command, I then of course should prefer the greatest number possible.

I thank you Sir, for your permit for retiring. the smallness of the command could not have been my reasons, as it is certainly extensive. but quite a different cause. Every Exertion in my power have been made for many years for the Defence of this Department. Knowing the safety of all our Fronteers depended on it, of course took pleasure in encountering the greatest fatigues, leaving nothing in my Power undone, either by dividing the councils of the Indians, taking necessary steps to keep great numbers in our Interest, making necessary Excursions into their country to Distress our Enemy, and cause the Friendly to keep so. and attempting to destroy the Interest of that numerous Clan of Partizans or pretended Proprietors residing in Philadelphia that 1783. was endeavouring to divide the counsels of the People here, and at the March 8th same time destroying their interest at the seat of Government, more effectually to compleat their disaffection to the State. As soon as I found they were likely to carry their point I at once saw the destruction of the country if the war should continue: and of course wished not to be a witness to the great success in their attempts against me, as the greatest stroke they could possibly make, put it out of my power to save the Country. I wished to be clear. These were my reasons.

You mention that you wish a stop to be put any further drafts on New Orleans, it has long been the case. I don't know of a Bill of any kind being drawn for two years. I have continued to reduce the officers, as the number of soldiers decreased, since I was first acquainted with the act for that purpose.

By this conveyance I expect you will receive a full account of the situation of the Country from the Board of Commissioners, as they have received every information in my power to give them. It is truly alarming. You will find by the last returns the great scarcity of Lead.
 If you will send an order to the mines for 1000 or 1500 lbs., previous to my arrival at that place. I will contrive to get it forwarded by any plan your Excellency should propose or direct.

I am Sir, with the utmost respect,

DELEGATES IN CONGRESS TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA—by Express. 1783.

Communicating the purport of Dispatches from the American minister at Paris, received on that day by Capt: Barney, who had left L'Orient on the 17th January under passport of His Brittanic majesty, &c. These would be found important, tho' not decisive: and his Excellency might form his own opinion as to the prospects of a speedy Peace, and act accordingly.

March 12th
Philadelphia
Arrival of Dispatches—Preliminaries for Peace
signed at Paris

The preliminary Articles of Peace, had been signed by Mr. Ozwald, Minister Plen: of G. Brittain, & Messrs. Adams, Franklin & Jay, our Ministers, provisionally; that is, to be effective when the definitive Treaty shall be concluded between France & G. Brittain.

They are substantially as follows—ample recognition of the Independence of the United States, with relinquishment on the part of the Crown of all jurisdiction, sovereignty and property, &c., within the limits of the same. These are fixed as follows, from the mouth of the River St. Croix to the source, thence along those mountains which divide the waters that fall on each side into the St. Lawrence & Atlantic ocean, thence to the head of Connecticut River, thence down the middle of that River to the 45th degree of Latitude, thence west to the River Iroquois or Cataroquy, thence along the middle of said River to the Lake Ontario, thence thro' the middle of that Lake & the Lakes Erie, Huron, Superior & the lake of the Woods, pursuing the middle of their water communications, thence due west to the Mississippi, thence along the middle of that River to the 31st Degree of north latitude & thence from that intersection nearly an East course to the source of St. Mary's River, thence down the middle of that River to the Atlantic ocean, together with all Islands in s'd ocean within 20 Leagues of the Continent.

Bounds of the United States

The Great Fisheries to be free to both nations, with liberty to cure on the shores subject to either power—& we allowed to fish and cure on the shores of Labrador untill they may become settled.

Fisheries, &c

Debts due on both sides are to be recovered—no farther confiscations, and Congress earnestly to recommend the different States to revise all laws forfeiting the property of British subjects, who had never borne arms against the United States: and all refugees who have borne arms, are permitted to apply to the several Legislatures to be reinvested in their Estates, by refunding any sums paid by bona fide purchasers, now in possession.

Confiscated
property

The subjects of either Power are reciprocally to enjoy in commereial intercourse, all advantages enjoyed by the subjects of each respective Power within their own dominions, excepting only the exclusive Rights of chartered British companies, from interference with which all other British subjects are precluded.

Commercial privileges

All Posts within the limits of U. States to be evacuated by the British Troops without carrying off any property seized from the Americans.

Evacuation of military posts

1783. All Posts taken since the signing of these Preliminaries to be immediately relinquished—general amnesty on both sides for all offences, and a ceasing of all prosecutions growing out of such offences, &c. This was the general ground on which the agreement reciprocally signed, rested.

March 12th

Difficulties in the negotiations on acc't of Gibraltar

On the 24th Dr. Franklin writes, that difficulties had arisen, in the prosecution of the negotiations between France & Great Britain. From the Journal of these negotiations, and the letters of the American ministers, the chief difficulty seemed to be in relation to Gibraltar. France had offered to give G. Britain the Island of Guadaloupe for that Post, & to receive in return from Spain, the half of St. Domingo, which belongs now to Spain, but Britain obstinately contended for Porto Rico. To give some idea of the character of the information received by Congress, the following quotations from a letter from the Compte de Vergennes to Dr. Franklin, of the 24th ult: and transmitted by him, will describe the state of affairs at that date, "Our negociations (i. e. between France & G. B.) are at the same point with yours: but yet far from an end," then again "Our facility has occasioned difficulty, again, "I do not despair: I rather hope, yet every thing is uncertain." On the whole their impression is, that the terms between France & G. Britain are agreed upon, tho' not signed—but Spain & Holland had made little progress in their business.

His Excellency might be sure any further advices upon this important subject should be promptly transmitted to him by a safe hand.

They herewith transmit a copy of Commission of his Swedish Majesty, authorizing his Minister at Paris to conclude a treaty with the U. States, the terms of which are very honorable and flattering.

Refugees at New York

They are assured that a deputation from British Refugees at N. York had gone to the Legislature of that State, desiring to know what terms they were to expect, & everything in that direction indicated a Speedy evacuation &c.

As Commissioners, they considered themselves subject to the directions of the Executive, and should carry out any orders, considered necessary to the good of the service, in the Department they were employed in. Quarterly reports of their proceedings should be regularly transmitted. They had written on the 17th ult: and informed his Excellency that they should have "a vessel of 12 Guns ready in a short time." She should be fitted out with expedition. They also hoped to have two Gallies of fifty men and thirty oars each, and a Tender, with forty men ready to go on a cruize by the 1st of May. The Boat Liberty would be of great service to cruize in company with the above vessels; and a smaller boat would be useful to regulate the conduct of "Flags."

Philadelphia The import of the last Dispatches received by Capt: Burney had been communicated. A Letter from Mr. Laurens received at the same time had not been read in Congress. Its date was posterior to those of his colleagues, and conveyed strong suspicions of the designs of the Court of London—that their plan was to disunite the belligerent Powers & he thinks the spirit of the English high "for the prosecution of the war against France."

Advice of Mr. Laurens This minister's reflections were wise and deserved "the most serious attention." He recommends we "should ardently adhere in all points to every engagement with the Court of France," whose views he did not suspect, and cautions us against "trusting to our new but half-made Friends." The news-paper reports of the Parliamentary debates discovered indecision, even in the Cabinet of the British King, consequently he inferred Ld: Shelburne had not disclosed his ultimate views even to them. * * * * *

"Sir,

You are fully acquainted with my Design of leaving this Country Cave Spring agreeable to the permit of his Execlleney. of course would wish to give you some Genl: Instructions, by which you are to eonduet yourself untill the reception of further orders from your superiours. your known abilities in the management, and economy necessary in a Garrison eir-umstanced as the one you command is sufficient inducement for me to suppose that but little on that head need be said to you. I know you cannot support the few Troops you have, so plentifully as I eould wish, but probably such as will be absolutely necessary for their Support. from my knowledge of them they are not Diffieult to please, without that subordination necessary among all Troops should be neglected, which I have no Reason to suppose will be the case, and as the safety of this settlement greatly depends on the circle of intelligenee that ought to be kept up beyond the Ohio, I would recommend it to you not to neglect such a case of importanee. although the neighbouring Tribes of Indians on the Wabash hath Declared war, I don't suppose it would prevent you from a Corresspondance at St. Vincents such a manner that the Indians should not know of it. all inteligance of Importanee you must Imediately Transmit to Government, as it is necessary to Inable the governer to take the most necessary steps for the Genl: Defence. the strength of your Garrison ought to be proportioned to the quantity of provisions you have in store, and probable supplies that you are like to get, paying attention to the apprahentions of Danger. should you find from circumstances that it would be desirable to have a Raingforee-ment eall on County Lieuts: in proportion to their militia or Delinquents, taking the Council of Colo. Floyd. I have had some thoughts of yr: Sending one of the Indian women that you have to the Shanawa Towns, pretending to negotiate an Exchange of prisoners in order to drop an Expression to them would give an Idea that we would wish for a peace with them, as it would be Destructive to our Interest and inflame the war between us, confirming the Idea that all our former policy taught them too, between that of our being affraid of them is too true. but we ought to Destroy it if possible. Should a Treaty be brought about do nothing decisive untill orders for the purpose, as you cannot previously know the designs of Government. you will pay attention to the Resolution for reducing officers of your Core in proportion to the decrease of the privates. this must not be neglected as the order is positive and necessary. if any thing Else should occur to me I shall “Honour’d Sir,

I have been called upon lately by our sheriff, for two fines for not attending the Grand juries in Apl. & Oct: last, which I flatter myself your Honourable board will think proper to remitt, when I assure you it did not proceed from an Inclination to disobey the Laws of my Country; but from an Infirm disposition, a circumstance that has prevented my taking an active part (for several years) in any publick business whatever, which my distorted limbs can testify. I give you my honour Sir, I could not venture to sit in a cold Court House without risquing a severe fit of the Gout, nor can I with the least convenience ride as far as Richmond, & return at night to my own quarters, as I should be obliged to do for want of proper accommodations in the City & I hope my serving as a Magistrate for five & thirty years, without having even the Advantage of a Sheriff’s place once, will be another good reason that will operate in my favour.

His Excellency had doubtless received the particulars of the Intelligence lately brought by the French Ship "Triomphe." Proposals based upon its authenticity, looking to a cessation of hostilities and the further shedding of human blood &c. had been made to Sir Guy Carlton and Admiral Digby at New York.

However humane the motives which had dictated this proposition, it had been rejected by the British Commanders on the ground, that they had received no authority for such a proceeding, from their Court.

As the hands of the French naval force in American waters were now tied, they urge that this fact be made known as soon as possible at all the American posts, to save the risk to which vessels sailing at such a time may be exposed.

The Delegates of Virginia and Maryland conceiving that a more Central Situation for Congress, accompanied with other equal or superior advantages, might possibly be more agreeable, and that an offer of a small tract of Territory by Virginia & Maryland, in the neighborhood of George Town on Potowmack, might meet with the acceptance of Congress, in preference to that offer'd by New York, especially if a more ample and Enlarged Jurisdiction sh'd be annexed thereto, have conceived it their Duty to inform their States respectively, of the steps taken by New York; that if they think proper, they may conjointly adopt such plan as they may deem most Eligible to Induce Congress to fix their Residence in a place which we humbly conceive w'd be not only more Generally agreeable to the States, but w'd be so manifestly advantageous to the States, Immediately in the vicinage of the Seat of General Government.” Virginia and Maryland make an offer of Land for the same purpose

April 14th COL: JOS. MARTIN TO GOV: HARRISON.

The Great Island His Excellency's letters and instructions had been rec'd by John Read. He had written to Isaac Shelby at Kentucky in regard to the Treaty and now enclosed his reply.

He had sent Read to the Chickasaw Nation by way of Cumberland, and should take care to have every thing ready to set out for the French Lick by the time he could return. He had thought the best place for holding the meeting for the Treaty, was thirty or forty miles down the Holston below the Island, or at French Broad, which is 36 miles this side of Chote, but Cols: Donaldson & Shelby preferred the French Lick. On this account the Expense would be fourfold.

He had gotten ready to move to Powell's Valley, when the Indians attacked the Settlements on Clinch; this had discouraged the people for the present, but unless the business of the Treaty prevented, he hoped to move there in the Fall. The Indian Chiefs insist upon his going to the North Carolina Assembly to try and stop the settling of their territory without their consent, and he should have to go, but should be back before Read's return, so that no delay could occur in that business. People returned from Cumberland bring the information that fifteen men had gone down the river from French Lick in boats, to be joined by a number of Indians, and he fears it is to plunder the Spanish Boats on the Mississippi—Would it not be well to inform the Governor of North Carolina of this, they being citizens of that State? The Northward Indians, he referred to in another letter, "as having gone to Augustine" had returned through Cumberland & Kentucky where they killed & wounded several people, &c.

He adds "having heard some doubts started relative to the claim of Capt: Taylor (for had it not have been for his case I should not have troubled the Executive with my own,) I thought it best to set down the reasons in writing, which induced me to beleive that both him & myself were entitled to lands. But as his claim seems to be quite indubitable, I would not have it connected with mine, to his detriment. He is one of ten brethren who engaged early in the war. Several of them have lost their lives, their limbs or their health. he commenced his career very young in the character of a minute-man, and having served six years in that capacity and as an officer, was at length compelled to resign his Commission through the want of health. 'Tis needless to observe, that so numerous a brotherhood, cannot be in very opulent circumstances, * * * "and that many of them will be compelled to seek an Asylum in the Western Territory. If, however, Capt: Taylor should find that this reliance had failed him, he might, I think, with too much reason, complain of the justice of his Country. As to myself (although to my capacity the claim appears to be well founded,) let me repeat again, that I am not solicitous about it, but as to Capt: Taylor, the license of repetition suffers me to say, that I hope the case will not be involved with that of your Excellency's

Nothing of interest has transpired, except that Congress had modified their Recommendation to the States vesting in Congress the power to create a Revenue adequate "to the funding the public debt." They anxiously hope the effect of this measure will be, to establish the public credit, & therefore add to the public honor and good; and that the States would speedily comply with it. A frigate (the Active) had just arrived from France, but her Dispatches had not yet come up. The Comd: in Chief & Secy: at war had been ordered to arrange with Sir Guy Carlton for getting possession of Posts occupied by the British in the U. States, and for exchange of prisoners, &c. Wm. Rose, Keeper of the Public Jail, applies to the Judges of the General Court to cause proper regulations to be made for the government of the Jail. The want of a residence for the Keeper had already cost the Country more money than would have built a new one and its enclosures. Mr. Adams' house, tho' near, was too far from the Prison, to prevent Escapes and preserve order, but his present residence put it totally out of the power of the Jailor to prevent former or support the latter. Prisoners should be taught both to love and fear their Keeper: this constituted his and their safety. He should on this account live under the same roof with them, as a school master should with his scholars. The Present Prison "being surrounded by tippling houses, liquor is conveyed to them by the guards, by disorderly people plying round the Pickets." "they drink frequently to excess and immediately the Prison is all riot and confusion," and more than once the life of the keeper had been in danger, in quelling those "unhappy wretches committed for murder and robbery" when intoxicated. This could never happen if he lived upon the spot. The Justices of Henrico Co. at their last Court had given the old Jail to the Public; the bricks to be used as underpinning and for chimnies to the House to be built for the Keeper where the old Prison now stands; also the timber and plank. The Keeper would be contented to live in a log house, rather than the "Public should continue to pay an enormous rent for one so remote and inconvenient for every purpose of his Duty." He therefore

He hopes the Assembly will remedy these evils at the next Session. His Excellency is fore-warned of the numerous petitions to be presented to the next Genl: Assembly, for setting aside Judgements against delinquent sheriffs. A few may be justly entertained; but the public good should not be allowed to suffer from interested representations, and he trusts due enquiry shall be made into the reasons for these Judgements, before petitions are granted. “To THE HONORABLE EDMUND PENDLETON ESQR. FIRST JUDGE OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.”

April 30th

“Sir,

I have pursued the scattered remains of the Public Library with my best Diligence, but I have been unsuccessful indeed, not having collected above fifty dissorted Volumes. These are now exposed to great injury from the Want of Proper Presses and an Apartment for their Reception—I must intreat you Sir, to Communicate this State of the Books to the Court of Appeals and to assure them that I would not trouble them with this Communication were it not to shelter myself from Censure, should any Accident overtake them. At the same Time I must profess my Willingness to endeavour still to reassemble the Books, if I could be furnished with the necessary means of their Preservation.

Condition of the Library

I have the Honor Sir

To be with the Highest Respect,
Your most obedient Servant,

I have Inclos'd the last Letters from Government to me, for your perusal, and make no Doubt but it will give Genl: Joy to the Inhabitants of Kentucky when they find the prospect of peace with the Indians so certain, In the course of the Insuing Summer.

You'll find that his Exceellency still wish to have the post at the mouth of Kentuckey Established & to Inable it to be done hath Sent orders to the Different Counties to deliver the Taxes for the purpose of Victualing the Troops which you will call for as they are wanted, orders to the Different County Lieuts: accompanying this for furnishing you from Time to time with one hundred militia—Lincoln 65. Jefferson 25. Fayette 10 men, those aded to the Regulars you have will Inable you to Garrison both of ye posts with 68 Rank and file, Exclusive of a small party that may occasionally be Detach'd on hunting parties &c. It's highly advisable to Divide the Regulars Equally between the two posts, by which means the militia be kept to the duty. As I expect this will have a speedy conveyance to you, I hope you wll loose no Time after ye Reception of it to have the orders put in Execution. By all means, the plan is highly advisable as it may cause the Indians to suppose that we determined to correct them for their former Insolence, and perhaps confuse their Councils. I think the plan proposed last winter for the Building those works very Good and worthy attention. I hope that you will find no great Difficulty in furnishing the Troops Tolerable for four or five months, by which Time I think you may be sure of assistance. Don't fail in Embracing every opertunity that offers in fowarding all Inteligance of Importance to Government. 1500 lbs. of Lead is Sent to the Block-house on Holston, to be from thence conveyed to Kentucky. You know how necessary it is to pay the Greatest Attention to the Expenditures of Amunition as it is Exceedingly Difficult to be got to you.

I am Sir, your Obedt. Servt."

GEO: ROGERS CLARKE TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

"Sir,

Your several favours of March, and 9th of April Inst: come to hand on my Rout to this settlement. The agreeable news with Brittain I am in hopes will greatly alter the face of affairs in the back Country. The prospects of our possession of the posts on the lakes will, I make no doubt, divide the councils of the Indians for some time, and prevent their making any Capital stroke on the Settlement of Kentucky.

As the Inclosed speech to a few of the cheifs of the Oubash that continue in our Interest, will be fully credited among the whole, as it calculated for the purpose of dividing their Interests. But I have not the least Idea of their Quitting the war until they are Envited to A treaty by the prospect of presents, or Reduced to a peace by an armament in their own country. They are, or will be convinced that a peace will take place and will push the war by small partyes with great Vigour, supposing that the greater number of prisoners they got, or the more formidable they make themselves to appear to us, the greater price they will get for peace, making no doubt of it whenever they choose to offer it, supposing that we are under obligations to them for it. This is the Idea that I could wish to be destroy'd. that they should be obligated to treat with us on our own terms, and convinced that they were Inferiour to us, and that they are under obligations to us for the Very lands they live on. An Army of 1500 men would be necessary to do this. I beleive easily to be got, but how they are to be furnish'd, it is impossible for me to tell not knowing the Resources of Government. But as I hope to have the pleasure of waiting on your Excellency in a few days. I shall Endeavour in the mean time to Inable myself to sketch out some plan the most agreeable to my Ideas of the General Interest of the State. Inclos'd is copies of Instructions &c., which I hope your Excellency will approve of. I could not think of any plan so likely to have the lead convey'd to Kentucky as the one I have fallen on. I am in hopes that the orders you have sent for the different Taxes to be deliver'd will Inable us to garrison the mouth of Kantucky in time, Except the collectors should be negligent in their duty. I could have heartily wished to have been at the treaty with the Chjeasaws, but am convinced it will not take place until the fall or latter part of the Summer, as it will be a considerable time before Mr. Reed gets to that nation. I met him on his Ront to Kantucky and Recommended it to him to go by water from the falls as the most Expeditious and Safe Rout he could take. and if it was agreeable to the Indians, to have the Treaty at that place. My principal Reasons for such Recommendations was the great scarcity of provisions at the French Lick. The Indians continue to make Incursions into the different Countys in Kantucky and have Repeatedly suffer'd the loss of some of their men.

In answer to your Letter of the 29th of Novemb'r 1782, which lately came to hand, I can only say that Major Landot was Employed by me in the Spring of '79 as an Indian Agent for the upper Mississippi. That he rendered singular services in that department, and was permitted to go to Government, where he was Commissioned as Agent, and I beleive was very servieable until his death. previous to his latter appointment I Generally Judg'd of the propriety of his Expenees, and paid them myself and charged them to the State, which was the case with all the Agents in the Western Departm't, several of them being necessaries.

I am S'r your Excellency's Obedt. Humble Servt."

By late dispatches from his Excellency the Governor, I find that the Taxes of the Kentucky is to be appropriated to the support of different Garrisons intended to be kept up for its defence, and that letters have already been sent to the different County Lts: to that purport. This will enable the Building & Garrisoning the mouth of Kentucky which his Excellency is Extremely anxious for. I have Instructed Majr. Walls to have it put into Immediate Execution Caling on the County Lts: for a proportion of their militia to build & garrison that post and the falls and to divide the Regulars between the two posts. you will be pleased to furnish him with — men when called for, to be releived agreeable to Law observing this, That every Delinquent furnish'd is to be Included in the number called for. I am sensible that nothing in you will be wanting to promote this business, and hope the people will be convinced of the propriety of it and chearfully give every aid. Especially when they are informed that the faith of Government is pledged for the paym't of any expence they may be at. And that a total subjugation of the Indians is now in contemplation, which their Implicit Obedience to the orders of Government will greatly facilitate, and Encourage the Executive to study the promotion of their future happiness.

You may take it for granted that a genl: peace hath taken place much to our advantage. All the brittish posts on the lakes are to be given up to us & garrisoned by Continental Troops, and hope that a spirited exertion of the frontiers this summer will put an end to their sufferings, that peace and tranquillity will take place in your little Country when the long and spirited Exertions of the people so much entitle them to it. I don't think that any thing on the part of Government will be wanting, as they apear Exceedingly dispos'd to use the most salutary measures to answer the purpose of Reducing the Indians to Obedience. And their circumstances must be so widely different to what they formerly were that they will be able to execute what they please."

Acknowledging receipt of his letters of the 6th & 7th of March on the 19th of said months. Prior to that date, he had sent out experienced Scouts, at the request of the people most exposed, and had ordered the Captains of militia to hold their companies in readiness to go to the relief of the frontier if necessary.

On the 21st March, notwithstanding these precautions, a party of Indians had gotten in, undiscovered by "the Inhabitants of Clinch & Blue Lick" to Walker's Creek, and killed one man, took his wife and two children, and two children of a poor widow. They were immediately tracked and persued by experienced woodsmen, but were not overtaken. A few days afterwards a man was killed on Blue Stone by a Small Party, who were also persued to no purpose. In consequence of these alarms, he had sent out two companies to the defence of the frontier, and the minds of the people were much quieted thereby. Proper measures had been taken to furnish supplies to these troops, by purchase, and contributions from those who had no money; he had given fifty pounds himself, & people of property were willing to subscribe and wait until government should pay them. He should resort to impressment only when it became necessary.

The Governor had desired information in regard to the ammunition ordered to Washington Co. Some time ago the Comm'r of War had directed him to receive 500 lbs. Powder at New London; but notwithstanding the assurances of Col. Davies, that the powder "lent out of the County magazine" for Col. Martin, should be replaced, not a single pound had ever been received.

Want of ammunition on the frontier &c.

In addition to this, out of 1000 lbs. of Lead ordered by the Executive to be delivered, only 300 lbs. had ever been received from Col: Lynch. To this fact was due the want of ammunition in the late alarms.

GENERAL NATH'L GREENE TO GOV: HARRISON. May 8th

Sir,

I embrace the opportunity by Mr. Hunter to acknowledge the receipt of your letter by Major Burnet, with the agreeable information of a conclusion of the war. Nothing could have been more acceptable: and I beg leave to return your Kind congratulations on the subject. If we have wisdom to improve the blessings of Peace and independence, we shall be a happy people, but I am afraid a local policy will disturb the harmony of the union. Genl. Green returns his congratulations but doubts the success of the Union

A vessel from London by the way of the West Indies, in fifty four days, says there is likely to be a continuation of the war between the French & Dutch & the English. It is only conjecture. The great armament going from England to the East Indies, is not approved of by the belligerent powers. We shall hear more of the matter soon, if there is anything serious in it.

I have sent an officer in pursuit of them, with offers of pardon if they return immediately to their duty & promise to behave properly in future. I do not expect they will listen to propositions, nor do I think they will continue long together, as I am told their principal object is to have an opportunity to dispose of their horses. But let them enter Virginia as they may, measures ought to be taken for apprehending them immediately. The ringleaders, at the head of whom is Sergeant Dangerfield, ought to be tryed and punished without loss of time. If an Example is not made to deter soldiers from practices of this Kind, it will be impossible in future ever to keep an Army from mutiny. It will be of importance that some decisive steps are taken in the business. I have written to Genl: Scott & Colo. Baylor to give all the aid they can for having the insurgents apprehended, & I hope Government will act with spirit & dispatch in the matter. The Mutineers may pretend to complain of the want of provisions & other sufferings, but at the time of the mutiny, they had provisions in plenty. 1783. GEN: GEO: ROGERS CLARKE TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

May 22d

“Sir,

Richmond

Agreeable to your Excellencies' Instructions, I lay before you the plan of such offensive measures as I should suppose the general Interest Required to be put in Execution this season against the Indians. It is notorious that those Tribes that have been for the greatest length of time acquainted with us firmly believe that they can make war or peace with us at pleasure, and that we would at all times gladly embrace the offer of any terms with them. They have Abundant Reasons to believe it, if they Judge from our former conduct, as a treaty was always attended with considerable presents from us, which caused them to believe we were afraid of them. In short, every Kind of lenity shewn them by us, is Imputed to Timidity, and until this Idea is destroy'd, a war will be the consequence of the least suppos'd affront they receive from us, which periods the young warriors will often wish for, and promote, in order to have an opportunity to show their valour, to which they are also Excited by the prospect of gain, as well by plunder as that of presents at the End of the war, confidently assured of peace when Ever they shall offer it. This Idea, I presume, hath not yet gain'd much ground on the Oubash and the nations west of that River, as by some lucky strokes and the smiles of fortune, the Effections of near four thousand of their warriors, were weaned from the brittish Interest in the fall of Seventy Eight. Having the management of them myself thro' the means of Agents, I Endeavour'd to Instill such notions into them as will yet be of advantage to us in future treaties, altho' they have lately made war on us, owing to the Inability of our merchants to supply them with goods. and the distresses of the State being such, that they could not give any assistance. Those circumstances gave the brittish Emisaries Every advantage in Engaging them again to Receive their bloody belts. And I make no doubt but their correspondence with the Shawanees, Wiandots and others, will Enduce the whole of them to Embrace those Ideas I have before mentioned. They have no notion of being dependant on either the Brittish or Americans, But would make war on both if Equally Insulted. They conceive the English to be gratly Indebted to them for assistance given them during the war, and I suppose are by this time pretty well convinced that a peace will take place, and I am confident they will prosecute the war with as great violence as possible in order to make themselves more formidable to us, That the terms of the treaty may be more to their advantage, which might be brought about in a very short time by sending a General Envitation to them. It is what they will Expect, and generally attend to, Influenced by the hopes of Receiving presents, Rather than a desire of being friendly with us. Should this line of conduct be pursued, they will yet view themselves as yet superiour to us, and we shall be Eternally Involved in a war with some nation or other of them, until we shall at last, in order to save blood and treasure, be Reduced to the necessity of convincing them that we are always able to crush them at pleasure, and determined to do it, when Ever they misbehave. A peace between us and brittain, may not have the Impression on them as is generally suppos'd, of conveying to them such an Idea of our Importance as to cause them to fear us. I make no doubt but the English Emisaries Explain the case in its most favourable light on their side, and cause us to appear as Insignificant in the Eyes of the Indians as possible. A greater opportunity can never offer to Reduce them to obedience than the present moment, as they are generally at war (I allude to those north of the Obio), and nothing we could do to them would destroy our faith among other tribes. On the contrary have a valuable Impression on them, as we have every Excuse. If Reducing them to obedience should be Resolv'd on, I should Recommend the following plan: To march an army of at least two thousand men Immediately into the heart of their country. If they Imbodyed and fought you, a defeat would Ensure the terms you wish for. But I am confident they would generally sollicit to treat, when it would be in your power to convince them of what you were determined to do, giving them their own choiee, either to come to your terms or continue the war. There would be no doubt of your wishes being compleated: they would be at once convine'd that their non-compliance would be the destruction of their families. Judging from your uncommon and apparently determined conduct, your speeches to them could not be too daring, but it might be advisable to have the terms Easy, and let them know, that if they broke a single article, that you would make war on the nation that did it. Such conduct would soon put a final End to thoughts of a war Existing among them. At the Same time Justice Requires that we should not infringe on the Treaty ourselves. From their disposition, I have found that nothing will so firmly bind them to us, as the fear of our arms, and the dread of loosing their Country. Which would be the greatest security we could possibly have for their good conduct, by obliging them to give up part of their country to pay us for the Expence of the war, which might lay waste until government chose to have it dispos'd of, and Informing them that whenever they acted contrary to a single article of the treaty, that you would make war on them, and take as much of their lands as would pay the Expence. Should your Excellency order such an armament, I conceive the most Easy and cheap plan would be to have the Rendezvous at the Kentucky. The People of that Country would rejoice at the prospect of an advantageous peace with the Indians, and most chearfully furnish near half the number of men. Militia might easily be marched from Holston, New River and other parts of the frontiers, without any great Expence, and I should suppose ought to be equally interested with the Kantuckians, as they have undoubtedly, been cover'd from the depredations of

1783. the Savage by that people. Perhaps it might be thought advisable for May 22d some assistance to be given from the frontier in the neighborhood of pittsburg, thro' the channel of the Ohio. But your Excellency will be the best Judge, in what manner such force could be collected with the greatest Ease to the falls of Ohio, which is undoubtedly the most central and advantageous post that is now possessed by the Americans, for the management of the Indian department in general. To Equip such an army as here propos'd, with all those necessary supplies that would Enable them to do the greatest service possible, would require a sum of money, which I doubt from the present state of affairs could not possibly be furnish'd. And of course suppose that the smallest scale that could be thought to answer the purpose, would be prefer'd. From my long Experience in Indian affairs, and the knowledge of the policy of those nations alluded to, I take it for granted that if the plan was Enter'd into and prosecuted with vigor, that it would be of but short duration, and that two or three months provisions might answer the purpose, the greatest part of which must be procured in the pittsburg country. The Expence of the small supply of Horses and provisions necessary to Enable such an armament to answer the desirable purposes, could not be very considerable, provided they got on their march by the latter part of this summer. I learn the Brittish posts on the lakes are to be garrisoned by continental Troops. If those Troops and the armament propos'd were to commence their Rout nearly at the same time, it might greatly promote the general Interest. A few troops of horse would be much wanting, as it is found by experience, that they are of singular service in the Indian Department. If there is any farther Information in my power to give your Excellency, that may Enable you to conduct your western frontier to greater advantage, I shall at all times do it with pleasure.

I have the honor to be,
 Your Excellency's Devoted and very Humbl. Servt."

Requesting further instructions in regard to executing the Recruiting Law. Officers of the Line, appointed by the Governor, according to Law, to receive the money collected, from the County Lieutenants, are now required to proceed against the latter, in case of failure to render prompt account of their entire receipts. Upon an official Certificate being furnished the Solicitor by the Clerk of the Council, that any County Lieutenant had thus failed, he is required to demand and recover from the latter one "Eighth of the County's Tax." Col: Peachy, whose brother is Co. Lieut: of Richmond Co., had made his Settlement with Mr. Jett, as required, but some small sums having been subsequently paid in, and not returned, he is thereby liable to be proceeded against.

Suggestions in collecting the recruiting tax

This would be unjust to Mr. Peachy, and be "fixing a kind of stigma" on his character extremely disagreeable." Other Co. Lieuts. were in the same category. In view of this difficulty, the Solicitor suggests to his Excellency that he be at once furnished with a list of the County Lieutenants of the District officers appointed to adjust their accounts, places of residence, counties assigned them, recruiting officers &c., so that he may make direct application to those District officers, and hold them responsible, by Suit at Law for the prompt settlement of their affairs, instead of proceeding in the Co. Courts against the Co. Lieutenants. His Excellency's instructions are earnestly requested in this matter.

GOV: BENJ: HARRISON, TO THE HON: THE SPEAKER OF THE H. OF DELEGATES OF VA. May 30th

"Sir,

The frequent applications from the Inhabitants of our frontier Counties, for assistance to repel the invading Indians have induced the Executive to order militia from the adjacent counties, on that service, which tho' all that we have it in our Power to do is frequently found ineffectual. On conversing with General Clark on the subject, he is of opinion that they never can be kept quiet till subjected by a military force sent into their Country. I have ever thought as he does but have been deter'd from the measure by the distress'd situation of the State with respect to its finances. Tho' at the same Time, I have doubted whether the expence would be in the end so great as we now incur by having so many parties of militia for such — of Time on duty. Gen: Clark has reduced his Thoughts on the subject to writing, which

In Council

1783. together with a Letter just received from Ohio County I have the Honor May 30th to enclose for the consideration of the assembly. It is a clear point to me that such expeditions when found necessary for the safety of any one State, ought to be carried on at the joint expence of the whole, but of this the assembly will be the best judges, as it may give encouragement to those claimants who have been using means for some time with Congress to obtain a decree for a large and valuable part of our Country.

A circumstance has lately happened which may show a defect in the militia Law, and will require a remedy. Sixteen men were ordered from a neighbouring County to guard the Jail and stores, and Ten out of that number have refused to obey the order, tho' I am clear in my own opinion, that a mode of punishment may be found in the general power given the Executive over the militia by the Constitution. Yet I think it would be advisable to make it more so, by a clause in the militia Law, which every man might read and understand. The natural defence of a free People is militia. It will therefore perhaps be found expedient to arm government with such Powers over them as to render them useful whenever there should be an occasion for their services.

I am, with sentiments of great respect & Esteem, Sir, your most obedt. Servant."

"A letter from General Washington encloses a very feeling address from the officers of that part of the Army, comprehended in the late Resolution of Congress heretofore transmitted to yr: Excellency. Their minds too much agitated by the contemplation of prospects, cruel & dispiriting, gave way to suspicions (founded on the indefinite terms of the furlough,) that this mode was adopted to disperse them, & to avoid a complianee with that part of their request which related to payment on their discharge—they lamented, but in Strong and manly terms, that they were to end their toils & hardships by returning to inevitable distress without any alleviation of their present wants. They implored his interference as their General, as their friend. The Commander in Chief then explained to them, that this measure was calculated to promote their interest, without endangering the safety of the states. That by this means, the money y't must otherwise be expended in their subsistence, would now be appropriated to the paym't of part of their dues. He said, that in justice to Congress, he could not but declare his sentiments. That they had made every exertion within their Power to obviate the present distresses of & to procure final justice to the army. By this prudent, wise and noble conduct of General Washington, gathered discontents, which now seemed again ready to burst forth, were once more happily assuaged—& the Resolution of Congress was quietly complied with.

A spirit of mutiny discovered itself in the Troops, immediately in Phila., that at first wore an alarming aspect, but by timely exertion, it terminated without any ill consequences."

GEO: ROGERS CLARKE TO ———. June 26th
“Sir

The following hints will sufficiently point out the cause of every Article of Life on the Onabash being raised to so great price, as charged in some of the Western Accounts. On our getting possession of Post St. Vincennes in 1778, and gaining three or four thousand warriors to the American Interest, all commerce between that country and Dutroyt immediately ceased—the Checasaws, part of the Cherokees and other Southern Indians warmly attached to the British Interest rendered it exceedingly difficult for the merch’ts to get supplies from the Mississippi, as numbers of them were cut off on their passage up the Ohio by the Indians, who had been instructed by the English to block up that River if possible. Those circumstances caused every article at St. Vincent to raise at least to four or five prices. Richmond

The garrison kept at that Post were obliged to receive its supplies from the Inhabitants of the Town, whom consisted of about three hundred militia, about one Fourth farmers that scarcely raised a sufficiency of provisions to supply the Inhabitants. The British on the Lakes, sensible of our growing Interest with the Savages, spared no pains to 1783. regain them by Emissaries &c., which made it necessary that the greatest attention should be paid on our part. Consequently vast numbers of Savages were constantly at that Post, counselling &c. as agents were kept in every quarter of their Settlements where we could venture them, and St. Vincent at one time, became the seat of Indian Affairs. And those Articles necessary for the solemnity of Treaties, support of troops, &c. was generally procured for the State by a few merchants (Lagrass, Boisou, Lanitot and others) whose zeal Induced them to advance their fortunes for the public Interest. Governor Hamilton, by his Enemies in the pittsburg Country being informed there was a great number of disaffected Persons in that Quarter ready to join him, resolved to make a Descent on that place, with all the power he could raise. Genl: Carlton approved of his plan, but recommended it to him, first to drive the Rebels out of the Illinois Country, otherwise they might possibly step in and take possession of Deetroyt, as he would have to leave it in a defenceless situation. after puting the latter into execution he might regain the whole of the Indian Interest, and complete his force to enable him to execute his first Design (the attempt was daring) but the prudent measures that Gentleman conducted himself by, enabled him to get possession of St. Vincent without much difficulty. the Season being too far advanced he was obliged to take up his Winter Quarters at that place, and of course disperse his Indian forces untill the Spring. In the mean time got captured by a superiour force, which doubly revived our Interest in that Quarter, and extended our Influence nearly to the walls of Dutroyt, and the great concourse of people that consequently happen'd for many months, Troops, Indians &c. nearly caused a famine.

The Inhabitants not being able to recover their former plenty, in 1781 were obliged to abandon the Post for the want of supplies, from which moment our Interest with the Indians Sunk as rapidly as we had gained it, and nearly the whole engaged in War against us.

Passengers with their effects land there, and he is obliged to charge them duty, much to their surprize—Foreign vessels making pretence of distress come in, and attempt to trade their cargoes for Tobacco, but find the balance of trade against them—This had been the case lately with a Swede from the West Indies. He thinks, although the "laws of Republicans are and should be stronger & plainer than others" they should be modified by circumstances, espeecially when to advantage of "our Staples"—The state might reap great advantages from accomodations to these callers

Whereas by reason of ye late Suspension of hostilities, between the United States & his Britannic Majesty & an abuse of those Indulgences granted to British Commerce, at the last session of Genl: Assembly, many evil disposed persons, still obnoxious to the Laws of this Commonwealth, have found means to introduce themselves into the same: And

whereas it is probable many others will follow their example, to the disturbance of the peace & harmony of the State, unless speedily prevented by a vigorous execution of the law: 1783.
July 2d

I have therefore, thought fit, with the advice of the Council of State, to issue this my proclamation, hereby commanding all such persons as have either voluntarily left this Country & adhered to the enemy since the 19th of April 1775, or have been expelled the same by any Act of the Legislature, or Order of the Executive, or such natives who have at any time borne arms in the Service of the Enemy against this Commonwealth, and have since returned without being authorized by law so to do, forthwith to depart the State. And I do hereby strictly inhibit the return, as well of those, as all others coming within the like description, until the determination of the Legislature on this subject can be known. And to the end that this proclamation may have its full effect, I hereby enjoin & command all officers, civil & military within this Commonwealth, and all others concerned, to pay due obedience hereto.

“Sir

The letter with which your Excellency has lately honored me, has been considered in Council. Philadelphia In Council

We have not any knowledge of facts, that afford the least foundation for the complaints that have been made, it having allways been, as it now is, the intention of this Government to adhere to the Engagements made with your State. If particualar instances had been mentioned by the Complainants, enquiries might have been instituted concerning the observation of the conditions assented to on both sides; but the memorialists seem to have made their Charges in vague and general expressions. Defence of Pennsylvania against the complaints of Monongalia

As the honor of Pennsylvania requires the strictest attention to the obligations of Public Faith, we shall take such measures as shall be judged most proper to demonstrate the purity of our intentions and the rectitude of our proceedings.

Permit us to add, that we hope your Excellency will believe the complainants give no favourable evidence of the regularity of their temper or conduct, by making their application in the manner they have done, rather than to this State.

News of the march of the mutineers by the commanding officer at Lancaster, that part of the troops there had set out for this place headed by their Sergeants. Congress immediately appointed a Committee to confer with the Executive Council & concert means for preventing a junction—the Committee reported from the Executive that they were indisposed to call on the militia as they were doubtful whether a call would be obeyed, when their officers were obliged to retire. On Saturday the state house, whilst Congress were setting, was surrounded by a mutinous and menacing force to the amount of three hundred, while detachments took possession of the arsenal and magazine. They sent in a written demand to be allowed to appoint under-officers to redress their grievances, requiring a favourable answer in twenty minutes, or they would let in enraged Soldiery. This, altho' directed to the Executive Council was certainly meant ultimately for Congress, to whom a memorial had been previously presented signed by Sergeants, of so insolent a nature as to forbid any answer. In this situation Congress thought it most becoming their character to take no public notice of the insult, but to forbear any official act whatever. By the exertions of Genl: Sinclair and of individual members of Congress they were gradually diverted from their purpose, altho' inflamed by misrepresentation & intoxicated with liquor furnished by the rabble present. This scene continued about twelve to three o'clock when Congress retired thro' the soldiers—who themselves shortly after retired to their Barracks. At about 6 o'clock, Congress reassembled and resolved that the committee should again wait on the Executive & demand a categorical answer, whether they could make exertions to support Government & to inform that unless satisfactory measures should be taken to restore the authority to Government, (of which the Committee and President were to be judges in the recess of Congress) that then Congress should be summoned to meet at Prince Town or Trentown in New Jersey. Of these steps General Washington was informed & directed to detach a select force for the purpose of quelling the mutiny. The Committee found the Executive wholly indcisive, & at their request, gave 'em a day to deliberate, at the end of which they remained either incapable or indisposed to exert the necessary force. In this state things now remain, the temper and views of the mutineers are not ascertained, as little are known the root or extent of the evil.

JAMES COLBERT TO THE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

July 25th

He cannot claim the honor of a personal acquaintance with his Excellency, but the motive impelling him to write must be his apology for the liberty he takes. Since the “general peace” had taken place, those Indians were in the greatest possible trouble. The Spaniards to whom the Floridas had been ceded, were and always had been their utter aversion, as well as the French. “The English whom they yet suspect for their friendship have now abandoned them” but had recommended them to cultivate the friendship of their Brothers the Am’s. As the only step to insure a continuation of the Happiness they have enjoyed, they are naturally inclined to that step of themselves, and indeed their Chiefs and head men could never be brought to Understand any distinction,

Altho' they are willing to follow the recommendation of the English, yet they know not where to apply or find the American Cheifs. the Spaniards have thro' means of French & other Emissaries, been using all Arts to seduce them, but they will not hearken, waiting impatiently for an Opport'y of Effecting a lasting Union with their Brothers the Am's. In this difficulty they have applied to me to second their Address & were happy in the opportunity which Offered by Mr. Donne of laying before your Excellency a true statement of their situation." This gentleman had taken great pains to learn their true condition. In the absence of all trade they wanted supplies, and unless the Americans came to their aid they would be forced to seek intercourse with the Spaniards. This feeling was confined to the young men, who were enticed from their obedience to their Cheifs by the latter. Although in want of clothing and ammunition for the next approaching winter, they so far had resisted all proposals, until they could hear from their Brothers the Americans. In as much as that nation, as well as the Choctaws were very numerous, and their trade had been a valuable one to the English, he thinks it might become of greater importance to the Americans—their alliance in case of war, or even their neutrality could not be dispised. They could if necessary be made to oppose the Spanish Indians, who might attempt to disturb the navigation of the Mississippi & its tributaries, or commit depredations on the Am'r frontiers.

The limits of a letter did not allow him to describe the advantages to arise from securing at once the affections of those people—It was particularly desirable, in the present willing temper of their minds. Any service he could render to bring about this happy State of things he should Cheerfully give, and he is "vain enough to think they may have weight." As to himself, his condition is so far above want, that he has no other motive than to relieve the present disturbed Condition of those people, and to serve the Country in which he lives and was born. Genl: Clarke could inform his Excellency that long before there was any prospect of peace, through his influence they had Saught the friendship of the Americans.

Mr. Donne the bearer of this, a gentleman of merit and Character, being thoroughly informed of these Indians' wishes and his own opinions, would take pleasure in giving more at length his views on this important subject, &c., &c.

the additional pay, while he Served—But he could not retain the appointment longer than the 10th of January 1782; for on that day the system under which he acted was repealed, and a new one established; which limited the Baron to one Inspector for the Main, and one for the Southern Armies, which offices were immediately filled by Colonel Stewart and Lieutenant Colonel Ternant.”

July 28th
 The English advise them to be friendly with the Americans Glad that peace is made

When our great father the King of England called away his warriors, he told us to take your People by the hand as friends and brothers. Our hearts were always inclined to do so & as far as our circumstances permitted us, we evinced our good intentions as Brothers the Virginians can testify—It makes our hearts rejoice to find that our great father, and his children the Americans have at length made peace, which we wish may continue as long as the Sun and Moon, And to find that our Brothers the Americans are inclined to take us by the hand, and Smoke with us at the great Fire, which we hope will never be extinguished.

Brother,

Spaniards communicating with them, &c., &c.

Virginians &c., encroaching upon their lands

Do not know to whom to listen

Desire to communicate with Congress

Express confidence

Notwithstanding the Satisfaction all these things give us we are yet in confusion & uncertainty. The Spaniards are sending talks amongst us, and inviting our young Men to trade with them. We also receive talks from the Governor of Georgia to the same effect—We have had Speeches from the Illinois inviting us to a Trade and Intercourse with them—Our Brothers, the Virginians Call upon us to a Treaty, and want part of our land, and we expect our Neighbors who live on Cumberland River, will in a Little time Demand, if not forcibly take part of it from us, also as we are informed they have been marking Lines through our hunting grounds: we are daily receiving Talks from one Place or other, and from People we Know nothing about. We Know not who to mind or who to neglect. We are told that the Americans have 13 Councils Compos'd of Chiefs and Warriors. We Know not which of them we are to Listen to, or if we are to hear some, and Reject others, we are at a loss to Distinguish those we are to hear. We are told that you are the head Chief of the Grand Council, which is above these 13 Councils: if so why have we not had Talks from you,—We are head men and Chiefs and Warriors also: and have always been accustomed to speak with great Chiefs & warriors—We are Likewise told that you and the Great men of your Council are Very Wise—we are glad to hear it, being assured that you will not do us any Wrong, and therefore we wish to Speak with you and your Council, or if you Do not approve of our so Doing, as you are wise, you will tell us who shall speak with us, in behalf of all our Brothers the Americans, and from where and whome we are to be supplied with necessaries in the manner our great father supplied us—we hope you will also put a stop to any encroachments on our lands, without our consent, and silence all those People who sends us Such Talks as inflame & exasperate our Young Men, as it is our earnest desire to remain in peace and friendship with our Br: the Americans for ever.

Brother,

The King our Common father always left one of his beloved Men among us, to whom we told anything we had to say, and he soon obtained an answer—and by him our great Father, his Chiefs & headmen spoke to us.

July 28th

Our great father always gave him goods to cover the nakedness of our old men who could not hunt, our women and our children, and he was as one mouth, and one tongue between us, and was beloved of us all. Such a man living among us particularly at this time, would rescue us from the darkness and confusion we are in, By directing us to whom we should speak, and putting us in the right Path that we should not go wrong.

The King of England has always left an agent with them, &c. Benefits of this policy

We have desired our Br. Mr. Donne, who brought talks from General Clark, and has been some time among us, to deliver this talk to you, and speak it in our behalf to your Grand Council, that you may know our want, and as you are wise, that you may direct us what to do for the best. He has Promised, at our desire to take it to your great council fire & to bring as your answer, that you may be no more in the dark—beleive what he tells you from us; we have told him all that is in our hearts.

Genl: Clarke

Brothers, we are very poor for necessaries, for Amunition particularly. We can supply ourselves from the Spaniards but we are averse to hold any intercourse with them, as our hearts are always with our Brothers the Americans. We have advised our young men to wait with patience for the answer to this talk, when we rest assured of having supplies, and every thing so regulated that no further confusion may ensue. We wish that this land may never again be stained with the blood of either white or Red men, that piece may last forever and that both our women and children may sit down in safety under their own shade to enjoy without fear or apprehension the Blessing which the good Spirit enriches them with. Brother, we again desire you and your chiefs to Listen to what we say that we shall not have to Repeat it again, and as you are all Wise, you will know what to do.

His services in the army

Apologizes for feeling obliged for troubling his Excellency. He had entered the service as Ensign in 1776; made Captain in Col: Nevil's 4th Va. Reg't in Oct: 1778—was wounded in the right Knee in Oct. 1779, by which he lost his leg and thigh, and in 1780 was transferred to the Invalid Regiment. He had been since that time in the Barracks at Philadelphia, without friends or acquaintances, and the pay he had received from the Government was so small, that he "had been beholden to strangers to get decent waring apparel" &c. He therefore begs to be "empowered to draw on the state for such money as the Governor may think his circumstances require."

"Dear Sir,

If I was tardy in not having sooner acknowledged the receipt of y'r fav'or of June 19th, on the subject of collecting the Laws, it proceeded from a mistaken opinion that I was not desired to do so, until I could communicate the result of a consultation with my brethren on that occasion, which I am not yet able to do. I immediately wrote to those Gent'n inclosing y'r Letter and the resolution, and expressing my entire concurrence in sentiment with y'r Excellency, that the Judges taking up the original collection of the laws would insure greater accuracy, and give them very little if any more trouble than the revision & correction of the work formed by another hand. I mentioned at the same time, that as the business was refer'd to two of the Judges, their vicinity to each other & my remote situation from both of them, seemed to throw the work into their hands. To this Letter, I have hitherto rece'd no answer: indeed I was perhaps too Parsimonious intrusting it to a private hand, to save the postage. I shall write again & send it, as well as this by Post, and will add, that they may command any assistance in the business which they may require of me. So that these Gent. having expressed their willingness to engage in the work, I think y'r Excellency & the Council may rely on its being performed in the manner proposed. I hope the severity of y'r gout is over.

Since his departure from Richmond, and arrival in that Country, he had been “a spectator of a piece of Policy of a singular nature”—By Act of the Penn: Legislature, in consequence of a large debt said to be due for the Proprietorship of that State, each county was to be called upon to furnish its quota of taxes, and his county (Washington) would have to pay a large sum—The assessors were already at their work & the Collectors would soon follow— he adds “can it be supposed, men without the Chartered bounds of Pennsylvania ought to pay, or contribute to discharge the purchase from Mr. Penn; can men of common sense suppose there is no man west of the Alleghany Mountains capable of Knowing & observing these things—Perhaps the western air metamorphoses the Inhabitants, and like Centaurious beings, incapable of Judging & that such impositions would be tamely submitted to—I said the Policy cannot benefit the state one shilling”—My reason for that is, before the money can reach the Treasury, the Line between the states will certainly be ordered to be run Agreeable to the Charter, viz: 5° west Longitude, from the most Eastern bounds of the Delaware River, (so that the money Stops in the Collectors hands) indeed so farr am I convinced in this notion, that instead of receiving 5 pr: ct. for collecting, I've offered 5 pr: ct. to collect. He thinks it his duty to inform his Excellency that although they had been induced to hope for peace, hostilities were still carried on in the lower part of that County, by the Indians, in the most Cruel manner.

Indians still committing outrages

Two men had been Killed on Green River, and on the 2nd day of August, Capt. James Shelby was Killed near a station on the road to Washington Co. Horses were continually carried off, and the Indians were numerous in that country, having been seen at three different places, thirty miles apart. They had such a range of country in which to take shelter that it was impossible almost to find them. It appears to him very strange, that although Agents had been employed to "conclude a peace," it had not been done; else that it should be made known that the war was to continue. If Agents could manage to treat with the Indians for the purchase of lands, in Georgia on the north side of Tennessee River, they could also arrange for peace. He suspected Col:

Col. Donelson's conduct suspicions

Donelson when sent by his Excellency to treat with the Chickemoga Indians, had laid the plan for this purchase, especially as he hears Col: John Bowman is one of the partners. And he is informed also that two members of Congress from North Carolina are partners in the purchase—he continues "It appears to me to be a Cunning way for Col: Donelson, our Indian Agent for Virginia, To do his and the Partnership Business in Georgia Government, when appointed an Agent for Virginia and I expect supported at her Expense. I fear our Treaty and answer from the Indians Lyes over in Regard of the War, untill those Private matters are Completed and Brought about. there has been a party of Volunteers Raiseing to go against the Chickomogee Indians, for which Colo. Donelson applied to suppress the measure—saying he had solicited that Tribe to a Treaty, and it would be a Breech in the faith of Government to Discomode them untill it was over. the Volunteer scheme is Done.

Rumors of the Indians

Since I began to write I have Intelligence of the Indians fireing on a man in one part of the County, and in another part they have Taken a quantity of horses; and their Tracts laid Southwardly, and these Horses were taken from where the Chickomogee Indians formerly committed Hostilities, which satisfys me they are that Tribe. it appears to me that it might be in our power to have Satisfaction of them, if Government Would Grant the liberty to go to their Towns, for the Country in general Despair of an Agents loyalty to Treat with a Tribe of

But that the importance of securing the attachment of that "remote Quarter of the Country" to Virginia, and that its affairs demanded the organization of the Court at once, he should feel constrained to resign the appointment. But he should at once arrange to attend at the next Session, and at the subsequent terms. Botetourt County Appointed Judge of the Supreme Court of Kentucky, &c.

He apprehends great difficulty however, from two sources, the uncertainty of procuring a Presiding Judge, qualified for the office, and the want of sufficient salaries to induce the assistants and other officers to attend properly to their duties.

S.—and he further adds—he should shew an Indifference to the feelings of humanity as well as to the honor and Interest of the nation he serves to leave any of the Loyalists, that are desirous to quit the country, a prey to the violence they Conceive they have so much reason to apprehend—on which grounds he appears to Justify himself for any delay in the evacuation which may take place—he also expresses his surprise that Congress have not officially interposed their authority to restrain the Violence he speaks of, and taken other steps to carry into execution the terms of the Treaty. He appears however to think that no blame is imputable to himself, in the glaring infringement of the 7th Article, in suffering so large a number of negroes to be carried off under the flimsy pretext that they were declared free by the Proclamation of his predecessors, previous to his arrival and the signature of the Treaty, from whence he draws this

The official information of the evacuation, being soon to take place, suggested to us the propriety of hastening a demand of the records, papers &c. belonging to our State and its Citizens, which Congress agreed to in the form of a General resolution, comprising those of all the other States. We have no doubt but y'r Excell'y will take the necessary steps to avail yr: self of the demand, as far as it concerns the State of Virginia. COL: JOSEPH MARTIN TO GOV: HARRISON.

August 30th
Long Island
Tennessee

He had already informed his Excellency of the Conduct of Reid, in loitering his time away at Cumberland, instead of going at once to the Chickasaws, and that Col: Donelson and himself had dispatched Saml: Erwin through the Cherokee towns to the Chickasaws. After an absence of fifty-five days he had returned, having been down the Tennessee River by the muscle shoals as far as the mouth, when he met traders and Indians from the Illinois Country with large quantities of goods. Being then only two days walk from the towns he set off to go there, but met some of the chiefs and returned. He had been informed by the latter that the Small Pox was in the nation and that they were almost in a starving condition. They desired Erwin to inform the Governor of Va. that they could not then fix a time to treat, but would do so after the new crop of corn came in. Col: Donelson had set out for "Cantucky," and having heard of the Shawneese and other Indians being at the Falls of Ohio for the purpose of forming a Treaty, he desired that he Martin should hurry to that place. He did not however go, because he could do nothing in the absence of Genl: Clark, towards treating with the "northward Indians," with his present instructions. He had just sent off people to Powell's Valley to "begin a Station there," and should have none there by the Fall. He thinks the place for holding "a treaty" with the Indians should be either on Holston or Tenn: Rivers, rather than at the "French Lick," on account of the convenience to the Chickasaws, and for the better transportation of provisions, &c. The Cherokees all friendly & nothing to fear, except from a few Creeks.

The party he referred to in his last letter, as having gone down the River, and having been joined by a number of others, had proceeded down the Mississippi plundering, &c., had lain Seige to the Spanish Settlement at Oozark, but had been repulsed, with loss of some killed and some made prisoners. The Chickasaws hated the Spaniards, and if any of them were in this affair, doubtless the Spaniards would retaliate upon them.

Should the proposed Treaty with the Chickasaws take place as he desired, he hopes to have the presence and assistance of Colo. Christian, as his influence had greatly increased with these nations. On his way to Kentucky a short time ago, he had mentioned the subject to Col: Christian, who agreed with him that the best place for treating was on Tennessee River, because flour, liquor & tobacco and presents to the Indians could be transported cheaper by water, from Long Island. He recommends the Cherokees be included in the negotiations, &c.

Princeton Virginians attempt a settlement on the Muskingum

"A recent letter rec'd by the Secretary of War from Genl. Irwine Commanding at Fort Pitt, informs that a body of ab't 400 men from the Western Frontier of Virginia had passed the Ohio, in order to establish a Settlement on the Muskingum. The General apprehends that an immediate Indian War, will be among the first of the many evil consequences that must result from such lawless measures.

Effects upon
the Indians

Intelligence received by a missionary lately sent in order to commu- cate the substance of the Articles of pacification to the Indian nations, gives great weight to the surmises of General Irvine. This person was well received by Brig: Genl: McClene, the british officer comm'g at Detroit (altho' prevented from holding a council with the Indians) "had given him news, brought by an Indian runner from the west. "The substance of this was that the Virginians had Crossed the Ohio, & had committed many wanton & unprovoked acts of cruelty yet had in some measure produced retaliation."

returned from the N.
Western Frontiers

"Baron Steuben is just arriv'd here from Canada, whither he had been sent in order to make arrangements with General Haldimand, for the reception of the Posts ceded on our north western Frontiers. The purposes of his mission have been totally frustrated, as that officer (who met him at Sorrel) alledged he had rec'd no orders from his Court, except to cease hostilities—and that he considered the late pacification, so far conditional, untill a definitive Treaty, that he did not think him- self authorized to permit the Baron even to visit the Posts—which (it seems) cannot now (were orders rec'd for that purpose) be evacuated untill the ensuing Season. The evacuation of New York advances rapidly, notwithstanding the number of those inhabitants whose fears have of late determined them to accompany the Garrison. Their apprehensions exaggerated no doubt on one hand by the policy of the enemy & on the other by the publications which have of late appeared in the American Papers, will probably terminate in the sudden establishment of a very rich & powerful neighbour to the United States, & certainly a very inimical one.

MAJOR GEORGE WALLS' SPEECH TO THE SHAWANESE INDIANS, sent by Mr. Sherlock, Interpreter. Septem. 11th

"I Received your Friendly Talk by Pyeatt, the young man who your Cheifs requested to assist them with their women and children. Fort Nelson

I am much pleased with your Candor in informing me that some foolish people have come to your land to steal horses. I do not Blame you for the manner you treated them, as it is the orders of the head men of the big knife, that no person shall go to your land to do you any harm, or steel your horses, while you are in friendship with us, but I had rather you had taken them and brought them to this place, that we might show you that we Disapprove of such Conduct, by punishing the Offenders. Now my Brothers, as you have a great many of our flesh and Blood, prisoners, in your land, whose friends and Relations are dayley crying to me to get them home, I hope you'll send by Mr. Sherlock, such of our flesh and blood as he shall apply for, and you may tell the men that brings them to this place that they shall receive a handsome present for each one. Indeed Brothers, I think you are so much of men, that you would scorn to datain prisoners after peice is made: for it is a custom with Great warriors to give up all prisoners on both Sides as a piece is made. In regard to incursions made upon them Desires prisoners to be returned

As you live nearer the place where the Great Council is to be held between the Americans and the Red People, you will here what is done sooner than I can, I expect you'll send me the particulars by a Runner and I will satisfy him. Now Brothers, as some of our people is going to your land with some salt to trade with you, understanding you are much in want of that Article, I expect you'll give them protection, and as some of them wants to go to fort pitt you'll inform them if there is any Danger. The Cherokees are constantly doing us mischief as they pass from your towns—and if you do not drive such bad people from your land, it may be the cause of Inflaming the war between you and us, as our young men seem very uneasy, and can hardly be Restrained from Asks to be informed of the Treaty when agreed upon, &c.

Feeling against the returned Loyalists

Since the rising of the last Session of assembly, I have found myself somewhat ombarrassed in my Opinion how to proceed against the disaffected who may dare to intrude themselves upon the Citizens of this County. I have indulged a Hope, that 'ere this, I should have been apprized of your Determination upon this interesting Subject. But living so far wide of the Common eurrent of news, where we cannot even avail ourselves of your Publications, nor of the circulation of the news Papers, I had fondly beleived this to have been the only cause which contributed to my Disappointment. Several infamous Characters, natives of our Country & were Inhabitants of this County in particular, as well as others truly British Subjects, have within a few days presumed to make their appearance among us. But being held poised between the validity of the Treaty & the Laws previously enacted prescribing Punishment for such Offenders, I know not how clearly to proceed with Legality & Propriety respecting them. Information was Yesterday given me against a certain Bailey Christian, who early in the war sailed in the employment of the State on Board the Northampton Brig: and from the time of her Capture untill now, associated with & adhered to the common Enemy, and has been employed cruising in a Privateer against us, fitted from Bermudas." He had caused his arrest, as well as that of others "in the same predicament" and desires instructions on this subject; adding "As it is almost the first wish of my heart to rid our faithful fellow citizens of such noxious Vermine as soon as possible."

The Chickamogians much displeas'd with them for this, and desire authority to punish with death the leader of the party. He is told Col: Logan is at the head of an Expedition against the Chickamoggas without just cause, for the mischeif done of late was by the Creeks, who had sent warriors to Augusta Georgia, to treat for peace and amuse that state, while they "bend all their force against our frontiers."

Indian affairs and movements

The Spaniards were encouraging the Indians to war against the states. The British were still in possession of Augustine. By a letter just received from Col: Shelby, he has the first news of Mr. Reid since he left Holston; he says one thousand Indians would attend the council to treat. If so "we shall appear very trifling in the eyes of them," and he should be exceedingly mortified at the scant preparation made for them. Begs for assistance on this head. He should have written some time ago in regard to Robert Stith a Justice of the Peace and Col: of King George Co., but had been informed by Col: Munroe, one of the Executive Council, that the authority of the Governor in such cases was so doubtful, that he had applied to the Legislature for the necessary power. Upon a like complaint made against Mercer, and upon the charges having been verified, he had been turned out by the Executive, and he certainly thought, the right to appoint presupposed the authority to supercede. He charged Stith with great partiality and prejudice as a Justice in a suit against himself—refused to try a warrant against himself for keeping his mill out of repair & "swore he w'd be damned if he was concerned with it" and abused the Constable for applying to him. Having forbid Jno. Berryman and Charles Stuart from hunting on his land, Stith had urged Stuart and furnished him with pistols to challenge him (Thornton). Before this Stith had brought about a duel between Lawrence Washington and Philip T. Alexander, and lay concealed to give directions to the former; and subsequently lent the pistols to Washington "with which he put Alexander to death" & then rescued Washington from the hands of the officer"—how different is this from the duty of a Justice of the Peace." * * * * *

CAPT: JNO: PEYTON TO COL: THOS. MERIWEATHER, in reply, "respecting Lieut: Heth's Conduct in the affair of the Magazine at this Post."

Point of Fork

"The fact as near as I can recollect was as Follows:

Lieut Heth
in a drunken fit proposes to set fire to the magazine

A day or two after the commanding officer of the Contin'l Troops at this place, received orders for disbanding his men, it was concluded by the officers that they should have an entertainment on leaving the post, which accordingly happened. After the day being spent in the usual manner on those occasions: the company repaired to my Quarters, in order to spend the Evening. Soon after their arrival there, it was proposed publickly by Lieut: Heth, to sett fire to the State Magazine, but as no person supposed he had any intention to perpetrate the act, there was little attention paid to his proposition, till he was discovered to leave the room with a lighted pipe in his mouth, & declared he would commit the act himself, as no person would join him. The Magazine being near my Quarters, Genl: Seott & Capt Kirkpatrick step'd to the Door & gave orders to the centin'l to suffer no person to come near the Magazine & 1783. was generally supposed he would not. However, the Soldier on Duty, Novem. 19th was unfortunately a Young Soldier & knew little of his duty; in consequence of it, Lieut: Heth was permitted to get between him & the Door of the Magazine, which he broke open by a kick with his foot; on that circumstances' Happening, I immediately run to the place, on my getting there, discovered Lieut. Heth endeavouring to enter the Door, but was prevented going in by the centry. I asked him his reasons for such conduct & soon discovered him too much intoxicated to assign any." * * * * * Prevented

"The next morning on mentioning the matter to Lieut: Heth, he discovered much uneasiness on Acct. of his over nights conduct, which gave me every reason to believe it proceeded from the fumes of Liquor & no real intention of Destroying the Magazine. Cou'd I have thought Lieut: Heth so culpable, as I have reasons to believe his Excellency has been informed of, I should have supposed myself much remiss in duty, had I not acquainted him with the circumstance unasked. Therefore I hope you will attribute it to that cause & not neglect in me,

I am Dr. Sir with perfect esteem,

The memorial at great length narrates the successive trials, troubles and final death of Andrew Sprowle, her subsequent marriage with Francis Douglas, of the noble family of the Duke of Queensberry. THOS: LEWIS TO GOV: HARRISON.

Rockingham CountyOn the commission once before

Acknowledging his of the 17th inst: informing him of his appointment as one of the Commissioners to run the boundary Line between Virginia & Pennsylvania. He had once regarded it a subject of great importance, and had investigated it closely when on the Commission once before, in order "to meet our subtle chicaning neighbours on the more equal footing." But this was to no purpose; he not having been informed of the place and time of meeting until "the business had been completed. It was now too late to undo what had been done, humiliating and unjust as were the terms of the settlement.

1783.

Novem. 29th

Virginia had given up a considerable country to which Pennsylvania had no chartered rights. "The very interested proprietor Pen acknowledged this by his Commissioner to Ld: Dunmore in ye year 1774 at Williamsburg. That Pen had been, and was then negotiating a purchase of those very Lands then in controversy, from the Crown. * * *

What Virginia had lost Wm. Penn

"I was then in Williamsburg and had it from Dunmore's lips." "But this is not all, the amazing sums expended in reclaiming ye Country in question from the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania, and then in defending the inhabitants thereof from British & Savage enemies. And that still more mortifying consideration of abandoning the inhabitants who were induced to intreat themselves in favour of Virginia under the faith of its government, and for whom no adequate security has been stipulated in favour of their Persons or property, whereby such became exposed to ye vindictive rage of an exasperated party. I have been more than once amongst these people. I have cherished their hopes & Dependence on the faith and protection of this Government. I cannot bear the thoughts, much less the sight & reproaches of these Injured people, should I venture among them on the Business in agitation.

Bad faith to the Inhabitants

I hope your Excellency will pardon the liberty I have taken in recalling this Ungratfull subject to remembrance. I have not done it with design to initiate or revive the subject of controversy once more, or to cast an Odium on the negotiators. My only design is to justify myself to your Excellency & your Hon'ble Board for my present conduct. In the mean time permit me to make some observations on the business in hand. And I think as that is circumstanced, that all that is to be done, is to mark out the Boundaries already agreed on by your former Commissioners." * * * * *

"A question may arise on this business that deserves discussion, that is, whether the advantage resulting to this State from the ascertaining & marking out ye Boundaries, will countervail the attendant expense. I am afraid it will not. And there is a greater reason for such enquiry, for let it be remembered, that part of the country that rendred the whole worth contending for is ceded to Pensilvania (the residue considered as a State Emolument is not worth your regard), Pennsylvania therefore, in justice ought to bear all the Expense & if they refused to do this, the business in Agitation should stand as it is. And I most heartily wish it should be so. For if Congress takes up the business of Easing us of the Burthen of our too extended Frontiers, and they have many plausible reasons for so doing, and I think have as many plausible reasons for acquiescence in that business, (for our frontier settlements has cost this State infinitely more than ever they can or will reimburse us & they will always continue a dead weight on us, it therefore is my wish we ware quit of them on good terms.

Makes sundry suggestions

Penna. should pay all the expense, &c.

1783. And give me leave to add a wish that when Congress takes up this Novem. 29th Business, that the State of Pensilvania may not escape amputation as Hopes Con- well as Virginia, if that part of their State they have out wited us of, gress will cut were thrown into the seale of ye United States it would at least be some down the territory of consolation to me & would in fact be no injury to their original Right.
 Penn. Suppose this were intimated to our Delegates in Congress, would it be amiss. It is from the above consideration, that I wish ye suspension of the Boundaries in contemplation till something of this kind may take place."

* * * * * "Time and events will either Justifie or condem my opinions relative to this subject."

Declines the appointment "On the whole, your Exceelleney will conclude from what I have attempted to say, that the controversy between the two States has been unhapily conducted on our part, and as it is now circumstanced, I conceive it to be altogether out of my Power to be of any essential service to this State in the business now under consideration. And that from the above considerations it is, that I beg leave to decline the acceptance of the appointment to which your Exceelleney & your Honourable Board were pleased to destine me, at the same time assuring you that I shall alwais retain a great full sense of the notice you have been pleased to take of me on this oecasion, & permit me Sr., to assure you there is not a person within the cirele of your jurisdiction, more thoroughly disposed to render his Conuntry any service his abilities or circumstances will permit. There is, may it Please your Exceelleney, I am afraid your Excell'y Lincoln Co. Giving reasons why the Treaty with the Chickasaws had not been Reasons why effected as soon as it should have been. As far back as Mareh last he the Treaty had heard of Commissioners having been appointed to treat with the with the Southern Indians, and that he had been added to the Commission. At Chickasaws that time he had just returned from the French Lick on Cumberland.

 was made so In the latter end of April Major Reid arrived in Lincoln Co., on his way late in the year to the Chickasaws with his Excellency's Speech to that Nation, letters, &c., with request that he should be sent foward as soon as possible, and that the time and plae of the meeting of the Council should be settled by himself. From the great scarcity of provisions in that Conuntry, and among the Chickasaws especially; and hoping the Creeks, then at war with us might be induced by the Chickasaws to join them in the Treaty, he had advised Major Reid to invite them to meet at the French Lick, the Full Moon in October. He set out on the 1st May, was detained for want of Guides, "the distance from there to the Chickasaws being 300 miles & no road, and dangerous traveling alone," the way infested by the hostile Creeks, so that it was the 2nd August when he arrived at the Chickasaw towns. On the 23d August Reid had sent him word the Chickasaws had agreed to meet at the time and place suggested, and that an earlier day would not have suited them. This information he at once sent to Colos. Martin & Donelson, two hundred miles away. From these facts he trusts Major Reid will not longer be blamed for "procrastinating that Treaty to so late a period," &c.

J. MADISON, ROBERT ANDREWS AND JOHN PAGE, COMMISSIONERS TO GOV: HARRISON.

They had considered what Instruments would be necessary to them in fixing the Boundary Line between Virg'a and Penn'a, and find there is such a scarcity of the proper kind in the State that an Appropriation of £135, would be necessary to get them by importation. The two observatories to be built, one at each end of the Line would probably "cost one hundred pounds currency," and the expenses of travelling for four Commissioners at £6.00 pr: day, for four or five months, the time necessary in which to finish the work, would amount to £800. To this estimate is to be added the allowance to the Commissioners for their services, "which we presume your Excellency & the hon'ble Council will estimate according to their extraordinary nature." They request an early reply to their suggestions, especially as regards the importation of Instruments, as they had agreed to begin their observations on the 1st June next.

He prefers for the credit of the State these instruments should be imported by Mr. Beall, rather than get them from Philadelphia, at greater expense. They would be useful afterwards, or might be given to "some of the Academies." As to the Time required to finish the business, he is of the opinion, "that the number of necessary Observations to be made on the Eclipses of Jupiter's Satellites alone, to ascertain with sufficient accuracy the difference of Longitude between the Eastern and Western

Although he had made purchases there, so far from being amenable to this charge, Col: Donelson "had neglected his own private business in order to serve the Public" and he assures his Excellency any report to the contrary was malicious and groundless. The Powell's Valley Station was settling fast. He had furnished Mr. Reid out of the public store, linen, four Ruffled shirts, &c., to be charged to his account. Thinks his expenses incident to the holding the council extravagant: there appeared no "needcessity" for paying a guide when Mr. Turnbull was going to the Chickasaw nation, and Major Reid had really gone under his protection.

They had also found the Chickamaugas favorable to peace, but the Creeks did not attend at the Council as expected—A small "town of the Delawares living on the Tennessee in the Chickasaw County had refused to treat, but the Red King, declares he will drive them out or force them to terms. B. JOHNSTON TO GOV: HARRISON OF VA.

Jan'y 12th

“Honb. Sir,

The necessity of having some law Established in that part Ohio County of Youghhogania County, remaining in Virginia calls for your Honour's and the Hon'ble the Councils directions, as the boundary line cannot be determined finally before next summer, at which (time) some alterations will likely ensue. it would be premature to add this part to Ohio County. there are at present great abuses going on for the want of Justice being Administered with these people, of which the bearer can give full information. There being no Escheat Master in Ohio County, and several Estates, the property of persons inimical to the State, lying dormant for want of proper and legal officer, would it not be best for some appointment to take place for that purpose.

I find the Magazine of the State much abused & scattered about in the hands of Sundry Persons now in the State of Pennsylvania. Some order respecting the Collecting the guns, &c., will save the State some money, and call to account sundry delinquents who never were well wishers to Virginia. Any Commands to this Quarter shall be faithfully complied with, confer'd on,

Your Hon'r's Most Ob'd't & Very h'ble Servant.”

"Sir,

Since my last on the subject of the disaffection of a number of the Inhabitants in the Lower County, it was thought necessary to punish one of the leading men among them; who had made it his Business, first in a private manner, to circulate petitions addressed to Congress as the immediate Sovereign of this Country: but finding that his success exceeded his expectations, he in a little time, was entirely open and daring in the prosecution of his designs—As Attorney for the Commonwealth, I attended the Trial, which was in Fayette County Court: he produced a number of witnesses from Jefferson, who in the Beginning of the Trial, behaved with great effrontery, and Contempt of the authority of the Court; but finding that the Fayette Inhabitants listened with decency & respect to the prosecution, before the trial ended appeared greatly humbled, and did not offer at any commotion—When the Culprit found the Court determined to give Judgement against him, upon the Act of Assembly for the punishing Divulgers of False News, & that they were disposed to lessen the Fine if he could prove himself, otherwise, of good Character, he very cheerfully produced Testimonials &c.

* * The Court thereupon fixed a moderate fine upon him, but on motion bound him in a Recognizance with two Sureties to his good behaviour. He has since, I find on enquiry, behaved himself with great propriety & laments the conduct he pursued: but least the Judgment of Jan'y 19th immediately had the Fine levied by Execution. I have mentioned this circumstance thus minutely to your Excellency, that you might be able to form a proper Judgment of the disposition of this people. The enforcing the Law upon a principal offender seems to have damped the Spirits of the whole party—Pomeroy however, who in my former Letter

 I mentioned as the person who brought the report from Mr. Duffill, that all our claims here were annulled by Congress, Sat out about the time of the Trial, with a number of petitions to that Body & has before thus I suppose, arrived. I am of opinion now, that little danger is to be apprehended from them: but at the time of my last Letter, on this Subject & for a month afterwards, I was far from being singular in my apprehensions about the consequences, if something to appease the people, was not done either by Virginia or Congress." He then requests that Blank Commissions for Coroners be sent, in anticipation of the recommendations of the Court—Col. Harvie would bring them, &c.

Richmond Giving his official opinion, in the case of a Demand made by the State of South Carolina, upon the Executive of Virginia, for the body of one George Hancock, a Citizen of Virginia, Charged with having committed a "high misdemeanor," in assaulting and beating Jonas Beard, "a justice of the Peace, a member of the Legislature and a valuable good man" during the sitting of the Court of general Sessions, without any provocation thereunto given &c." The Attorney General, at great length, contends and decides against the justice of this demand—He assumes, that under the 4th article of the Confederation and the Laws of nations a citizen of one independent state cannot be carried into another to be tried, without previous investigation into the charges against him; that Hancock could not be proven to have been guilty of a "high misdemeanor," and that therefore the demand was based upon an illegal and exaggerated degree of crime. Under the existing law the Executive alone can secure the delivery of the accused should they differ from his opinion.
 To effect this a Justice of the Peace must be notified that the demand is properly made, and be ordered to cause his arrest. He does not think the rights of citizenship can authorize such procedure. The demand

We yesterday received the following Talk from him—1784.

“I approve the method you have taken to support your Troops—Their time of service being now expired by the happy conclusion of the War, you will please to discharge your whole corps.”—Thus Brothers we prove to you our sincerity in desiring Peace and friendship: Our Warriors are discharged and gone home to their wives and children. We have buried the Tomahawk, we have covered the blood which has been spilt & we have gathered together the bones which were scattered on the Ground, and buried them in a large Grave, that they may no more be seen. Now Brothers, we wish you to do the same, to join your hands to ours, bury the Hatchet, and let war come no more among us, for we desire to become one flesh and one Blood with you.

COL: JOS: MARTIN TO GOV: HARRISON.

"Sir,

Henry Co.

Your Excellency's of the 14th Novembr. in Council, came to my hands sometime ago, & as I am just Come Home, and for many weeks past the Weather rendered travelling almost impossible, I could not sooner Answer the Contents, & heavy as the Charges seem to be against my Conduct, I am Comforted by the Reflection, that I have not done Any thing, inconsistent with my Duty as a public agent."

Vindicates his conduct in purchasing the Land on the Tennessee River from the Cherokees

"True it is, that I am one with others concerned in a Bargain with the Cherokees for a Tract of Land on the Tenassee which will fall into South Carolina or Georgia, the latter I believe—It lays on the North Side of that River in a large Bent of it, near the muscle shoals—North Carolina has opened her Land Office for the Territory on the Eastern & Western Side of this Bent, * * * & the country is filling up with Inhabitants around it so fast, that the Indians plainly perceived the Ground we purchased would be of no Service to them. And it is a Fact also, that the number of People who have actually gone & declared a resolution to go, and settle this very Ground in Question, was very considerable: & this Settlement was to be made, without any Agreement with the Indians. What was then to have been Apprehended, I leave to y'r Excellency's Judgement: more particularly when the Character & Disposition of this Kind of our back Settlers, is considered: & that the minds of the Indians are much irritated by late repeated Encroachments. It has been no easy task to prevent them from speedy & signal vengeance for recent Injuries of this sort, nor to remove their apprehensions of more in Future. In this state of Facts, it is easy to guess what would have been the Issue of our Treaty with them, if at the Time, the Settlements near the Shoals or Bent was going on without their leave.

Condition of that County, &c.

The true policy

'What then could be done, more likely to conciliate the returning Affections of the Indians (especially the Chickamoggas who are nearest the place) than agreeing to pay them a reasonable price for the Land, which tho' not absolutely necessary for their subsistence, was their Property.'" He then admits, he had rec'd no orders as Agent, to take this step, but did it upon his own responsibility, and is willing to abide an enquiry; as he is unwilling to hold any land, "independent of the States, for whose establishment, he had never ceased to endeavour."

Proceeds—"It is not easy for those who are unacquainted with our Frontiers, to judge of the evils & calamities which threaten to arise from the licentious & ungovernable conduct of the People there. To reconcile this with the vindictive Spirit of the Indians is really difficult & often Times impossible—I Know of no way so proper to conciliate these People to our nation permanently, as to procure in the settlement about to be made, a number of respectable Gentlemen, who will serve as checks to the licentious & wiked—And I should not have made this Purchase, but with the concurrence & at the Request of a Number of the first Gentlemen in North Carolina, with whose sentiments I was made acquainted: & if final Success attend our Enterprise, I am certain that a settlement will be formed directly, as respectable for the character as number of People: and while it helps to form a Barrier to the Eastern Inhabitants, seems to be most likely to discourage that anarchy, which is but too common, and to discover, if not prevent, certain Parties of the Spaniards, of which you will probably hear before long.

Peculiarities

life, &c.

Good effects of the purchase

I wish I could avoid speaking of my own particular advantages, and thereby avoid adding to your Excellency's Trouble; but the severity of your Excellency's Reprehensions has made it necessary. No doubt I have many Enemys, who wish to supplant me, & to this End are never ceasing to propagate their Falsehoods. The particular Time, and distressing circumstances, in which I at first undertook this Agency, I suppose are well Known—Some who now want it, rather wonder at the Folly of one who ventured among the Indians during the War, than desired to take this Place, But now, the Tone is altered & they are brave enough to face the Danger. I wish they were honest enough to tell the truth.

The necessity

Motives of defame him

If I now seek my own advantage, it is consistent with the public Good—my Partners would disdain anything otherwise. I have never as yet added to the Embarrassments of my Country by claiming Donations to myself, & by engaging in this Purchase in a distant State, I must have promoted the public Good."

"I had no hand in stopping the Expedition against the Chickamoggas, as is universally Known: but am very glad it was stopped, for it is certain those Indians are now in Peace with us, without attacking them: & who can say how many Lives might have been lost, how great Expence of money, and the final Event, if Hostility had been pursued."

The Expedition against the Chickamaugas

* * * "As your Excellency's last to me, was written in Council, I request the Favor that this may be laid before that honorable Board, for their Consideration. I also beg that if there remains anything not yet cleared up, in my Conduct, that you may let me know it, that I may have an opportunity to do justice to my character. I will be very glad to know who are the Persons who alledge misconduct against me, as I think it but just to know my accusers, as I believe I can place them in a proper Light. Giving account of his mission to the Chickasaw Indians, &c. On the 12th Jan'y 1783, Col: Jos: Martin apprehending great danger from the different Tribes of Indians preparing to attack the settlements on the Holston, had engaged him in the Cherokee nation to deliver despatches to his Excellency. Before preparing these despatches Col: Martin had detained him at the Holston until the February following, in order to have more talk with the Indians. The badness of the roads and the "swells in the rivers" prevented his arrival at Richmond until the 6th March, where he was detained, until the 12th, when he set out on the business of his Commission. At New London he was detained to see Col: Donelson, one of the Commissioners, to whom he delivered his Exceelly's instructions, and from whom he rec'd orders to proceed to the Great Island on Holston for further instructions from Col: Martin, who detained him until April 14th for the purpose of securing a guard through the Wilderness to Kentucky. But after waiting in vain, he set out with his servant and several persons more, and in nine days reached Col: Isaac Shelby's in Kentucky, who was away from home. He being one of the Commissioners, and being directed to apply to him to appoint the time and Place where the Chickasaws were to meet for the Treaty, he was detained there until the 2d of May—Proceeds—"17th of May I arrived at the French Lick on Cumberland 240 miles from Shelby's. On my arrival I acquainted the Inhabitants of my appointment. Colonel Robertson, who commanded then, persuaded the inhabitants not to let me go on the business, and called a Committee, who determined against my going to the nation, but after my pressing the necessity, they concluded to call a meeting of the people, who determined that I might proceed on my journey—this with the difficulty of obtaining guides detained me until the 14th July. I should have proceeded on my journey, on my first arrival at the Cumberland, but the frequent murders of the inhabitants, and its being from thence 300 miles to the nation, and my being unacquainted with the way (which was through the woods) obliged me to employ two people for Guides, and arrived at the nation 14 days after. On the first of August I had a conference with the chiefs, by a lineester (Linguester) who was a British officer, and they agreed that they would meet the Commissioners, the full moon in October, at the French Lick, on Cumberland. On the 3d of August, I wrote Col: Shelby of my arrival, and success with the nation. About 12 days after, I engaged a lineester (Linguester) in the nation, that was well vers'd in their language (as there was none in the Cumberland settlement) to accompany the Indians to the place of Treaty, and on the 25th of August, after recovering a slight illness, and my Horses being a little recruited, I set out for Cumberland settlement, and in 20 days I arrived at the place of Treaty—a few days after I rec'd a letter from Col: Shelby expressing his doubts that the Commissioners would not attend, and thinking it not only to the interest of this Country, but my duty to wait their arrival, & in case they should not attend, to invite them to the big Island on Holston, where two of the Commissioners were, I stayed until their arrival, what was the time they appointed. The Comm'rs did not meet until about 10 days after the Indians, and I was obliged to find the warriors every necessary until the arrival of our Comm'rs, who afterwards directed me to do this business, all for which I have been paid except what is charged.

About the 12th of Nov: the Treaty was concluded, when I set out with the Commissioners from the Cumberland Settlement, and arrived at the Block House on Holston, (the distance being about 480 miles) the 12th December.

About the 20th I set out from Holston, on my way to this place. the badness of the weather, the ice (of which your Execlleney can now form some judgement from what may be seen), &c., &c., cannot fail accounting for my not arriving from Holston at this place, before I did.

COL: JOHN DONELSON TO GOV: HARRISON.

Defending himself against the charge made by persons "who pay no regard to the wounds they give other men's Caritors," that he had neglected the business entrusted to him, as Commissioner to treat with the Indians. "I beg leave to assure you Sir, I received the command with Joy, Determined to exert every power about me to facilitate a Business, in which Depended the Existence in Some measure of our Back Settlements." To do this he had accomplished a long and dangerous journey to Long Island in the "Dead of Winter," had sent Mr. John Reid first to his Excellency, and then to the Chickasaw nation, but Col: Shelby had ordered him not to invite the Indians to a Council until October. In the mean time they had concluded a peace with the Cherokees, including that part of the Tribe, called the Chickamoggaus. Soon afterwards he went to Kentucky, and was the means of preventing a volunteer expedition against the Indians with whom he had just made peace. He had also gone with those who desired to get a grant of Land on the Tennessee River, as he was acquainted with that country, and had no doubt, its acquisition would be of public benefit: if in this he had done wrong, it was far from his intentions. Closes with request for remuneration of his Expenses of four months' service "in the Business of the Treaties" &c.

There was great necessity of enforcing the Militia Law at that Place.
Many British subjects were daily settling there who "do not take the pay taxes or think themselves obliged to appear at muster." He desires required to assist in this, "especially as the people who are the cause of the disturbances generally belong te their ships."

That County was held in great odium on account of the "robberies made on Wrecked Vessels." The Maryland people seem to think themselves "priviledged to embezzle from wrecked vessels." They have a good opportunity of doing this as the Island of Assitiaque (famous for its shoals & on which three valuable Vessels have been lately stranded) lies near that state. They are furnished with information by the Island people, "who are concerned in such villany." An outrage of this kind had lately been committed by one Wm. Holland of Worcester Co. He therefore calls upon the Executive for redress against this man—"as well in behalf of the public, as the unfortunate Gentlemen who have been such losers," &c.

"Holland takes care not to come within the reach of any process from this State" else he would not trouble his Excell'y.

“Gentlemen,

April 10th

Having heretofore wrote divers Letters to his Excellency Benjamin Harrison, but no reason existing that can induce me to suppose they have ever come to hand, I can but imagine that some wickedly disposed Persons have intercepted all my correspondance; a practice become but too common, by the relax'd morals of our people—to the great scandal of all government. I have therefore determined, in order to deceive those villians to open a new source of communication, which I hope will continue during the month, in which it is my duty to write official Letters, unsuspected & of course safe.”

Annapolis

Correspondence intercepted

Each delegate writes official letters pr: Month

Enclos'd is a Report of a Grand Committee on the requisition for the current year, acted upon, altho' not yet pass'd. I could wish for information on the statement marked “A,” which is an Apportionment of 1,200,000, to compleat the payment of Interest on Loan Office Certificates. Has any Tax ever been laid by the state of Virginia for its payment? If there has not been, I cou'd wish to oppose the idea altogether for 2 reasons:

1. The State must pay this sum in specie, as She has not among her citizens above 300,000 Dollars out of 11,000,000—& the Requisition on which this sum is call'd for is intended manifestly to enable the states to releive their own Citizens. We will not allow any Complaints from them to reach Congress.

Objections to the plan for paying interest on National Debt

2ndly. the Circumstances of our Citizens will not permit our paying up all the arrears of interest at this moment. & certainly whoever considers the history of the loan office debt, will agree, that if ever they get paid, they will have brought their money to a good market.”

“I am also against the clause marked “B” for two reasons—

1. We are to pay ourselves first & every deficiency is to be borne by Foreign Creditors; which would be a breach of faith, and in fact, it is intended to make the Southern States pay all the Foreign Debt—2ndly. It will give the Northern States great facility, who have settled all the Acc'ts of Individuals with the Continent. the Southern States have not, of course have no Conti'l Securities & they must in fact give more than their proportion in Taxes, being oblig'd to sell their property for Specie to pay their Taxes, when the others are allowed to sell for Certificates.

A System for making Treaties in Europe is now before Congress & will possibly pass. the Delegation will I believe give their assent, if we are properly represented in the Commission.

I am Gent'n with the utmost

Respect, Y'r Mo: Ob: & hub: Serv't,”

I am glad to find their dispositions are for Peace. * * * "I would have dispatched your messengers immediately, but I wished to have all our Chiefs of this Country to hear what I had to say in answer to the Speeches I received, as well as to do honor to the messengers of our Brothers, the Shawanees & Wyandots.

The prisoners Your Detention during the winter, I expect will be rather advantageous than detrimental: especially as I have hopes it paves the way for your bringing in the Prisoners, without fail, and you have just reason, not only to expect, but be in great measure assured of receiving to yourself a valuable consideration for every Prisoner you bring in, from the Parants, Guardians or Friends of them respectively: exclusive of the views I have from Gov't in your favor—In that, exert yourself, on this occasion & there is next to a certainty of your being a man of consequence ever hereafter.

Genl: Clark is one of the Commissioners appointed to treat with the Shawanese & others—He is not yet arrived." * * as the Wabache (Ouabache) tribes are expected in, I Shall depend on your return to interpret for me, &c."

Benj. Pyatt I am highly displeas'd with Mr. Benjamin Pyatt, for daring to tell Such Lies to our Brothers. All the white People are exasperated at the news, but hope no regard will be paid to anything said by Such a fool. Rest assured that agreeable to your present good Conduct, you have it in your Power to do a great deal for yourself, in which you will always command the assistance & good offices of Sir,

"May it please your Excellency"

Fayette Co.
The Indians
troublesome
in Fayette
Co., Ky.

At the conclusion of a peace with Britain, we flattered ourselves, that Hostilities would cease throughout the United States. I am sorry to inform you that contrary to our Expectations our natural Enemies have began the Season, with their accustomed fierceness and Barbarity, in different, nay almost every part of the Kentucky Country: but in this County in particular, from circumstances, I have a right to suppose that Some of the Northern Indians as well as the Southern are disposed for War. What makes it the more disagreeable is, that at a Time when the Inhabitants are living in ease and plenty (in Comparison to what we for years past have done) and sufficiently Strong, not only to keep out Scouts and Guards, but also to carry the war into the Enemy's Country: that for Want of Laws to invest officers with authority to call Militia in Service to defend & Chastise an Enemy, we must still and tamely submit to their Cruelties. to talk of Authority or Commands under the Law now in force (for guarding against invasions) is Ridiculous, and we do not abound sufficiently in virtue to do our Duty without Compulsion, would not the General Assembly, if representation was made to them of our Situation, invest officers with necessary authority to act defensively, if not offensively: to inflict punishments (pecuniary I could wish) on those who neglect, or refuse to comply with their Duty, to give sufficient Rewards to Scouts & Detachments while in Service, to lay up proper Stores of Ammunition which at present we are destitute of. I could wish this was the case, if our Country

Richmond

“Sir,
After begging your Excellency not to be offended with me for the length of this —ter, which could only have happened from necessity, I take the liberty to inform you and the honorable Council, that Mr. Ege has at last obliged me to quit his House, which Capt: Young rented for me the 20th Feby: —83, and that I, with my family, must have lain in the Street, if Capt: Wright had not been kind enough to offer me his Lumber House behind the Jail, which he lately purchased of Col: Thos: M. Randolph, to which place I am going as soon as the Grease & dirt is seraped off the Floor. All this, and more I could bear without a murmer on my Part; but I confess I cannot help feeling for my Wife, and Daughters, when I behold them in the midst of Filth and Vermin, Fish, Salt, Lumber, greasy Barrels and the stinking remains of an issniug House, without a chimney, or a Window in it, or any place to cook in. There is an old Log-House, which has been for some Time appropriated to the use of the Guard, within one hundred yards of the Prison, and now occupied by a few soldiers, which can be easily spared. I request your Exceelleny will be pleased to direct Col: Meriwether, or the officer of the Guard, to remove them to the Barracks on the Shockoe side of the Creek, which are sufficiently spacious to contain the whole Guard, and that this House be delivered up to me for a temporary kitchen.

It has long been my wish, Sir, to save the Country the Expence arising from that proportion of the Guard hitherto allowed for the security of the Public Jail. The moment is now arrived (more I confess from necessity than choice at this Time) and I embrace the opportunity to Petition your Excellency and the Council to remove the Guards forever from the Prison. You have long known my sentiments respecting them, and I do assure your Excellency I do a single Instance wherein they have prevented an Escape, but several in which it has been evident they had more than a helping hand.”

“I have conferred with Mr. Jefferson, on the expediency of his acting as a Commissioner for Extending the boundary line between Virg’a & Pensylva. He informs me that he is under the necessity of spending some weeks in Phila. during the summer. And if the business can be so arranged as to admit of his taking that Stand, he will accept the appointment. The Cession of our Western territory seems to have removed that jealousy, which many of the States indulged against Virginia. And I think nothing remains to prevent her forming an interest which will give her the respectable influence in the Councils of America to which she is entitled, but an amicable termination of the dispute with Pennsylvania. Under this idea, I feel a degree of Solietude somewhat unusual, that no impediment should take place on the part of Virg’a, which can be construed into an intention either to protraet or defeat the business.

He would observe that in the Treaty with the Chickasaws, nothing had been said about the Lands at the mouth of the Tennessee and Ohio Rivers. The king of the Chickasaws, in talking privately of this matter, said he had "no power vested in himself from his nation to sell Lands": only to treat for peace. He should leave at once for the Cherokees. All the news he could give, was that a boy had been Killed in Powell's valley and a girl taken prisoner: a large number of horses carried off. A station had been erected in that valley at great expence; when there were then about "one hundred souls," chiefly women & children, and unless they could get immediate support from the state "on the next alarm they will break up." He had written some time before to his Excellency a full account of the Tennessee purchase. If this had not been satisfactory, he would rather sacrifice all his interests in Lands "than be thought guilty of the least Breach of neglect of Public faith," &c.

WALKER DANIEL TO GOV: HARRISON.

"Sir,

Lincoln, Ky

Pomeroy the author of Sedition brought to JusticeThe Trial, &c.The punishmentLaw under which he was tried

Your Excellency's favor of Feby. 27th came safe to hand a few days since. I am happy to learn that my proceedings, with respect to the Sowers of Sedition met with Your Excellency's approbation: & still more so that I now have it in my power to inform You, that Pomeroy himself, the first mover, at least the ostensible cause of the Disturbance, has undergone the same fate with that of his partizans. A few weeks ago, I was informed that he had returned from Congress & had circulated Letters among his adherents calculated to Keep up their spirits & expectations: that matters were not yet ripe for execution, &c., &c. Upon this I went down to Jefferson & as he had once broke custody without leave, I directed the Sheriff once more to arrest him & bring him into Court, which happened to sitt at the time a full week. The expectation of his Trial, as I had threatened to prosecute him as soon as he returned, had drawn together a number of the Faction, who appeared very anxious about the event. There was a very crowded Audience during the whole Trial 3-5th of which I am persuaded were of the number of his Followers, notwithstanding which, the most perfect Decorum was observed throughout. Together with the Evidence made use of, in behalf of the Commonwealth, I called on five or six of the Ringleaders of the party, as I could easily pick them out of the Crowd, most of whom swore to the very facts, which the State Witnesses declared. He was fined 2,000 lbs. of Tobacco, the extent of the Law, and bound to the Behaviour, with two Sureties, himself in £1000, & his Sureties in £500 each. I was surprised to see with what cheerfulness his party offered to be his Security. Instead of Indignation & Resentment, at being brought into contempt & ridicule, by his falsehoods & misrepresentations, they seemed to mourn at his conviction. I was for a considerable time almost at a loss to know under what Law he should be punished. To prosecute him for high crimes & misdemeanors, was unprecedented not only in this new country, but in the Statc: it would have been difficult to have fixed the matter, & to have brought him under the description: his crime did not amount to Treason, tho' the consequences were nearly as serious and alarming:

And the Act of Assembly for punishing certain offences injurious to the Commonwealth, but less than Treason had expired by the ratification of the Articles of the Definitive Treaty of peace. I therefore had recourse to our old Law, almost absolute, for the punishment of Divulgers of false news; and endeavoured to draw a parallel between our present situation & that of our Forefathers at the time of the Restoration when this Act passed. I now persuade myself & hope with your Excellency that we shall be no longer troubled with this turbulent and factious set of men. There is yet a certain Leitch, who was considered as second to Pomeroy & was commissioned jointly with him to Congress, who has not yet returned, whom I mean to prosecute: & then, unless new Disorders arise, which I by no means apprehend, I shall conceive public Justice may rest satisfied, as the other members of the party are two inconsiderable to dread any Danger from.

May 21st

Hopes for quiet now Leitch, &c.

While I am on the subject of Dissentions in this Country, permit me to mention to Your Excellency the state of Indian affairs & the precarious situation of the Western Inhabitants in consequence of the arrangements that have been taken relative thereto. As early as June last, when the Onbache & Sanduskie Tribes first understood that a general peace was about to take place, between Great Britain & America, Deputations from most of them came to the Falls of Ohio, desiring to know what Line of Conduct we meant to pursue towards them & at the same time expressing an earnest desire to brighten up the chain of Friendship, which British artifice & Seduction had caused to rust, observing that the mist was now cleared before their Eyes, that they could see clear, &c., &c. I happened at Louisville both then & at sundry other times when their Cheifs & Runners came about this Business: and as I was always invited to the Council, I endeavoured to impress upon them the necessity there was of their giving some proof of the sincerity: that they now had an opportunity to do this, by giving up, without ransom the horses & prisoners they had among them: and that unless they did this, as it was a matter wholly in their power, Doubts might arise with our Great Men below, concerning the reality of their professions. At first, I never saw men seemingly more determined to comply with whatever was required of them: they readily promised to do all that was asked, and a man was accordingly sent to Post Vincennes to receive the prisoners & Horses. But after waiting there a considerable time and receiving nothing, as has transpired, but frivolous excuses, he returned. The Indians in the mean time & ever since, still keep up the appearance of being anxious to be in Friendship with us.

Indians

Their Duplicity

We at different times informed them of our Expectations about a General Treaty, without which they can do nothing, & they communicated their Ideas to us. As Soon as it was made known that Congress had taken up the Subject, we directed them to look up to that Body, the Bostonians (?) & not to us, the Big Knife, for peace & Trade. They had previous, and indeed after this intelligence came to hand, been wrote

They are

Congress

1784. to & informed of the Commissioners power, who were appointed by Virginia; but as their conduct was always enigmatical, nothing decisive was done, or I believe expected to be done. A disappointment however, after such advertisement was sure to operate to our prejudice. Their expectations were raised very high upon this Information & Chiefs as well as Runners frequently came over to us, advising us of every thing they heard & explaining their conduct when any Scalps were taken.
- May 21st Still trouble- As nations, they abstained from Acts of violence & Robbery, tho' Small some parties from Several Tribes would still be doing mischief, both in stealing Horses, taking prisoners & even murdering the Inhabitants. All this was borne by our people with great patience; who Still hoped that the General Treaty would put a final End to these Disorders. The
- The Chica- Chiekamoggies, a large Separated Tribe of the Cherokees, were all this maugas hos- tile time acting with every mark of an enraged Enemy, & rendered it dangerous to pass from one outside Station, to another. A Body of Volunteers were collecting to cheek their Incursions, but were prevailed upon to give over their plan, by one of the Commissioners, who hapdened here at the time, as the Tribe had given certain assurances of making peace & that he expected it was signed by that time. A regard
- The people's to publik Faith, prevailed over the Resentments of the People. But forbearance when Genl: Clark's appointment & Instructions arrived ten Days after the time for holding the Treaty, had expired, and that too fixed at Albany, a place to which few of the Western & none of the Southern
- Alarm conse- Indians would ever be drawn, all Kentueky was alarmed and astonished. quent upon They easily foresaw, that the Indians would construe the preceedings the failure of into a premeditated Design to lull them into Security, that they might the Treaty, &c. be fallen on, & cut off with greater probability of success, at a time when they were not suspecting it; & that influenced by this opinion, they would continue to do us mischief. The was confirmed in this by
- Young Corn- the frequent observations of the Young Cornstalk, the Son of that Chief stalk, &c. of the same name, whose tragical End at Point Pleasant fixed the Shawnee nation our inveterate enemy. While at Louisville, after the superintendants of the Continental & State line came down, he would frequently say, as if with a wish to be informed, that he did not know why our Warriors were come there after the war between us & Great Britain was ended, but that he hoped all would be peace, &c., &c.
- Necessity of I really have my apprehensions, unless Congress will appoint a new a Treaty with Treaty to be held with the Sanduskie, Oubache & Southern Tribes & at the Wabach, convenient places to each, giving full time that the necessary preparatory Sanduskies & others steps may be taken in order to a full Council, that we shall be very much plagued and harrassed by their Small parties, which perhaps at first may not have the national Sanction, but will certainly meet with their connivance & countenance.
- Effect of the The dread of the Indians produces many Inconveniencies among us. Indians upon It prevents the population & settlement of the Country, confines our the Country people to Stations, which serve as Beds to engender Sedition & Discord in, & as excuses for Indolence, Rags & poverty—For while they see no vigorous & decided steps taken by Government to prevent the cruelties & Depredations of the Savages, they are apt to conclude as the reason, that those in Administration feeling nothing of their sufferings, are consequently indifferent to their Situation: they therefore wish for a separation, because they then expect that every one in power will be equally interested with themselves in securing a friendly Intercourse with their troublesome Neighbours: And while they are shut up in Forts & Stations, on other men's Lands, they are extremely unwilling to bestow much labour on Improvements, which they Know they are not to long enjoy. The active mind of man cannot bear to be unemployed & immediately is easting about to remove the causes of their present confinement; hence these political parties & factions & hence so ready an Ear to listen to Tales from the Designing in the Northern States.

Another source of complaint, which is confined indeed mostly to the better sort of people, arises from the want of energy in Government, from a Defect of Distributive Justice among us.

The Fund appropriated for the maintenance of the Supreme Court in this District has proved wholly inadequate to the End; So much that the Judges have not received £10, apiece for their Services: their attendance cannot be expected unless other Funds are granted them. If the present gentlemen resign, which I am informed they have in contemplation unless their Salaries are secured to them, by the adoption of some other mode than the present, I am greatly at a loss to Know where others could be got to supply their places.

Unless men of abilities & Integrity fill so high an office, it were better for the people to annihilate the Tribunal & leave them as they were. Few men of capacity here will for some years be willing to undertake the offices, because other Employments offer, which afford more lucrative prospects: Something therefore should be done to induce the present members to continue. If a Dissolution of the Court takes place, anarchy & confusion must follow, because faction & error will bring the County Court into Contempt: their authority will immediately be trampled on & disregarded—Exclusive of other Differences, pomp & sound have a great influence over minds of nine tenths of mankind—In a Frontier too, so remote as ours, to which the Knave & the outlaw from every State in the Union fly as to an Asylum, a place of Impurity, the Springs of Government cannot be too tightly wound up: the punishment should tread close on the heels of the crime: As a state of Idleness & Inactivity has been the parent of Sedition, So a relaxation in the Execution of the penal Laws of the State will beget and unwillingness to obey any Law at all. Hence we may infer, that if we have no superintending Court, which we cannot have without Funds to support it, a Revolution in this Country will ensue, & then no man can say that he is sure of his property an hour. I am persauded that no two thinking men in the District, of honest disinterested Intentions, at present, wish a separa-

May 21st I have to apologize to your Excellency, for the length and subjects of this Letter. But I flatter myself, if You should coincide in opinion with me in the foregoing observations which relate to matters of the last Importance to the people here, That Your Sentiments will be communicated to the Legislature & that through this channel, Remedies may be provided for the evils that threaten this Country. One thing more I would wish to observe. That as soon as the people are allowed to go out & settle generally on their own Farms, Merchants will find it their Interest to encourage Industry. Exports in Tobo., Hemp, Flour, Pork, &c., will shortly take place & then the Inhabitants will be enabled to render to the State in Taxes, what they now should draw from it in Protection. This appears to me to be an object of national concern, of sufficient magnitude to merit some attention from the Legislature.

No real desire to separate from the East, except under certain contingencies

Conduct of General Wilkinson in the late seditious movements

I have to mention that General Wilkinson's Conduct, not a little contributed to convince the people that Pomeroy was deluding them & telling them nothing but falsities. As a native of Maryland & living sometime in Philadelphia the party was very communicative to him, when he first moved down to this Country: the decided unequivocal manner in which he delivered to them his Sentiments on this Subject had very considerable effect. He took pains to set them right & gave me much information. I conceive we are greatly indebted to him.

I have the honor to be, with great Esteem & regard,

JAS: SPEED TO GOV: HARRISON.

Sir,

Lineoln Ky: I am now an Inhabitant of the most remote part of your Government, in a place where your attention is more needed, tho' less expected than elsewhere. My personal acquaintance with you and your disposition, assures me that we may expect every thing from You that the Governor of Virginia can and ought to do for us: was it not so, I would not undertake to address your Excellency as an Individual, which (as the case is) I can make bold to do on the following heads—

It is in the power of the Indians to distress this part of the Country very much, if not entirely to destroy us, and we are very doubtful it will be done before we become able to defend ourselves unless Government or Congress concludes a peace with them, now while they are (as I understand) much disposed for Peace. 1784.

Apprehensions of the Indians

Many of the Inhabitants of this place, are not natives of Virginia, nor well affected to its Government, and are sowing sedition among the Inhabitants, as fast as they can, which I fear will have too great an effect so long as we are pent up in Forts and Stations, notwithstanding the Attorney General has taken every step in his power to suppress them." Disaffected inhabitants

I hope your Excellency will endeavour to improve the present good disposition of the Savages towards us, and have a Peace concluded as soon as possible.

The Supreme Court in this Country has had a very salutary effect, and tended greatly to reforming the manners of the people, but I greatly fear we shall lose our Judges for want of sufficient Sallaries, &c."

Enclosing his deposition made before Mich: Huffnagle, Justice of the Court of Common Pleas, of Westmoreland Co., Penna, and "Prothonotary of said County," testifying to his having been "drove ashore by the Ice at Wheelen Fort" about the 16th January last on his way to Cumberland River. The bank of ice was at least fifty feet high, and he was compelled to land his cargo of whiskey and dry goods, by cutting Steps in the banks, &c. The boat was lost, but the cargo was saved. Complains of having been robbed of his Property, under act of Assembly, entitled "an Act to establish certain & adequate funds for the redemption of certificates granted to the officers & soldiers for their arrears of pay & depreciation," which act he is informed "was repealed ere the seizure" of his property. This however was of no consequence, as he "apprehends a person cast away by stress of weather could never be the object of the Law; otherwise it would be more unhappy to be driven ashore on the Coast of Virginia, than on the Coast of Barbary." He trusts to the Justice of the State & his Excellency's "well known desire to promote it," for redress.

June 29th B. JOHNSTON SURVEYOR Y. Co. TO GOV: HARRISON, at great Length.

“Hmble. Sir,

Yohogania County Surveyor's office
 List of Land Entries
 Your favour of April 13th last, requesting an exact list of Entrys in this Office, made with me & my Predecessors, for Lands within the bounds of the Cession to Pennsylvania came to hand yesterday. It being out of my power to discriminate, I have given your Honr. a list of all Entrys in my office, Since the commencement of the Comrs.
 appointed by Virginia, to grant Lands in Yohogamia, Monongalia &
 Ohio; those preceding that time are not in my hands.

Makes suggestions
 Give me leave sir to add a few words, which may throw some light on this new Method Pennsylvania has adopted to carry the Agreement into Execution. I am told by one of their Council, The Executive of Penn'a has wrote to your Hon'r Council for an exact list of Entrys made under Virginia, previous to the Agreement Enter'd into at Baltimore the 31st day of August 1779. 2ndly. That £3.10.0 shall be paid by all those People for surveying their Lands & 3dly. That the sum of £10.0.0. p'r hundred acres shall be paid for all Lands not so entered, with legal interest from the date of Settlement! As to the 1st, I mean the Opinions of the conduct of Penna.

 List! What a farr fraught thought is this! It's well known many of the poor People in this Country have been deterred entering their Lands with the Comm'rs. Others have entered with the Com'rs, and by Pennsylvania issuing a Proclamation forbidding our Comm'rs acting within these bounds, have stopt'd half way, e. i. Entered with the Comm'rs, but never entered with the Surveyor. Others I find have entered with both Com'r & Surveyor, who by neglect omitted to certify to these entrys.
 Shall these men pay ten pounds pr: hundred with Interest? If so, it's cruel and hard! The list I now send I presume is to go from you to the Executive of Pennsylvania—by this List I judge the People are to be disseminated: Good God, what can those men hope for, who are deem'd Virginians! What does their own People say on, or about the late Act!” * * * * *

Injustice to the Va. Land owners

This List contains an Acc't of the Quantity of Land granted, the place where situate, and the Time of Entry with the Surveyor. Shall that day govern the right, whou perhaps the grant originated from the Com'rs months before? or Shall the 31st day of Aug't 1779, take away those poor People's rights. Supposing the Agreement to be obligatory, it can be no agreement 'til agreed to by both States, & I think Virg'a in May 1780, says that the Agreement entered into at Baltimore the 31st Aug: 1779, shall be confirm'd upon condition. Pennsylvania, I think, in Sept. following acceded thereto—from that time let them date their Edict! 2ndly. As to paying £3.10, for each survey, why Sir, many of those poor People had their Lands surveyed under Col: William Crawford—his untimely death (Killed by the Indians) prevented return to Virginia. I, myself, petitioned the Assembly of Virginia on their accounts; which barely got a hearing. Shall these men again pay a Surveyor and that double what they did in Virginia? Does this show they mean to carry the Agreement perfectly into Execution. I am informed in a letter from the Prothonotary of the County of Westmoreland, e. i., (more land to the West), that the State of Pennsylv'a means to carry the Agreement in every part in force—may be so—but this late act don't speak that language. Yet I verily believe the Gentlemen of both Houses in Philadelphia mean & wish to do us Justice; but from bad information are misled; rather inclining to hear & believe their own party, than those called Virginians, as is clearly proved by their Journals," &c., &c.

July 10th MEMORIAL OF THOS. HEPBURN A NATIVE & SUBJECT OF GREAT BRITAIN TO THE EXECUTIVE OF VIRGINIA.

Caroline Co. He had resided many years in this Country before the late war; in Port Royal March 1776 had left, and had since resided in British Territory—was a Trader during this time—was never concerned in a Privateer, never held any commission or received any pay from the King of G. Britain—never acted in or under the Direction of the “Board of Refugees at New York”—Had never inflicted private injury or personal affront on any individual Virginian, that he had releived many in distress at great personal sacrifice. That after the arrival of the Difnitive Treaty, he left New York for Virginia. After reading the “Citizens’ Bill passed by the last Assembly” he conceived himself at liberty to settle in this State and become a Citizen. He considered himself amenable to the Laws & therefore entitled to their protection. His surprise was great therefore when on the day previous, he found himself called upon by a number of men, who, after many questions which he answered candidly, informed him, they had formed themselves into a Committee, and “had come to some Resolutions” which they read to him—afterwards a note, full of threats was delivered to him. His situation may be judged of, when they are informed that upon so short a notice he is required to settle up his affairs, and remove his family from the State. He therefore hopes the Gov: & Council will take measures to prevent his being driven out of the state, at least, until the “time limited by the Treaty of Peace is expired.”

“Sir

I am just returned from the Cherokee Towns, where I have been closely confined since the first of June last. As the Frontier Settlers, both of Virginia and Carolina were in a starving condition, they were forced to apply to the Indians for Corn, and some Hundreds have been plentifully supplied upon moderate Terms.

Long Island

1784. This Traffic gave an opportunity for Villians of all Sorts to be passing and repassing, to and from the Towns, under the Pretence of buying Corn. Many horses have been stolen from the Indians, and brought to the settlements: and many have been taken from the settlements to Chickamogge, and from thence to Pensacola and Augustine. I have used the best Exertions I could, to prevent those Disorders, and have detected some of the offenders among the White People, who I am to appear against in August. There appears to be great Disorder among the Indians at present: Several Hundred are gone to a Treaty with the Spaniards on some part of the Mississippi. They went off in Canoes, and are to take Part of those at the Muscle Shoals with them. The Treaty with the Creeks is over, & they have returned with large Presents. They say the Spaniards tell them, that they expect a War with America shortly, and that if their Red Brothers will assist them, they will soon end it. For had it not been for them and the French, Great Britain would have subdued the Americans long ago. I have dispatched one of the principal Warriors of the old Towns, to the Treaty, to bring me an Account of what passes. The Death of the King of the Chickasaws prevented him from giving an Answer, agreeable to his Promise, respecting the Lands at the mouth of Tenesee & Ohio. The Indian, who was taken and killed at Kentucky, last winter, was a Cherokee that formerly lived in Toque, but joined the Shawanese about two years ago, with a number of others, about 30 in number. The Boy that was killed and the Girl that was taken Prisoner last April in Powell's valley, was by the same Party, aided by the Shawanese. The man-woman, Boy & Child Killed last Winter on the Kentuckey Road, was by some of the same Party, commanded by a young Fellow called the Rattlesnake, new in the Town of Chilherney. The three men killed near Cumberland Gap, last winter on their way from Kentuckey was by the Creeks. A Boy was Killed & scalped, and an arrow left in his Breast down this River, but I have not heard yet by whom it was done.

WILL: JOHNSTON, C. STORES, TO GOV: HARRISON.

“Sir,

My fears that the Incursions of the Savages might be shortly attended with unhappy consequences have eventually proved unfortunately too true. This Western County, perhaps Sir, has never sustained a greater Loss, or more deep felt shock, in the Death of one man, than it now does in that of Walker Daniel Esquire who with a merchant from Ireland by the name of George Keightley, on the 12th ulto: were Killed and Scalped by the Savages. As I was in Company & had nearly have shared the Same unhappy Fate: (a Ball having glanced my Breast) a concise Relation, perhaps may not be amiss. On the morning of the 12th we left Sullivan's old Station, on our way to the Salt Works at Bullet's Lick—We had made some considerable stay at Col: Moore's, at the Fish Pools; had met numbers of people who had that day left the works, and in the Evening proceeded leisurely on unapprehensive of Danger, towards our place of evening Destination. Within five or six miles of the Salt Works, we were fired on by several Savages, to the number of Six, as near as my fears, and the momentary Glance I had of them could permit me to distinguish. The sudden and unexpected sight of a Savage stepping from behind a Tree, and deliberately firing on us, occasioned an Exclamation of there!! from me, who first discovered him, but the word had hardly escaped my Lips, before two or three guns more were fired on us, and the war whoop raised. the unfortunate gentlemen fell dead on the spot, having rec'd the fatal Ball thro' their Hearts—the wound I rec'd was not attended with dangerous Consequences—the same Evening the dead Gent: were taken to a house half a mile farther on the Road, and the day afterwards conveyed to the Salt Works for a Burial. The Savages, according to custom, were in vain pursued—And we are now under momentary painful anxiety—We See daily signs of their Incursions—they travel our Country fearless of Danger, while in trembling Crowds, the men, women & children once more leave their little Farms, and unless some eventual and Speedy steps are taken to revenge the Insult, we shall continually be subject to the cruelties of a Savage Enemy—We cannot now do anything—provisions never were scarcer here, than at present. We have not the Sanction of the Legislature to authorize our Threats, our Revenge. I have this day, in order to maintain the Town, established in the Illinois Grant on the other side of the Ohio, delivered Genl: Clarke's Order, 90 lbs. Powder, and a Small Swivel, with half a dozen Musquets—as I had not your Excellency's approbation to venture so far, prudence dictates parsimony—And I flatter myself this step may meet with your concurrence—I find myself at a Loss in what manner to act in such Cases; your Instructions therefore, Shall be inviolably observed by,

“Sir,

Yesterday received from the Chickasaw nation, a letter, of which the following is a Copy:” Long Island

JULY 10TH, 1784.

Sir,

The 25th of last month there was a General Congress Held at Mobile with the Chickasaws & Choctaws by the Spaniards, and great presents were given. The Creeks likewise met at Pensacola upon the same Occasion, and the purport was as we understand it (by a company of Chickasaws that came up yesterday from the Treaty) that they, the Spaniards Desired of all the above Indians; as they looked on them as their friends & brothers, and that it was Impossible for any other nation Excepting

"Sir,

I wrote yr: Excell'y previous to my leaving Virginia & requested to hear from you at Annapolis." * * * *

In this however am disappointed. It was in consequence of a most earnest request from Mr. Hardy of the 15th August that I came hither. But meet with no members of Congress, those who remained here after the dispersion of the Committee having remov'd to Philadelphia. I am unapriz'd of their progress in collecting members, but am led to beleive a sufficient number will hardly assemble to constitute a Committee previous to the meeting of Congress. I regret the situation of the American Government & feel for the reputation of our States.

I would gladly make every exertion in my power to resume the appearance of a Confederal Government, but know not whether any other member from the state have repair'd to Philadelphia for this purpose, or whether an attendance there, wou'd meet with the approbation of the State. I wish'd some intimation from yr: Excellency on these Subjects. Without Such, I can determine on nothing better, than my proceeding as far as Philadelphia, when I may act or not, as circumstances then & advices which I hope to receive from Virginia may render expedient & advisable. It is with Heartfelt Sorrow, we view any of our fellow Citizens attempt the revival of past animosities, and more so in this instance, as that Law has been passed near three years, and we have never heard of its being Enforced by the Executive. We mean not to trouble your Excellency with our Opinion on the Law, or the Effect it may have on the Community, But only Pray that you will not Enforce the same from a thought that the Meeting before mentioned conveys the wishes or opinions of the Majority of the Citizens residing in the Town of Petersburg and its vicinity. Observatory

Much in want of funds

Met a private Remittance

I have the Honor to inform your Excellency & the Council that having assisted the Rev. Mr. Andrews in making the necessary astronomical Observations for ascertaining the Boundary between Virginia & Pennsylvania, I returned home, as did Mr. Lukens a Commiss'r on the Part Pennsylvania, leaving to Mr. Rittenhouse & Mr. Andrews our respective Associates, the Business of Assisting the other Commissioners in actually running out the Lines, whose Position had been determined by the series of Observations made at the two Observations in the Parallel of Mason & Dixon's Line—He took this step not merely on Account of our Inability to go through the Hardships & Fatigues which must necessarily be encountered in the Prosecution of that work: but as a proper measure to save a great & unnecessary Expence—for three Commissioners on the Part of Each State are fully sufficient to run out the Lines: though four were necessary to make the corresponding astronomical Observations for ascertaining the Point in the Continuation of Mason & Dixon's Line, from whence those lines should be run. I hope your Excellency & the Board will be assured that had the Nature of our Business required a farther Risk of Health & longer Sacrifice of Interest & Domestic Happiness, that few Citizens can be found, who would with more Readiness have run that Risk & continued that sacrifice than I should. Permit me Sir, to recommend to your particular Attention my worthy Associate in the arduous Work, in which we have been engaged: his zeal for the Interest of this State & Perseverance in its Service I humbly think may justly claim it. I find by a Letter from him dated at Wilmington (the place of our Observatory) Sept: ye 20th, that he had received neither Remittance nor Letters on that Subject, & that therefore he was under the necessity of endeavouring to negociate the Bill, which we had jointly drawn on the Treasurer when I left Wilmington on ye 13th. This step was absolutely necessary, as my Proportion of the £800, which had been advanced the Commissioners was expended, & Mr. Andrew's nearly so—& we had waited many Weeks, for an answer from your Excellency to our Letter applying for a further Advance to enable us to finish the Business & return home. Mr. Andrews was to keep the Bill 'till after the Post of the 19th, when if he should receive any Remittance, he was to cancel it, if not, he was to endeavour to negociate it. In full confidence that he would receive a Remittance or Directions to draw on the Treasurer, I was induced to refer my Landlord to Mr. Andrews for Payment of a Bal'ce due to him for my board, & had I not, on my way to Baltimore, met a Remittance from my Steward, I should have been under further Embarrassments before I could have reached Home. It gives me pain to mention it Sir, but unless Mr. Andrews should receive a Remittance, or can sell our Bill he must be greatly distressed & can not go to the Western observatory with Mr. Rittenhouse. I hope therefore, that your Excellency will direct the Treasurer to make Provision for immediate Payment of our Bill, should it be presented to him. 1784. October 4th

I have the Honor to be your Excellency's most obedt. h'ble Se'vant.
 &c., &c.

By Post Script, he expresses the hope, his Excellency & the Board will not construe his letter into a complaint, of being neglected, or of having been furnished with a too scanty allowance for their expences, but rather that their Letter had not reached them and that more important matters had engaged their attention.

allowed by the Laws of this Commonwealth to a Major General who had served three years successively. Your Clerk declined to grant the Certificate doubting whether General Lee could be considered as belonging to this State; and if so, whether the sentence of the Court Martial, confirmed by Congress, and his subsequent dismissal, did not preclude him from the benefit of the Law. Your memorialist commends the circumspection of a gentleman acting officially, but flatters himself, that when the matter comes to be considered between a Great nation and the Sister of a gentleman, who left his native county at the risk of his life and of a very opulent fortune, to embark in our cause, and who must be allowed to have rendered very signal services, that they will have very little weight. With regard to the first Objection, your memorialist begs leave to state, that early in the year 1775, soon after his arrival in America, he made a Purchase of a valuable Estate in the County of Berkeley. That before the gentleman from whom he purchased could give possession, he was called into the Army. That as soon as possession was given, he placed an overseer, Servants and Stock upon the Estate, and made it the place of his Residence to the day of his death. The sentence of the Court Martial amounted to no more than a suspension from duty for one year, and cannot by any construction be considered as superceding or cashiering—His subsequent dismissal was evidently owing to an angry letter wrote when suffering under the most painful Disease, and initiated by an account of the confirmation of the sentence of the Court Martial against him, and an information that Congress meant to pursue further measures to his disgrace. It was certainly never the meaning of the Legislature of this Commonwealth to deprive any man of the well earned Rewards of his services, for an offence so venial, which the constitutional frame of the best of men often give rise to. Your memorialist therefore prays, that your Honourable Board, considering the matter on liberal and generous principals, will direct a Certificate to issue to Sidney Lee, the Sister and representative of the late General Lee, for the quantity of Land allowed to a Major General of this State; And your memorialist shall pray, &c., &c.

from West-

sylvania
Theo. Lewis and west
Augusta

“ We whose names are under written, at the instance and earnest intreaty of a number of People on the Western waters beg leave to address you. We are informed that in the year 1775, the then Honorable Councill of Virginia, for wise Purposes, gave Instructions to Colo. Thomas Lewis, surveyor of Augusta County, to receive Entries of all unpatented Lands on the Western Waters which were of the District of Augusta and annexed to that County, and called West Augusta. In consequence of these Instructions the said Colo. Lewis deputed Col: Wm. Crawford and Col: Dorsey Penticost, Inhabitants of the said Western Waters, to receive Entries as aforesaid—Which gentlemen after their deputation, give notice to the People to apply to their respective officers, and enter their Land. Great numbers of the People applied and entered their Lands accordingly, paying those Gentlemen two shillings & six pence Virginia currency pr: Tract, i. e. for every 400 acres.

We are desirous to know of your Excellency and Honourable Council, whether those Entries with these Gentlemen avail the People anything—whether a Certificate from Col: Lewis' Office is of the same force & efficacy as a certificate obtained from your late Honourable Board of Commissioners for the adjusting Claims to unpatented Lands on the Western Waters—Or whether the Idea of those Entries with Colonel Lewis were implied, or were in anywise adverted to, in the late Agreement between the two States. 'Tis true that the money paid for those Entries was but a trifle, and so the money paid in to the office of Pennsylvania for a Location, was but a trifle likewise: but we find their operation is such that they sweep away large and valuable Improvements.

Many People here applied to the Honourable Board of Commissioners aforesaid in Order to obtain Certificates for their Lands, But could not obtain them on account of Disputes arising between them and others relative to the premises. The Commissioner appointed Days, for the Determination of these Disputes, and issued out citations for all parties to appear at those Days appointed and contest the matter: but these Commissioners left us on a sudden, with a promise to return, but never did, altho' many paid the Expence of serving Citations and Summonses, yet they are left to pay ten Pounds pr: Hundred, together with back Interest from the first settlement of the Land.

Action of
vania

We beg leave further to observe to your Excellency and the Honourable Council, that by a late Act of the Assembly of the state of Pennsylvania, the Inhabitants of the said State who live on the Western Waters, are obliged to pay three pounds ten Shillings for surveying each Tract of Land, without taking any distinction between these Lands which were entered with the Honorable Commissioners aforesaid, and those which were not: Whereas by the late Agreement between the two States, we conceive we are entitled to have our Lands surveyed at the Same Price, as we should have had to pay, had we still continued a part of Virginia.

THE MEMORIAL OF JOHN CAMPBELL TO THE EXECUTIVE OF VIRGINIA—
"Sheweth."

"That your Memorialist is an old settler, and an early adherent to the State of Virginia on the Waters of the Ohio, that he has by his acting in Office under this Government, rendered himself very obnoxious to the People of Pennsylvania, to whom that Country has been transferred."

An early settler on the Ohio

Anxious to reside in that Country he had tried to secure his lands there, but at the time Virginia was adjusting the claims to Lands in that County, he was a Prisoner with the Enemy. From the "manner in which the Courts of Law proceeds" in that County he cannot have justice done him, and deriving his right from this State will only be prejudicial to his Interest. Pennsylvania will make no distinction between Settlers on Lands within her Charter Limits, and those in the Cession made by Virginia to her; he therefore will be required to pay unjustly a large sum of money to secure his lands. he will be subjected to every delay and mortification by the Officers of that State, merely because of his attachment to, and Service as an officer of Virginia. In addition to this, suits had been brought against Officers who had served in the Militia of Virginia under her own Laws, and many had suffered severely already in pocket & person. Situated as he is, it may easily be understood, what little security there would be in that County either for his person or property under the existing Laws of Pennsylvania— This very memorial might be the cause of his arrest, when they would claim the power "to remove and keep him a prisoner at pleasure and bring him to Tryal in any part of that State, where they can procure proper creatures to condemn him." "Your Memorialist therefore craves the Protection of this state for himself and all the officers of Virginia in that Country, and prays your Excellency and the Honourable the Council to grant them such relief as in your Wisdom you see meet, either by having the State of Pennsylvania restricted to its Charter Limits, or by representing your memorilist's case to the Legislature of this State, and having a person sent to Pennsylvania to demand Justice for them, and Your Memorialist, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c."

Having served as Surgeon to the Continental Hospital at Williamsburg for upwards of five years—"viz: from the 1st June, 1776, to the last of July, 1781"—for which he had only been allowed "Depreciated pay and Subsistance," praying to be allowed Bounty Land "with other officers in said Department who have obtained Grants," &c.

Having been informed of an application to be made, recommending to Executive clemency, Charles, a negro Slave, condemned to death for "Burglary and Felony," (notwithstanding the recent failure of one such petition) the Petitioners, "in support of the Action of the Court, and in justice to the community at large, and not from any pique or resentment to the Criminal in particular, beg leave to represent," that upon trial of said Slave, it had been proved "that this was the third time in which he had been principally concerned in breaking up Stores in Petersburg and taking goods and money every time to a considerable amount." "That on this occasion he had declared that he purchased Horse fleams which he did not want, out of the Store, the evening before he committed the Robbery, with a view to discover the precise spot where the goods he wanted were placed, to enable his accomplice to lay his hands on them in the night."

"That thro' the course of this winter, such a number of robberies have been committed in these Towns, & the goods and monies stole of value so great, that the injury sustained begins to be intolerable, and calls out loudly for example to be made of the offenders whenever they can be detected."

"That thro' the course of the Winter there has never been a night, in which any merchant has left his Store, thro' accident or necessity, but it has certainly been robbed: from which you Petitioners suspect, that there has been a combination among the Slaves of the place, to carry on this business, under the guidance of those like the Criminal Condemned, who, supposed to be honest, are admitted into the Stores without difficulty any hour of the day, and point out to their Comrades the most probable means of Success in their Villiany."

They Therefore pray that the Executive "will not interfere, so as to frustrate the judgement of the County Court, &c., &c."

Giving his reasons at length, as to the most proper mode of defending that County against the Indians, encouraging Emigration, &c. and as to the most desirable location for a proposed Fort. Closes thus: "Upon the whole it is my opinion that a Stockade Fort, such a one as that at Wheeling, should be immediately built at or near the mouth of Limestone, and Garrisoned with one Company of State Troops, occasionally reinforced by small draughts from the Militia; that should be supplied with provisions & Military Stores sufficient for one month's seige at Least; and that Forts at the mouths of Licking and Kentucky considering our present resources, will be burthensome and unnecessary."

GEORGE VALLANDINGHAM, GABRIEL COX, AND ANDREW SWEARINGER TO THE EXECUTIVE OF VIRGINIA.

Praying for releif. In 1781 they had, of necessity, as officers of the militia of that County, and under the Laws of Virginia, taken unusual measures in the defence of the Country against the Savages. The alternative of entirely deserting the country or adopting this step had been forced upon them. Since that time this County had been ceded to Pennsylvania, and they with many others had been made to pay very dearly for defending the country once under the Jurisdiction of Virginia. They themselves had been required to pay Five hundred and fifty-five pounds and Costs, on account of a Company of Rangers of fourteen men; and as their conduct was as officers of Virginia, & having been refused releif by Pennsylvania, they are constrained to call upon Virginia to do them justice and relive them of this burthen.
